THE DAILY ONTARIO.

VOLUME VIII. BELLEVILLE, ONT., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1877 NUMBER 157

THE

DAILY ONTARIO

IS published about five o'clock every afternoon (Sundays excepted), and will be furnished by Carriers at the rate of $5 00 a year if paid in advance, $6 00 otherwise. The price to mail subscribers has been changed to $5 00 a year, the old price $2 50 for six months; $1 25 for three months.

Special attention will be paid to reporting the proceedings of Courts of Law, Corporations, Public Meetings, &c., &c., and in short, neither pains or expense will be spared to make the DAILY ONTARIO worthy of public patronage.

Special announcements can be made in the local columns of the Daily, in the same type as local items, at fifteen cents a line.

Advertisers contracting for any space not less than half a square, can have the privilege of changing their advertisements every two weeks.

Transient advertisements inserted at 8 cents per line for first insertion, and two cents for each addional insertion.

☞ Parties advertising by the year who discontinue before the termination of their contracts, will be held for full amount of said contract.

THE ONTARIO CHRONICLE

Is published every Friday morning at $1.50 per annum if paid in advance. $2 if paid during the year. If not paid till expiration of year, $2.50 will be charged.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Six lines and under, first insertion	50
each subsequent insertion,	12½
above six lines (per line), first insertion,	0 10
each subsequent insertion, per line,	0 04

A liberal discount made to those who advertise by the year.

Advertisements for insertion must be delivered before 10 o'clock on Thursday, to insure their appearance.

All advertisements without written directions inserted until forbid, and charged accordingly.

The above rates are payable in advance unless otherwise arranged.

N. B.—The square to be confined to the ordinary business of commercial houses, and for such houses it will not be held to include Auction Sales, Advertisements of ships, Removals, Copartnership Notices, Private Firms, Houses to let or for sale.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc. Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

CANADIAN CREDIT.

HOW IT WAS IMPERILLED AND BY WHOM SAVED.

From a speech of the Hon. R. J. Cartwright.

I say, speaking as the Finance Minister of the Dominion, speaking after four years experience, with a full knowledge of the difficulties we have surmounted and those yet to be surmounted, that a year, and even six months more of Sir John Macdonald's Administration would have certainly resulted in national bankruptcy, rich as the resources of Canada undoubtedly are. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Gentlemen I have never forgotten, and it would be well that Canada would never forget, that painful scene which took place in the Legislature of the late Province of Canada in 1866, when Sir Alexander Galt, not so much by his own fault as from the extravagance of his predecessors, was forced in my hearing to tell the House of Commons that Canadian five per cent. debentures were that day selling at 74 cents on the dollar in London. (Hear, hear.) That he was unable to borrow money in London on the credit of Canada at eight per cent., and that the only financial expedient he could propose to extricate ourselves from the difficulty was to lay hold on one half of the gold reserves which the banks had in possession—in other words to have recourse to a forced loan from these institutions to avoid the most disastrous results to the credit of the country. We have been charged, and possibly we have been charged correctly, with being incapable financiers, but I think, however incapable we may be, that we may fairly compare our position with the position occupied by Sir John Macdonald and his friends in 1866; and whatever our faults may be, there has not been, from the time we entered office a deficiency of money to carry on the public works, and to pay the public debts which we assumed. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Our debentures, instead of being quoted at seventy-four cents on the dollar for five per cents., are higher to-day than ever before, (cheers,) and we have greatly and materially lowered the rate of interest payable on the whole debt of Canada since we took office. (Renewed cheers.) We have effected three successive loans in three successive years in the English market, and those loans have been effected on better terms than were ever obtained by any previous Canadian Finance Minister or any previous Canadian Government, and the last of these loans has been obtained on the best terms of all. (Loud cheers) True, I have been censured because I did not obtain better terms still. That is a point I have discussed at length before, and which I would gladly discuss to-day did time permit, but I think if you will do me the honor to refer at your leisure to the explanations I gave in my budget speech of this year you will see that I gave good and ample reason for every step I took on that occasion, and that if I had allowed but forty-eight hours to elapse I would have been unable to obtain by several per cent. anything like as good a price as I did obtain. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Now, these gentlemen have made one charge which certainly does savour, I will not say of impudence, but certainly of great audacity. They have asserted that the reason I got this excellent loan was because the credit of Canada under their Administration had become so high that I, with all my power of mischief, could not destroy it. (Laughter). That, speaking very literally, is their assertion. Now I will tell you the plain fact. When, in 1874, I first went to England, as Finance Minister, and first set foot in the London Stock Exchange, I found that the credit of Canada had been most terribly damaged not only by the circumstances attendant on the Pacific Scandal, but by Sir John Macdonald's exceeding folly in leading us to mortgage our whole future to the construction of that road in the space of ten years; and I tell you that if the credit of Canada was saved it was saved by two things—first of all by the prompt and exemplary punishment which you and your fellow-citizens inflicted on the authors of that disgraceful scandal—(Hear, hear, and cheers)—and secondly, gentlemen, (and we have the proofs of this in the statements of the first journals of England) by the promptitude with which this Government imposed a sufficient amount of taxation to meet the then impending deficit and turn it for at least two years into a surplus. That was the way our credit was saved. To you is due the half, and perhaps the larger half of the credit, but some, I think we may claim, is due also to my hon. friend the Premier and myself. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Then these gentlemen take a certain prospectus which I issued in 1875, when I was contracting my second loan, and they say that in that prospectus I showed conclusively how great the resources of Canada were and how vast our progress had really been. They say if what I said in that prospectus was true, then what I said at meetings like this regarding the injury done by them to the finances of this country, was not true. I take issue on this most emphatically. There is not a particle of contradiction between my statements. To every word, to every line and syllable, that I put in my English prospectus I adhere to-day. To every word to every line and syllable that I have stated to assemblages of my countrymen in condemnation of the extravagance of Sir John Macdonald I likewise adhere. My duty was twofold. First, I had to show you, and our other friends throughout this country, how grossly our resources had been mismanaged, how great and how grave was the bill of indictment to be levelled against our predecessors. But when I went to England it was not business to cry "stinking fish" in the London Stock Exchange. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) There are two great truths underlying all discussions as to the finances of this country. One is, that the great prosperity you have enjoyed for many years was very grossly abused, and made the means of committing you to all manner of foolish engagements. Another is this—that so great is the intelligence, the industry, and the resources of the people of Canada, that, in spite of the folly and extravagance of the late Government, you are not yet ruined or bankrupt, but are making your way manfully and well out of these entanglements, and will be able in a short time, I hope, to pay your way as well as ever. It was that side of the shield which it was my duty to present to the people of England, and which, I think, I did with some effect. Your progress has been really great and marked, and your resources were likewise great. It was only when speaking to you I displayed the brazen side of the shield most prominently, but on going to England I showed them the silver side, as I think you will admit it was my duty to do. (Hear, hear.) There is no deception in the matter; every word

I said was true, only I directed the attention of the English capitalists to one phase of the situation, while I directed yours to another. It has been said over and over again by the leaders of the Opposition that we are a set of bunglers, that we are incompetent, and I do not know what else, and we are pointed to the glorious examples of statesmanship which have been set before us, notably by Sir John Macdonald.

The Daily Ontario.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 1.

MR. WILKINSON, late of the West Durham News, will have ample time between now and the announcement of his sentence to meditate upon the position he occupies before the country as a convicted libeller. His case should teach the Tories a wholesome lesson.

MR. LAURIER's defeat in Drummond and Arthabaska has furnished the Opposition press with congenial subjects for loud talking about reaction and conviction. There is an old adage, worthy of being kept in mind by political enthusiasts of the Tory stripe, which cautions us about crowing before we are fairly out of the woods. Mr. Bourbeau will have to stand a protest, and we have not much doubt that the seat, won by fraud, will be taken from him. There is no question as to the clerical and lay corruption, intimidation and coercion that were practiced during the contest on the Opposition side.

THE result of the famous "Big Push" case gives unlimited satisfaction to the many friends and admirers of Hon. John Simpson. The charges brought against him were of the most serious nature, and had they been sustained his character as a public man would have been ruined. But the scandalous attempt failed, and Mr. Simpson left the Court Room last Saturday without a stain on his reputation. A late telegram from Bowmanville states that nearly all the business men of the town have visited Mr. Simpson and congratulated him, and through him the Reform party of Ontario, upon the complete manner in which his character as a leading politician and financier had been vindicated in the recent trial, and the way in which he sustained the record of the Reform party during the crisis of 1873, and numerous political contests.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

ARTICLE NO. II.

Though the Colonies are now perfervidly loyal, there are many good reasons for apprehending that to tighten the silken ties of the present union would eventuate in alienating instead of deepening their filial affection. Let them take an active though subordinate part in Imperial concerns, and animosities will be aroused, and discussions and discords will displace the present happy relations; for Canadian and Australian representatives would be scarcely likely to play the part of dummies, and their conduct would evoke a contending approval and censure in the Colonial mind, which would all go to disturb the placid content concerning English Parliamentary affairs now prevalent in the Colonies. And as this representation would be accompanied by enlarged responsibilities, the Colonies would have to pay wartribute when war was levied, sending their quota of treasure and contingent of men. Rhapsody aside, this is not a pleasant contingency to contemplate. War in the East we have been recently languidly discussing. Had we, as part of the Federation, to be ready to shoulder our muskets and delve into our pockets, it would have been no trivial matter, though we trust that we are not degenerate sons of British sires. And, as we might not unnaturally shrink from being plunged into the horrors of a war with whose causes we had little or no concern, the English people would, in turn, resent the active interference of Colonials in English legislation, and would not tolerate for a moment the idea of being taxed by Colonial votes, as might often be the case. The scheme is impracticable.

But there is still stronger evidence of its impracticability. A Federation worthy the name pre-susupposes a uniform fiscal system for the Confederacy, and what hope is there of inventing one even approaching the workable? England is Free Trade, Australia leans towards Protection, and Canada imposes a revenue tariff. How are these incongruities to be planed down and smoothed into the level harmony which is a condition precedent to a true and efficient union? Various fancy and grotesque schemes have been propounded, but they are ingenious trifles, and nothing more. A fiscal fusion of the constituents of the proposed Federation is clearly impossible, and in its absence the entertainment of the idea is banished from the domain of practical statesmanship. A Confederation, the members of which are at commercial war with each other, is so bizarre a conception that it is more calculated to excite to mirthfulness than to command the serious meditation of the man of affairs.

A fussy French Minister of Finance, on his accession to office, once, assembled the merchants of Paris, and in the fullness of his newly gladdened heart, asked them what he could do for them? Their reply, on deliberation, was "to let them alone!" That is what the Colonies at present want at the hands of the Constitution doctors, for they are not suffering any ill just now that this Federation panacea is likely to cure; and they cannot but see that, if it were a true remedial measure, it is simply impossible of application. Reflection over the matter only assures them of the wisdom of Mr. Gladstone's words in the English Commons a few years ago, when it was proposed to invite contributions from the Colonies towards the defence of the Empire:—

> "It would be far wiser, and probably in the end far cheaper, to leave the matter to its free and natural growth, to be content with gradual progress, and to endeavour to create in this Empire that harmony and unity of feeling which should gradually eliminate marked distinctions in Colonial policy. If we could bring about that state of things, we might safely trust the natural influence of free institutions and habits of freedom in the Colonies to secure us, by free and spontaneous action, Colonial aspirations to fulfil in a large sense the responsibilities of British citizenship."

RANDOM DASHES.

Now for the "cold chilly winds of November."

ABBREVIATIONS.

THE RINE MOVEMENT.—There are two Rine temperance lodges in Toronto, and a third is to be started to-day, in the east end of the city.

SOLD FOR TAXES.—A number of valuable farms in the County of Carleton have been sold for taxes. In many cases the prices paid were very low.

THE EXAMINATION PAPERS.—Owing to the recent exposures, there is talk of printing the examination papers hereafter in the Education Department.

A FICTION.—It now turn out, after diligent enquiry, that the story, first originated in Quebec by a French paper, relative to the kidnapping of a magistrate in Labrador, is all fictitous.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Conrad Long, of Port Stanley, was waylaid and robbed near St. Thomas last Wednesday night. The thieves took $25 from his person and left him insensible by the roadside.

IS IT SO?—An American Savant named Smith, observes that "you rarely, if ever, see a politician with smooth hair, an artist with red hair, a great scholar with fine hair, a fop with coarse hair, or an editor whose hair is carefully adjusted."

INTELLIGENT JURYMEN.—Twelve petit jurymen, on being discharged from attending the Montreal assizes, were unable to sign their names. All were Canadians of French extraction. On the previous panel there were seventeen unable to write of the same nationality.

FOR FORGERY.—John Henry Geiger, alias Charles W. Brown, until lately a sewing machine agent, of Cicero, Indiana, was arrested in Toronto, on Tuesday, charged with forgeries amounting to $10,000 on a bank and private parties, of Noblesville, Indiana.

RAILROAD TROUBLE.—There is trouble on the line of the Clwde River Railway, in Vermont, a branch of the South-Eastern road, the President and Superintendant of the Passumpsic Railway having torn up the track, cut the telegraph wires, and, it is said, destroyed a bridge at East Richford.

LEFT HANGING.—A telegram from Ottawa says:—"Passengers by the steamer Peerless coming up this evening observed the body of a man in a perfectly nude condition hanging by a suspender from the limb of a tree near Rocklan. It has been learned that the unfortunate man has been in that vicinity for some time in a helpless condition, and recently attempted to commit suicide by drowning himself. The body was still hanging when the steamer left."

Claiborne F. Jackson, once Governor of Missouri, married five sisters in one of the most respectable, wealthy and distinguished families in that State. As soon as one wife would die he would marry her sister in a reasonable time. In connection with the marriages there is a standing joke told at the expense of the Governor, namely, that when he went to ask his father-in-law's consent to marry the last daughter, the venerable man replied: "Yes, Claib, you can have her. You have got them all. For goodness sake don't ask me for the old woman."

—Two or three oil refiners in London, which have been closed, are about to commence operations, to meet the increased demand for oil which always takes place in winter.

—A Salem Ont., firm of carriage builders have just shipped a carriage to A. Sinclair, a large sugar planter in Cowick, Ifafa, Natal, South Africa.

MR. CARTWRIGHT ON THE STUMP.

Mr. Cartwright has long enjoyed a considerable reputation as a Parliamentary speaker, and his late Budget Speeches were model financial statements—interesting, lucid, and displaying a thorough comprehension of a difficult subject; but even his intimate friends must have been agreeably surprised at his splendid efforts on the stump. The talk about his "incapacity" and "bungling" is silenced forever, for his discursions of the financial and commercial affairs of the country have discovered a mind of a very high order, which seizes its subject with a statesmanlike grasp. Our protectionist friends dispute the soundness of his policy, as they are entitled to do, but they cannot dispute the ability with which he propounds it. Sir John Macdonald fancies himself a wonderfully clever fellow at satirizing and scandalizing an opponent, and he has paid a good deal of attention in that line to the Finance Minister; but we venture to think he will not lightly tackle that gentleman again, for Mr. Cartwright has shown himself a very professor of the art of disputation, and has administered to Sir John the worst flogging that that worthy ever had his back warmed with during his long and boisterous career.

MR. CARTWRIGHT AMONG HIS CONSTITUENTS.

We are indebted to the Whig for a full report of the first of three speeches to be delivered by the Hon. Finance Minister in his constituency, which was given at Odessa last Tuesday evening. At the outset we must congratulate our enterprising contemporary on such recurring evidence of "push" and spirit. A large and attentive audience greeted the speaker, and judging from the manifestations of popular feeling there is no indication of failing popularity on the part of Mr. Cartwright with those who have repeatedly honored him with their confidence. The chair was taken by Mr. Sidney Warner, than whom no more consistent Reformer lives, and who will lend himself to no Tory scheme having for its object the defeat of the Hon. Finance Minister. The address of Mr. Cartwright was of the usually interesting nature, and was devoted principally to the exposition of Protection fallacies. We cannot follow the arguments advanced throughout, and therefore content ourselves in giving a few remarks, in answer to questions advanced by persons present. But before doing so we must observe that the general policy of the Government and more particularly the conduct of the Finance Minister, received a hearty endorsation from Mr. H. M. Deroche, M. P. P.

THE COZY CUP OF TEA.

A gentleman present asked Mr. Cartwright a question, why the Government, which, he (Mr. C.) had said could not retaliate on the Americans, had retaliated on John Chinaman and his tea?

A PUNGENT ANSWER.

Mr. Cartwright replied that it was evident the speaker had never fully understood the subject. The Government had not retaliated on John Chinaman or any body else; retaliation was a fallasy and a mistake. We did not trade with people to do them good, but for our own good. He said that the reason a tax was put upon tea was this that a revenue had to be raised somehow, and a sum could be contributed by the tea consumers much more easily than from other sources.

ANOTHER INTERROGATORY.

Mr. A. L. Morden, of Napanee, on behalf of an elector, asked Mr. Cartwaright if he could recollect the amount of the national debt at the time of Sir John's advent to and egress from office?

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

Mr. Cartwright said he could not remember distinctly in the absence of public documents, but he believed that in 1854 it was about $20,000,000 or $25,000,000. The old Provinces of Canada went into confederation with a debt of $67,000,000. In November, 1873, when Sir John left office, the Dominion debt was about $240,000,000, which included the liabilities of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and British Columbia, for which Sir John was not responsible.

—The "Recorder" of Tuesday says:—The Captain of the 'Oswego Belle' on his arrival here this morning, reported that while on his way down he sighted the propellor 'Lowell' of the N. T. Line, almost high and dry on a shoal near Johnson's Light, a short distance above Alexandria Bay. One bucket of her wheel was completely out of water, thus indicating her to be in a bad position. The 'Lowell' left here last night shortly after dark. Aid will be immediately sent to her.

—Sir John and Lady Macdonald passed down by Grand Trunk yesterday, for Montreal.

NEVER SPEAK ILL OF A WOMAN.

The following admonition should be read by young men and not a few old ones. Never use a lady's name in an improper place at any improper time, or in mixed company. Never make assertions about her that you think to be unture, of allusions that she herself would blush to hear When you meet with men who do not scruple to use a woman's name in a reckless manner, shun them; they are the worst members of the community; men lost to every sense of honor, every feeling of humanity. Many a good and worthy woman's character has been forever ruined and her heart broken by a lie, manufactured by some villain, and repeated when it should have been, and in presence of those little judgment could not deter them from circulating the foul and bragging report. A slander is soon propagated, and the smallest thing degrogatory of a woman's character will fly on the wings of the wind, and magnify as it circulates, until its monstrous weight crushes the poor unconscious victim. Respect the name of woman; Your mothers and sisters are women, and as you would have their fair name untarnished and their lives unembittered by the slanderous bitter tongue, heed the ill your own words may bring upon the mothers the sister, or the wife of some fellow ceature.

The Daily Ontario.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 1.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

LECTURE.—A. O. Van Lennep will deliver a lecture in the Metropolitan Hall to-night.

COURT OF REVISION.—The next meeting of this body will be held on Tuesday, the 6th inst.

THE CELLS.—Three prisoners and four tramps were provided with lodgings in the cells last night.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The registrations for the month of October are: Births, 42; Marriages, 4; deaths, 23.

SURVEYING.—A force of surveyors are now at work locating the line of the Toronto & Ottawa railroad east of the village of Madoc.

RACING.—A series of races will take place over the Bay Side course on the 14th and 15th, when liberal premiums will be offered.

CUSTOMS RETURNS.—The returns for the month of October, 1876, were $3,609 20; for the corresponding period this year $2,176 30, a decrease of $1,432.90.

THE INSTITUTE.—The number of pupils in attendance at the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb now reaches 236, the largest number that has yet attended during any one Session.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday, while coming from Kingston, Francis McCallum, brakesman, fell from the top of a car on which he was walking to the tender and injured himself severely.

MARINE.—The Kincardine will finish out her cargo at the elevators. She is loading with rye. The Highland Beauty is taking on barley, and the Louisa is finishing at Vandusen's.

GRAIN.—About five thousand bushels of grain which had been stored in Stirling, was brought here yesterday by the G. J. R to the G. T. R. station, from where it was drawn by teams to the dock.

INCENDIARISM.—Dr. Lister is fully impressed with the idea that the fire on his premises last night was the work of an incendiary; and from what he states we are inclined to be of the same opinion.

CLOSE SEASON.—The close season for whitefish and salmon trout began to-day, and will close on the 10th. Our sportsmen and fishermen should bear this in mind and govern themselves accordingly.

THE BY-LAWS—Voting on the debenture by-laws took place to-day. But little interest appeared to be manifested by the electors, and therefore—as is usually the case in such instances—only a small vote will be polled.

A MISHAP.—The suction of No. 1 steamer did not work satisfactorily last night owing to the shallowness of the water in the river. Would it not be advisable to deepen the river at all the engine stands along the river?

HALLOWE'EN.—The boys perpetrated their usual pranks last evening—though to not so great an extent as formerly. A number of gates were missing this morning and other evidences of the wantonness of the mischievous youth, manifested.

RUNAWAY.—A horse belonging to Graham's livery ran away on Bridge Street yesterday. Martin Macdonald in endeavoring to stop it, came too close to one of the wheels of the buggy to which the animal was hooked, and was knocked down in the mud.

ADVICE.—If you want to spend a pleasant evening go to the College Friday night. The Philomathean Society have a fine programme with a debate on a live question, after which Prof. Green, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, will give some of his inimitable recitations in Pantomime, and Prof. Richter will furnish some of his best music, after which there will be the best kind of a social.

THE HOLY LAND.—To night and to-morrow night in the Metropolitan Hall, Mr. A. O. Van Lennep (a native Turk) assisted by a number of persons all dressed in genuine Eastern costumes, will give life tableaux of Eastern costumes. Mr. Van Lennep came here under the auspices of the County of Hastings Sabbath School Association, many of the members of which heard Mr. Van Lennep at the Sunday School Parliament. As the proceeds of the lectures are to go into the treasury of the Association to enable them to hold Institute Conventions &c. We trust there will be packed houses.

NEW PARTNERSHIP.—An announcement elsewhere informs the public that Mr. Geo. Wallbridge has this day taken into partnership his brother in law, Mr. Joseph D. Clarke, who has been his assistant ever since beginning business. Mr. Clarke is one of those young men who wins and retains the confidence and respect of all with whom he becomes acquainted, and his more direct interest in the welfare of the establishment will ensure still greater success in the future. We congratulate him on having so favorable an opportunity to begin the active pursuits of a business life, and we also congratulate Mr. Wallbridge on so popular an accession to his already flourishing commercial transactions.

FIRE.—Shortly after eleven o'clock last evening a small building in the rear of Dr. Lister's residence was discovered to be on fire. Through the promptness of No. 2 engine, the flames were prevented from spreading and the fire subdued. No. 1 engine was brought out promptly but on account of the absence of the hose-men she lost a great deal of valuable time before she threw any water on the fire.

ALL SAINT'S DAY.—To-day was a high festival and fete d'obligation in the Roman Catholic Church. Prior to the ninth century this event was celebrated on the 1st of May, but Pope Gregory IV. changed the time to 1st of November.

Police Court.

From Port Hope.

The Fruit Growers' Association held their autumn meeting here yesterday. The President, Rev. R. Burnet was present, and the secretary, D. W. Beadle, and other gentlemen interested in fruit culture from Owen Sound, London, Paris, Toronto, Kingston, Belleville, &c. There is a fine display of fruit—apples, pears, and grapes—from various parts of the Province. Some of the pears in particular are very large and showy, and the grapes temptingly luscious. Much interest is manifested in the discussions relative to the growing of fruits and the kinds found to be most profitable. It is decided to hold the next meeting in Hamilton in February.

He was referred to Plum Hollow as a rich farming district, and he accordingly paid that place a visit. The place is very favorably spoken of, and the probability is that next season will see one of the first butter factories ever established in this county, in the vicinity of Plum Hollow.

From Montreal.

Hon A. B. Foster died suddenly this morning of heart disease.

From Cape Vincent.

While Mrs. Adolph Iselin, was sitting with her family at breakfast Sunday morning, apparently as well as usual, she leaned back in her chair and expired without uttering a word. Her funeral, which took place Tuesday afternoon, was attended by a large number of people of Cape Vincent and the surrounding country. The church was literally filled. There was not a foot of standing room. A requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father Durin, of Watertown, assisted by the students of the College of the Sacred Heart. Our friend Iselin, who is the friend of everybody, has our heartfelt sympathies in his bereavement.

A STRANGE INCIDENT.

Last Sabbath whilst Rev. Mr. Lent, of Uxbridge, was preaching in the M. E. Church on the 5th line of Uxbridge a circumstance occurred during divine service, the like of which has never, perhaps, been known in the history of the universal church. Whilst opening service a snow white dove came through one of the windows and soon after took up its position on the alter of the church walking backward and forward before the preacher, looking at him constantly. What is more striking, during the sermon it flew twice upon the pulpit, lighting once on the Bible, almost upon the minister's hand. It left this position only as it became frightened by the moving of the hand. The pure little visitor hovered about the pulpit until the services were finished and the dove flew out of the same window again. It is needless to say, the presence of this hearer caused quite serious sensation in the audience, instead of provoking mirth, it being an emblem of the Holy Ghost.—"Uxbridge Journal."

THE SITUATION AT PLEVNA.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—It appears from a Bucharest telegram that an effort is being made to gain possession of the Plevna and Rahova road. The Roumanian force between the Rivers Vid and Iskra yesterday made a reconnoissance along the Danube in the direction of Rahova. At Vadeni they found a Turkish detachment occupying the earthworks. After a brief cannonade the Turkish magazine exploded, and the garrison retreated in the direction of Rahova.

LOVE.

FROM THE GERMAN.

I asked the sun,
"Canst tell me what love is?"
He answered only by a smile
Of golden lights.

I prayed the flowers,
"Oh, tell me what is love?"
Only a fragrant sigh was wafted
Thro' the night.

"Is love the soul's true life,
Or is it but the sport
Of idle summer hours?" I asked
Of heaven above.

In answer, God sent thee,
Sweet-Heart, to me!
And I no longer question,
"What is love?"

DEBILITY AND NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Chronic, sick or nervous headache is generally dependent on, or accompanied by, impared digestion, by which the circulation and nutrition of the brain are deranged, and the nervous centres vitiated. THE PERUVIAN SYRUP, by reinvigorating the digestive powers lays the axe at the foot of the tree; the brain is only nourished, the nervous system ceases, and the headache disappears. Sold by all druggists.

WE publish the announcements in our advertising columns for pay, and seldom trouble ourselves to enquire as to the qualities or merits of the wares advertised, further than to assure ourselves that they are legitimate and respectable. But when an article performes miricles in our midst, transforming the old to young, in appearance at least, we connot pass it by unnoticed. We know of people who, years ago, were gray-headed and who now wear dark and glossy hear. How is this? It evidently is not colored, for it has a perfectly natural appearance instead of the harsh, dry, staring look of hair stained with nitrate of silver of other common hair dyes. No! it has been restored to its youthful color, lustre and vitality by use of that wonder of wonders, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. It has many imitators, but there is nothing like it. The test of years only increases its fame, while its imitators die and are forgotten.—"Boston Daily Globe."

DISEASED LUNGS.

Brantford, Ont., April 25, 1871.

MESSRS. Seth W. Fowle & Sons, Boston;

Gentlemen—It gives me much pleasure to bear witness to a cure effected by DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. My wife having been afflicted for a number of years with diseased lungs I was prompted to try WISTAR'S BALSAM. I did so, and to my utmost satisfaction, for it effected a permanent cure in her for which I heartily recommend it to the public at large as a true and most reliable cure for diseases of the lungs. In conclusion I beg to ask you to accept my thanks, also my hearty wishes for your success with your valuable remedy, believing it to be the only medicine adapted to such cases.

Very truly yours, J. A. ABERCROMBIE.

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

RUSSIA'S ALLIES.

BRAVERY AND DILIGENCE OF THE ROUMANIANS.

Correspondence of the London Daily News.

So many centuries have passed without any warlike deed to place to the credit of Roumania that the world has taken up the undeserved opinion that the nation was lacking in courage, and that the money spent in the education of its officers and the organization of its army had been wasted in vain. And yet they fight well, these so-called holiday soldiers, and nothing can be more heroic than their conduct since they have taken the field. As yet I have not seen them under fire, but we know that they stormed the redoubt where Schakofsy's veterans had been decimated a month before, and that they have held it since then in spite of the tremendous hail of shot and shell which has swept accross it for the last fortnight, and that they have rolled back Osman Pasha's sorties with heavy loss whenever the Turks have tried to retake the position. Nor are the coolness and circumspection of their officers inferior to the courage of the rank and file. Their outpost service is well understood, and their cavalry patrol feel the enemy in every direction, and keep the headquarters staff fully informed of his movements. They neglect no precaution, and if they are beaten it will be in fair fight, and not because their commanders have made a mistake, or because their soldiers flinch from danger. One thing is certain, Prince Carol will never be surprised, and should his pickets be driven in, the numbers of his foe, not his own negligence, will be the cause of the disaster. Their sovereign lacks experience in the field, but he has plenty of energy and a good theoretical instruction in the art of war, and the practical part will come in due time. Taking copy from the lessons of our own great struggle, the Roumanians cover themselves with trenches everywhere, and their skirmish line is scarcely established before the men are hard at work at the rifle-pits. As soon as a detachment halts for the night an intrenchment is thrown up, and the lines of their earthworks show the movements of their army. The men are handy, and while some ply their picks and shovels, others weave rude fascines and gabions to cover the excavations until all, within a comparatively short space of time, are under shelter. They do the same thing for their encampments, so that, notwithstanding the shortcomings of their intendance and medical department, they are destined to suffer much less from the inclemency of the weather than the Russians. Each company is provided with four ladders, to scale the enemy's parapets or to bridge over the ditches. The men fire without precipitation and aim steadily, never wasting their ammunition unnecessarily, differing in this essentially from the Turks, whose discharges are wild, although sometimes as incessant as the roll of a drum, without being, for all that, much more effective, except at the moment of an assault, when among the immense number of bullets a certain proportion must find their mark. What I have seen of the Roumanian troops has given me a vast amount of confidence in their efficiency; they march well and support fatigue and privations without a murmur, and, indeed, without much apparent suffering; and they will follow their officers into the very jaws of death if these have given already proof of their intrepidity.

—A lad named Dory was thrown out of a cart at Quebec, on the 25th inst., and killed, —A whale put into Charlottown harbour on Wednesday, but got out to sea again.

—Rev John Miller, Princeton, has been suspended for heresy on the subject of the Trinity,

Mr. Cartwright told a very good story in his recent Aylmer speech. Said he: "Sir John Macdonald is very fond of telling you that one of the reasons I could not agree with him was because I was a Tory of the Tories—a fossil Tory—because I was as he said in another place a pre-Adamite Tory; though what that may mean is only known to himself. There may be some crumb of comfort to me in that case; for as a clerical relative of mine once observed to me: 'Take comfort, Brother Richard, for if you were a pre-Adamite Tory, you were Tory before the fall.'"

MORE NEW GOODS ARRIVING DAILY!

These are not Old Bankrupt Goods made years ago, when prices were very much higher than now, and if sold at fifty cents on the dollar would be MORE FOR OLD FASHIONED SHOP-WORN GOODS than we are asking for the latest styles of this season's make. We have already proved this to the satisfaction of all who have compared our styles and prices. We are often asked by other Boot and Shoe dealers how we can RETAIL so many lines at less than they pay WHOLESALE.

WE BUY STRICTLY FOR CASH

The Manufacturer therefore runs no risk, and is satisfied with small profits.

WE MAKE SPECIAL CONTRACTS for our leading lines in very large quantities, having two large establishments of our own, and supplying several others. WE SELL STRICTLY FOR CASH, WITHOUT ANY EXCEPTION, therefore incur no losses, run no risks, and do not require large profits.

The Quality of our Goods is Equal to any Former Season!

We have no desire to sell CHEAP GOODS, but are offering A GOOD SOLID ARTICLE at lower prices than the so called CHEAP GOODS.

Everything Ticketed in Plain Figures. Inspect our Prices.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife. The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference, can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

POND'S EXTRACT.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting ; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION ! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

KIND WORDS.

Oh, mildly speak, oh, gently breathe
One little word of kindness ;
You know not where that word may fall
To lighten human blindness.

The world is large, time flies apace,
Let hand and heart together
Bind in firm bonds the human race
In love and peace forever.

Some stricken heart bowed down by grief,
Some child of sin or sorrow,
May listen to that kindly word
And rise to heaven to-morrow.

OUR STORY.

THE FUR COUNTRY.

PART FIRST.

"The depopulation of the hunting territories, caused by the activity, and, I must add, the want of foresight of the hunters. The game was trapped and killed without mercy. These massacres were conducted in the most reckless and short-sighted fashion. Even females with young and their little ones did not escape. The consequence is, that the animals whose fur is valuable have become extremely rare. The otter has almost entirely disappeared, and is only to be found near the islands of the North Pacific. Small colonies of beavers have taken refuge on the shores of the most distant rivers. It is the same with many other animals, compelled to flee before the invasion of the hunters. The traps, once crowded with game, are now empty. The price of skins is rising just when a great demand exists for furs. Hunters have gone away in disgust, leaving none but the most intrepid and indefatigable, who now penetrate to the very confines of the American continent."

"Yes," said Mrs. Paulina Barnett, "the fact of the fur-bearing animals having taken refuge beyond the Polar Circle is a sufficient explanation of the Company's motive for founding a factory on the borders of the Arctic Ocean."

"Not only so, madame," replied the Captain; "the Company is also compelled to seek a more northern centre of operations, for an Act of Parliament has lately greatly reduced its domain."

"And the motive for this reduction?" inquired the traveler.

"A very important question of political economy was involved, madame ; one which could not fail to greatly interest the statesmen of Great Britain. In a word, the interests of the Company and those of civilization are antagonistic. It is to the interest of the Company to keep the territory belonging to it in a wild uncultivated condition. Every attempt at clearing ground was pitilessly put a stop to, as it drove away the wild animals, so that the monopoly enjoyed by the Hudson's Bay Company was detrimental to all agricultural enterprise. All questions not immediately relating to their own trade were relentlessly put aside by the governors of the association. It was this despotic, and, in a certain sense, immoral system, which provoked the measures taken by Parliament, and in 1837 a commission appointed by the Colonial Secretary decided that it was necessary to annex to Canada all the territories suitable for cultivation, such as the Red River and Saskatchewan districts, and to leave to the Company only that portion of its land which appeared to be incapable of cultivation. The next year the Company lost the western slopes of the Rocky Mountains, which it held direct from the Colonial Office ; and you will now understand, madame, how the agents of the Company, having lost their power over their old territories, are determined before giving up their trade to try to work the little-known countries of the north, and so open a communication with the Pacific by means of the Northwest passage."

Mrs. Paulina Barnett was now well informed as to the ulterior projects of the celebrated Company. Captain Craventy had given her a graphic sketch of the situation, and it is probable he would have entered into further details had not an incident cut short his harangue.

Corporal Joliffe announced in a loud voice that, with Mrs. Joliffe's assistance, he was about to mix the punch. This news was received as it deserved. The bowl—or rather, the basin—was filled with the precious liquid. It contained no less than ten pints of coarse rum. Sugar, measured out by Mrs. Joliffe, was piled up at the bottom, and on the top floated slices of lemon shriveled with age. Nothing remained to be done but to light this alcholic lake, and the Corporal, match in hand, awaited the order of his Captain, as if he were about to spring a mine.

"All right, Joliffe!" at last said Captain Craventy.

The light was applied to the bowl, and in a moment the punch was in flames, while the guests applauded and clapped their hands. Ten minutes afterward, full glasses of the delighful beverage were circulating among the guests, fresh bidders for them coming forward in endless succession, like speculators on the Stock Exchange.

"Hurrah ! hurrah ! hurrah ! three cheers for Mrs. Barnett ! A cheer for the Captain."

In the midst of these joyful shouts cries were heard from outside. Silence immediately fell upon the company assembled.

"Sergeant Long," said the Captain, "go and see what is the matter."

CHAPTER III.—A SAVANT THAWED.

Sergeant Long hastened to the narrow passage from which opened the outer door of the fort, and heard the cries redoubled, and combined with violent blows on the postern gate, surrounded by high walls, which gave access to the court. The Sergeant pushed open the door, and plunging into the snow, already a foot deep, he waded through it, half blinded by the cutting sleet, and nipped by the terrible cold.

"What the devil does any one want at this time of night?" exclaimed the Sergeant to himself, as he mechanically removed the heavy bars of the gate; "none but Esquimaux would dare to brave such a temperature as this !"

"Open ! open ! open !" they shouted from without.

"I am opening," replied Sergeant Long, who really seemed to be a long time about it.

At last the door swung open, and the Sergeant was almost upset by a sledge, drawn by six dogs, which dashed past him like a flash of lightning. Worthy Sergeant Long only just escaped being crushed, but he got up without a murmur, closed the gate and returned to the house at his ordinary pace, that is to say, at the rate of seventy-five strides a minute.

But Captain Craventy, Lieutenant Jaspar Hobson, and Cosporal Joliffe were already outside braving the intense cold, and staring at the sledge, white with snow, which had just drawn up in front of them.

A man completely enveloped in furs now descended from it.

"Fort Reliance!" he inquired.

"The same," replied the Captain.

"Captain Craventy?"

"Behold him! Who are you?"

"A curier of the company."

"Are you alone?"

"No, I bring a traveller."

"A traveller ! And what does he want?"

"He is come to see the moon."

At this reply, Captain Craventy said to himself the man must be a fool. But there was no time to announce this opinion for the courier had taken an inert mass from the sledge, a kind of bag covered with snow, and was about to carry it into the house, when the Captain inquired—

"What is that bag?"

"It is my traveler," replied the courier.

"Who is this traveler?"

"The astronomer, Thomas Black."

"But he is frozen."

"Well, he must be thawed."

Thomas Black, carried by the sergeant, the corporal, and the courier, now made his entrance into the house of the fort, and was taken to a room on the first floor, the temperature of which was bearable, thanks to a glowing stove. He was laid upon a bed, and the Captain took his hand.

It was literally frozen. The wrappers and furred mantles, in which Thomas Black was rolled up like a parcel requiring care, were removed, and revealed a man about fifty. He was short and stout, his hair was already touched with gray, his beard was untrimmed, his eyes were closed, and his lips pressed together as if glued to one another. If he breathed at all, it was so slightly that the frost-work on the windows would not have been affected by it. Joliffe undressed him, and turned him rapidly on to his face and back again with the words :

"Come, come, sir, when do you mean to return to consciousness ?"

But the visitor who had arrived in so strange a manner showed no signs of returning life, and Corporal Joliffe could think of no better means to restore the lost vital heat than to give him a bath in the bowl of hot punch.

Very happily for Thomas Black, however, Lieutenant Jaspar Hobson had another idea.

"Snow, bring snow !" he cried.

There was plenty of it in the court of Fort Reliance ; and while the Sergeant went to fetch the snow, Joliffe removed all the astronomer's clothes. The body of the unfortunate man was covered with white frost-bitten patches. It was urgently necessary to restore the circulation of the blood in the affected portions. This result Jaspar Hobson hoped to obtain by vigorous friction with the snow. We know that this is the means generally employed in the polar countries to set going afresh the circulation of the blood arrested by the intense cold, even as the rivers are arrested in their courses by the icy touch of Winter. Sergeant Long soon returned, and he and Joliffee gave the new arrival such a rubbing as he had probably never before received. It was no soft and agreeable friction, but a vigorous shampooing most lustily performed, more like the scratching of a curry-comb than the caress of a human hand.

And during the operation the loquacious Corporal continued to exhort the unconscious traveler.

"Come, come, sir. What do you mean by getting frozen like this. Now, don't be so obstinate!"

Probably it was obstinacy which kept Thomas Black from deigning to show a sign of life. At the end of half an hour the rubbers began to despair, and were about to discontinue their exhausting efforts, when the poor man sighed several times.

"He lives; he is coming to!" cried Jasper Hobson.

After having warmed the outside of his body, Corporal Joliffe hurried to do the the same for the inside, and hastily fetched a few glasses of the punch. The traveler really felt much revived by them; the color returned to his cheeks, expression to his eyes, and words to his lips, so that Captain Craventy began to hope that he should have an explanation, from Thomas Black himself of his strange arrival at the fort in such a horrible condition.

At last the traveler, well covered with wraps, rose on his elbow, and said in a voice still faint—

"Fort Reliance?"

"The same," replied the Captain.

"Captain Craventy?"

"He is before you, and is happy to bid you welcome. But may I enquire what brings you to Port Reliance?"

"He has come to see the moon," replied the courier, who evidently thought this a happy answer.

It satisfied Thomas Black too, for he bent his head in assent and resumed.—

"Lieutenant Hotson?"

"I am here," replied the Lieutenant.

"You have not yet started?"

"Not yet, sir."

"Then," replied Thomas Black, "I have only to thank you. and to go to sleep until to-morrow morning."

The Captain and his companions retired, leaving this strange visitor to his repose. Half an hour later the fete was at the end, and the guests had regained their respective homes, either in the different rooms of the fort, or the scattered houses outside the encient.

The next day Black was rather better. his vigorous constitution had thrown off the effects of the terrible freezing he'd had. Any one else would have hied from it; but de was not like other men.

And now who was this astronomer'? Where did he come from? Why had he undertaken this journey across the territories of the Company in the depth of Winter? What did the courier's reply signify?—To see the moon! The moon could be seen anywhere; there was no need to come to the hyperborean regions to look at it!

Such was the thoughts which passed through Captains Craventy's mind. But the next day, after an hour's talk with his new guests, he had learned all he wished to know.

Thomas Black was an astronemer, attached to the Greenwhich Observatory, so brilliantly presided over by Professor Airy. Mr. Black was no theorist, but a sagacious and intelligent observer; and in the twenty years during which he had devoted himself to astronomy, he had rendered great services to the science of turanography. In private life he was a simple nonentity; he exhisted only for astronomy; he lived in the heavens, not upon the earth, and was a true descendant of the witty LaFontaine's savant who fell into a well. He could talk of nothing but stars and constellations. He ought to have lived in a telescope. As an observer he had not his rival; his patience was inexhaustible; he could watch for months for a cosmical phenomenon. He was a speciality of his own, too; he had studied luminous meteors and shooting stars, and his discoveries in this branch of astronomical science were considerable. Whenever minute observations or exact measurements and defitions were required Thomas Black was chosen for the service: for his clearness of sight was something remarkable. The power of observation is not given to every one, and it will not, therefore, be surprising that the Greenwhich astronomer should have been chosen for the mission we are about to describe, which involved results so interesting for selenographic science.

We know that during a total eclipse of the sun the moon is surrounded by a luminous corona. But what is the origin of this corona? It is a real substance, or is it only an effect of the sun's rays near the moon? This is a question which science has hitherto been unable to answer.

As early as 1706 this luminious halo was scientifically described. The corona was minutely examined during the total eclipse of 1745 by Lonville and Halley, by Maraldi in 1724, by Antonio de'Ulloa in 1778, and by Bonditch and Ferrer in 1806; but their theories wereso contradictory that no definite conclusion could be arrived at. During the total eclipse of 1842, learned men of all nations—Ariy' Arago, Keytal, Langier, Mauvais, Otto, Struve, Petit, Baily, etc.—endeavored to solve the mystery of the origin of the phenomenon; but in spite of all their efforts, "the disagreement," says Arago, "of the observation taken in different places by skillful astronommers of one and the same eclipse, have involved the question in fresh obscurity, so that it is now impossible to come to any certain conclusion as to the cause of the phenomenon." Since this was written, other total eclipses have been studied with no better results.

The Daily Ontario.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 3.

Mr. Laurier was made Minister of Inland Revenue and subsequently defeated at the polls. Opposition organs now call upon the Premier to dissolve the House at once, as an adverse judgment has been given by the people. Sir John once appointed Hon. Joseph Morrison to a portfolio in his Cabinet and he was defeated when seeking re-election. Did Sir John resign or dissolve the House? Not much. He retained Mr. Morrison in the Cabinet two years without a seat in Parliament. On another occasion Hon. Mr. Cayley occupied a similar position, and Hon. Mr. Chapais, Sir John's Receiver-General, was defeated, and, being unable to find a seat, was made Senator. Sir Geo. E. Cartier was driven out of Montreal and had to go to Manitoba for a seat, subject to the grace of the rebel Riel; and Sir Francis Hincks begged a constituency up in British Columbia, where he represented 300 votes as one of the Ontario members of Sir John's Cabinet.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY.

Mr. Mackenzie, during his recent campaign in the western part of Ontario, stated that the late Government gave Riel $4,000 to get him out of the country. At Ailsa Craig Sir John professed to be "amazed to see that Mr. Mackenzie made such a statement, because he knew very well that all the money connected with the transaction was $400 for Riel and $400 for Lepine." On page 107 of the Report of the North-West Committee Sir John's testimony was as follows:—"I undertook to see that his Lordship's (Archbishop Tache's) expenses in this mission would be paid, and I sent him a draft for a thousand dollars to be used in procuring Riel's withdrawal."

On page 109 of the same Report Sir John again testified:—" · · · Gov. Archibald had strongly expressed the opinion that the safety of the country depended on Riel's withdrawal from the country, and that his absence must be procured at all hazards. · · · Mr. Smith stated that he had advanced £600 sterling in consequence. The largeness of the sum rather staggered me · · ·, but I did not hesitate to at once tell Mr. Smith that if the Lt.-Gov. in presence of such an exigency had pledged the faith of the Dominion Government, and the money was advanced on that pledge, that he, Mr. Smith, or the (H. B.) Company should not be the losers, and should be repaid. · · · I have never had in my mind any doubt that the money should be paid. I intended that it should be paid."

All our readers need do is to add the $1,000 sent to Archbishop Tache to the £600 paid to Mr. Smith, or the Hudson Bay Co., and they will then know how far short of $4,000 was the amount used by the late Government in getting Louis Riel out of the country. They can, too, decide whether Sir John of Mr. Mackenzie came nearer the truth when making their public statements lately.

DEATH OF SENATOR MORTON.

By the death of Senator Morton, which event took place at Indianapolis Thursday afternoon, the Republican party loses one of its most prominent members, and the United States a useful and prominent citizen. He had been ailing for some time, and during the past two weeks his condition was regarded as hopeless, though occasional rallies encouraged his friends to believe that he would survive the severe attack of illness. His influence in the Senate and country was immense. Probably no other individual was able to do so much for the party to which he belonged, or more effectively control the administration of public affairs. He was a native of Indiana, having been born in Mayne Co. in 1823. In 1854 he abandoned the Democratic party, on account of its slavery policy, and he has since worked zealously and faithfully for the Republicans. He was first elected Lieutenant-Governor of his native State in 1860, and the Governor-elect, Hon. Henry S. Lane, having been chosen Senator, he (Morton) was inaugurated as Governor in his stead. In 1867 he was chosen Senator, and was re-elected in 1873. During the late Presidential contest his sympathy and support were given to Hayes, and his recently expressed opinions indicated where he would have be found had he lived.

THE PENALTY.

Thursday morning the country was startled by a brief telegram from Montreal announcing the sudden death of Hon. A. B. Foster, one of the best-known public men in Canada. Only a few hours before, he was in his usual health, and attending to his onerous duties with accustomed vigor of mind and body. His transactions in connection with the principal railways of the country have, in addition to his political services, brought him prominently before the country, and earned for him the sobriquet of "the Canadian Railway King." More recently, however, his projects have been unsuccessful, and the depression in trade operated injuriously upon much that promised to redeem him from threatening insolvency. Honest in all his intentions, and faithful to his engagements, he had, in vain endeavors to extricate himself from financial difficulties, sacrificed a large private fortune. Against these adverses he was manfully struggling at the time of his death, and bad he been spared he would in all probability have conquered the situation. The cause of his death is said to have been heart disease, and there is no doubt but that his anxieties, coupled with the extreme annoyance of a merciless political persecution, have contributed to this result. The deceased was an Independent Conservative; but in 1873, consequent upon the Pacific Scandal, he, with others, discarded the party led by Sir John A. Macdonald, and rendered no small service in exposing the political crimes connected with the elections of 1872, and the sale of the railway charter to Sir Hugh Allan. Since then he has been made the target for all kinds of abuse end misrepresentation by Opposition speakers and writers. His motives were purposely impugned, his conduct impeached, and his honor questioned. Whatever could be done to injure his credit or embarrass his railway projects was resorted to and repeated until the desired result was obtained. We repeat that the death of Mr. Foster is undoubtedly almost directly attributable to the persecutions and harrassing anxieties thrown upon him by those who hated him for political reason. He has paid the penalty of his independence.

RANDOM DASHES.

Damaging blaze this morning.

Skirt draperies are not near so much tied back as formerly.

One physician in London has over twenty cases of typhoid fever on hand.

"Jane, it is 11 o'clock; tell that young man to shut the front door from the outside."

They are now picking the second crop of raspberries in the western part of this Province.

Ladies are awful frail beings, but when a man has to put an a thick overcoat ladies are plenty warm enough in a thin lace shawl.

The man who owns a $20,000 cow can drink milk costing him eighty-four cents per quart. That's all the advantage he has over the rest of us.

Sharks won't bite a swimmer who keeps his legs in motion. If you can keep kicking longer than a shark can keep waiting, you'll be all right.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Killed.—A man named Lepine was killed on Friday while felling a tree, up the Gatineau.

Dishonest Wife.—A woman named Lamone left her husband in Hull the other day taking with her a large sum of money. She went "with a handsome man."

Fire and loss of life.—Within twenty-four hours during Wednesday and Thursday, there were two calamitous fires in Montreal, in which lives have been lost.

Trial Postponed.—The trial of Weldon for the Murder of Miss Albertha Wace at Castleton has, on the application of the prisoner's counsel, been postponed until the next Assizes.

Too Much Married.—Geo. Newbold, the bigamist, who is charged with having four wives living, has been before the Toronto police court several times, and is again remanded for a week.

Arrested.—A well known cattle dealer, named Marion, has been arrested at Montreal, and sent for trial, on a charge of stealing sheep from farmers, by whose fields his droves were driven past.

Employment on the C. P. R.—It is probable that next spring there will be a large exodus of mechanics and laborers from Ontario to the North West, where the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway gives promise of employment for many of those who can find nothing to do here.

A Failure.—The Newfoundland codfishery is a complete failure, and a terrible winter is instore for the fishermen. On the western coast much destitution already exists. The Magdalne Island cod fishery has also failed this year, the weather having been too stormy to allow the fishermen to make their way to the cod fishery grounds.

Attempted Murder.—A telegram from Montreal says;—A most villainous attempt at murder was made early this morning in William street. Mr. W. Patterson was in bed when some one fired through the window with a revolver, the ball missing his head by about three inches and imbedding in the wall. As he is an ultra-Protestant, he believes one of the opposite faction has attempted his life.

A Strange Fact.—On the 14th of September last a ewe belonging to John Henderson, of Nassagaweya, was missed from the flock, and it was supposed that she was stolen or strayed away. On Monday last James Henderson, on passing along the stable, noticed under the sill the nose of a sheep. On taking off a board, the lost ewe was found in an exhausted condition, having been reduced to a mere skeleton. Nourishing food was given her, and she is now on a fair way of regaining her wonted strength. It appears that she had crushed under the stable for shelter during the hot weather, and had got so far in that she could not return, and consequently remained without food or water during a period of over six weeks.

FROM PICTON.

To the Editor of the Ontario,

Picton, Nov. 1, 1877.

There are many things in this place—the County Seat of Prince Edward—of an attractive nature. Among them are pretty girls, sturdy yeomanry, affluent merchants, brisk trade, immense stocks of grain in store, streets that vie with those of Cologne, and crossings that ought to send the Town Council to Hel—retia. Never within the recollection of the "oldest inhabitants" has the grain crop approximated to what it has this year. The yield of barley has been unprecedented, and strange as it may seem, men who "go high" on the Dunkin Act reap a rich harvest from the berry which can be used for no other purpose than to produce a juice that intoxicates. If I had time I would point a moral, but you will see at a glance that it would be superfluous. Since the world first commenced revolving on its axes mankind has strived to gather wealth, and but few of Adam's sons have cared how they got lucre as long as they got it.

There is one thing that strikes a stranger here very forcibly, and that is the total disregard of the Dunkin Act. In traveling about I have visited many places during the past summer, and have seen much drunkenness, but candour compels me to say that no other town in either Canada or the States can show so much intoxication to the square foot as Picton. To-day, a bright sunshining one, has developed more crookedness among the people of this town than I ever saw before. On the Main street this afternoon not less than ten young men were, what is called "boiling drunk," and it was said not to be much of a day for bummers either; and during the evening the wharves were visited by dozens of boozy fellows. At Gray & Co's. Wharf a well dressed, smart appearing young man while under the vinigar influence, mistook the water for a continuation of the dock, and walked off into the muddy water. Fortunately his companions were not as balmy as he was, and his cries brought him succor. Hypocrisy is a bad thing for one man to practice, but when a whole town takes to it there is something "rotten in Denmark." Even the school here is said to be high.

Business is picking up here, and the streets show animation. From morn to night the tillers of the soil may be seen hauling in grain and wheeling back home money. Unless shipments are rushed from this time forth to the close of navigation, immense quantities of barley will have to be held by forwarders or farmers. Either will be bad for the county. If the former hold, the banks must bend, and if the latter carry their crops money will be scarce. Have you ever heard a gentle Granger howl about his taxes when money is scarce? If not, go out in the country for a day or two, and listen to the wail. Speaking about taxes reminds me of a story that is told about the Grangers in the western part of the Province. Two or three years ago money was tight, and the bug-bear, taxes, was driving the farmers almost to distraction. Just as they began to despair an election was called, and the long faces soon became round and smiling. The candidate who had stood several times was waited upon, and told that his constituents had determined to honor him again. Everything promised well, until the candidate came to express his opinion, and then, when he told the deputation that he could not accept, general consternation took possession of the tillers of the soil. "What!" exclaimed one of the horny-handed, "can't stand?" Why man you must, I haven't paid my taxes yet."

An effort is being made to improve the harbor accommodations here, and the dredge is at work digging at the upper end of the bay. If she is not sent away too soon water that will permit a vessel drawing ten feet to float may be had. By the way, how is it that Daly gets nearly all the dredging on the bay? Is there a ring?

Next Monday there is to be an excursion from this place to Belleville, so I will not praise the girls too high. There is such a thing, I am told, as a Belleville man losing his heart. At least so the "Poet of the Bay" told me.

If I pick up anything more here, and I am liable to, unless a strict watch is kept by the Mayor, you will get it. In the meantime bear in mind that Picton is to have a railroad—when the sign of the Zodiac is right. WHALES.

DEATH OF HON. MR. FOSTER.

A telegram from Montreal furnishes the following particulars of the death of Hon. Mr. Foster, which occurred there Thursday morning:—

The sudden death this morning of Hon. Asa B. Foster has created a sensation here. He arrived in this city last evening, and after supper at the Ottawa Hotel he complained of severe pain in the region of the chest. Dr. Smith prescribed a slight stimulant. Several gentlemen sat up with him till after midnight when all withdrew except Mr. Foster and his son, Asa B. Foster, who remained with his father all night, as deceased intended starting for Brockville early this morning, he got up at 3 a. m. and was in the act of dressing when his son heard some strange sounds proceeding from his throat. Rushing to his parant's assistance he was horrified to find him absolutely dead. He did not speak a word, and seemed to have passed away without pain. His death was from heart disease.

A TRAVESTY UPON JUSTICE.

The way in which justice is dealt out in the lumber regions along the Ottawa requires a through investigation from headquarters. It is positively scandalous that a man who killed his grandfather should be allowed to go scot free for eight days and not to be molested by the Justice of the Peace or officers of the law, simply because his services were required to pilot rafts through a rapid and his arrest might create a loss of $50 to his employer. Improper as such a delay was, the situation was rendered more serious from the fact that when action was taken the murderer was only bound over to keep the peace for one year. Altogether, such a travesty is so ridiculous and so sadly out of keeping with the manner in which justice is meted out in this country that one is tempted to believe the report is false, notwithstanding the freqnent references to the alleged crime which have appeared in the newspapers and which have had every semblance of being true.—Hamilton Times.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our unmerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have those means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 3.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

THE CELLS.—Two tramps and one prisoner were quartered in the lock-up last night.

TO CONTINUE.—The Court of Revision will resume its labors on Tuesday evening next.

NOTICE.—The evening classes of the Commercial College open on Monday evening next.

ENGLISH MAIL.—An English mail per steamer for New York, closes at the post office at nine o'clock this evening.

TAXES.—During the week, about $17,000 have been paid to the Treasurer on account of taxes. About $6,500 were received on Thursday.

A MIS-HAP.—The steamer Oswego Belle whilst lying in Picton harbor this morning was run into by the schooner Olive Branch and badly injured.

POLICE COURT.—The only case before the Court to-day was that of John Macdonald who on a charge of being drunk and disorderly was fined $2,00 and costs.

THE PLANETS.—Mars and Saturn were very close together last evening, and were observed by many persons. They are evidently fond of each other's society.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.—The ladies of the M. E. Church will serve a Thanksgiving dinner in the basement of the new "Tabernacle." Further particulars in due time.

LECTURE.—Rev. W. H. Poole of Toronto, will deliver a lecture in the Bleecker St. C. M. Church on Monday the 12th inst Time, 7:30.—Subject, "Anglo Israel." Admission 15 cents.

SLIGHTLY DISPLACED.—The heavy gales of wind lately have operated with some effect upon the unfinished spire of the M. E. Tabernacle. We believe a few days ago it was slightly displaced by the wind.

THAT STRANGE CASE.—Dr. Hamilton, who was in attendance on Catherine Capper, states that she died from fever, and not from an injury. Had he considered it necessary to hold an inquest he would have done so.

LECTURE.—Mr. A O VanLennep, lectured on the "Manners and Customs of the East," in the Metropolitan Hall, last night before a large audience. The discourse proved highly interesting, and was well appreciated.

DISAPPOINTMENT.—On account of the non arrival of the steamer Hastings the Belleville Lacrosse Club was prevented from playing Kingston to day as intended. The home team are trying to make arrangements for a later date.

CLEARING THE CROSSINGS.—This work began this morning, and as the crossings—particularly those of Front street—were in a very dirty condition. The new order of things was greatly appreciated by our citizens generally.

OPEN MEETING.—On Monday night next the Rine Club intend giving another of their popular free entertainments in the Town Hall the programme for the evening being particularly good, no doubt there will be a full house.

THE MARKET.—Notwithstanding the state of the roads, there was a large attendance at the market to-day, and a large quantity of products of the farm and dairy were exposed for sale. Rye brought 55 cts., peas 60 cts, oats 33 to 35 cts., and barley 48 to 60 cts.

THE BLOW.—Owing to the violence of the wind on Friday the "Prince Edward" was forced to discontinue her trips across and was therefore laid up here. The "New York" was also unable to go out and remained over here. The "Utica" had a hard time of it but managed to pull through successfully.

THE STREETS.—The sidewalks in certain parts of the town are badly in need of repairs and something should be done to them before the cold weather sets in. A number of crossings are in a defective state and pedestrians are greatly annoyed by the inconvenience caused them whilst the streets are muddy.

FIRE INCIDENTS.—Many of the firemen received thorough drenchings at the fire this morning. To-day's was the largest siege they have had for years. Both steamers turned out with commendable alacrity. A large quantity of the grain in the elevator has been washed in the river. At one time No. 2 ran short of coal, and was only kept at work through the use of green kindling wood.

LECTURES.—A course of lectures on the Epistles beginning with Romans will be given this winter (D. V.) at the Workingmen's Temperance Hall, on Friday night at 7:30 p. m. All interested in the study of the Word are invited to bring their Bibles. After each lecture there will be time given for conversation. At the same hall on the Lord's day the Gospel will be preached at 7 p. m.

MARINE.—The water in the harbor was to-day nearly ten inches lower than it was yesterday. The steamer Kincardine, loaded with rye, left this morning for Oswego The Louisa, loaded by the Grangers, is aground at Vandusen's dock. The Bonar tried to pull her off, but was unable to do so. All the craft in the vicinity of the fire received quite a scorching this morning.

RE-KINDLED.—The fire at the elevator re-kindled this afternoon, and at half-past two it was deemed necessary to again ask the presence of the firemen. No. 1 steamer was again brought out and set to work on the building. As the fire is confined to corners which are difficult to get at, another summons for their presence may be ordered to-night.

ACCIDENT.—Whilst the chemical engine was being taken to the fire this afternoon it ran over a little child of Mr. A. Cuthbert's injuring him about the hips. We have before remarked on the practice pursued of running this and other like institutions on the sidewalks on occasions like that of to-day and hope that the authorities will take the necessary steps to have it stopped.

MISSING.—A man named Richard Dusenberry who was employed as engineer at the Farmers' Elevator is now reported to be missing. From what we can learn, he had been ordered to repair a pulley in the upper part of the elevator this morning and had proceeded to execute the task, since which time—although search has been made for him, no trace of him can be found. As it is considered that he perished in the fire this morning, his family are in great affliction.

THIS MORNING'S BLAZE.

THE FARMERS' ELEVATOR DESTROYED.

One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in Belleville in a long period was that of this morning, which resulted in the total destruction of the Farmers' elevator and its contents.

About eight o'clock, the smell of smoke issuing from under the dock on the west side of the building attracted the attention of the caretaker of the building who at once looked for its origin. Then a portion of the dock underneath the planking was on fire. A bucket brigade—composed of men employed about the place and on the schooners Elgin and Florence and steamer Kincardine, was formed and efforts made to prevent the flames from spreading. They were, however, unable to accomplish this as the fire, fanned by the brisk wind prevailing at the time, spread with wonderful rapidity so that in a short time the entire structure was a mass of flames. The G. J. R. dock was on fire several times, but through the efforts of a number of little boys it was saved. A boat-house on the south side of the elevator, containing the yacht Gipsey Belle, the property of Mr. I. B. Graham, was burned. The steamer Kincardine was lying at the dock, laden with grain, and for a time it was feared that she would be lost but, fortunately this was prevented and after a time she was removed to safer quarters. She is pretty well scorched and otherwise bears evidence of her narrow escape. The fire which lasted about two hours was a very fierce one and had it not been for good work of the brigade would have been far more destructive. The two steamers, the hook and ladder truck and the chemical engine were on hand and performed very efficient work. The firemen worked nobly and deserve great praise for the labors they performed.

The building, which is the property of the Farmers' Warehousing Company, was valued at $6,000, and was insured. At the time of the fire it contained about 37,400 bushels of grain, 23,400 of which was the property of Mr. K. Graham; 2,000 belonged to H. Corby, Jr., and the balance to farmers who had stored it there. Mr. Graham had his grain insured for $10,000, and Mr. Corby's loss is fully covered. As the farmers who stored there did so at their own risk, their loss will be total.

The origin of the fire is attributed to this The Kincardine had been fully loaded with rye, but as there was not sufficient water to float her, the Bonar was engaged and had endeavored, but unsuccessfully, to pull her off. It is supposed that sparks from her smoke-stack were blown under the dock and set fire to it.

The fire was indeed a serious one, and the loss to the Company and farmers will be severe. It was fortunate that the firemen responded so promptly, as had they not been at hand the adjoining property—the unoccupied saw mill and the docks would in all likelihood have been destroyed. A large crowd was present during the burning of the building

NIGHT SCHOOL.—The evening sessions of Ontario Business College will commence on Monday evening Nov. 5th. Their design is to afford thorough and practical instruction in Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Penmanship, Business correspondence (including Grammar and Spelling) Telegraphing and Short-hand. EXCITING MAN HUNT.

THREE DAYS' SEARCH AFTER A SICK MAN—HE IS FOUND DEAD.

Intelligence reached Iverton, County of Bruce, on Thursday of last week, that John Campbell was missing from his brother Duncan's house, lot 69, con. A. Kincardine Township, and that his whereabouts were a mystery. Campbell had been sick for some time past, and had retired all right on the previous night, but was found to have gone out by the window. A search party of those residing far and near was formed, hundreds joining it. All day long was the search continued, and the lake was dragged near the shore and at the pierhead, but all to no purpose. At dark the searchers went home, intent on resuming their task the next day. Friday morning found great numbers of our villagers out prosecuting a diligent scrutiny of the neighboring farms and bush lands, but this day also passed without tracing the lost man although his footmarks were discovered at times. On Saturday, several hundreds of searchers were at work, scouring the country—hill, dale and bush—for miles, but with no better success, but marks of his feet were found, and a stake was placed to begin at on Sunday. That morning the searchers were again on the move, and Alex. Brown and others, on going to the spot marked the night before found further traces of the missing man. There were distinct tracks of his having fallen down, and moved on his hands and knees. On glancing up a deep furrow a few yards from where they stood, Brown saw the body of Campbell lying dead.

DEATH OF CHIEF JUSTICE DRAPER.

Chief Justice Draper, of the Court of Appeal, died in Toronto yesterday. He was born in Surry, England, in 1801, and was, therefore, in his 77th, year at the time of his death.

The late Chief Justice was married in 1726 His family consisted of one time of of five sons and five daughters, of whom only one son, Major Draper, Chief of the Toronto Police force, and one daughter, have survived him.

THEN AND NOW.

"A Commercial Traveller" writes as follows to the Ottawa Free Press: "It seems to be almost impossible for the Opposition leaders to tell the truth about anything they chance to discuss at their public meetings. They either know nothing about the business of the country, or they wilfully endeavor to deceive the people. Sir John, 'the greatest of living statesmen' is no exception in this respect. For instance, the other day at Winchester Springs, he deliberately stated that, prior to the change of Government, a duty of 15 per cent was equal to 25 per cent now. But, as usual the reverse is nearer the truth, and this year, as against the United States, of which he was then speaking, we have at least 12 per cent more protection than we had in Sir John's time, as any schoolboy could demonstrate. Every importer knows that the chief inducement to buy in the American markets was the difference in the money, which nearly covered the duty till very recently; and as soon as American currency is at par, Canada will virtually be protected to the extent of 30 per cent, or double what it was under the old Government. A single transaction will suffice to show how the rise in greenbacks operated to protect us on this side from the 'slaughtering' Yankees, who are such a dread to the Tories out of office. Suppose a house to import a bill of goods from New York worth $1,000, say in 1872, it would cost them. laid down here as follows:

Invoice $1,000, less 12½ per cent. for gold........................$875 (0
Duty at 15 per cent on $875............131 25

Cost in gold............................ $1,006 25

"But now it would cost as follows:

Invoice $1,000, less 3 per cent for gold...................................$970 00
Duty at 17½ per cent on $970............170 75

Cost of gold...............................$1,130 75

'Of course I have omitted the freight and incidental expenses, which would be about the same in both cases."

THE TORTURES CAUSED BY GOUT AND GRAVEL are prevented or relieved by MILK OF MAGNESIA which expels from the system the acid salts which being absorbed into the circulation from the stomach produce those distressing maladies. Sold by all Druggists, and Albert L. Geen.

NOTHING tends to affect one's personal appearance more than a few straggling gray hairs. Now, Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer, employed but a few times as an ordinary hair dressing, will restore them to their natural color, and is a most delightful article for the toilet table. It can be had at all druggists, in large-sized bottles, only 50 cents each. Albert L. Geen.

POLITICAL NOTES.

—It is said that Mr. Laurier will run for Rouville, Mr Cheval having offered ot resign in his favor.

—The respectable newspapers throughout the Domoninion are unanimous in expressing regret at Mr. Laurier's defeat. The St. John (N. B.) "Telegraph" says:

"It is bad for Canada, for it is a defeat for one of her purest and ablest sons, a man whose spotless character and brilliant qualities have been recognized even by his opponents."

—The Halifax 'Chronicle says:

"The defeat of Mr. Laurier is a surprise, and a matter of regret even more for the sake fo the country than for that of the Liberal party. He is a young and able man, of unsullied reputation and of most enlightened sentiments."

—Sir John apparently is anxious to play his old game of bull-dozing Ontario by the aid of Quebec, as in days of yore. There never was a time—except once, by accident—when Sir John had a majority from his own province; and he will find that the physical and moral intimidation practised by his allies in Lower Canada will not help him in this Province at the next election.

—Sir John A. Macdonald talked of "Patriotism" at the Hallowe'en festival in Montreal Wednesday night. If to reduce corruption both of constituencies to a science, and to do more than any other man of his generation to demoralize and debauch public sentiment, constitute a man a patriot, then is the Walpole of Canadian politics a patriot—not otherwise.

—Depth of water in Lake St. Peter, 19 feet.

—A lively Dunkin contest in progress in Wellington.

—The Passumpsic railway people have taken to tearing up tracks.

—The main business of a Montreal constable is to dodge revolver bullets.

AMERICAN NEWS

SITTING BULL GETTING SAUCY.

He is Checked by Major Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The World's Fort Walsh special says the Dominion authorities are troubled about providing a future home for the Sioux, without creating trouble among the Canadian Indians, who are very jealous of their reserve. Col. McLeod attributes the constant Indian troubles in the United States to dishonest agents, rather than to our Indian policy. He advises the dropping of an absolute military government of the Indians, as it only exasperates and hardens them. He favors keeping the tribes as far apart as possible, giving each a comfortable home, and serve and encouraging it to engage in agriculture, under honest superintendence. Fugitive Nez Perces are suffering so terribly from want of provisions that many are slipping back over the frontier. Sitting Bull never tires talking of his intentions to strike the Americans at the first opportunity. He says he knows the country so well, he could keep Miles and Terry dancing there all Summer. Since his interview with the Commissioners he has become a braggart. Major Walsh took him aback the other day, by telling him if he attempted to attack the American troops or traders from Canadian soil the police would shoot him on the spot.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSP[illegible] OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

THE HIGHWAY COW.

The hue of her hide was a dusky brown,
Her body was lean and her neck was slim;
One horn turned up and the other down,
She was keen of vision and long of limb;
With a Roman nose and a short stump tail,
And ribs like the hoops of a home-made pail.

Many a mark did her old body bear,
She had been a target for all things known;
On many a scar the dusky hair
Would grow no more where it once had grown.
Many a passionate, parting shot
Had left upon her a lasting spot.

Many and many a well aimed stone,
Many a brickbat of goodly size,
And many a cudgel, swiftly thrown,
Had brought the tears to bovine eyes,
Or had bounded off from her bony back
With a noise like the sound of a rifle crack.

Many a day had she passed in the pound,
For helping herself to her neighbor's corn;
Many a cowardly cur and hound
Had been transfixed on her crumpled horn;
Many a tea-pot and old tin pail
Had the farmer boys tied to her time-worn tail.

Old Deacon Gray was a pious man,
Though sometimes tempted to be profane,
When many a weary mile he ran
To drive her out of his growing grain.
Sharp were the pranks she used to play,
To get her fill and get away.

She knew when the Deacon went to town,
She wisely watched him as he went by;
He never passed her without a frown
And an evil gleam in each angry eye;
He would crack his whip in an angry way
And drive along in his "one-horse shay."

Then at his homesteads she loved to call,
Lifting his bars with her crumpled horn;
Nimble scaling his garden wall,
Helping herself to the standing corn;
Eating his cabbage, one by one,
Hurrying home when her work was done.

Often homeward the Deacon came,
Humming a hymn from the house of prayer,
His hopeful heart in a tranquil frame,
His soul as calm as the evening air,
His head as smooth as a well-worn plough,
To find in his garden that highway cow

His human passions were quick to rise,
And striding forth with savage cry,
With fury blazing from both eyes,
As lightnings flash in a summer sky;
Redder and redder his face would grow,
And after the creature he would go.

Over the garden round and round,
Breaking the pear and apple trees;
Trampling his melons into the ground,
Overturning his hives of bees,
Leaving him angry and badly stung,
Wishing the old cow's neck was wrung.

The mosses grew on the garden wall,
The years went by with their work and play;
The boys of the village grew strong and tall,
And the gray-haired farmers passed away,
One by one as the red leaves fall,
But the highway cow outlived them all.

All earthly creatures must have their day,
And some must have their months and years,
And some in dying will long delay,
There is a climax to all careers,
And the highway cow at last was slain
In running a race with a railway train.

All into pieces at once she went,
Just like the savings' bank when they fail;
Out of the world she was swiftly sent;
Little was left but her old stump tail.
The farmer's corn-fields and gardens now
Are haunted no more by that highway cow.

HUNTING A WILD HORSE.

From the Omaha Herald.

For several months a band of wild horses have been roaming over the plains in the vicinity of Pine Bluffs, forty miles east of here, drinking daily of the waters of Lodge Pole creek, a fine large stream near that place. The leader of the band is a large, elegantly proportioned, jet black stallion, with sweeping raven main and tail, fiery eye and majestic mein.

Five days ago a party of cattle herders decided to give chase to this wild monarch of the boundless plain, and mounting fresh and fleet steeds, set out upon his trail. They had arranged for frequent changes of animals, with the view of keeping him in that immediate vicinity, and wearing him out by giving him no rest.

The band of flyers was found, and then began the long and arduous struggle between men used to the ways of wild horses and cattle, skilled in every device of "cutting out," "rounding up," &c., and an untamed rover of the plains, full of subtle equine strategy, of wonderful speed and incalculable nerve, "bottom" and powers of endurance.

For five days and nights has the chase continued. Several of the herders' horses have been killed by riding, but when our informant left Pine Bluffs yesterday morning the noble stallion was prancing around at the head of a band of tame horses, seemingly as fresh and vigorous as though he had never known fatigue. On the second day he was separated from his wild companions, and has since been kept away from them.

Mr. Cole, the leader of the pursuers, is confident that he will capture the magnificent steed, and proposes to follow him to the end. Several wild horses have been captured in the vicinity during the past year.

MORE NEW GOODS ARRIVING DAILY!

These are not Old Bankrupt Goods made years ago, when prices were very much higher than now, and if sold at fifty cents on the dollar would be MORE FOR OLD FASHIONED SHOPWORN GOODS than we are asking for the latest styles of this season's make. We have already proved this to the satisfaction of all who have compared our styles and prices. We are often asked by other Boot and Shoe dealers how we can RETAIL so many lines at less than they pay WHOLESALE.

WE BUY STRICTLY FOR CASH

The Manufacturer therefore runs no risk, and is satisfied with small profits.

WE MAKE SPECIAL CONTRACTS for our leading lines in very large quantities, having two large establishments of our own, and supplying several others. WE SELL STRICTLY FOR CASH, WITHOUT ANY EXCEPTION, therefore incur no losses, run no risk, and do not require large profits.

The Quality of our Goods is Equal to any Former Season!

We have no desire to sell CHEAP GOODS, but are offering A GOOD SOLID ARTICLE at lower prices than the so called CHEAP GOODS.

Everything Ticketed in Plain Figures. Inspect our Prices.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

VOLUME VIII. BELLEVILLE, ONT., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1877 NUMBER 160

THE
DAILY ONTARIO

IS published about five o'clock every afternoon (Sundays excepted), and will be furnished by Carriers at the rate of $5 00 a year if paid in advance, $6 00 otherwise. The price to mail subscribers has been changed to $5 00 a year, the old price $2 50 for six months; $1 25 for three months.

Special attention will be paid to reporting the proceedings of Courts of Law, Corporations, Public Meetings, &c., &c, and in short, neither pains or expense will be spared to make the DAILY ONTARIO worthy of public patronage.

Special announcements can be made in the local columns of the Daily, in the same type as local items, at fifteen cents a line.

Advertisers contracting for any space not less than half a square, can have the privilege of changing their advertisements every two weeks.

Transient advertisements inserted at 8 cents per line for first insertion, and two cents for each addional insertion.

☞ Parties advertising by the year who discontinue before the termination of their contracts, will be held or full amount of said contract.

THE ONTARIO CHRONICLE

Is published every Friday morning at $1.50 per annum if paid in advance. $2 if paid during the year. If not paid till expiration of year, $2 50 will be charged.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

POND'S EXTRACT. POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farmhouse. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

ECONOMY AND "CONTINGENCIES."

How Sir John's Ministers Spent the People's Money.—Was it a Scheme to keep their Private Purses Replenished?

MR. BLAKE AT TEESWATER.

In the course of his speech at Teeswater Mr. Blake in addressing his constituents, said:—Now, Sir I turn to the question of expense; and I ask you confidently wheather having regard to the results I have established, it would not be in the least degree unfair to complain of an increase in the expense of administration? (Hear, hear.) If there has been no needless expense in salaries and contingencies in managing the smaller volume of business done in 1872, is it not reasonable to conclude that the work could not be trebled without to a considerable extent increasing the cost? Could any one of you, whether farmer or tradesman treble your operations without at the same time increasing the charge for management of your farm or your trade? The answer is obvious. (Hear, hear.) But what I have stated is only half the truth; for I have been assuming that the work was formerly kept up to the mark, but in truth it was dreadfully behind hand, the arrears in some cases extending back for years, and a most painful system of delays had grown up; so that, not merely had the work increased, but the existing arrangements were inadequate to the efficient conduct of the smaller volume of business which formerly flowed in. You will see therefore, that there appeared to be no alternative but to propose a very large increase to the cost of management. But before I point out how the exigency has been met, a sense of justice—in which I hope I shall never be wanting—impels me to say that my predecessors were circumstanced somewhat differently from myself. The first incumbent of the office held also the post of First Minister, which necessarily absorbed a large portion of his time and attention, and my more immediate predecessors each held office for but a short period, insufficient for the accomplishment of any large measure of reform. It was not till my second year that I was able to complete the work of reorganization, involving as it did, among other difficulties the retirement or transfer of various officers which could be accomplished only by degrees. Now I will give you the results of that reorganization. The staff had been increased in 1873, and in November of that year, at the resignation of the late government, the annual rate of charge for salaries, including bonuses, and an office charged on contingencies, was over $13,500. Several changes subsequently took place, and the rate of charge when I took office and in May, 1875, was over $15,750. I was, as I have said, unable to make a reduction in salaries during the first year; but the reorganization which, with the assistance of my colleagues, I was enabled to effect was such, that in June last, when I left the office, the rate of charge for salaries was only $10,750, (loud cheers), or a reduction of over $5,000, or about one-third of the rate when I took office, and of $2,800 or about one-fifth of the rate when the late Government resigned. (Renewed cheers.) This great reduction in the annual charge upon you for salaries has been effected, you will bear in mind, notwithstanding the enormous increase in the work, to which I have already called your attention. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) "But," it may be said, "you have accomplished this by transferring to contingencies the regular charge for salaries." This is not so. I quite agree with the argument which is frequently presented, that the contingent account should be zealously looked to, and as it is one of of which a great deal has been made by the Opposition, and as it has been alleged that in every Department of this Government the contingent expenses have been enormously increased by scandalous waste and incapacity on the part of Ministers, I propose to show you the working of the contingent account of the office of Justice. In the fiscal year 1872-3, which I shall call for shortness 1873, the whole contingencies for that office were $8,470.30; in 1876 they were reduced to $4,996.37; and in 1877 they were reduced to $2,787.78. (Loud cheers.) Of the items which go to make up these totals there are four or five, such as stationary, printing, binding, books, subscription to and advertising in newspapers, in which no large reduction has yet been effected. These and some other small items made a total of $2,351.52 in 1873, which was reduced to $3,265 87 in 1877. The remaining items (those on which it was found possible to effect a large reduction) were telegraphing, cab hire, traveling and postage. In 1873 the telegraph account was $4, 371.98; in 1876 $1,164 69, and in 1877 $330. (Loud cheers.) In 1873 cab hire was $1,035.59; in 1876 $38 80, and in 1877 14.80. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) In 1873 the travelling expenses were $1,218.12; in 1876 $322.66, and in 1877 $61 35. In 1873, the postage account was $493.37; in 1876 $228.53, and in 1877 $125 77; although, as I have pointed out, the correspondence has greatly increased. The total of these four items were: for 1873, $7,118.87; for 1876 $1,754 68, and for 1877 $521.92. (Loud cheers.) In 1876 the telegraph account was cut down to about one-fourth; travelling expenses to about one-fourth; cab hire to less than one twenty-fourth, and postages to less than one-half. In 1877, telegraphing was cut down to less than one-thirteenth; travelling expenses to about one twenty-fourth; cab hire to one-seventieth, and postage to one-fourth. The total saving on the four items, for the first year, was $5,364 19, or three-fourths of the whole amount; for the second year $6,596.95, or about thirteen-fourteenths of the whole amount. (Loud cheers.) The saving on telegraphing alone was $4,030 out of $4,371; on cab hire alone $1,020.70 out of $1035.50; on travelling alone $1,166 77 out of $1,218 12, and on postage alone $367.70 out of $493.37. The saving in telegraphing alone would pay the whole of the present contingencies and leave a surplus of $1,250. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) The savings in cab hire travelling and postage would pay nearly the whole of the contingencies. The total saving on the contingent account was, for the first year $4,474 out of $9,470, or nearly one-half; for the second year $6,682 out of $9,470, or nearly three-fourths of the whole amount. Combining the charges for salaries and contingencies, the total charge for the contingencies of 1873 and the rate of salaries for November of that year would be over $23,000. When I took office they would be over $26,000; and when I left office they had fallen to $13,537, about one-half, or a saving of $13,000 on the rate when I came in, and five-twelfths, or a saving of $9,500 on the date when the

The Daily Ontario.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 5.

There are only twenty students now attending the Normal School at Ottawa, against eighty last year. All these, however, are for first and second class certificates. At the Toronto School there are but forty-three in attendance.

But few emigrants are now arriving in the country. No encouragement is given at the present time, owing to the difficulty experienced in "placing" the few that do come. The prospect for the winter is not reassuring.

The final attack on Plevna is evidently near at hand. The Grand Duke Nicholas has his headquarters at Bogot, eight miles south of Plevna, and the Czar has arrived on the scene to be a witness of the last act in the bloody drama. There is no doubt but Plevna will fall.

The latest report from Drummond and Arthabaska is to the effect that some seventeen thousand dollars were spent by the Conservatives in the election of Mr. Borbeau. The case, as it now stands before the country, is a fit subject for the Election Court, where it will be decided.

It is now positively announced that Hon. Mr. Thibaudeau has again offered to resign his seat for East Quebec, in order to make way for Mr. Laurier, and that his constituents approve of the course proposed. In case of this arrangement being carried out, Mr. Kerouac, Mayor of St. Sauvieur, will probably be the Opposition candidate.

The majority against Mr. Laurier was 26. This, the Conservatives contend, settles the question entirely, and dooms the Government to everlasting extinction. Mr. Archibald, when a member of Sir John's Cabinet, was defeated in Colchester by a majority of 263. The majority against Sir Geo. Cartier in Montreal was 1,252. Sir Francis Hincks was driven out of South Brant in 1872 by an adverse vote of 272. Sir John or his political friends did not accept these majorities as sufficient to force resignation.

Sitting Bull is not disposed to wear his honors with becoming modesty. H has become overbearing and saucy, and openly threatens to make an attempt to "get even" with the Americans. Major Walsh, of the North-West Mounted Police, took some of the conceit out of the dusky braggart by informing him that, should he offer to open hostilities from Canadian territory they (the Police) would shoot him like a dog. He is now more civil and cautious in his language.

Immediately after the Drummond and Arthabaska election the Ottawa correspondent of the Mail telegraphed to that journal an account of a gathering of Ministers at Hon. Mr. Huntington's residence, carefully depicting the consternation visible on their countenances. At the time this gathering was represented as taking place, Mr. Huntington was in New York, Mr. Pellitier en route to Quebec and Mr. Cauchon somewhere else. The only Minister at the place was Mr. Laflamme. But this is only a sample of the Mail's Ottawa correspondence.

The License Inspector of the County of Grey and others responsible for the due administration of the law, are having an interesting time in their efforts to enforce the provisions of the Dunkin Act, which has been abopted by a majority of the electors of that municipality. A few days ago a Magistrate's court was in session at Chatsworth, in that County, having several liquor cases to deal with. At the close, the Inspector, County Attorney, detectives and others were attacked by a mob of some fifty rowdies, and several of the officials were badly injured. One of the attacking party was shot in the leg by the Inspector. A telegram was sent to Owen Sound, and a number of special constables were sworn in and despatched to the scene of the disturbance. The officers are determined to enforce the law at all hazards.

MR. CARTWRIGHT AT HOME.

On Friday night the Hon. Finance Minister addressed his constituents at Napanee. The weather was unpropitious and travelling disagreeable, but notwithstanding all this a very large audience greeted the speaker, the hall being literally packed. Many of those present came from Picton, Kingston and Belleville. The Mayor, W. S. Williams, Esq., filled the chair, and on the platform were Messrs. Deroche and Striker, M. P. P.'s, Hon. John Stevenson, A. L. Morden, W. T. Yarwood, &c. Mr. Cartwright had promised to pay particular attention to the charges formulated against the Government, at the recent Tory demonstration held in Napanee. He did not forget to redeem his promise. After having disposed of each charge to the entire satisfaction of the audience, he turned his attention to Sir John, and for nearly an hour dissected the political anatomy of that gentleman in a scientific manner. He carefully and successfully analyzed the public character of the Tory Chieftain, and scrupled not to lay bare the festering polution that would be hid from the vulgar gaze.

Sir. John has stirred up the wrong man by attacking Mr. Cartwright, and no doubt he regrets his rashness by this time. He has realized that all the dirty linen does not belong to the Reform leaders, and that his political life is quite as vunerable as that of any other public man in Canada. The Finance Minister is a veritable Rupert on the stump, as well as in the House.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The system of education known as the Kindergarten School is rapidly growing in favor here and in the United States. A proposition to establish such a school in the city of Ottawa in being considered, with every probability of its being adopted. For the benefit of our readers we give the following brief history of the system:

In 1837 an eminent German educator, named Frederick Frœbel, introduced into that country a new method of infant training. The name given to it—the Kindergarten—means children's garden, the school consisting of a series of large, well-ventilated rooms, opening upon a garden. In this garden, besides the play ground for all and a plot for flowers, there are small plots for each child old enough to cultivate them. The children in attendance may be from the age of a few months to fourteen years. They pass from three to five hours each day in the garden, and are always accompanied by their teachers—young, well, educated women, who enter into the work from a sincere love for it and for the children. The number of children under the care of a single teacher is usually not more than twenty-five. No corporal punishment is allowed. The only punishment found necessary is exclusion from the garden for a day or two. Frœbel devised many games and exercises for his course of instruction, and, as a part of the necessary apparatus, prepared six gifts, which are used in all the Kindergartens. In the use of each of these an explanatory song, sung at first by the teacher, and afterwards by the children, accompanies each exercise or game. The first gift consists of six soft balls of different colors and a string, which are moved horrizontally, vertically and in circles before the infant by the teacher or an older child, who sings the song explaining the motions. By these balls the child obtains views of form, color, size and movement, as well as of his own individuality. The second gift is a cube, a cylinder, a wooden ball, a stick and a string, imparting form, size, sound and movement. The third is a cube cut into eight equal cubes, teaching the child the law of development and to get a notion of angles, cubes, the laws of construction, and of the division of units into halves, quarters and eights. The fourth gift is a cube divided into eight equal planes, and by means of this and the preceding gifts the alphabet and the elementary principles of arithmetic and geometry may be taught. The fifty and sixth gifts are extensions of the third and fourth, while there is a seventh gift containing all the forms of the last four. For older pupils, Frœbel established scholars' gardens, in which workshops took the place of games.

RANDOM DASHES.

The first snow fell last night.

Now is the time to set out grapevines.

Wild geese passing south—cold weather not far off.

The wisest man is he who has the most civility for others.

The most accomplished young man is he who can bid a girl good night without mussing her back hair.

Coat thieves and cold weather come together. Keep an eye on your garments in the hall.

There is a man in town who snores so heavily that the neighbors always set out their wash-tubs, thinking that a thunder storm was coming up.

Country editors are so busy thanking people for big beets, squash, cabbage, second-crop berries, beans, etc., that they have no time to ask subscribers to send on that "little $1.00."

Editors and reporters in Ontario are warned against accepting their salaries without close scrutiny. Counterfeit five cent pieces are in circulation.

THE POOR.

The approach of cold weather has brought out the mendicants on our streets, and every day these poor, shivering creatures are met, with a pinched, hungry look and garments that betoken extreme poverty at home. They support a miserable life during the summer months, when less food and but little clothing will nourish and protect the body. But when the winter comes, and the wind whistles through the openings in the hut or the frost congeals without something more than a crust of bread and a few rags are required to provide the necessary animal heat. We have always thought that a systematic plan for distributing charity and relieving the wants of the destitute would answer the required purpose to much better advantage than the indiscriminate offerings by those disposed to "give to the poor." The temperance people of Ottawa and other places have already taken action, and purpose opening soup-kitchens for the relief of those who may need such assistance during the coming winter. The Rine movement in Belleville is capable of doing something of this nature, if so inclined, and we believe an attempt would be well received and generously supported. The number here, extremely pinched by poverty, may be comparatively small, but that they exist we have ample evidence. It would not be difficult to distinguish between impostors and the deserving poor, and the donors would have the satisfaction of knowing that their gifts were properly applied.

THE ELEVATOR FIRE

Duseberry's body found in the ruins.

As was generally supposed on Saturday and what has since proved true, Richard Duesberry came to his end by being burned by the fire at the Farmers' Elevator.

On Saturday (as was stated in our issue of that date) he had been ordered to attend to the repairs of a pulley in the upper part of the elevator, but his family and friends thinking that he might have gone up town insituted a search for him but without success. Hotels and residences of friends were visited by them without finding any trace of the missing man. Then, alas, it was deemed certain that he had perished in the flames and efforts were made to find the body but without success. A number of persons interested themselves in the case and the result was that an order was given by the Mayor to search the ruins. Shortly before nine o'clock on Sunday morning, a number of men began work and in about ten minutes the body was found a little to the west and south of the centre of the elevator under about seven feet of grain. Both hands were clenched and one held a cold-chisel, thus showing that the unfortunate man had attempted to perform the work which he had been asked to do. (The remains were found only a few feet from the place where the searchers had been at work Saturday afternoon.) It is not improbable but that when he discovered that the fire had attacked the building he was endeavoring to escape from it but had been suffocated by the smoke. The corpse was much disfigured having been greatly burned about the head and limbs.

An inquest was held before Dr. Hamilton, when the jury after hearing the statements of witnesses returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being suffocated by the fire and that no blame could be attached to any one.

Deceased was a member of L. O. L. 727 and also of the 49th Batt. members of both of which acted as bearers at the funeral yesterday afternoon, the services for which were performed by Rev. Mr. Jones. Deceased leaves a widow and large family to mourn his untimely loss.

SUDDEN DEATH.

A MAN FALLS THROUGH THE G. T. R BRIDGE AND IS DROWNED.

About four o'clock on Saturday afternoon a man named Jacob Macmasters, a farmer, residing in the 1st Con. of Sidney. about eight miles from here, was the victim of an accident which resulted in his death.

The case as developed at an inquest held on Saturday evening by Dr. Hamilton is as follows: Deceased was observed by several persons crossing the bridge from the western side of the river. He had reached a spot about the centre pier, when he was observed to stagger and fall. A man named Charboneau saw him and thinking he might have fallen on the pier, went to his assistance. When he reached the place where the man had disappeared; he saw that he had fallen in the water beneath. He hurried to the river bank in order to go out to him, but found that two young men named Robinson and Gilchrist were swimming to his assistance. Owing, however, to the coldness of the water and the rapidity of the current they were unable to reach him, and were compelled to return to the shore. Then boards were shoved out to the victim of the accident and a raft constructed, by means of which the body was brought to land.

Dr. Tracy made attempts at resuscitation, but ineffectually. He states, however, that if those efforts had been made three minutes after the occurrence, the man's life would have been saved.

There was a cut on the head of the deceased which doubtless hastened his death. The body was given over to friends, who took it home yesterday.

Macmasters leaves a widow and two children to mourn his sudden demise.

ANOTHER INQUEST,

At the desire of the father of the little girl, Catharine Capper, whose death was stated in our issue of Thursday, an inquest was opened this morning before Dr. Burdett, assisted by Drs. Tracy and Hamilton.

It had been asserted that her death had been superinduced by violence and to determine whether it was or not an investigation was begun.

Evidence was heard after which a verdict was returned to the effect that the little girl died from want and exposure.

MELANGE.

It was heart disease that carried off Queen Pomare of the Society Islands—an evidence that high-toned civilization has reached her dominions.

Gen. Fremont is said to have so little money that he is obliged to live close and dress shabbily. Well, there's nothing like being in the fashion, General.

It will be satisfactory to those who are addicted to novel reading to learn that at the Librarians' Conference in London the general feeling seemed to be that the taste for novel reading was a natural stage of intellectual development, from which higher tastes might be expected to arise.

Says the "Hawkeye:" "You can sell your cat for $10 in the Black Hills. It will cost you $130 to get out there with the cat, and get home again; but then you will be rid of your cat, and that is worth $120 to any man."

—Over 300 replies were made to the recent advertisement for a caretaker for the Mechanics' Institute, Toronto, including several from London, Hamilton, Kingston, and other cities.

—Over $600,000 will be at once distributed among the numerous children of the late sewing machine inventor, Singer.

ABBREVIATIONS.

His Expectations.—Williams, the Weston murderer, expects to have his sentence commuted, and so refuses to see a clergyman.

Anothr.—The London Free Press has had a libal suit to defend, and won it, too. When will people learn to respect the infallibility of the Press?

Another Trial. Hon. M. E. Cameron having obtained some additional evidence in the Guelph abduction case will move in term for its reopening.

For the Poor.—The temperance people of Ottawa believe that faith without works is of no avail. They have determined to establish a soup kitchen this winter for the relief of the poor.

For Commutation.—A petition is being signed in Toronto praying for the commutation of the death sentence passed on Williams, the Weston wife murderer. Several of the jury who convicted him have signed their names.

Fowl Disease.—It is stated that a disease is spreading among the chickens which takes the form of violent diarrhœa, and kills them off at wholesale. Mr. D. McLaughlan, of East Williams, lost fifty or sixty fowls by this disease last week.

Eccentric.—The Rev. A. J. Bray has made a vigorous attack on the Rine movement. As the Brockville Recorder remarks, Bray is determined to be sensational at any cost. He is bound to be leader in all things and follower in none.

That Hired Man Again.—A "hired man," named Farrer, working with Walter Travis, of the township of King, ran away with his employer's wife the other day, but was followed and captured at Toronto. The runaway wife, however, has not been found.

Desperate.—The "Black Horse Gang," in Montreal, commit highway robbery on the streets, and get away with their plunder. It does not speak well for the government of the city.

The G. T. R.—The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending October 27th were $217,864, an increase of $83,362 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The increse during seventeen weeks is $269,918.

—The country press of South Carolina cry for the re-establishment of the Winnipeg post.

—The directors of the permanent exhibition at Philadelphia decline to close their establishment on Sundays.

—Four million feet of lumber have been shipped from Ottawa to Burlington this week.

—The City Attorney of Montreal states that the city is bound to pay the volunteers for duty on the 16th of July.

CARD OF THANKS.

THE undersigned, on behalf of the Farmers' Warehousing Company, desires to return thanks to the members of the Belleville Fire Brigade and citizens who so willingly and nobly assisted in endeavoring to save their property from the flames this morning.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only a to the quality and style of goods, but also a to price.

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 5.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

DISCONTINUED.—Blairton post office has been discontinued by order of the Department.

TO COMMENCE.—The evening classes in connection with the Mechanics' Institute will commence this evening.

FRIDAY'S BLOW.—The blow on Friday caused considerable damage in the country as fences and trees in a number of places were blown down.

NIGHT SCHOOL.—Those who intend joining the evening classes at the Commercial College should bear in mind that the session begins this evening.

MEETING.—The County Council will meet for despatch of business on Tuesday the 20th instead of the date named at the last session.

ARRIVAL.—The "S. S. Sarmatian" from Liverpool on the 25th arrived at Father Point yesterday with 49 cabin and 68 steerage passengers.

CONCERT.—The Rine Club purposes holding a concert on Friday evening next when the Tandy Brothers of Kingston—well and favorably known here, will contribute to the programme.

OPEN MEETING.—The Rine Club will give another of their entertainments in the Town Hall this evening when Rev. Mr. Burton will deliver an address and Messrs. Holden and Carmichael contribute readings.

THE CELLS.—On Saturday afternoon and evening two drunks were quartered in the cells. Both were liberated by a Magistrate. Last night two tramps were provided with lodgings in this institution.

UNNECESSARY.—At 9.30 yesterday morning, the alarm bell was rung and No. 2 steamer went to the scene of Saturday's fire. Its presence however was unnecessary as the fire was almost entirely out.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS.—The shipments for the week ending the 3rd were 46,735 bushels. The whole shipments last year were 282,875: thus far this season they amount to 281,087 exclusive of what was shipped this spring amounting to 18,329 bushels.

THE G. J. R.—The work of ballasting this road is being continued, and is progressing satisfactorily. On Friday three cars of rye were brought over it from Stirling to the Belleville station and taken from thence to the dock.

MARINE.—The "William Elgin" left here yesterday morning to load grain at Prinyer's dock. The "Alexandria" arrived in the afternoon from Montreal with a large cargo of freight. The "Rockaway' and 'O. Gorman" came in soon after, and the "Ocean Wave" this morning. The "Louise' is at anchor in the bay, loaded with barley.

PERSONAL.—The Beaver says:—Mr. T. F. O'Connell has received the appointment of Inspector of local agencies in the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company. His territory extends from Brockville to Toronto. He will reside in Belleville whither he will soon remove with his wife and family.

THE DEPOT.—Not unfrequently of late, complaints have been made of the actions of the runners at the depot—and justly so too, as passengers have been greatly annoyed by them on many occasions. To-day a number were summoned before the police court and had their cases laid over.

THE FIRE.—Smoke still issues from the ruins of the elevator and no flames are at all visible. To-day's rain will be productive of good to it as it will materially tend to quench whatever fire there may be in the building. The burnt grain emits a terrible stench which greatly annoys the residents of the locality and visitors to that part of the town as well.

THE FISHERIES.—On Friday last a number of parties were brought before Mr. C. Gilchrist, at Trenton, and were fined $50 and costs each for violating the fishery laws by spearing in the Trent. The fishermen of the section above named should make up their minds that unless they obey the law Inspectors Wilkins and Gilchrist and their assistant, Mr. Horace Wirt, they will be brought to time.

AUCTION SALE.—Our readers should bear in mind that Mr. J. H. Holden, of Sidney Grange, will dispose of his pure-breed Ayrshire cattle and farming implements by public auction to-morrow. The cattle are well known as being most suitable for dairymen, and as the herd is composed of very excellent animals a rare opportunity for the acquirement of first class stock is offered. The various implements used on the farm, will be sold at the same time. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. and as provisions have been made for the wants of visitors a large number of buyers is expected.

THE CASH SYSTEM.—The Monetary Times of the 2nd inst. has an article referring to Messrs. Geo. Ritchie & Co.'s circular which appears in our columns, speaking highly of the position there in taken. The Monetary Times is one of the best authorities in the country in matters of this kind, and its commendation of the course pursued by Messrs. Ritchie & Co. is worthy of note, and we trust it may lead to their example being widely followed throughout the Dominion. The benefits resulting from the strictly cash system to all parties concerned, both buyers and sellers, are indisputable; and the experience of the few who have adopted it goes to show that the public are not slow to appreciate its advantages.

THE FIFTH OF NOVEMBER.

The Orange Young Britons and their friends celebrated the anniversary of the Gunpowder Plot to-day.

Invitations had been extended by them to their brethren of Kingston, Napanee, Picton and Cobourg, and delegations from these places arrived this morning. There was an excursion from Picton which brought to town a large number of strangers.

About two o'clock the brethren met at their hall and a procession having been formed they marched to Christ Church, where a sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Jones. The Band of the 15th A. L. I. headed the procession, which was a large one.

CONDENSED NEWS

From North Fredericksburg.

One day recently Mr. Philip Garrison, whilst at work, cut one of his knees very badly and doctored the wound himself by putting eight stitches in the cut. So well did he think he performed his labor that he returned to his work, but unfortunately he caught cold in the wound and his leg became inflamed and he got ill. We are glad to learn, however, that he is now recovering.

POSTIVE RESULTS. There are numerous remedies that cure sometimes and become trusted as useful, but none have proved so effectual—cured so many and such remarkable cases—as Dr. Ayer's medicines.

The Cherry Pictoral has restored great numbers of patients who were believed to be hopelessly affected with consumption.

Ague Cure breaks up chills and fever quickly and surely.

Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla eradicates scofula and impurities of the blood, clenses the system and restores it to vigorous health. By its timely use many troublesome disorders that cause a decline of health are expelled or cured.

Ayer's Pills and their effects are too well known everywhere to require any commendation from us here.—"Scranton (Pa.) Times."

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

late Government resigned, and this, mark you, once again, in the face of an enormously increased volume of work. (Loud cheers.) Now, Sir, I do not propose at this moment to enter into an inquiry as to how the larger sums I have named came to be expended by our adversaries in 1873 in the execution of the comparatively small work of that time. Our opponents at any rate, will not contend that their expenditures were wrongful or wasteful; they will argue for their propriety and necessity; they will tell you that that they could not conduct the business of the State more economically than they did. Assuming for the moment without at all admitting the accuracy of this view, I leave you to contrast the figures I gave given, and to determine whether they furnish any ground for charging us with extravagance or incapacity in the management of these departmental matters, which it has been rightly said are peculiarly under our own eye and control, and in respect of which, therefore, we have a special responsibility. Nay, Sir, I go further—I retort the charge upon our adversaries; I say their figures put them, and not us, on the defensive; that they lead to inferences the very opposite of these which have been urged against us; and that we may fairly ask you to decide that we have been able to walk in a more excellent way than that followed by our loud mouthed accusers. (Hear, hear and cheers.) But, Sir, it may be said we have sacrificed efficiency to economy. That I emphatically deny. The business of the office has been promptly done on business principles; long-standing arrears have been wound up, and when I left the Department my officers reported that there was nothing behind hand. (Cheers.) It has been found, and will be found possible, to manage the office with efficiency upon the present scale of expenditure, though the increase of business in the future may perhaps necessitate some small additions to the staff. I cannot part from the subject without saying that what has been done could not have been accomplished without the assistance of a most efficient deputy, and of other officers who took a pride and pleasure in their work. I make no boast of these results. It was my duty—my special duty—to improve the organization of my office. In response to the charge of neglect of duty I have spoken; and I shall expect candid Conservatives here and elsewhere to cease these attacks for the future until they have examined, and unless they can belie my figures. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Besides the changes which I have mentioned, others have been made in the same Department. The Board of Penitentiary Inspectors was composed of three members. It had a good deal of power, and involved a good deal of expense. Its work was not satisfactory; and you may perhaps remember an investigation before a committee of the House in connection with some transactions at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which did not reflect credit on the Board or its superiors. Mr. Fournier abolished the Board, instituting for it one inspector, who is an officer of the Department of Justice. It is true that by this change more work was imposed on the Minister, but at the same time greater ecomony, a more direct responsibility, and a higher degree of efficiency have been produced. The financial results have been that whereas the average annual charge for the years 1870 to 1874 was within a trifle of $9,000, the annual charge for 1876 was $4,614, or about half the former amount (Hear, hear, and cheers) So again with reference to the Dominion Police, who are under the immediate surveillance of the Minister of Justice. The annual charge under this head for the year 1873 was about $17,200; the vote for the present fiscal year is $11,000, a saving of over one-third, or about $6,200, the bulk of which was caused in this way: I found there was an officer at Montreal called a Superintendent of Police, whose sole duties were to receive his own salaries of two constables (who themselves had nothing to do), and send returns to Ottawa of this transaction. (Laughter.(We superannuated the officer, abolished his office, dismissed the constables and saved the money. (Laughter and cheers.(The general result of the economies to which I have referred is that whereas the aggregate charge for departmental salaries and contingencies, for police and penitentiary directors, was in the time of the late Government $49,200; it has been reduced to $29,000—a saving of more than two fifths, or over $20,000 a year.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife. The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

A Lecture to YoungMen

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

These are not Old Bankrupt Goods made years ago, when prices were very much higher than now, and if sold at fifty cents on the dollar would be MORE FOR OLD FASHIONED SHOP-WORN GOODS than we are asking for the latest styles of this season's make. We have already proved this to the satisfaction of all who have compared our styles and prices. We are often asked by other Boot and Shoe dealers how we can RETAIL so many lines at less than they pay WHOLESALE.

WE BUY STRICTLY FOR CASH

The Manufacturer therefore runs no risk, and is satisfied with small profits.

WE MAKE SPECIAL CONTRACTS for our leading lines in very large quantities, having two large establishments of our own, and supplying several others. WE SELL STRICTLY FOR CASH, WITHOUT ANY EXCEPTION, therefore incur no losses, run no risks, and do not require large profits.

The Quality of our Goods is Equal to any Former Season!

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

FILLITER vs OSTROM.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on the following lands and premises:

Saturday, the 17th day of November 1877.

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

LADIES' COLUMN.

A ROYAL LOVE MATCH.

The Princess Charlotte of Prussia is about to be married to Prince Bernhard of Saxe-Meiningen. It is a marriage of affection. She is seventeen. They have been acquainted from childhood, and frendship has ripened into love. The affair is cordially approved by parents and grandparents on both sides. The young Charlotte is a special favorite of Queen Victoria, and, in spite of her youth, is finely accomplished. She has much practical sense and a gentle, sympathetic, and benevolent nature. She has a pleasant face, married only by the peculiarly unlovedly mouth which Queen Victoria shares with her decendants.

THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

Olive Logan says the Princess of Wales is exceedingly gentle and pretty, and she smiles as frequently as a pleased schoolgirl, yet occasionally an anxious and nervous expression flits across her countenance as if she were enduring sudden and acute pain. Her hair is a pretty chesnut-brown, and is very skillfully dressed in a style that was invented for her, and for a long time worn by no one but her. A large false piece covers the whole top of her head, and from the forehead backward is one mass of tiny curls and dainty puffs; at the back the usual plaits or puffs finish the coiffure.

BEWARE OF HAIR-WASHES.

Ladies, fair ladies, beware of hair-washes. A medical friend informs me that it has lately been discovered that the active ingredient of all washes for subduing gray hair is lead, which, uniting gradually with the natural sulphur of the hair, forms a black sulphuret of lead, which is really the darkening agent. We all know how deleterous and even fatal is the application of lead in any chemical shape to the pores of the human body; what, then, must be the mischief produced by its being continuously and often daily rubbed into the delicate skin of a lady's scalp! Here, however, is a practical illustration, vouched for by Mr. Brownfield of Norwich. The wash has been used for two years, but only very moderately, and during all that time there was a general malaise and loss of muscular power. About three months since, two days after an affectual application of the wash, a slight epileptic fit occurred, and six weeks afterwards a similar application was followed by palsy of the extensor muscles on the left hand. In this case probably another dose might have produced paralysis; but by this time suspicion was aroused, and by the steady applications of antidotes the symptoms are now disappearing. The profits of selling these washes are said to be so tempting that, since the secret of the darkening agent has oozed out, numerous hairdressers, both in town and country, are manufacturing them and pressing them upon their customers.

THE TIED-IN PETTICOAT.

The reason why the present tie-in style of petticoat, which recoils, without imitating, the Japanese costume, is good, and, when not overdone, pretty, is because it does precend to follow the natural lines. It does display the clear line of the hip without the deformity of a "bustle," and this gives a pretty figure, grace and lightness. It does fall in at the knees, where the human figure, naturally narrows, and spreads a little below with much the curve natural in walking. This curve may be traced in any statue. All women have a slight tendency to be knock-kneed, whilst a man's leg is by nature straight. But any custom carried to an exaggerated extent becomes ridiculous, and if women have the bad taste to sacrifice the free use of their limbs in the attempt to out Herod Herod, so much the worse for them. A tied-in dress is also commendable because it indicates those forms of the body which have too long been completely hidden, and so far wasted, for, beauty implying visibility, a beauty undiscovered is scarcely to be reckoned as a beauty.

The reason why the same dress too tightly tied is bad is because when the limbs are deprived of comfort, grace is immediately lost, elasticity of carriage checked, the lines of the legs destroyed, the divers uglinesses result. The effect becomes that of an elephantine leg fastened to a weight to prevent its running away. Cows sometimes have a clog tied to the foot that they may not stray far, but that is scarcely a precedent for a pretty woman.

CONSUMPTION A DISEASE OF IN-DOOR LIFE.

Among the natives of Senegambia pulmonary affections are not only nearly, but absolutely unknown; yet a single year passed in the over-crowded man-pens and steerage-hells of the slave-trader often sufficed to develop the disease in that most virulent form known as galloping consumption; and the brutal planters of the Spanish Antilles made a rule of never buying an imported negro before they had "tested his wind," i. e, trotted him up-hill and watched his respirations. If he proved to be "a roarer," as turfmen term it, they knew that the dungeon had done its work and discounted his value accordingly. "If a perfectly sound man is imprisoned for life," says Baron d'Arblay, the Belgian philanthropist, "his lungs, as a rule, will first show symptoms of disease, and shorten his misery by a hectic decline, unless he should commit suicide."

Our home statistics show that the percentage of deaths by consumption in each state bears an exact proportion to the greater or smaller number of inhabitants who follow indoor occupations, and is highest in the factory districts of New England and the crowded cities of our central states. In Great Britain the rate increases with the latitude, and attains its maximum height in Glasgow, where, as Sir Charles Brodie remarks, windows are opened only one day for every two in Birmingham, and every three and a half in London; but going farther north the percentage suddenly sinks from twenty-three to eleven, and even to six, if we cross the fifty-seventh parallel, which marks the boundary between the manufacturing counties of Central Scotland and the pastoral regions of the north.

It is distressingly probable, then, to say the least, that consumption, the most fearful scourge of the human race, is not a "mysterious dispensation of Providence," nor a "product of our outrageous climate," but the direct consequence of an outrageous violation of the physical laws of God.—Dr. Felix L. Oswald in Popular Science Monthly.

The Daily Ontario.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 7.

MR. LAURIER has not definitely accepted the proffered candidature for Quebec East, though electioneering is being carried on with spirit.

MR. VENNOR, of the Geological Survey, still adheres to his belief in the great richness of the phosphate field in the County of Ottawa. He says there are hundreds of extensive deposits known to him that have not yet been touched.

AS we remarked in yesterday's issue, the Education Department has resolved to do its own printing hereafter, instead of getting it done in a general office. This means is adopted as the only way to ensure positive secrecy respecting examination papers and their contents.

THERE is a prevailing feeling at Ottawa that the lumber trade will be much brisker next spring than it has been for the past few years. Large gangs of men are being sent to the shanties, which indicates that the make of timber and sawlogs will be larger this winter than usual.

THE Globe refers to the education frauds that have recently been made the subject of investigation, and concludes that the heaviest penalty to which the guilty parties in both professions—teachers and printers—can be subjected is ostracism from the ranks of the profession. This penaltp, too, should be mercilessly exacted.

PLEVNA has long borne, both among the Turks and Bulgarians, the epithet of "the impregnable," in the same way that Genoa is distinguished by the Italians as "the superb," Florence as "the beautiful," &c. In the case of Plevna, the addition of the adjective dates back to the time of Bajazid the Great, when the fortress held out against the Turks for six-and-sixty years, as the legend runs, as related by the country folks. It was only after the death of its commander, Michael, who received from his enemies the title of "Ghazi" or the "conqueror," that Plevna ultimately fell into the hands of the Turks.

FEEBLE CRITICISM.

Mr. Blake's Teeswater address, which has lately been published, rouses the Mail to a desperate effort. The critic is no ordinary penny-a-liner, but a genuine disciple of the Jeffrey school, one who draws his inspiration from the gods. From the frequent poetical quotations and dips into mythological literature we conclude that the versatile Nicholas Flood Davin has not exhausted his powers in producing the "Irishman in Canada." Through nearly three columns of editorial type the reviewer gambols in fantastic flights of a disordered mind, illy at ease with his subject, but resolved to shield his convictions by a sorry attempt to appear funny. If what the Mail has produced be intended for a criticism of Mr. Blake's speech, then we have the most brilliant example of little in much that has been given to the world in these degenerate days of practical thought and concise expression. No attempt whatever is made to dispute or argue the points advanced by the "Bayard of Gritism." And, we presume, the Canadian public will applaud the wisdom of the journalist who has sufficient sense to fight clear of a subject he is unable to cope with. The Teeswater address of the Hon. President of the Council stands alone as a master exposition of public affairs and an eloquent defence of cherished principles. We have differed with Mr. Blake on some minor questions of political import, but we honor the man and reverence his transcendent abilities. His utterances carry conviction because they are the expressions of mature and well-qualified thought. The public eagerly gather up the ideas he advances and treasure them as oracular, because the man has never been impeached with a dishonest motive or found guilty of an ignoble deed. Mr. Blake's Teeswater speech is above criticism.

SENTIMENTAL BOSH.

Some sentimental nuisance, who professes to have "a heart that can feel," writes to the Mail in a lugubrious vein about the Sturdy case, and pathetically pleads for two of the worst criminals that our Courts have sentenced for many a day. Sympathy for the unfortunate, whoever they may be, and more especially for the motherless children left to the care of a heartless world, is all well enough in its place, but when a sane individual begins to tell us how the cheeks of hundreds of law-abiding citizens have been drenched with tears and their hearts furrowed with corroding sorrow, all on account of the wrong done "the two poor souls now spending sleepless nights as ages in cells once occupied by felons," the dose is a little too much.

The abduction of Miss Carr was planned and executed with consummate villainy, and the chief actors in such a crime are only suffering a righteous punishment, which should have been made more severe. Many respectable citizens of Guelph, who have hearts that can feel quite as well as the Mail's correspondent, swore that they heard the young woman's screams when the abductors were forcibly taking her from the town. She was subdued by brute force and the use of stupifying drugs, and there is little wonder that she demurely submitted to the marriage ceremony without giving an alarm. After what she had been subjected to by her captors, the only thought remaining was how life might be preserved. The evidence adduced at the trial justified the verdict of the jury.

RUFFIANISM RAMPANT.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

It was truly said a short time ago, by an eminent judge, that the tide of crime was setting in upon us with tremendous force. Belleville is fast becoming notorious for all kinds of dreadful crimes. So depraved have some of our young men become, that it is their habit, when ever they see an unprotected lady, about nightfall or early in the evening, to accost her with some of the most lewd and horrible expressions of which their corrupt minds are susceptible. An instance of this kind occurred last week, when not only was the lady accosted with the vile language alluded to, but the ruffian attempted to strike her. This took place about 9 o'clock p. m., on Friday last, on the corner of George & Bridge Streets. What is the remedy for this state of things? Are our wives and daughters to be grossly insulted by these licentious ruffians? Cannot some scheme for their protection be devised?

THE CANADIAN MONTHLY.

We have received the November number of this magazine, and find it equal, if not superior, to its predecessors. "Personal Representation and the Representation of Minorities," by Mr. John Matthews, which will be continued in the next number, is a well-written and interesting paper. Mr. Holmstead, Registrar to the Court of Chancery, contributes an important article on "The law of succession to land in Ontario," which should be extensively read. "The three great Problems of Geology," by Mr. S. H. Jones, based upon the recent work of Mr. Croll—"Climate and Time"—contains much that is interesting and instructive. "Our Future," by Argus of Halifax, is only another name for the Colonel question, and is written in the independence vein. There are a number of other and lighter articles, all pleasant and entertaining reading. Mark Twain's "Notes of an Idle Excursion" are continued, and leave the reader at Bermuda. We pass over Mr. Gray's review of "Swinburne's poetry; "Strange Experiencies," by Mrs. C. R. Carson; the Poetry &c. "Round the Table" and "Current Events" are unusually full and lively. Book reviews and the "Animals of Canada" complete the number. Hart and Rawlinson, Toronto.

THE GUELPH ABDUCTRESS.

This is what Louisa Sturdy said when she was taken to Kingston. After receiving her sentence she broke completly down, and, in conversation with a friend who went to see her, said:—"I never thought it would come to what it has; I knew there never would be any peace in the house until father got Miss Carr; we all liked her for his sake, and so I did my best to get her for him, never giving a thought to crime or punishment, for father never intended to hurt her. We were willing to wait upon her if we could only get her in the house, and would have treated her like a lady all her life for father's sake for he had at that time plenty to live on. Even the little ones would clap their hands when they heard Annie's name."

THE WAR NEWS.

Further Turkish reverses are announced from Armenia, and it is even stated that the Russians have occupied Erzeroum, while Mukhtar Pasha is still falling back. An attempt is to be made to relieve Osman Pasha, and Chefket Pasha is now marching with a strong force upon the Russian lines round Plevna. The city is to be amply provisioned, and the Turks are confident that it will hold out. Mehemet Ali has arrived at Sofia for the purpose of organizing an army for the defence of the western Balkan posses.

At Constantinople a conspiracy has been discovered in the interest of the ex-Sultan Murad, and many arrests of prominent dignitaries have been made.

FROM D. I. K. RINE.

The following greeting by telegram from Mr. D. I. K. Rine from Kingston was received by the Secretary of the Rine Club here for the success of their concert on Friday night.

"The Rine Total Abstinance Club and friends of Kingston are getting hope and immense audiences, who will welcome the Tandy Brothers! They are identified with the movement here, rendering at all times efficient service in song.

MEXICAN ATROCITIES.

A telegram from Brownsville, Taxas, to the Galveston "News" says:—"Details of a horrible crime reached here from Matamoros. About the 10th of September, Donnt Ritta Chapa de Menchaca, a wealthy lady of Matamoros, accompanied by her niece, Senorita Orila, and one female and two male attendants, left Matamoros bound for Monterey. The bodies of the whole party were found four days ago near Lobita Ranche, about forty miles from Matamoros. The woman had been outraged, bound hand and foot and gagged. There were no marks of shooting or stabbing, and it is beleived they were left in that fix to die a horrible death from starvation and exposure. Donna Ritta had a large amount of money and much valuable jewelry on her person. The greater part of her money was in drafts, which the robbers had not disturbed. Her ring and other jewelry and money, amounting in all to $300, were taken by the murderers. The mules were killed, and the ambulance by which the party were travelling was thrown into a lagoon. It is reported that in an old well, a short distance from the scene of that horrible crime, were found the remains of thirteen persons. The authorities are doing their utmost to obtain some clue to the perpetrators of these atrocities, but with little prospect of success.

LYNCHING AN INFIDEL.

The lynching of an infidel in Bell county, Texas, was noticed lately. A fuller account says that he was Dr. S. J. Russell, an old and respectable resident. He was a bitter opponent of Christianity, and his crowning offense against the prevailing religious sentiment was a lecture against the divinity of Christ. A mob of believers took him from his bed at night, dragged him into the woods, tied him to a tree and gave him a hundred lashes with a raw hide. Previous to the whipping the spokesman of the party said: "We know you are an honest man and a good physician, but we will tolerate no infidels in Bell county; so, by the help of God, we will stop your career of infidelity." A written notice was posted on the tree that infidelity in Bell county would in future be punished by hanging. There is no intimation of any charge against Dr. Russell except that of antagonism to Christianity. The lynchers were in part composed of roughs, but the leaders were members of a Baptist church.

ABBREVIATIONS.

THE OKA INDIANS.—A deputation from Montreal, including Chief Joseph, has gone to Ottawa to bring before the Government the position of the Oka Indians.

OUR GIRLS.—Two daughters of the late John McPhaden of Point Fortune planted half an acre of Swedish turnips. This fall they took from that ground 250 bushels.

DIPHTHERIA.—Mr. Irvine, of Toronto, a short time since, lost four children within a few hours of each other, from diphtheria. The remaining two were prostrated for some time.

LUMBER SALE.—Hon. Jas. Skead has effected the sale of 7,000,000 feet af lumber with an American firm, at a very fair price. Other buyers are in town negotiating for extensive lots.

PATRIOTISM.—A volunteer mania prevails in Toronto, the Queen's Own being the favorite corps. It now comprises eleven companies, all of which are largely over the regulation strength.

GENEROUS.—The late John Phelan of Montreal a generous Irishman, has bequeathed his fortune of $30,000 to the Montreal General Hospital. The only proviso is that his wife is to have a living off the income till she dies.

A RUPTURE.—A ruputre has occurred between the Allan Line and the Grand Trunk Reilway. All through freight will be forwarded by the Dominion and Beaver Lines from Portland. The Allen steamers go to Baltimore.

THE "GLOBE."—The Scottish American Journal says: It is understood that the Hon. George and Mr. Gordon Brown have secured the entire control of the Toronto Globe, and that they intend to form a joint stock company, with a capital of $500 000.

A NEW SECT.—There is a new sect in Russia called the "Purifier," belonging to the Greek Church. Their leading doctrines are that all must marry on coming of age, that the husband must be subordinate to the wife and recognize her as the head of the family, and that once a week he must confess his sins to his wife.

MORE TESTIMONY.—C. O. Perrault, Vice Consul of France, admitted in Court at Montreal that it was he who sent the despatch about the City and District Savings Bank, which Cambpell embodied in his telegram, to the New York Times. On refusing to tell who gave him the information it contained the counsel for the Bank applied for his committal.

ON TRIAL.—The young man, Eli Farrer who is charged with running away with his employer's wife from the township of King, and taking with him $200 and some wearing apparel, was placed on trial at the Toronto Police Court yesterday morning. Mr. Walter Traves, the man wronged, is now giving his evidence. He alleges that the prisoner made a clean sweep of his clothes so that he has not even got a change of shirts left.

AN ELOPEMENT.—A correspondent says that Brock has had an elopement. The wife of a farmer residing not many miles from Cannington, and the mother of a large family, some of whom are married, left suddenly one night last week with a man from the States, taking her youngest child, a girl about four years of age with her. The man with whom she has gone is said to have been a former lover, and had also been married, but was left a widower.

MURDER.—A telegram from Montreal says:—Captain Brisbois, who was attacked by ruffians on his way home late on Saturday night and stabbed in the abdomen, died early this morning in the General Hospital. It is a foul murder, as he gave the perpetrators of the deed no provocation. Two men, named Ferdinand Corriveau, carpenters, have just been arrested; but there is a third party named Francais Xavier Deuntal, who is believed to be the person who stabbed deceased, still at large.

MELANGE.

That Georgia negro preacher was both frank and shrewd who remarked to his flock: "We have a collection to make this morning, and, for the glory of heaven, whichever of you stole Mr. Smith's sheep, don't put anything on the plate."

A milkman was lately seeking the aid of the police to trace the whereabouts of a family who had left the neighborhood owing him eighteen dollars. "Well, I suppose there was nine dollars' worth of water in that milk account," remarked the police man. "That's where it galls me—that's where it hurts," replied the dealer. "They were new customers, and I hadn't commenced to water the milk yet."

At Boston, last week, Chief Arthur made a carefully prepared address before the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He defended the recent strikes, saying that they were due to "the heaughty, overbearing and arbitrary conduct" of the railroad officers; and declared that "the fact that the Brotherhood has never resorted to strikes when the officers of the road have evinced a disposition to consult their employees in a gentlemanly manner is the best evidence it can give that it does not advocate strikes except as a final resort."

James Woodcock of Greenfield, Ill., loved Annie Hobbs, daughter of a clergyman, but the old folks opposed the match, whereupon some thirty leading citizens took the matter in hand, prepared for the wedding, sent for the license and a clergyman, and prevented the girl's mother from entering the room till the ceremony was over. When she was admitted, she raved like a maniac, and had to be restrained by force from injuring herself or the spectators. Unless there is a speedy change in her condition, it will be necessary to send her to a mad house.

LAST NIGHT'S NEWS.

The State elections in the United States were held yesterday.

It is stated that the Government have ordered an investigation into certain alleged irregularities in the London Customs House.

The Pope continues very weak, but there is no truth in the statement that Cardinal Manning had been summoned to Rome in consequence.

The winter arrangements for the delivery of the English mails at Halifax will commence with the steamer leaving Liverpool on the 7th inst.

A subterranean cable between Berlin and Kiel has just been completed. Nine hundred and seventeen miles of these subterranean cables have been laid in Germany.

—An Ottawa baker has been fined $50 for selling bread under weight.

—The widow of a carter who was drowned in the St. Charles Q, last week has died of grief.

—The question of the election of President by a direct vote of the people will be brought before the Congress.

—The Liberals are actually canvassing Quebec East in Mr. Laurier's interest.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have those means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only a to the quality and style of goods, but also a to price.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 7.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

THE CELLS.—Two prisoners and four tramps were quartered in the lock-up last night.

LATE.—The express trains of the G.T.R. yesterday were all behind time. This was caused by the snow storm.

ARRIVAL.—The S S Dominion from Liverpool arrived at Father Point last night with 7 cabin and 2 steerage passengers.

MARINE.—There is only one vessel in the harbor—the M. O'Gorman—which is loading grain at Campbell & Co.'s.

WORK STOPPED.—Further work on the G. J. R. has for the present been discontinued. The track from Belleville to Stirling is in excellent order.

NOTICE.—Those, who intend becoming candidates for municipal honors, should lose no time in inserting their cards in the ONTARIO.

THE "NEW YORK."—We are informed that the new owner of this steamer intends making such alterations in her during the winter, that will make her the fastest vessel on the Bay route.

ENTERTAINMENT.—Messrs. Thomas and Co., of Chicago, will give an exhibition of dissolving views and microscopic phenomena in the Town Hall on Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

RETURNED.—Mr. A. Dulmage, returned to-day from a hunting expedition "out back." He reports having had very good luck as during his stay he managed to lay out a bear, six deer and capture some nice fish.

RAWDON CATTLE FAIR.—The annual fair of the Township of Rawdon, will be held at the Town Hall on Wednesday the 14th inst commencing at 11, a. m. As a number of dealers are expected to be present parties wishing to dispose of of their cattle should not fail to attend.

INJURED GRAIN.—The grain which lies in the ruins of the Farmers' elevator is being sold. There is considerable demand for it, both by people of the town and the country, and it sells readily at 15 cts. per bag. A large number of waggons were there this morning waiting to be loaded.

ACCIDENT.—About eleven o'clock this morning a man named Duther Smith, whilst at work on a shaping machine in Brown's Foundry, was the victim of a serious accident. He was engaged in shaping some pieces of pine when his right hand came in contract with the knives which split the first and third fingers and injured the second so badly that it had to be amputated. The assistance of Dr. Lister was secured and the injured member cut off. It is thought probable that the other fingers may be saved.

REV. GEO. COCHRANE.—We (Gulph Mercury) learn from a letter just received from Rev. Geo. Cochrane, Methodist missionary in Japan, that, owning to contined ill-health, Mrs. Cochrane and his family will leave for Canada about the first of November. The letter also states that the cholera is raging in Yokohama ten to fifteen deaths occurring daily. There have been several cases in Yeddo. Mr Cochrane will still remain at his post. The letter states that the work is just now in an interesting and critical stage. They are just opening a Theological Institute of the training of young men, whom they hope to employ in preaching the Gospel to their fellow-countrymen. [Mr Cochrane was at one time minister of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto.]

CONCERT.

The Rine Club as will be seen by advertisment, intend holding a Concert in the Town Hall on Friday night next. They have been fortunate in securing for the occasion the services of the celebrated Tandy Brothers of Kingston of whose vocial powers the New Dominion Monthly says: "We must accord the first place to the performances of the Tandy Brothers, who agreably surprised the audience, prepared as they were for something out of the common, by the magnificence of the musical repast placed before them. Mr. W. Tandy, in the 'Ship on Fire,' carried away the audience in a whirlwind of rapturous applause; and the beautiful duet by the Tandy Brothers brought down the house in encores which would take no denial. But the gem of the evening, artistically speaking, was the recitative and aria, 'Comfort Ye My People,' and 'Every Valley,' by Mr. Rechab Tandy, which, although not of a character to produce such an enthusiasm as that elicited by some of the other pieces, was yet performed almost perfectly, showing the careful training, flexibility and power of that gentleman's fine tenor voice."

A number of vocal and instrumental pieces will also be rendered by some of our native musical talent of which full particulars will be given in the programmes.

The Concert is under the superintendence of Mr. J. A. Stainstreet organist of St. Andrews Church.

ALL those who have gray hair in the prime of life can remedy that unpleasantness and restore its natural color and beauty with Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer; wash the head clean, and, when perfectly dry, apply it as an ordinary dressing. It pleases every one who has occasion to use it. Only 50 cents a bottle; sold by all chemists and James Clark & Co.

OBITUARY.

JANE RUSSELL.

The subject of this notice, whose maiden name was Thompson, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, on the 14th of September, 1800, and died in Belleville, August 10th, 1877. Her mother was one of John Wesley's converts. Owing to the Christian influence of a pious mother she was early converted to God. She came to Canada when 21 years of age, on a visit to her uncle, Rev. Mr. Williams, of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. She was married at Kingston to James Russell, and afterwards was one of the first settlers along the Bay of Quinte, above Bath, where she continued to reside with her husband for several years. She was always a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and whenever circumstances would permit she would avail herself of the means of Grace, always bearing up with Christian fortitude through the trials of this life. During her last years she was perfectly resigned to the will of the Lord, waiting to be called home, and died in full hope of a blessed ressurrection.

CLARA SILLS.

Died at Napanee of diphtheria, at the residence of G. B. Sills, Esq., her grandfather, CLARA, youngest daughter of JENNIE and ESCIUL SILLS, of Belleville, aged six years and ten months.

Possessing more than an ordinary matured mind, the cords entwined around her parents and friends were hard to be broken, and caused pangs not easily to be forgotten; but her God, who had created her for a purpose, took her to his own bosom to give her a heavenly training, and fit her for that bliss which only angels can enjoy. Then

"Why should we mourn departing friends,
Or shake at death's alarms?
'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends,
To call us to his arms—"

Grant Makes a Speech.

A CONSPIRACY DISCOVERED.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—At a banquet last night Grant replied to Noyes' complimentary speech as follows:—

"Ladies and Gentlemen,—After your flattering reception and the compliments of Governor Noyes', I am embarrassed to thank you as I should wish. During the five and a half months I have been in Europe, my reception has been very gratifying, not only to me, but also above all, to my country and countrymen who were honored by it. I thank the American Colony of Paris; I hope its members will enjoy their visit here as I am doing and hope to do for some weeks yet. I hope when you return home you will find realized the benefits predicted by our Minister.

It is rumored that Macmahon has resolved to resign.

MURDER BY A GIRL.

The Elections in New Jersey and New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 7.—McClellan is elected. His majority is between 6,000 and 10,000. Five out of seven State Senators are Democrats, thus giving a majority of three. The lower house is probably Democrat, although close.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 7.—Miss Sallie Wood, aged 16, residing 20 miles from here, was indecently assaulted by Samuel Henry, a married man, yesterday. She fled, obtained a pistol, returned and shot Henry dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Tribune says there will be a Republican majority outside of New York and Brooklyn of about 17,000, and a Democratic majority in the State of 18,000.

The Herald makes the Senate a tie; the Assembly 66 Republicans and 62 Democrats.

James Sackett aged 16, refused to go on an errand for his father yesterday, and during a quarrel fatally injured his father by a blow with a club.

Wm. Thompson a watchman at Brooklyn, during a quarrel with Geo. McBride and ten Longshoremen who were drunk and boisterous last night, shot McBride dead.

The Ellis Opera Bouffe Company, organized here for a visit to the West Indies, has been broken up by yellow fever. Mrs. Ellis is dead, Miss Ellis cannot recover and Mr. Ellis is very low. All are at Kingston Jamaica.

Prof. Hermann Hirt, who arrived here a few days ago from Germany, being unable to find employment, committted suicide yesterday.

WE SOMETIMES EAT TOO MUCH.—When appetite thus outruns discreation, indigestion is the result. In such a case the most effectual means of soothing the irritated stomach is MILK OF MAGNESIA which is pleasant as as well as prompt. For sale by Druggists and James Clark & Co.

PEOPLE MAY DIGEST, yet not assimilate their food. But by the aid of PHOSPHO-NUTRISINE they can do both thoroughly, since it gives a permanent impetus to the digestive and assimilative functions. Persons using it gain vigor and flesh. Sold by all druggists and James Clarke & Co.

Died.

On Tuesday evening, 6th inst., on the Canifton Road, WILLIAM THOMAS, youngest son of W. CLARKE, aged 3 years 5 months.

The funeral will take place from his father's residence at 2 o'clock p. m.

POSTIVE RESULTS. There are numerous remedies that cure sometimes and become trusted as useful, but none have proved so effectual—cured so many and such remarkable cases—as Dr. Ayer's medicines.

The Cherry Pictoral has restored great numbers of patients who were believed to be hopelessly affected with consumption.

Ague Cure breaks up chills and fever quickly and surely.

Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla eradicates scofula and impurities of the blood, cleanses the system and restores it to vigorous health. By its timely use many troublesome disorders that cause a decline of health are expelled or cured.

Ayer's Pills and their effects are too well known everywhere to require any commendation from us here.—"Scranton (Pa) Times."

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when, scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulus, relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and thus a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought up us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

TWO SISTERS HORRIBLY MANGLED IN A MILL.

From the Jessamine (Ky.) Journal.

Never have we been called upon to chronicle a more heartrending accident nor one which has enlisted a more general and genuine sympathy with the afflicted family than that which occurred at Union Mills on last Friday afternoon. Misses Blackford, Misses Bourne and Charley Bourne composed a party at Mr. Claiborne Rutherford's on that day. In the morning some of the party attended the protracted meeting in progress at East Hickman, but they all met at the dinner table, when one of the young ladies proposed to go to the flouring mill, stating that she had never yet seen one working. Consequently the party named above, with Miss Julia and Miss Annie Rutherford, went down to Steel & Bronaugh's mill, and Captain Steele, with his usual urbanity, was showing them around. They had been looking at the bolting-cloths, and passed over some shipstuff. Miss Annie Rutherford shook the dust off her skirt which had adhered to it, when it caught in the mitre cog-wheel, about one foot from the floor, which drew it into the machinery, and there was a similar wheel about three feet higher, in which her left arm was taken clean off, together with the flesh and bone off her breast Clinging to the shaft, her skirt fast in the bottom wheel, she was whirled round at the rate of 34 revolutions per minute.

Frantic with excitement, Miss Julia Rutherford rushed to her sister's assistance. Charley Bourne did his best to keep her from the danger she was exposing herself to, and at the same time doing his utmost to extricate Annie; but Julia persisted that she could not stand to see her sister in such a place, and, putting her arms around her, she had her right arm cut off by the same wheel. Annie's clothes were so twirted that it was impossible to pull her away until the engine was stopped by Captain Steele, which took about one minute to do, and Mr. Samuel Gossey, perceiving there was something wrong, immediately lowered the stones. The scene now baffled description. There were the cogs filled with flesh and bones. An arm lying on the floor, the glove still on the hand, two lovely girls prostrate in their blood, and Charley Bourne with his left thumb cut off, from which he suffered intensely and was threatened with lockjaw, but he is now probably out of danger. Mr. James Bronaugh, jr., took Julia home in a buggy, and Mr. Steele fixed Annie on a board and presented her to her distressed parents. Thus the company who, a few minutes before, were happy and joyous, were plunged into inexpressible grief by a shocking and deplorable accident. Drs. Jaeger, Welch and Skillman have been indefatigable in their attendance on the sufferers, and at last accounts they were improving.

Miss Annie did not rally from the effects of the shock for forty-eight hours, but since reaction has taken place fully she bids as fair to recover as Miss Julia, whose arm was amputated on Saturday.

DISCOVERY OF A MONSTER CONTAINING THE REMAINS OF A HUMAN BEING.

Mr. Henry Woodward owns a stock ranch in the Indian Territory, in that Peoria nation in which is situated the big sulphur spring. The spring is surrounded by a quagmire, which is very deep and "slushy," and so soft that it will not bear any considerable weight. Mr. W. lately undertook to curb up the spring in order to get water more easily, and while working in the mire came upon what appeared to be an enormous bone. He at once began an examination, which disclosed the startling fact that it was the head of some mammoth beast. His curiosity was aroused, and, with the assistance of three other men, he began the work of excavation. For four days they worked, but did not succeed in bringing the monster to the surface. They threw off the marl, but could not lift the head of this politic giant Theyfound the skeleton well preserved, and the immense teeth still set in the jaws. The jaws were both in place and the spinal column attached to the cranium. The earth was thrown off the body to the length of twenty feet, but still the gigantic skeleton remained beneath. Three of the front ribs were forced out and proved by measurement to be each eight feet in length. The dirt was removed from the inside of the osseous structure, and there lay skeleton of a human being, with one hundred and two flint arrow points and fifteen flint knives. The cranium indicated that it was the skeleton of an Indian. It would have been impossible for the man to have been inside the animal without having been swallowed by him, and this theory is substantiated by the fact that the bones of the right side of the skeleton were broken and smashed apparently by force. The monster, therefore, must have been carnivorous, which is also proven by the teeth, which exhibit the marked characteristics of a flesh-eating breast. A large molar and two incisors, taken from the upper jaw, were exhibited to us at our office, the largest one weighing eight pounds and measuring eight by four inches in size There are two large molars and two blunt tusks on each side of each jaw. The teeth between the molars and the tusks are incisors, having from two to six points and corresponding prongs to each tooth. In front of the tusks the teeth are similar to those of most carnivorous animals in shape. All the bones indicate that they have lain buried for an incredibly long period, as they crumble rapidly when brought in contact with the atmosphere.

Every circumstance goes to show that these are the largest animal remains ever resurrected, and the teeth, tusks, and structure of the head and jaws prove unmistakably that it was of the carnivorous class.—Carthage (Mo.) Patriot.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife, The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference, can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

A Lecture to YoungMen

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

FILLITER vs OSTROM.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on the following lands and premises:

Saturday, the 17th day of November. 1877.

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting: heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE HESSIAN FLY.

PARTICULARS AS TO ITS RAVAGES—HOW TO GET RID OF IT.

The November number of that excellent farmer's monthly, the Farmer's Advocate, has this to say in regard to the ravages of the Hessian fly:—We find that the early-sown wheat is badly injured. Some pieces would yield a greater profit if ploughed under and the land sown with another crop. We know of no other effectual remedy to stop its ravages on the present crop; it is our impression that it will be best to abandon wheat culture for a time in localities where the fly has made its appearance. If we pay more attention to stock, we shall find more profit than sowing wheat to feed this pest. Wool, mutton, beef, pork or poultry will be found more profitable than sowing a precarious crop. The wheat that is affected by the Hessian fly is looking unusually rank; many have not fed it off enough to prevent its smothering or rotting. We would prefer having it ready for its winter covering with half the blade that it now shows. If it is eaten off rather close the roots have now a good hold in the ground, and will be ready to throw up a good top in the spring.

Another writer on the same subject says:—

"The only remedy is said to be that of ploughing the infected crop deeply under, as this smothers the fly, when in the spring it changes from the pupa state, and endeavors to make its way to the surface and escape to the open air. It will, doubtless, be hard for many farmers thus to destroy their crops, especially in these districts where fall wheat is largely grown, but it will not require much reflection to convince them that it is better to suffer what will prove a comparatively small loss now than to run the risk of future wholesale depredations. If the fly has the opportunity to swarm next spring, not many seasons will have passed away before fearful ravages will have been committed by it in our fields of grain. Speedy and effective treatment is, therefore, the only hope of the farmer."

SULPHUR AS A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA.

A correspondent of a Victoria paper writes: Should you or any of your family be attacked with diphtheria, do not be alarmed, as it is easily and speedily cured without a doctor. When it was raging in England a few years ago I accompanied Dr. Fields on his rounds to witness the so-called "wonderful cure" he performed, while the patients of others were dropping on all sides. The remedy to be so rapid must be simple. All he took with him was powder of sulphur and a quill, and with these he cured every patient, without reception. He put a teaspoonful of flour or brimstone into a wineglass of water and stirred it with his finger instead of a spoon, as the sulphur does not readily amalgamate with water. When the sulphur was well mixed, he gave it as a gargle, and in ten minutes the patient was out of danger. Brimstone kills every species of fungurs in a man, beast, and plants in a few minutes. Instead of spitting out the gargle, he recommended the swallowing of it. In extreme cases, in which he had just been called in the nick of time, when the fungus was too nearly closing to allow the gargling, he blew the sulphur through a quill into the patient's throat and after the fungus had shrunk to allow of it then the gargling. He never lost a patient from diphtheria If a patient cannot gargle, take a live coal, put it on a shovel, and sprinkle a spoonful or two of flour of brimstone upon it at a time; let the sufferer inhale it, holding the head over it, and the fungus will die. If plentifully used, the whole room may be filled almost to suffocation, the patient can walk about in it, inhaling the fumes, with the doors and windows shut. The mode of fumigating a room with sulphur has often cured most violent attacks of cold in the head, chest, etc., at any time, and is recommended in cases of consumption and asthma.

HOW PEOPLE GET SICK.

Eating too much and too fast; swallowing imperfectly masticated food; by taking too much fluid at meals; drinking poisonous whiskey and other intoxicating drinks; keeping late hours at night and sleeping too late in the morning; wearing the clothing too tight so as to relax the circulation; wearing thin shoes; neglecting to take sufficient exercise to keep the hands and feet warm; neglecting to wash the body sufficiently to keep the pores open; exchanging the warm clothes worn in a warm room during the day for costumes and exposure incident to evening parties; starving the stomach to gratify a vain and foolish passion for dress; keeping up constant excitement; fretting the mind with borrowed troubles swallowing quack nostrums for every imaginary ill; taking meals at irregular intervals.

YOU MUST BE IDENTIFIED.

A man, forty years old, and as long as a rail, went into one of the banks recently to get the cash for a thirteen-dollar check drawn by a party living in Nankin township.

"You will have to be identified," said the cashier, as he looked at the check.

"I'm the man," was the reply.

"But I don't know that you are."

"But I do."

"You must bring some one here who knows you."

"Don't I know myself?" exclaimed the check tenderer.

"But I must know you. You may be Tom Jones for all I know.

"You must be a consarned fool to think I think I'm some one else!" growled the man in response.

"You must be identified," observed the cashier.

"That's my name, I tell ye, and this is and if this bank gets me riled I'll lick the hull crowd of you over behind the railing!"

The cashier wouldn't pay, and the man couldn't find any one who knew him, and at noon he was waiting "for that fellow that saw I him to come out."

The Daily Ontario.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 8.

The latest assessments of the State of Massachusetts indicate a falling off in the property possessed by citizens of that republic of one hundred millions of dollars.

The Republican majority in the United States Senate is now reduced to four, and any vacancies that occur in the Republical ranks are likely to be filled by Democrats. Before long the Democrats will control both houses.

Gen. Grant is now in Paris and is being lionized to his heart's content. The French Republicans point to him as an ex-President of a Republic that has lasted one hundred years, and ask the monarchists to consider the fact.

Mr. O'Donovan Rossa is again in clover. The "Skirmishing fund" has received numerous contributions lately from patriotic servant girls, who travail for the liberation of Ireland. It now amounts to $41,724, so Rossa tells a newspaper reporter, in conference, and he has the key of the vault in which all this money is stored. But he solemnly asserts that it is to be used for Ireland and against England. Mysterious hints are thrown out as to the nature of the skirmishing that is to be undertaken. We are told that dynamite and torpedoes are to be employed for blowing England's navy and the whole British power into the clouds, and then—hurrah for old Ireland, my boys!

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

Mr. Blake gave a few very interesting figures in his Teeswater address. He showed that, in the Department over which he had until recently presided, the annual rate of charge for salaries, when Sir John resigned in 1873, was $13,500. When he (Mr. Blake) resigned last June it was $10,700, or a saving of $2,800 a year.

Again, for the fiscal year 1872-3 the whole contingencies for the Department were $9,470.39, and for the fiscal year 1876-7 they were $2,787.78. The four items, on which an enormous reduction was made, are as follows:

Telegraphing	$4,371 88	$330.00
Cab hire	1,035.50	13.80
Travelling	1,318.12	51 35
Postage	493.37	125.77
Totals	$7,118.87	$521 92

These two savings—$2,800 on salaries and $6,596.95 on Contingencies—make in all a reduction in the cost of the Department of Justice of nearly $9,400 a year. We might also remark, in this connection, that while the ratio of correspondence of the two Ministers is as one to three, the cost of postage is actually as three to one. This may look a little suspicious, but if so the figures answer for it, as they are taken from the Public Accounts and are not expected to lie.

A POLITICAL WEATHERCOCK.

The Irish Canadian, of Toronto, is just now on the war path in defence of Sir John and the Conservative party. There is no virtue known in politics to which they may not lay claim, according to this voracious organ. The Irish Catholics of Ontario are advised to pin their faith to the Conservative standard, as borne aloft by the "Chieftain," and by no means listen to the hypocritical pleas of the "perfidious Grits." Their salvation, politically speaking, depends upon the fidelity with which they adhere to the true faith, as revealed by Sir John.

Somebody has been overhauling the back files of the Irish Canadian, and in the issue of the 21st of September, 1872, finds the following reference to the leader of the present Opposition in the Commons:—"The Party of Union, etc., has lost power, and also temper, and is therefore entitled to a little indulgence. We would advise the readers of the organ to take its statements of men and things cum grano salis. We don't like to abuse the Right Honorable John Alexander Macdonald, for the reason that it is cruel to throw water on a drowned rat; but we cannot help telling him that he is the father of lies, for is The Mail not his dearly beloved and truly begotten, and is not The Mail made up with glaring lies! Ergo, is he not the father of lies?"

Again, on the 30th of April, 1873, the same paper contained this:—"It is worth while to remember that Toryism, whether at home or in Canada, is the undisguised and uncompromising foe of Ireland and the Irish. It is favorable only to those of that country and race whom it can purchase to do its 'dirty work.' Against all others of Ireland and the Catholic Faith, it declares and wages war to the bitter end."

The Irish Canadian was then, as now, edited by Mr. Boyle, whose political convictions are subject to periodical revulsions, and who is the last man in Canada that should assume the character of a dictator. The Irish Catholics of Ontario will be slow to accept him as a teacher of political ethics.

ON DIT.

A rumor is being circulated to the effect that Charles Belford and S. C. Beatty, formerly of Belleville, are to purchase the Mail newspaper, and that Hon. Wm. Macdougall is to be chief editor. The rumor may be founded on fact, and if so we congratulate our old friend Beatty on this new departure, regretting only that he would consent to place the editorial management of such an influential journal in the hands of a characterless politician and reckless writer. The present tone of the Mail's editorial columns is low enough, in all conscience, but with William Macdougall at the head it will "dip" considerably, we opine.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Incendiary.—Another incendiary fire in Portland, St. John, destroyed property to the value of $1,000.

Righteous War.—The police of Ottawa have commenced war upon citizens who rent houses to prostitutes, and will show no favors to any class.

The Premier.—Hon. Mr. Mackenzie has been in Montreal on business, and was entertained by his political friends last evening.

A Call.—Rev. David Inglis D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., and formerly of Hamilton, has received a call to the assistant pastorship of Knox Church, Toronto. He will probably accept.

Increase.—Both the imports and exports at the port of Toronto for October show an increase over the corresponding month of last year, the former of $80,000 and the latter of $9,000.

Small Pox.—This horrible disease is raging in Montreal, and there are now sixteen persons in the hospital, five of whom are females. The city vaccinators have renewed operations with vigor.

New Arrangements.—The Grand Trunk authorities are about to enter into arrangements with the Dominion and Beaver steamship lines for the carriage of through freights.

Phosphates.—Three specimens of phosphates, weighing in all about 2½ tons, have been brought to Montreal from Gatineau Point en route for the Paris Exhibition. Forty thousand tons of phosphates have been shipped from this port this season.

Robbery.—A couple of young men named Moore and Marlatt respectively, employed in the Dominion Telegraph Company's office in Brantford, were on Tuesday arrested for robbery, of money from a broker's till, in a part of the same office. They had picked the lock of the till with a piece of wire. The young men were remanded for trial.

Terrible Fright.—A Mrs Senecal, of Montreal, had occasion to go up-stairs last night to her bedroom, when she placed her foot upon a large water snake. The unexpected sight so startled the lady, who was in delicate health, that she lost her senses, and fell, receiving a severe shock to the nervous system. On Mr. Senecal instituting search, he discovered two of the reptiles creeping about the room. They are supposed to have been hidden in a barrel of apples which he sent up to the house.

SENATOR MORRISEY.

Political morals may be low enough in Canada, but we do not think they have yet reached the New York level. Experience has taught us that occasionally a man is elected to Parliament who is destitute of principle and without a character, but such instances are rare, and must be held as an exception and not a rule. The New York State elections came off on Tuesday, and among the successful aspirants for Senatorial honors is John Morrisey. A few days previous to the election the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage pictured the Senator in this style:—

"This hero of fisticuff, this universal hater, this champion of nose-pounders, the lowest rising of the political sewer, this king of bruisers, this smasher of the human visage, this 'foul, execrable, unmitigated outrage which the slums of New York are trying to spew into the State Senate."

And yet Morrisey has been elected. What a commentary on metropolitan civilization!

—Some New York cigar manufacturers have sent to California for Chinamen to take the place of the strikers, and others are resuming work and employing girls.

POLITICAL NOTES.

—On dit that Dr. Tupper will spend the winter and spring on the Miditerranean, and will not be in the House during next session.

—"Anser" (J. B.-P * l * b) is again displaying his copybook wisdom in "Occasional Notes" for the Mail. J.B.-P. clearly is not a wholesale admirer of Goldwin Smith.

—The Canadian Monthly for November describes Sir John's later picnic efforts as "decidedly tame." Now, the picnic at St. Thomas was one of Sir John's later efforts and it was decidedly lively.

—The regular cuckoo song proclaims Sir John a marvel of statesmanship. Judging from certain pungent remarks at Napanee the other day, Mr. Cartwright does not hold Sir John's "statesmanship" so very miraculous after all.

—Sir John a short year or two ago was W. W.'s bete noir. Since the kiss of peace went round, almost a new dictionary has been invented by W. W. aforesaid to express the shining virtues of Sir John. Then he was a monster—now he is an angel. Don't overdo your part, W. W.

—The Finance Minister's effective castigation of Sir John Macdonald seems to have struck home. Sir John reached Toronto on Saturday evening, and Monday's Mail contained an article on Mr. Cartwright in which it was benevolently assumed that the Member for Lennox must be insane; that he was Judas Iscariot, and ought to conclude like that gentleman; that he was in the habit of maundering; that his mouth was not a mouth, but a foul sluice-way, etc. The Mail is itself again!

SOUTH HASTINGS TEACHER'S INSTITUTE

The meeting of this Institute having been called to order by the President, Inspector Johnson, and the routine business transacted, Mr. Harrington, of Smithville, was introduced. He gave his method of teaching mental arithmetic, illustrating it by practical examples. Mr. McKeown followed with derivation, explaining the manner of teaching roots, prefixes and affixes, Mr. Hicks, Head Master of the High School, Trenton, made a few remarks on the same subject, Mr. Cook of Thomasburg, gave some excellent hints on teaching per-centage. Mr. G. A. Swayzie, writing master of the High and Public Schools Belleville, followed, explaining and illustrating by blackboard examples his method of teaching writing—a very important but too often indifferently taught branch of education. The masterly manner in which he handled his subject won the praise of the teachers present, and convinced all that he thoroughly understood his business.

The Institute adjourned to allow the members an opportunity to witness Mr. Irwin's series of Scenic Views of the Arctic regions, taken by a member of Captain Nares' expedition last year. These scenes presented by calcium lights, are very fine and were much admired—that showing the "Discovery" and "Alert" in winter quarters with mountains of icebergs in the distance, as seen by the variously colored rays of the Aurora at night, being remarkably beautiful. These rays shooting towards the zenith, present all the appearance of reality and the spectator rapt in admiration imagines himself within the Arctic circle viewing this strange phenomenon. Several illustrations of the teachings of Astronomy were given by rotatory scenes which are so accurately prepared and scientifically arranged that they give at a glance a clear idea of the motions of the planets, tides, comets, etc. At the conclusion Mr. Irwin explained the mode of making oxygen and hydrogen gases, which he used and showed the apparatus by which each is made.

A hearty vote of thanks, moved by H. M. Hicks, Esq., M. A., seconded by Mr. Austin, was presented to Mr. Irwin, who made a suitable reply. The next regular meeting will be held on Saturday, 17th inst. Subjects: H. M. Hicks, Derivation, and the method of remembering Historical dates; G. A. Swayzie, Writing; Prof. Dawson, Analysis, 4th Book page 119; Miss Templeton, L. C. M. and G. C. M.; Prof. Macoun, Object teaching; S. A. Gardner, Fractions. Teachers are requested to bring 4th books.

DID SHE WANT TO DROWN HERSELF?

EXTRAORDINARY CONDUCT OF A WINDSOR GIRL.

William Forbes is the name of the stout, good-natured man who nightly pulls a sturdy oar in his business of night ferryman between Windsor and Detroit, and he has seen some queer scenes, and wild ones while on duty.

One of the most singular affairs in the history of his night ferry happened on Thursday night, when about half-past eleven o'clock a young lady of Windsor stepped into Billy's boat at the foot of Woodward avenue, Detroit. She was the only passenger, after half an hour's waiting, and the small craft was headed towards her Majesty's dominion.

When about half-way across the river the young lady, who had been chatting sensibly and agreeably, suddenly remarked: "Do you know what I've a great mind to do?" and when Forbes replied that he had not the slightest idea, she continued, "I've a notion to jump into the river," following the remark with a merry laugh. The ferryman jokingly said: "Oh, yes! You've got three notions. One to jump in the river and two to stay in the boat." The conversation had been in a purley joking manner, and Forbes had no more idea that his fair passenger thought of taking a midnight bath than that his boat would take a nocturnal flight in the clouds.

No sooner had he given his last reply than the girl arose, and with "Here goes the first notion," jumped overboard. William is ordinarily a very self-possessed person, and as he expressed it, seldom gets "rattled." But on this occasion he was fairly paralyzed with astonishment, and only awoke to a full realization of the situation when he saw the floating female gradually drifting away from him, without making the least effort to help herself. The girl's skirts prevented her from sinking immediately, and gave Forbes a chance to put his boat about and row to the rescue. With the same singular nonchalance, the girl was perfectly passive when Forbes caught hold of and lifted her into the boat, and, after being again in safety, utterly refused to offer any explanation as to her strange leap, at the time promising to behave herself while in the boat.

She kept her promise, and when she left Forbes at the Windsor landing, shaking and chattering with cold, she said:—"It's all right Mr. Forbes, but be careful how you accuse a woman of having notions." And Billy says he will be careful in the future.

SCHOOL'S OUT.

Did you ever pause to contemplate that particular and peculiar phrase of human nature developed by the existent school boy when released from death and discipline—when "school is out," and he is on his way home.

Ordinary humanity, when released from the toils of the day, is prone to seek rest and relaxation. The boy scorns all such effeminate ideas. He is composed of but three parts—legs, arms and yell, and the yell is the biggest part of him. His legs and arms have been kept in irksome compulsory quietude all day, and must now be exercised. His voice has been seething and swelling in him for hours, and now must have vent.

As soon as he is clear of the school house steps he stops and deliberately yells a yell that is ear-splitting, but which has no more object, meaning or direction than the midnight vociferation of a mule, and yet it appears at a full run with his arms flying about like the scintillations of a pine wheel. He is no respector of persons, and is utterly indifferent as to whether he runs down a smaller boy, spins an aged citizen three times around or mashes a girl's hat over her eyes in his headlong career.

"Mercy on us! If that boy was only mine I'd—" but just then her own boy flies past, falls over a dry-goods box, bounces up, kicks at another boy, and is chased across the street and around the corner before she can get the "You Robert!" with which she intends to annihilate him, out of her astonished throat.

There is but one thing that has the slightest soothing effect on the boy when he is on the way home from school. He can see his father further than Prof. Hall can see a hay-stack with a telescope, and the moment that parent dawns upon his vision he becomes as proper as a model letter-writer, and the neatly modulated voice with which he wheedles the author of his being out of five cents on the spot, is a lesson for future ambitious savings bank and passenger railway presidents.

The amount of racing, jumping, pulling, and hauling and howling that a school boy can concentrate into a transit of two squares is positively astonishing, and the preternatural coolness and the quietude with which he takes his red face and panting breath into the kitchen and asks if supper ain't most ready calls for unqualified admiration.

—About two millions four hundred thousand bushels of wheat were shipped from New York port last week.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash system adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 8.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

YACHTING.—The Belleville fleet will be increased by two next season as two are now being built.

LEGAL.—In the Chancery Chambers in Toronto yesterday the case of Jordon vs G. J. R. was enlarged.

LACROSSE.—The Oka team of this place will play the Kingston team at the latter place on Friday.

THE CELLS — Three weary travellers sought sweet repose at the station last night

OUT AGAIN.—No. 2 steamer visited the ruins of the elevator again yesterday afternoon and quenched all the smouldering embers.

POSTPONED.—The auction sale of lots on Myer's Hill, on Prospect Place, will take place on the 10th, instead of the 8th, as announced by posters.

DOING GOOD WORK.—The Oswego Belle of late has been doing the owners of lake craft a service, as within three weeks she has pulled off three vessels which had been ashore.

COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit four dollar bills on the Dominion Bank, supposed to be photographed, have been discovered in circulation here. The paper is greasy and the engraving blurred.

TOBACCO.—We would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Tuckett & Billings, the manufacturers of the well-known "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. This brand is very popular with all smokers and is considered the best in the market.

NOTICE.—Mr. A. G. Sibbold the celebrated painter of photographs will visit Belleville next week and will be able to fill all orders entrusted to him. He is well-up in his business as is evidenced by some samples of his work which we have seen and which are now on exhibition at Reynolds' where orders can be left.

GOOD BOY.—At the recent Provincial Ploughing Match held near Port Hope on Friday last, the first prize in the class open to boys under 18 years of age, was won by R. B. Bennett of Seymour who captured the Gold Medal, valued at $40. The ability to perform good ploughing seems to be a characteristic of the family.

THE HARBOR.—The following vessels are in the harbor: Annie Minnes, loading with lumber at Sutherland's; the Kincardine at Campbell & Co.'s taking on barley, and the M. O'Gorman at the same place. The Ocean Wave, Kate, Forest Queen and Jura arrived this morning. The Florence and Mary Everett are at the Eagle Mill.

PRESENTATION.—At the convocation of Moira Chapter, No. 7, A. F., and A. M., on Tuesday evening, Mr. Daniel Spry, G. S., Toronto, was present as a delegate from the Grand Chapter, on whose behalf he presented a handsome silver tea set of eight pieces to L. H. Henderson, Past Grand Z. Mr. Spry was afterwards entertained to supper by the members of Moira Chapter in the Masonic banqueting room.

Y. M. L. & D. SOCIETY.—At a meeting of the above-named society, held in the Judge's Chambers in the Shire Hall, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:—President, John J. B. Flint, re-elected; Vice-President, J. W. Reddick; Secretary, Richard Trail; Treasurer, Mr. Williams. The Society will meet every Wednesday evening in the Judge's Chambers.

A HARD CASE.—Lindsay, who appeared in the Court this morning, asked to be sent up for three or four months. He is a big strapping fellow and perfectly able to work, but is so lazy that he wont. When his request was refused he ventured to say, "I suppose you'll send me to prison if I commit a crime?" If he does it will be a dead level certainty that he will be sent to the Central, and he wont care to visit that institution twice.

OFFICERS OF ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—The following are the officers for the ensuing year:—President, Wm. Webster; 1st Vice, Thos McKea; 2nd Vice, Daniel Waters; Secretary, John Stewart, Treasurer, Alex. Waters; Charitable Committee, H. Walker, A. T. Petrie, W. Robertson, Alex. McKay and J. Harrold; Chaplains, Revs. Messrs. McLean, Wishart and Cossar; Physician, Dr. McLennan; Standard Bearers, J. Henderson and J Keith; Bard, Wm. McAdie; Piper, Mr. Sound; Auditors, J. Sutherland and J. Stevenson. St. Andrew's Day is to be celebrated by the Society meeting at the Marble Hall at 2 o'clock and proceeding to St. Andrew's Church, to hear a sermon by one of their Chaplains. A dinner will be given in the evening.

MERITED PRAISE.—The Tandy Bros, have lately been singing in the neighboring states where they have been receiving well merrited praise from the Press. They have lately been singing in Boston, and of their concert there the Boston Journal says:—"The Tandy Brothers two vocalists of great reputation from Canada, fully justified the flattering terms in which they are spoken of by the Canadian press. The two duets, 'I Pescatori,' by Gabussi, and 'I Heard a Voice,' by Glover, were well executed by the Tandys. The ballad, 'Good bye, Sweetheart,' by Hatton, was sung with skill by Mr. Rechab Tandy. A descriptive song by Mr. W. Tandy was sung with fine effect. The four songs were enthusiastically encored, and the two responses, a solo and duet, elicited well-merited applause." They sing 'I Pescatori' together with other songs at their concert here on Friday night. All should hear them.

Police Court.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation; supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

TRADITIONS RELATING TO BIRDS AND ANIMALS.

Certain traditions relating to birds and beasts are only explicable on the supposition that they were once objects of divination or worship. The old Germans, we know from Tacitus, used white horses, as the Romans used chickens, for purposes of augury, and divined future events from different intonations of neighings. Hence it probably is that the discovery of a horse-shoe is so universally thought lucky, some of the feelings that once attached to the animal itself still surviving round the iron of its hoof. For horses, like dogs or birds, were invariably accredited with a greater insight into futurity than man himself; and the many superstitions connected with the flight or voice of birds resolve themselves into the fancy, not inconceivable among men surrounded on all sides by unintelligible tongues, that birds were the bearers of messages and warnings to men, which skill and observation might hope to interpret. Why is the robin's life and nest sacred, and why does an injury to either bring about bloody milk, lightning or rain? The Christian legend says that it extracted a thorn from the crown of Christ, or that it daily bears to Hell a drop of water to put out the flames, and accounts in either way for the red dye on its breast. But this is evidently a mediæval gloss to some heathen belief like the reason for the unluckiness of the magpie, that it would not enter the ark, but sat jabbering outside over the drowned world; or like the idea of the aspen still trembling at the part it played in the crucifixion.

It has been suggested that the robin, on account of its color, was once sacred to Thor, the god of lightning; yet, is it not possible that its red breast singled it out for worship among birds, as its red berries did the rowan from among trees long before its worshipers had arrived at any ideas of abstract divinities? All over the world there is a regard for things red. In the Highlands women tie some red thread round the cows' tails before turning them out to grass in spring, and tie red silk round their own fingers to keep off the witches; and, just as in Esthonia mothers put some red thread in their babies' cradles, so in China they tie some round their children's wrists, and teach them to regard red as the best known safeguard against evil spirits.

THE SLAVES AND ROUMANS.

From the Northern Carpathians to the Dardanelles, and from the Adriatic to the Black Sea, we view a fair region peopled by forty millions of Slaves and Roumans, of the same profession of faith as the Russians, and the majority, the Slaves, speaking what may broadly be termed the same language. These, with the exception of one million free Servians and four million Roumans of the Principalities, languish under the grinding tyranny of alien races. Many millions are held as in a vice by the iron military rule of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, which, with all its fair exterior, is, since 1867, but a compact between Germans and Magyars for the subjugation of the Slave races. Thirteen millions more in Roumelia groan under the lash of less than two million emasculated and degenerate descendants of the Asiatic barbarians who broke into Europe in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, and who are kept there by the fictions of an effete diplomacy.

In Austria the Slave vainly beats against the bars of his cage, but he can still live as a man. In Turkey he cannot live as a man. The hanging of priests, the suffocation of people with their heads thrust into bags of millet—all these barbarous proceedings of a Tartar horde against a Christian people act of course differently on Russian nerves from political oppression in Austria. The question of humanity is sometimes in advance of the impulses which result from an identity of blood and religion.

Is it wonderful that Russians regard this state of things with intense dissatisfaction, and long ardently for the hour of retribution? Let us imagine ourselves in a parallel position. Let us suppose the pashas, with horse-tails, eunuchs, and harems complete, loose among our kinsfolk of Denmark or Holland. The attack of civilized Germany on the former in 1864 raised such a frenzy among ourselves that we nearly rushed into hostilities without the allies indispensable to our taking the field on the Continent; such a state of things as we have supposed above would evoke a modern crusade. Yet to the perpetuation of a similar misery have we been devoting our arms and diplomacy for such a prolonged period, it is to be feared from the basest of motives—the maintenance of our imaginary trade interests at the expense of the sufferings of our fellow creatures. So indifferent are men to the misery of those who are remote from their personal spheres of observation!—Fraser's Magazine.

A Wisconsin editor illustrates the prevailing extravagance of the present day by calling attention to the costly baby carriage in use now; while, when he was a baby, they hauled him around by the hair of his head.

"It will certainly shorten your life, Harry, if you continue to smoke so much." "I don't know that," replied the gentleman, "there's my father who smokes every blessed day, and now he's seventy years of age." "Well," was the reply, "if he hadn't smoked he might have been eighty."

"Pull on the rope," wrote Mr. Winegardner, of Williamsport, "you will find me in the canal." Now, that kind of a corpse deserves encouragement. No fuss, no noise, no dragging the water, no firing of cannon. Just pull the rope, and up he comes, fresh and dripping. A child five years old could find him.

He used to cramp his feet up in little boots and limp painfully to her residence every Saturday evening, but the morning after his marriage he went into a shoe-shop, drew a chalk mark around his foot, and about an inch distant from it on both sides and at the heel and toe, and ordered the proprietor to put him up a pair of boots after that pattern.

An ancient darkey called at the police station the other day and informed the captain that "a feller had borrowed his watch and gone right off to Canada," and he wanted to know what could be done about it. "Nothing," replied the captain. "And he can't be fotched back?" "No." "Well, dere's one thing sartin," said the loser, as he went out, "dat watch don't run over fifteen minutes to wonce, unless he hires a boy to shake it."

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife. The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete. The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

FILLITER vs OSTROM.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on the following lands and premises:

Saturday, the 17th day of November, 1877.

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

OUR STORY.

THE FUR COUNTRY.

PART FIRST.

Yet, the solution of the question is of such vast importance to selenographic science that no price would be too great to pay for it. A fresh opportunity was now about to occur to study the much discussed corona. A total eclipse of the sun—total, at least, for the extreme north of America, for Spain and North Africa—was to take place on July 18th, 1860. It was arranged between the astronomers of different countries that simultaneous observations should be taken at the various points of the zone where the eclipse would be total. Thomas Black was chosen for the expedition to North America, and was now much in the same situation as the English astronomers who were transported to Norway and Sweden on the occasion of the eclipse of 1851.

It will readily be imagined that Thomas Black seized with avidity the opportunity offered him of studying this luminous halo. He was also to examine into the nature of the red prominences which appear on different parts of the edge of the terrestrial satellite when the totality of the eclipse has commenced; and should he be able satisfactorily to establish their origin, he would be entitled to the applause of the learned men of all Europe,

Thomas Black eagerly prepared for his journey. He obtained urgent letters of recommendation to the principal agents of the Hudson's Bay Company. He ascertained that an expedition was to go to the extreme north of the continent to found a new fort. It was an opportunity not to be lost; so he set out, crossed the Atlantic, landed at New York, traversed the lakes to the Red River settlement, and pressed on from fort to fort in a sledge, under the escort of a courier of the Company; in spite of the severity of the Winter, braving all the dangers of a journey across the Arctic regions, and arriving at Fort Reliance on the 29th March in the condition we have described.

Such was the explanation given by the astronomer to Captain Craventy. He at once placed himself entirely at Mr. Black's service, but could not refrain from inquiring why he had been in such a great hurry to arrive, when the eclipse was not to take place until the following year, 1860.

"But Captain," replied the astronomer, "I heard that the Company was sending an expedition along the northern coast of America, and I did not wish to miss the departure of Lieutenant Hobson."

"Mr. Black," replied the captain, "if the Lieutenant had already started, I should have felt it my duty to accompany you myself to the shores of the Polar Sea."

And with fresh assurance of his willingness to serve him, the Captain again bade his new guest welcome to Fort Reliance.

CHAPTER IV.— A FACTORY.

One of the largest of the lakes beyond the 61st parallel is that called the Great Slave Lake; it is two hundred and fifty miles long and is situated exactly at 61° 25′ N. lat. and 114° W. long. The surrounding districts slope down to it, and completely fills a vast natural hollow. The position of the lake in the very centre of the hunting districts, once swarming with game, early attracted the attention of the company. Numerous streams either take their rise from it or flow into it—the Mackenzie, Athabaska, etc.; and several important forts have been constructed on its shores—Fort Providence on the north, and Fort Resolution on the south. Fort Reliance is situated on the north-east extremity, and is about three hundred miles from Chesterfield Inlet, a long, narrow estuary formed by the waters of Hudson's Bay.

The Great Slave Lake is dotted with little islands, the granite and gneiss of which they are formed jutting up in several places. Its northern banks are clothed with thick woods, shutting out the barren frozen district beyond, not inaptly called the "Cursed Land." The southern regions, on the other hand, are flat, without a rise of any kind, and the soil is mostly calcareous. The large ruminants of the polar districts—the buffaloes or bisons, the flesh of which forms almost the only food of the Canadian and native hunters—seldom go further north than the Great Slave Lake.

The trees on the northern shores of the lake form magnificent forests. We need not be astonished at meeting with such fine vegetation in this remote district. The Great Slave Lake is not really in a higher latitude than Stockholm or Christiana. We have only to remember that the isothermal lines, or belts of equal heat, along which heat is distributed in equal quantities, do not follow the terrestrial parallels, and that with the same latitude America is ever so much colder than Europe. In April the streets of New York are still white with snow, yet the latitude of New York is nearly the same as that of the Azores. The nature of a country, its position with regard to the oceans, and even the conformation of its soil, all influence its climate.

In summer Fort Reliance was surrounded with masses of verdure refreshing to the sight after the long dreary winter. Timber was plentiful in these forests, which consisted almost entirely of poplar, pine and birch. The islets on the lake produced very fine willows. Game was abundant in the underwood, even during the bad season. Further south the hunters from the fort successfully pursued bison, elk and Canadian porcupines, the flesh of which is excellent. The waters of the Slave Lake were full of fish; trout in them attained to an immense size, their weight often exceeding forty pounds. Pikes, voracious lobes, a sort of charr or grayling called "blue fish," and countless legions of tittamegs, the Coregonus of naturalists, disported themselves in the water, so that the inhabitants of Fort Reliance were well supplied with food. Nature provided for all their wants; and clothed in the skins of foxes, martens, bears and other Arctic animals were able to brave the rigor of the winter.

The fort, probably so called, consisted of a wooden house, with a ground-floor and one upper story. In it lived the commandant and his officers. The barracks for the soldiers, the magazines of the Company, and the offices were exchanges were made, surrounded this house. A little chapel, which wanted nothing but a clergyman, and a powder-magazine completed the buildings of the settlement. The whole was surrounded by palisades, twenty-five feet high, defended by a small bastion with a pointed roof at each of the four corners of the parallelogram formed by the enceinte. The fort was thus protected from surprise, a necessary precaution in the

The Daily Ontario.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 9.

THE Fishery Commission, now sitting at Halifax, has completed the taking of evidence. The award will probably be given about the 23rd inst.

BLAIN'S Silver Bill has passed the House of Representatives at Washington, and a general decline in American securities on the London market follows.

THE Montreal Herald has been examining the evidence taken by Mr. Commissioner Hughes, relative to the examination frauds, and exclaims: "Such utter absence of honor and honesty should be branded in the most forcible manner."

THE situation in France is not much improved. Pouyer Quertier has failed in his efforts to form a Ministry, and the President advises the present Cabinet to withdraw their resignation. MacMahon has declared his intention of holding his position through the pressure of public opinion is very strong in favor of his resignation.

THE announcement is made that the Government steamer Newfield will leave Montreal about the 20th inst. with exhibits for the Paris Exhibition. It is highly gratifying, also, to learn that the Canadian Government is doing all that is possible to make our exhibit at Paris next year one entirely worthy of this country.

THE Mail denies the rumor that Dr. Tupper intends retiring from active public life for a short time and seek health and repose on the shores of the Mediterranean. The organ says the relations existing between the Chieftain and the member for Cumberland were never more cordial than at present, and the trusted lieutenant has no intention whatever of shirking the next session of Parliament on a plea of illness and want of rest.

WENDELL PHILLIPS has been called an "inspired idiot," and judging by his recent utterances on the currency question the epithet is well merited. In order to free the United States from "the interference and tyranny of European capitalists," as he terms their pecuniary assistance and operations, he would found currency upon the credit of the Government, make it of paper, and let it have no value outside of the United States. Such a policy, he thinks, would effectually "break this business." No doubt of it.

THE Hamilton Times gives a full report of the doings of George R. Newbold, now under arrest in Toronto on a charge of bigamy, preferred against him by his wife. A more heartless scamp never played clear of the gallows, and the wonder is that he so long continued to operate upon a gullible public. His first and legitimate wife, who now prosecutes, was the daughter of wealthy and respectable parents who resided near Kingston. Since abandoning her he has married three others—one at Carleton Place, another at Cleveland, and the last near Brighton. To sum up his character, he has been soldier, preacher, merchant, Collector for the Bible Society, horse thief, &c. He should get his deserts this time.

HARD TIMES.

We have been talking about the business and employment prospects of our country in a lachrymose tone and predicting "hard times" for the coming winter. Canada has felt the wave of "depression" quite severely, we admit, but there has been less suffering and privation here than in the United States. The outlook for the winter may not be as bright as many would desire, but there is no danger of any one starving, and few, able and willing to labor, need seek long for something to do.

From England the reports are gloomy enough. The coming winter is expected to be the most severe known there for many years. Everybody is cutting down expenses. In London alone there are 42,000 fewer male servants on the tax list than two years ago. The coal trade seems to be paralyzed, many of the great iron mills having closed, and strikes are frequent and general among employees. Crime, too, has already alarmingly increased, and much apprehension is felt in all parts of the kingdom.

In the United States the prospects are, if anything, worse for the laboring class. Nearly every steamship leaving American ports for England carries one or more stow-a-ways, who take this means of escaping from want and suffering. They represent the condition of affairs in all the cities of the United States as being desperate, and that to remain is to starve. All things considered, therefore, we in Canada have little reason to complain, but rather to be thankful that things are no worse than they are.

—Judge Burrowes, of Kingston, is again ill, and contemplates a visit to Bermuda.

There are three murder and two manslaughter cases down for hearing at the Cornwall Assizes.

—The Premier returned to Ottawa from Montreal last night.

—There is a temperance crusade in Amherst, N. S. 500 signed the pledge in three days.

ABOUT DOMESTIC EXPORTS.

Mr. Frazer, during his peregrinating tour in the interest of the Manufacturers' Convention, laid particular stress upon the fact (so he called it) that the domestic exports of the United States were very much larger, in proportion to population, than were those of Canada. Of course Mr. Frazer attributed this deficiency on our part to the injurious fiscal policy that finds favor with the present Government, and called upon his hearers to note well so important a fact. The following table of comparisons will show what Mr. Frazer's facts are worth:—

DOMESTIC EXPORTS	Exported from the United States during the calendar year 1876		Exported from Canada during the fiscal year 1876
	Value	Amount per capita, census of 1870	Value	Amount per capita, census 1871
	$	$ c
The Mines	52,218,917	1 34	3,731,827	1 02
The Fisheries...	3,676,213	0 09	5,500,989	1 50
The Forest	13,931,019	0 36	20,128,064	5 50
Animals & their products	122,895,193	3 16	13,517,654	3 70
Agricultural produce, exclusive of grain and breadstuffs	6,224,537	0 16	1,235,015	0 34
Grain & breadstuffs	132,085,740	3 40	19,904,650	5 40
Manufactures ...	66,316,383	1 79	5,843,650	1 64

By this it will be seen that last year our domestic exports, in some articles vastly exceeded those of the United States, while the whole comparison is by no means unfavorable to our standing as a comparatively young manufacturing country. In fish, our exports per capita, were equal to $1.50, and the States only 9 cents. In productions of the forest we have $5.50 for each head of the population; the States 36 cents. In agricultural produce, excepting grain and breadstuffs, our exports were 100 per cent. more than those of the U. S.; and in animals and their produce the relative figures stood $3.70 as to $3.16 in our favor. They exceeded us in produce of the mine, grain, breadstuffs and manufactures, for reasons given above, and by no means complimentary to their fiscal policy.

RANDOM DASHES.

CONCERT in Town Hall to-night.

THE Tandy Brothers will sing in Town Hall to-night.

THE river is showing a greater volume of water.

YOUNG ladies, if you have not gathered your autumn leaves gather them now, or forever after hold your peace.

IF you didn't see the conjunction of Mars and Saturn the other night, you will have to wait until 1946 to get another chance.

IT is said that the more stylish ladies will wear a boiled lobster on their winter hats, as an ornament. Its bright red color, handsome tentacles and artistic clams ought to prove very attractive.

GET up early these frosty mornings, if you want to learn lessons of wisdom from the sap-eyed grasshopper that sits on the sunniest window sill it can find and weeps because it went to moonlight hops and glee club concerts when it should have been laying in the winter's wood and earning money to buy an Ulster.

A CANADIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

The London Advertiser publishes the following extract from a letter written by one of the young men who left Ontario for Australia, which will be read with interest. The letter is dated Cootamundra, N. S. W., Sept. 13, 1877: This is not like America. It is more like a wilderness than anything else. We came here on a wild goose chase. There may have been gold here once, but it is all gone now. Just as soon as I see Melbourne I am going back to America, if I get my health and a safe voyage. There is nothing doing in Sydney. It is impossible to get a job there. Cootamundra, where I am, is a small place, about three miles south of Sydney. This is mid-winter, and it is as hot as mid-summer in America. The men have to wear veils over their eyes, or they would be blind in a week from small flies. This country is no fit place for a white man. It is impossible to get water fit to drink. It is all bad. There has been no rain for two years; the cattle are all dying; there is no grass. Where I am living there are about 500 or 600 inhabitants, and there is not a house in the place; they all live in tents.

THE PRESS.

A friend, who has business relations with Mr. S. G. Beatty, and familiar with all his transactions, informs us that the rumor associating his (Beatty's) name with the purchase of the Mail newspaper is scarcely founded on fact. Mr. Beatty has all the responsibility he craves in his present engagements, and is too well satisfied with his success to venture into doubtful investiments. He is now in the Maritime Provinces, looking after the business of his firm.

Mr. W. C. Scott, formerly of the Picton New Nation, has purchased the Napanee Express, and will work hard to make it a live Reform paper. Mr. Scott was successful in Picton and we predict equal prosperity in his new and enlarged enterprise in Napanee. He has our best wishes.

ABBREVIATIONS.

THE St. Andrews Society of Montreal will celebrate the festival of their patron Saint with a ball, and a large committee are making arrangements.

THE Kingston papers lend a helping hand to Mr. Rine in his temperance work, and he is not slow to acknowledge their powerful assistance.

MRS. KING, of Whitby is in Ottawa trying to get her husband's sentence commuted. He was sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary in 1875, for incendiarism.

THE Grand Jury at Toronto have brought in a true bill against Frank Meeker for shooting, with intent to murder, the late Joseph Dain. He will be placed on trial to-day.

FIRES occurred yesterday morning at Guelph and Blenheim, but the loss in both cases was small. A quantity of gunpowder exploded in Guelph, causing more alarm than real danger to life or property.

A MAN named Kenny, a machinist of St. Thomas, took a large dose of laudanum, it it is thought with the intention of committing suicide. Although insensible when last heard from, hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE large and very old hardware firm of Mullholland & Baker, Montreal, have called a meeting of their creditors. Liabilities are mentioned at $400,000. Assets show a surplus. The house goes into liquidation.

MR. E. J. BARBEAU, Manager of the City and Districts Savings Bank, of Montreal, testifies that the publication of the despatches in the conspiracy case had caused 250 depositors to withdraw their business from the bank.

A MARRIED woman named Mary Foster, living at 658 Queen street, Toronto, drank two ounces of laudanum on Wednesday evening, and is now in the hospital at the point of death. Her husband deserted her some time ago, and failing to get work she became despondent and attempted to end her life.

INDICTMENTS have been laid against President Raymond, Superintendent Folsom and Roadmaster Alcock, of the Passumpsic Railway, before the grand jury at Rochford, Vermont, at the instance of the South-eastern Railway, on a charge of destroying a bridge and the track of the latter. The roadmaster has been arrested, but the other two have escaped.

A GENTLEMAN who lately visited nearly all the principal settlements on Manitoulin Island, reports a large increase of the population, and considerable improvements in several of the villages. From carefully gathered statistics the white population is now estimated at a little over 8,000, and the Indians about 2,000. School-houses and churches are being built in many places, and signs of progress, with considerable prosperity, are to be seen in every direction.

IN London, Ont., efforts are being made to establish a bank for the special benefit of farmers and others not in the usual commercial circles. Hitherto farmers have been in the habit of applying to loan socities for the advances needed by them, giving as security mortgages on their farms. The argument for the new institution is that when small loans for short periods are concerned, the mortgage plan does not meet the want. The proposed bank would certainly have a new field of operation, but we do not quite see how its objects are to be secured.

A GOOD ONE, ANYWAY.

The Republican stump orator, Colonel "Bob" Ingersoll, only made one short temperance speech in his life. But it was a racy one, and delivered while acting as counsel in the Munn trial at Chicago:—

"I believe, gentlemen, alcohol, to a certain degree, demoralizes those who make it, those who sell it and those who drink it. I believe that from the time it issued from the coiled and poisoned worm of the distillery until it empties into the hell of crime, dishonor and death, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to its end. I do not believe that anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against the liquid crime. All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks upon either bank of this stream of death—of the suicides—of the insanity—of the poverty—of the ignorance—of the destitution—of the little children tugging at faded dresses—of weeping and despairing wives asking for bread—of the millions struggling with imaginary serpents produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, of the almshouses, of the prisons and of scaffolds upon either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against that stuff called alcohol.

"LITERALLY SHOWING HIS TEETH."

"Earnesttown" writes to the Whig as follows:—"That was a wicked hit of Mr. Cartwright's the other night at Napanee, when after describing the Opposition Demonstration there, as having been mainly devoted to 'weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth' over himself and his iniquities, he went on to say that he had 'always suspected that Sir John A. Macdonald's bark was considerably worse than his bite, but that till the said Demonstration he had not been aware what excellent grounds there were for his suspicions.' This will be well understood by many. The others not so well posted, let me explain; Sir John met with a slight mis-adventure at Napanee. In the course of his harrangue, he had accused. Mr. Blake of getting angry and 'actually showing his teeth', and very shortly after to the intense amusement of the audience Sir John's own teeth actually fell out in the middle of a must envenomed paragraph. Sir John showed a dexterity worthy of the most accomplished knight of the thimble and the pen. He caught the missing facial ornaments with infinite address and restored them to their proper place in a twinkling, but as quick as the movement was, the audience had seen the accident, and loud and long was the laughter, which arose in consequence."

What agonies must the poet have endured, who, writing of his love, asserted that he "kissed her under the silent stars," and found that the compositor had made him declare that he "kicked her under the cellar stairs."

A boarder the other day, after vainly endeavoring to masticate a piece of fowl, laid down his knife and fork saying: "All the trainings, traditions and teachings of my youth, my sense of propriety, and the commands of holy writ, compel me to respect old age; but I'll be blowed if I can bring myself to stomach it when roasted or broiled."

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 9.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

REMINDER.

Concert in the Town Hall to-night

The Station.—Four tramps and three prisoners were quartered in the station last night.

A New Idea.—We learn from the London Advertiser that street cars, with stoves inside, are being built for winter use in Belleville.

New Bridge.—A new bridge is being built over the G. T. R. on North Front Street. This was rendered necessary, as the old one was in a very defective state.

Stripped.—With the exception of the Katie Gray and Whisper, all the yachts owned here have been stripped and are now ready for winter quarters.

Postponed.—Thomas & Co's Art Entertainment has, by request, been postponed till to-morrow evening when it will be given in the Town Hall at 7.30.

Court of Revision.—The Court met this afternoon at four o'clock and will meet again this evening. All errors should be noted by taxpayers who should therefore be present and have them rectified.

Street Signs.—A good work is now being done in the putting up of small signs with the names of the streets thereon, throughout the town. This will be greatly appreciated by the people generally.

The Bay Trade.—The passenger traffic of the steamers now plying on the bay is not brisk but a fairly remunerative trade is being done in the transportation of freight.

Concert.—A concert under the auspices of the Rine Club, takes place in the Town Hall this evening. Among the contributors to the programme are the Messrs. Tandy, of Kingston, and a number of amateurs of note, and therefore a pleasing entertainment may confidently be expected.

Lecture.—We are informed that Mr, Nicholas Flood Davin is to deliver a lecture here shortly under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute. The subject of the lecture will be "The British House of Commons."

Matrimonial.—On Wednesday Mr. D. Waugh, of Montreal, and Miss Ada, second daughter of Mr. J. C. Overell, entered the matrimonial state. Their many friends wish them abundant success and prosperity in their new field of life's journey.

Marine.—The schooner Nellie Teresa is unloading salt at Rathbun's; the steamer Kincardine will finish to-morrow; the Kate and Forest Queen are discharging coal. The Annie Minnes has gone to Lewis' dock; the M. O'Gorman left yesterday afternoon and the Ocean Wave to-day.

Captured.—George Osborne, one of the parties accused of the Zwick's Island outrage, was captured yesterday, and on the presentation of a bench warrant and his recognition by Deputy Sheriff Taylor, he was committed to stand his trial at the next Court of Competent Criminal Jurisdiction.

In Trouble Again.—James Galloway, his wife and a girl named Rockey were before the court to-day for beating a girl named Barnhart and were punished therefor. The most effective way to get rid of him would be the best, and that would be to send him out of town; then his companions would follow him.

Grip.—The last cartoon of this paper is indeed a capital one. The persons represented in it are Hon. Mr. Blake in whose right hand is a pamphlet labelled "Blake's vindication at Teeswater," whilst his left is outstretched over the serpent, "Calumny" which is dropping to destruction in the fire of "Truth" "An abandoned man" Hon. Wm. Macdougall stands in the rear of Mr. Blake whilst Sir John and Patteson of the "Mail", in affrighted and trembling positions, sorrowfully watch the path of "Calumny" to its fate. The cartoon is entitled "The Innoxious Viper."

A New Device.—A prominent grain and flour dealer who resides here, has met with considerable loss by persons appropriating his bags to their own use. His bags were each adorned with his own name in large letters, and above it he has put "Stolen From," so that, as he is well known, parties having such bags in their possession will be reminded at once that they do not own them legally, whilst if they show them strangers will at once know that the bags are stolen.

The New Stamped Envelopes.—Regulations regarding the issue of stamped envelopes by the Post-Office Department are published in the Official Gazette of this week. Envelopes are now ready and will be furnished to post-masters at the following rates per 100:—1 cent $1,30, three cent No 1 $3,30, No. 2 $3,25. Postmasters and stamp vendors are required to sell at above rates per hundred, and a less number as near the proportionate value as possible. The following caution to postmasters is published:—"It appears to be necessary to caution post-masters that they are not authorized to use postage stamps or other stamps entrusted to them for sale to the public, either for remittance on their own affairs or for sale in other places. The Postmaster-General regrets to find that irregularities of this character have taken place, and trusts that this notice of the impropriety of such practices will be sufficient to prevent their recurrence."

"A Reckless Scribbler".—The Picton New Nation man dubs "Whales" with this title—probably because the tone of our correspondent's letter was not in consonance with the taste of the editor of our contemporary. For the information of the Nation man we would state that "Whales" is a writer of ability and experience; is perfectly truthful and his statements—even had we not heard them corroborated, would be accepted without the slightest thought that they were misrepresentations—which by the way, our contemporary knows, or at least should know, they are not.

Police Court.

(Before A. L. Smith, Esq., J. P.)

Friday, Nov. 9

ASSAULT.

Anna Barnhart charged James Galloway, Mary Jane Galloway and Margaret Ann Rocky with assaulting her. The charge was proven and the defendants each fined $1 00 and costs or 10 days in jail.

INDECENT ASSAULT.

George Osborne, charged with committing an indecent assault on Anna Maria Emsley, was committed for trial.

You Can Get anything in Hats, Furs & Millinery at Muir & Lawrence. They have one of the best and largest stocks in town and do not consider it any trouble to show goods. Give them a call.

Just walk up street to Geen's drug store and see the large quantity, just arrived, of Lubys Parisian Hair Renewer, Phillip's Milk of Magnesia and Phospho-Nutrine, all recommended by the medical faculty. Physicians calling will be presented with a sample of the last.

From Kingston.

There was only one case adjudicated on in the Police Court yesterday—that of John Robinson, a drunk, who was taxed $2.00 and costs.

Rev. A Wilson has passed his 24th anniversary as pastor of the Brock Street Presbyterian Church.

Complaint is made that the Street Railway Co. does not put the crossings over its lines in proper order.

As an evidence that a certain species of of ingenuity pervades the atmosphere here, it may be stated, that a few days ago, a man presented a dog's scalp, averring that it was a wolf's and received the bounty therefor from the proper official.

The re-opening of the Rine campaign has been highly successful, large numbers having joined the movement.

The "Earls" have been presented with the champion flag.

The Street Railway is doing a prosperous business.

From Trenton.

Mr. George H. Gordon finds the making of square timber profitable and has sent fifty men to his limits to work.

The dredge is still at work and is rendering effective service in the vicinity of the swing-bridge.

The Rine Total Abstinence Club of this village has a membership of over 250.

An investigation is asked for into the conduct of the station agent at this place by every business man of the village as a detective has charged him of disposing of some G. T. R. property without accounting for it.

From Picton.

The clothing &c, for the volunteers has arrived and is now being distributed preparatory to the drilling of the battalion which will begin next week.

From Prince Edward.

Wellington beat Consecon at cricket recently by nine wickets.

A ploughing match comes off at Northport to-morrow.

The anniversary services held in Bowerman's Church, Melville Circuit, were a decided success.

An ice house at Point Traverse was destroyed by fire on Saturday last.

Rev. D. Brill and lady, of Milford, were visited by a surprise party on Wednesday evening who left behind them a lot of supplies and a nice sum of money.

From Grafton.

A bold and successful robbery was committed here on Wednesday night by some parties unknown. The thieves first commenced operations by taking from the stable of Mr. Heenan a valuable roan mare, and harnessing her to his phaeton-buggy drove up to the village, a distance of half a mile, and then, by means of some tools obtained from a neighboring carpenter's shop effected an entrance into the store of Messrs. T. & R. Lawless, where they filled a trunk found in the store with a lot of clothing, skirts, kid gloves, and other goods of a value, as near as can be ascertained, of $300. With the goods, horse, buggy and harness they made good their escape, and no trace of them has yet been obtained. A pair of boots left behind by the robbers are of American manufacture, and this fact leads to the supposition that the thieves are Americans, and that they will make an effort to gain the other side of the lake with their plunder.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Herald's San Antonio special says Indians from New Mexico crossed the Rio Grande on a marauding expedition. Mexicans pursued them into Texas, and in a battle near the Guadaloupe Mountains on Oct. 19th, killed six bucks, captured six squaws and recovered 68 head of stolen stock.

Washington specials:—The Tribune says a favorable report has been made by the Senate Committee upon Welsh's nomination to England, and Senator Cameron has asked the Senate that it be confirmed.

A bill for a charter of the New Ocean European Cable Company will be introduced in the House on Monday. The proposed line is by way of the Azore Islands, and is to be finished within five years.

The Times says Marshal Fred Douglass, in his speech at the Morton memorial meeting, is reported as having taken issue with the President's Southern policy.

The World says the report that Sir Edward Thornton will not return to Washington is untrue, as notice of the time of his arrival is daily expected.

The World's Fort Walsh special says when Sitting Bull was ordered to move to Red River he made an eloquent speech, signifying a ready compliance and unending fealty to the Queen. He promised when his braves were strong that he would return and fight the Americans until death. On leaving the fort, Sitting Bull wept.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9.—The British ship Unzuelan cleared yesterday for Liverpool with 3,600 bales of cotton. This is the first shipment of cotton direct to Europe by the recently established line running from this city to Liverpool.

New York, Nov. 9.—A banquet was given last night to J. S. Morgan, successor to Geo. Peabody in London. Almost every gentleman present represented from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000. Most of the leading bankers and railroad men of the country attended. Gov. Tilden presided in happy style. Among the guests were Gov. Hartranft, of Pennsylania, Gov. Rice, of Massachusetts, Thos. A. Scott, ex-Governor, and Edward Morgan.

Wm. Hagerman, a clerk, bade farewell to the inmates of his boarding house yesterday, saying he was going on a long journey. He retired to his room and shot himself dead. No cause is assigned for the act.

The will of Mrs Merrill, bequeathing a quarter of a million to Cardinal McCloskey is contested. Her counsel says Mrs. Merrill was not a Roman Catholic, but while sick in '71 some priests of her acquaintance told her she would recover if she made a will leaving her property to the Church. She then made a will and after she recovered this circumstance weighed upon her mind, which was even then weakened by affection of the brain, from which she subsequently died.

North Orsay, Vt., Nov. 9.—The war between the Passumpsic and North Eastern Railways waxes hotter. The rails will all be relaid by to-morrow noon, when the South Eastern people propose to run through to Newport. No interference will be brooked on the part of the Passumpsic. They are prepared for any emergency. Strong forces of men are posted all along the line, and any attempt at a rush by the Passumpsic will be frustrated. The town is full of people, and all is excitement.

A Sunday school scholar, upon being asked who was the wickedest man mentioned in the Bible, replied promptly, "Solomon Gomorrah!"

It is nothing strange for "a prominent citizen" of Colorado to discover lizards three feet long, but it is curious why he should make oath that the reptiles were thirty feet long. Sixteen feet would be a big lie—a very big one.

"Samuel Stikeney of Iowa," says the Worchester "Press," "clasped his best girl in an embrace so close that his revolver was discharged and a boy standing near was seriously wounded. The lesson of this sad occurrence is that boys shouldn't stand around at such times."

A woman can dress so near like a man that you can't tell 'em apart ten rods off, but she can never, never get over a fence as quick when a Texas steer or a butcher's cart turns the corner.

Landlady (to boarder who had passed his cup six times): "You are very fond of coffee, Mr. Smith." Mr. Smith: "Yes, ma'am: it looks as if I was when I am willing to swallow so much water for the sake of getting a little."

A Scotch paper says: "A Colorado beetle was discovered last week at Swinton, in a woodyard, which had just received a load of timber from America. The insect was taken to the police station." The further fate of the unfortunate potato bug is left in darkness. Probably it had a hearing and gave bail for its good behavior.

Positive Results. There are numerous remedies that cure sometimes and become trusted as useful, but none have proved so effectual—cured so many and such remarkable cases—as Dr. Ayer's medicines.

The Cherry Pictoral has restored great numbers of patients who were believed to be hopelessly affected with consumption.

Ague Cure breaks up chills and fever quickly and surely.

Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla eradicates scofula and impurities of the blood, cleanses the system and restores it to vigorous health. By its timely use many troublesome disorders that cause a decline of health are expelled or cured.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

The American Eye-Salve is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. Ringworm and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the American Eye-Salve. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Petitt's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Headaches caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

days when the Indians, instead of bein the purveyors of the Company, fought for the independence of their native land, and when the agents and soldiers of rival associations disputed the possession of the rich fur country.

At the time the Hudson's Bay Company employed about a million men on its territories. It held supreme authority over them; an authority which could even inflict death The governors of the factories could regulate salaries, and arbitrarily fix the price of provisions and furs; and as a result of this irresponsible power, they ofted realized a profit of no less than three hundred per cent.

We shall see from the following table, taken from the "Voyage of Captain Robert Lade," on what terms exchanges were formerly made with those Indians who have since become the best hunters of the Company. Beavers' skin were then the currency employed in buying and selling.

The Indians paid.—

For one gun.	10	beavers' skins.
" half lb powder,'	1	"
" four lb shot,	1	"
" one ax,	1	"
" six knives,	1	"
" one lb glass beads,	1	"
" one laced coat,	6	"
" one coat not laced,	5	"
" one laced female dress,	6	"
" one lb tobacco,	1	"
" one box powder,	1	"
" one comb and one looking glass,	2	"

But a few years ago beaver-skins became so scarce that the currency had to be changed. Bison furs are now the medium of trade. When an Indian presents himself at the fort, the agents of the Company give him as many pieces of wood as he brings skins, and he exchanges these pieces of wood for manufactured articles on the premises; and as the Company fix the price of the articles they buy and sell, they can not fail to realize large profits.

Such was the mode of proceeding in Fort Reliance and other factories; so that Mrs. Paulina Barnett was able to watch the working of the system during her stay, which extended until the 16th of April. Many a long talk did she have with Lieutenant Hobson, many were the projects they formed, and firmly were they both determined to allow no obstacle to check their advance. As for Thomas Black, he never opened his lips except when his own special mission was discussed. He was wrapped up in the subject of the luminous corona and red prominences of the moon; he lived but to solve the problem, and in the end made Mrs. Paulina Barnett nearly as enthusiastic as himself. How eager the two were to cross the Arctic Circle, and how far off the 18th of July, 1860, appeared to both, but especially to the impatient Greenwich astronomer, can easily be imagined.

The preparations for departure could not be commenced until the middle of March, and a month passed before they were completed. In fact, it was a formidable undertaking to organize such an expedition for crossing the polar regions. Every thing had to be taken with them—food, clothes, tools, arms, ammunition, and a nondescript collection of various requisites.

The troops, under the command of Lieutenant Jaspar Hobson, were one chief and two subordinate officers, with ten soldiers, three of whom took their wives with them. They were all picked men, chosen by Captain Craventy on account of their energy and resolution. We append a list of the whole party:

Lieut. Jaspar Hobson,
Sergeant Long,
Corporal Joliffe,
Peterson, soldier,
Belcher, do
Rae, do
Marbre do
Garry, do
Pond, do
MacNab, do
Sabine, soldier,
Hope do
Kellet, do
Mrs. Rae.
Mrs. Joliffe,
Mrs. MacNab,
Mrs. Paulina Barnett,
Madge,
Thomas Black.

In all nineteen persons to be transported several hundreds of miles through a desert and imperfectly-known country.

With this project in view, however, the Company had collected every thing necessary for the expedition. A dozen sledges, with their teams of dogs, were in readiness. These primitive vehicles consisted of strong but light planks joined together by transverse bands. A piece of curved wood, turning up at the end like a skate, was beneath the sledge, enabling it to cleave the snow without sinking deeply into it. Six swift and intelligent dogs, yoked two and two, and controlled by the long thong brandished by the driver, drew the sledges, and could go at a rate of fifteen miles an hour.

The wardrobe of the travelers consisted of garments made of reindeer-skins, lined throughout with thick furs. All wore linen next the skin as a protection against the sudden changes of temperature frequent in these latitudes. Each one, officer or soldier, male or female, wore seal skin boots sewn with twine, in the manufacture of which the natives excel. These boots are absolutely impervious, and are so flexible that they are admirably adapted for walking. Pine-wood snow-shoes, two or three feet long, capable of supporting the weight of a man on the most brittle snow, and enabling him to pass over with the rapidity of a skater on ice, can be fastened to the soles of the seal-skin boots. Fur caps and deer-skin belts completed the costumes.

For arms, Lieutenant Hobson had the regulation musketoons provided by the Company, pistols, ordnance sabers, and plenty of ammunition; for tools: axes, saws, adzes, and other instruments requird in carpentering. Then there was the collection of all that would be needed for setting up a factory in the remote district for which they were bound; a stove, a smelting furnace, two air-pumps for ventilotion, and India-rubber boat, only inflated when required, etc., etc.

The party might have relied for provisions on the hunters among them. Some of the soldiers were skillful trackers of game, and there were plently of reindeer in the polar regions. Whole tribes of Indians or Esquimaux, deprived of bread and all other nourishment, subsist entirely on this venison, which is both abundant and palatable. But as delays and difficulties had to be allowed for, a certain quantity of provisions was taken with them. The flesh of the bison, elk, and deer, amazed in the large battues on the south of the lake; corned beef, which will keep for any length of time; and some Indian preparations, in which the flesh of animals, ground to powder, retains its nutritive properties in a very small bulk, requiring no cooking, and forming a very nourishing diet, were among the stores provided in case of need.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

POND'S EXTRACT.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

NOVEMBER.

When thistle-blows do lightly float
About the pasture height,
And shrills the hawk a parting note,
And creeps the frost at night,
Then hilly ho! though singing so,
And whistle as I may,
There comes again the old heart pain
Through all the livelong day.

In high wind creaks the leafless tree
And nods the fading fern;
The knolls are dun as snow-clouds be
And cold the sun does burn.
Then ho, halloa! though calling so
I cannot keep it down;
The fears arise into my eyes,
And thoughts are chill and brown.

Far in the cedars' dusky stoles,
Where the sere ground-vine waves,
The partridge drums funeral rolls
Above the fallen leaves.
And hip, hip, ho! though cheering so,
It stills to white the pain,
For drip, drip, drip, from bare branch-lip,
I hear the year's last rain,

So drive the cold cows from the hill,
And call the wet sheep in;
And let their stamping clatter fill
The barn with warming din.
And ho, folk, ho! though it is so
That we no more may roam,
We still will find a cheerful mind
Around the fire at home!

OUR STORY.

THE FUR COUNTRY.

PART FIRST.

Lieutenant Hobson likewise took several casks of rum and whisky; but he was firmly resolved to economize these spirits, so injurious to the health in cold latitudes, as much as possible. The Company had placed at his disposal a little portable medicine-chest, containing formidable quantities of lime-juice, lemons, and other simple remedies necessary to check, or if possible to prevent, the scorbutic affections which take such a terrible form in these regions.

All the men had been chosen with great care; none were too stout or to thin, and all had for years been accustomed to the severity of the climate, and could therefore more easily endure the fatigues of an expedition to the Polar Sea. They were all brave, high-spirited fellows, who had taken service of their own accord. Double pay had been promised them during their stay at the confines of the American continent, should they succeed in making a settlement beyond the seventieth parallel.

The sledge provided for Mrs. Barnett and her faithful Madge was rather more comfortable than the others. She did not wish to be treated better than her travelling companions, but yielded to the urgent request of Captain Craventy, who was but carrying out the wishes of the Company.

The vehicle which brought Thomas Black to Fort Reliance also conveyed him and his scientific apparatus from it. A few astronomical instruments, of which there were not many in those days—a telescope for his selenographic observations, a sextant for taking the latitude, a chronometer for determining the longitudes, a few maps a few books, were all sorted away in this sledge, and Thomas Black relied upon his faithful dogs to lose nothing by the way.

Of course the food of the various teams was not forgotten. There were altogether no less than seventy-two dogs, quite a herd to provide for by the way, and it was the business of the hunters to cater for them. These strong intelligent animals were bought of the Chippeway Indians, who know well how to train them for their arduous calling.

The little company was most skillfully organized. The zeal of Lieutenant Jaspar Hobson was beyond all praise. Proud of his mission, and devoted to his task, he neglected nothing which could insure success. Corporal Joliffe, always a busybody, exerted himself without producing any very tangible results; but his wife was most useful and devoted; and Mrs. Paulina Barnett had already struck up a great freindship with the little Canadian woman, whose fair hair and large soft eyes were so pleasant to look at.

We need scarcely add that Captain Craventy did all in his power to further the enterprise. The instructions he had received from the Company showed what great importance they attached to the success of the expedition, and the establishment of a new factory beyond the seventieth-parallel. We may therefore safely affirm that every human effort likely to insure success which could be made was made: but who could tell what insurmountable difficulties nature might place in the path of the brave Lieutenant? who could tell what awaited him and his devoted little band?

CHAPTER V.—FROM FORT RELIANCE TO FORT ENTERPRISE.

The first fine days came at last. The green carpet of the hills began to appear here and there where the snow had melted. A few migratory birds from the south—such as swans, bald-headed eagles, &c.—passed the warmer air. The poplars, birches, and willows began to bud, and the red-headed ducks, of which there are so many species in North America, to skim the surface of the numerous pools formed by the melted snow. Guillemots, puffins, and eider duck sought colder latitude; and little shrews no bigger than a hazel-nut ventured from their holes, tracing strange figures on the ground with their tiny pointed tails. It was intoxicating once more to breathe the fresh air of spring, and to bask in the sunbeams. Nature awoke once more from her heavy sleep in the long winter night, and smiled as she opened her eyes.

The renovation of creation in spring is perhaps more impressive in the Arctic region than in any other portion of the globe, on account of the greater contrast of what has gone before.

The thaw was not, however, completed. The thermometer, it is true, marked 41° Fahrenheit above zero: but the mean temperature of the night kept the surface of the snowy plains solid—a good thing for the passage of sledges, of which Jasper Hobson meant to avail himself before the thaw became complete.

The ice of the lake was still unbroken. During the last month several successful hunting expeditions had been made across the vast smooth plains, which were already frequented by game. Mrs. Barnett was astonished at the skill with which the men used their snow-shoes, scudding along at the pace of a horse in full gallop. Following Captain Craventy's advice, the lady herself practiced walking in these contrivances, and she soon became very expert in sliding over the snow.

During the last few days several bands of Indians had arrived at the fort to exchange the spoils of the winter chase for manufactured goods. The season had been bad. There were a good many polecats and sables; but the furs of beavers, otters lynxes, ermines, and foxes were scarce. It was therefor a wise step for the Company to endeavor to explore a new country, where the wild animals had hitherto escaped the rapacity of man.

On the morning of the 16th of April, Lieutenant Jasper Hobson and his party were ready to start. The route across the known districts, between the Slave Lake and that of the Great Bear beyond the Arctic Circle, was already determined. Jasper Hobson was to make for Fort Confidence, on the northern extremity of the latter lake; and he was to revictual at Fort Enterprise, a station two hundred miles further to the north-west, on the shores of the Snare Lake. By travelling at the rate of fifteen miles a day the Lieutenant hoped to halt there about the beginning of May.

From this point the expedition was to take the shortest route to Cape Bathurst, on the North American coast. It was agreed that in a year Captain Craventy should send a convoy with provisions to Cape Bathurst, and that a detachment of the Lieutenant's men was to go to meet this convoy, to guide it to the spot where the new fort was to be erected. This plan was a guaranty against any adverse circumstances, and left a means of communication with their fellow creatures open to the Lieutenant and his voluntary companions in exile.

On the 16th of April dogs and sledges were awaiting the travellers at the postern gate. Captain Craventy called the men of the party together and said a few kind words to them. He urged them above all things to stand by one another in the perils they might be called upon to meet; reminded them that the enterprise upon which they were about to enter required self denial and devotion, and that submission to their officers was an indispensable condition of success. Cheers greeted the Captain's speech, the adieux were quickly made, and each one took his place in the sledge assigned to him. Jasper Hobson and Sergeant Long went first; then Mrs. Paulina Barnett and Madge, the latter dexterously wielding the long Esquimaux whip, terminating in a stiff thong. Thomas Black and one of the soldiers, the Canadian, Peterson, occupied the third sledge; and the others followed, Corporal and Mrs. Joliffe bringing up the rear. According to the orders of Lieutenant Hobson, each driver kept as nearly as possible the same distance from the preceding sledge, so as to avoid all confusion—a necessary precaution, as a collision between to sledges going at full speed, might have had disastrous results.

On leaving Fort Reliance, Jasper Hobson at once directed his course toward the northwest. The first thing to be done was to cross the large river connecting Lakes Slave and Wolmsley, which was, however, still frozen so hard as to be undistinguishable from the vast white plains around. A uniform carpet of snow covered the whole country, and the sledges, drawn by their swift teams, sped rapidly over the firm smooth surface.

The weather was fine but still very cold,

The Daily Ontario.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 10.

TORONTO has been too much governed, and so the ratepayers were asked to vote aye or nay on the question of abolishing the Water Commission. They voted aye by 1,281 majority, and that body is thereby squelched.

THE New York World characterizes the bill which has just passed the House of Representatives, intended to remonetize the silver dollar, as "the great silver swindle." English capitalists seem to take a similar view of the measure.

THE Hamilton Spectator is now trying to prove that Mr. Æmilius Irving, having accepted some law business from the Attorney-General of Ontario, has virtually violated the Independence of Parliament Act, he being a member of the House of Commons. The organ, however, is not very successful in establishing its proof.

THE Congress of the United States has been asked to incorporate into the bankrupt law of that country the same principle represented by Mr. Blake's amendment to our Insolvent Act, viz: that the estate of a bankrupt person must pay so much on the dollar of indebtedness before he can secure a discharge.

THE Mail admits that the "depression" has served one good purpose, at least. It has exerted no little influence, our contemporary says, in keeping farmers' sons to their own calling, and in making them less inclined than before to embark in the dangerous venture of "the mercantile business," as it is called. Why not give the Government credit for this?

THE farmers of Missouri have petitioned Congress in favor of Wendell Phillips' insane currency policy. They want a heavy volume of paper money, issued on the credit of the nation, and to circulate only within the United States. They are evidently inflationists in the broadest sense.

SITTING BULL is determined not to return to the United States if he can help it. He seems to entertain the idea that the Canadian authorities contemplate handing him and his band over to the Americans, and in order to frustrate any such design has removed north. They are now encamped forty miles from Battleford.

DESERTIONS from the Turks at Plevna are becoming more frequent and numerous. The impression prevails that Osman Pasha must soon either surrender or risk a sortie. Chefket Pasha has been moving to the relief of Plevna, but it is scarcely probable that he will succeed in his mission. The Russians are strongly entrenched to the south of the besieged town, and are prepared for any attack that may be made from any source.

TYPHOID FEVER.

This dreaded disease is very prevalent at the present time in London and other western towns and cities. By some authorities is is declared to be a distinct disease and contagious. Others contend that the typhoid is merely supplementary to some other disease, and superinduced by a decline in the vitality of the system. We know from experience that contact with the disease does not always produce it. Medical men, we believe, agree that the fever is always traceable to local causes, and that impure water and defective drainage are the disseminating agents. Prof. Bell, in his lecture last year, and in communications to the local press since, has called attention to this fact, and pointed out the necessity for careful attention to cleanliness and thorough ventilation of sewers, more especially at this season of the year. Surface water is now accumulating in great force, and is finding its way, with the washings of decayed summer matter, to the wells from which water is obtained for domestic use. We would like to know, from those who have examined the subject, whether the nature of the soil here is favorable to the transmission of impurities. It is of a clayey formation, and hence better adapted to the retention of pure water than if sandy. This is our impression, but it may not be sustained by facts. At any rate, decayed vegetable and animal matter will produce typhoid fever, so the doctors say, therefore all should see that their water supply is as pure as possible.

MR. LAURIER.

The new Minister of Inland Revenue has consented to try his fortune in Quebec East, in compliance with a numerously signed requisition from the electors of that constituency. The sitting member, Hon. Mr. Thibeaudeau, has definitely resigned, in order to make way for Mr. Laurier, and the writ for another election has already been issued. The Opposition will certainly have an opponent in the field, and will resort to their usual tactics in carrying on the contest. It is highly probable, however, that a thorough canvass of the constituency has been made, and the Liberals know in advance what the issue of the contest will be. They will work vigorously to avoid another defeat, and there is little doubt that their efforts will be crowned with success. Mr. Laurier's popularity is fully attested by the fact that five constituencies were offered to him in the Province of Quebec. Few, even of his political opponents, wish to see him out of the House.

THE FISHERY REGULATIONS.

GRIEVANCES OF CANADIAN FISHERMEN IN LAKE ERIE.

The Port Dover "Independent" says:—The Innes Fishing Company lifted on Tuesday last over seven tons of fish, and on Wednesday over four tons, or about twelve tons of fish in two days. The worst feature of the fishing business is the close season for whitefish, which commenced the 1st of Nov., and will continue until the 10th, the very time when they ought to be allowed to take them, as the fish have not yet commenced to spawn; so that the close season will be over just when it ought to commence. The spawning season varies, like everything else. It is later this year from the fact that the weather has been open and warm, and it is the opinion of fishermen generally, that the local inspectors should have the power of changing the close season in accordance with the season itself. In our opinion the whole thing is a farce. Our Government has been obliged to do away with the close season at the mouth of the St. Clare River, our fishermen being in full view of American fishermen who are allowed to fish the entire year. Why our fishermen should be restricted at other points, is what we cannot understand. Within forty miles of us, although we cannot see them, the Americans are allowed to take whitefish at all seasons, and we are obliged to shut down at the time when they are just coming in. Get the American Government to make the same rule, and we would not grumble, but we certainly ought to have the same privileges when fishing in the same waters.

WORTH THINKING OVER.

—The Toronto "Telegram" says: One of the things about which society does not trouble itself overmuch is the bad habit young people of both sexes have of patrolling the principal streets of the city night after night. A great deal of harm is the result of this practice; assuredly no good comes of it. Young girls turn out in large numbers and behave themselves in a way which can hardly be said to be painfully decorous. It would be much better if some way could be found by which thoughtless young girls could spend the evening with more profit, and we are not aware but that, in the end, they would themselves be most thankful for it. It is quite true that the hundreds of young girls who are shut up in factories and workshops, and similar places, from eight o'clock in the morning until six o'clock at night, deserve and require some means of enjoyment when their work is done. But it is not much to say that the most rational kind of enjoyment is not to be found in promenading the streets at a time when all respectable young girls are supposed to be under the parental roof.

OBSERVATIONS.

The Kingston "News:"—"From what we see the Grit papers seem to have reduced this reciprocity of puffery to a system." Our contemporary should be the last paper in Canada to venture such a remark. It invariably copies from political allies, and will even forego the satisfaction of giving an interesting item of news rather than be indebted for the same to a "Grit rag."

The Tandy Bros., who delighted us with their singing last night, left soon after the close of the concert for Hamilton, where they sing next Monday evening. They will not return to Kingston until after the 1st of Dec. We hope arrangements will be made to bring them to Belleville again this winter. They are Canada's favorite vocalists.

Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, of Toronto, is not altogether unknown to fame. The recent "heresy case," in which he figured as defendant, brought him prominently before the public; but the final issue was not unfavorable to his reputation. His latest bid was made yesterday, when he appeared in the Toronto Court of Revision and asked to have $4,000 added to his assessment on income, which was too low. Who will go and do likewise?

The Napanee "Beaver" is responsible for the following:—"In last week's issue we mentioned that a little daughter of Mr. R. J. Wales had a finger cut off by a feed cutter. After the little patient had been taken to a surgeon and had the wound dressed, the amputated finger end was found and taken to her home. On her return there the mother insisted on having the fragment replaced. Accordingly the surgeon came again and dexterously strapped the piece of finger in its place, nearly two hours after it had been cut off. The result has justified the hopes of the mother. Twelve days after the accident—the finger is still in its place, union has taken place partially, and as she is suffering little or no pain, it is to be presumed the separated fragment is growing fast to its natural companion."

The North Hastings "Review", of this week has an interesting report of an interview several gentlemen of the village had with Mr. Pardee, relative to the Belleville and North Hastings Railway, and of a meeting subsequently convened for the purpose of hearing what Messrs Bowell and Pardee had to say on the subject. We will publish the report on Monday.

WILLIAM WILLS, the man who was tried at the last Assizes in London for the murder of William Bodfield, in Missouri, last summer, died at his home on Tuesday last and was buried to day. He was a hearty looking man, and his death will be a surprise to many.

IT is almost definitely understood that Mr. Thomas Hodgins, Q. C., M. P. P., is to be elevated to the Bench, and it is believed that Chancellor Spragge will take the Presidency of the Court of Error and Appeal, that Vice-Chancellor Blake will take the Chancellorship, and Mr. Hodgins the Vice Chancellorship. Whether this arrangement be carried into effect or not is not certain, but it would give the utmost satisfaction to the whole profession.

OUR Toronto despatch says that the trial of George R. Newbold, the Bigamist, whose case was referred to in these columns some time ago, he having at one time been a clerk in a law office in Kingston commenced this morning. The Rev. E. C. Bowers, formerly of Kingston testifies that the prisoner was by him married to prosecutrix Jerusha Newbold in 1862 by special license, and Rev. Charles Taylor, of Oakville, Victoria County, testifies that he married the prisoner to Miss Mary Adelaide Nichols, under the name of E. Stewart, on 13th June, 1876.

IN Detriot, says the Free Press, there are four English servant girls, sisters. The eldest came to this country seven years ago, and the others followed in succession. All saved their money, put it into bank, and wore no flashy finery. This summer they bought a piece of land, 40 by 90 feet, and built a cottage on it. Each vied with the other in adorning the cottage and grounds, the property of this sisterly stock company. The elder sister has moved in the new home and started a laundry, and has already work occupying her four days a week. The other sisters are still in their situations. Each of the four has a bank account.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

The building season for 1877 may now be said to be practically at an end and therefore it will not be out of place for us to note the changes and improvements that have been made during the year, throughout the town. The exhibit is not as favorable as we could have wished, but in view of the "hard times" it shows that our carpenters and masons have not been altogether idle. The buildings erected are mainly homesteads built by people who desire to have a home they may call their own; yet not a few comprise stores of no mean pretensions to architectural beauty. In procuring this information we have gone to considerable trouble and have had no little difficulty in being able to obtain all necessary information. Doubtless there are many erections the particulars concerning which we have been unable to procure, and we would therefore ask those whose buildings are not alluded to, to hand us in a report of their doings the better to make this complete.

THE TABERNACLE.

Without exception, the site of the new Methodist Episcopal Tabernacle is one of the most commanding within the limits of the town. Situated as it is, upon a high bluff and adorned with two elegant spires, it cannot but at once attract the notice of the visitor, and impress him with the idea that Belleville and its people are determined to keep up their reputation for go-ahead-ativeness.

The corner stone of the Tabernacle was laid with Masonic honors in November 1874. Since that time until last Spring, but little—if any, progress was made in the construction of the work. The depressed state of trade doubtless had something to do with the stoppage of the work and with other causes prevented its accomplishment at the date originally thought of.

This year, however, matters took an encouraging turn and the result is that the town can now boast of a very handsome church edifice—one, if not the finest, is indeed second to none. Work began on it this year on the first of May and has been since continued without interruption. The building is of brick and rests on a stone foundation and is 78x80 feet. The front or western side is supplied with two towers each 26ft. and 15ft. square respectively. The main or northern tower is 208ft. in height and is surmounted with a cross—tin covered; the other is 100ft. high. Each will be finished in a first class manner. The ceiling of the main building will be 34ft. from the floor and the room itself will be supplied by members of the congregation with memorial windows. The chancel is 20x26 and in the rear of it, an organ valued at $4,000 will be placed. To the north and south of this apartment are the vestry and recess rooms. The ceiling and walls will be frescoed and no pains will be spared that can add to their attractiveness. The windows 16 of which are in the main building and 6 in the tower will be provided with stained glass of a handsome pattern. The building will be lighted with gas and in the centre of the church a large sun-light will be placed whilst 14 gas jets on each side will provide all necessary illumination. There will also be a sun-light in the chancel. The whole building will be carpeted and for that purpose 725 yards will be imported from England. The seats will be cushioned and upholstered in a handsome manner. The means for ingress and egress will be commodious. The building will be heated with hot air—supplied by two furnaces one of which will be placed at each end of the building.

The basement which will be used as a lecture room is 25x80 and has class rooms and a kitchen attached. The apartment is provided with 11 windows and when occasion orders will be lighted with gas.

The whole work has been done under the supervision of Mr. William Embury and bears ample evidence of that gentleman's care, taste and architectural ability. It will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000 and will when completed be a credit to the congregation as well as to the Methodist Episcopal body.

When the work is thoroughly completed we will make an addition to our notes of to-day.

STAR BLOCK.

The Star Block, near the upper bridge, the property of I. B. Graham, Esq., received such a thorough refitting that it is no longer recognizable as the building that occupied its site so long. The old roof was taken off and a third story added to the entire building, with a mansard roof in front. The size of the building is 50x75 feet, with a flat roofed extension to the rear of 16x75 feet for store rooms, &c. The building is divided into four shops on the first floor, whilst the second and third floors are divided into convenient rooms for residences. Two of these residences have an entrance from the street, whilst the other two are approached from the stores under them, thus making it convenient for parties who wish to be close to their place of business at all hours, and can thus have a residence and shop combined at a moderate rent. The old shops were refitted, and the whole building newly plastered and painted and everything about the premises made to wear a new appearance. The walls are of brick and stone, and the roof covered with tin.

Mr. Graham had his tenement house on Pinnacle street, to the rear of the Star Block, also thoroughly overhauled and refitted, newly plastered and painted.

All these improvements were made under the superintendance of Mr. Thos. Hanley, Builder. The mason work was done by Johnston Bros.; the plastering by Lyle & Brown; the tinning by C. F. Smith, and Wm. Dame did the painting.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 10.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

THE CITY HOTEL.—Four tramps were quartered in the cells last night.

POLICE COURT.—There was no business transacted at the court to-day, the calendar being a blank.

NOTICE.—Builders and contractors will confer a favor by giving our reporter the result of their labors during the season.

TOWN COUNCIL.—A regular meeting of the Town Council takes place on Monday evening at the usual hour.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—Nicholas Flood Davin, will lecture under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute here, on Wednesday evening the 21st. Subject "The British House of Commons."

DISAPPOINTED.—Owing to the unpropitious weather the lacrosse match between the Okas and Kingstonians did not take place yesterday.

DUCKS.—Among others, a dozen canvas back ducks were exposed for sale on the market this morning and found ready purchasers.

THE HARBOR.—The Kincardine left this afternoon for Trenton to finish out her load of barley. The Minnie Blakly has arrived with a cargo of coal.

AT THE DOCK.—The "crossings" necessary for the track of the G. J. R. where it crosses the G. T. R., are laying at Campbell & Co.'s dock. They are made of steel and were cast in Philadelphia.

MONDAY NIGHT.—We would advise our readers to attend Rev. Mr. Poole's lecture in the Bridge St. Church next Monday night. He is a popular speaker and has a popular subject.

PERSONAL.—Mr. McIntosh, Inspector of Schools for North Hastings and Prof. Dawson of our High School, were present at the Convention of Public School Inspectors at Kingston yesterday.

TEMPERANCE.—At a public meeting in connection with the session of the Congregational Union of Eastern Ontario held in Kingston on Wednesday, Rev. Mr. Cossar delivered an admirable address on the subject of temperance.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—Next week will be observed here as a week of prayer by the members of the Y. M. C. A. who will hold meetings at their rooms during each evening next week. This will be universal throughout the country.

THE M. E. TABERNACLE.—The contract for frescoing the new M. E. Tabernacle has been awarded to Mr. Richardson of Napanee; consideration $750. Mr. R is known as a first class artist and therefore it is expected he will do excellent work on this edifice.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.—A sumptuous dinner will be served in the basement of the new M. E. Tabernacle on Thanksgiving Day, November 22nd. As the proceeds are to be applied to the Building Fund, a large attendance is hoped for.

ACCIDENT.—The scow Minnie Blakly, laden with coal, ran aground in the eastern part of the bay in the gale on Friday, the 2nd, and remained there until yesterday, when she was pulled off. Her cargo had to be taken out and put back again.

SETTLED.—The "unpleasantness" which occurred at the Farmers' Warehouse ruins on Wednesday, was to have been considered by the Justice to-day but the case was settled out of Court. All is now quiet at the elevator.

NOTICE.—Mr. A. G. Sibbold the celebrated painter of photographs will visit Belleville next week and will be able to fill all orders entrusted to him. He is well-up in his business as is evidenced by some samples of his work which we have seen and which are now on exhibition at Reynolds' where orders can be left.

THE ROADS.—Last night's frost dried up the roads very nicely and rendered them in fair condition. Thus many were enabled to come to town to-day who yesterday thought they would be prevented from doing so as the roads—especially those running north and south—were very muddy.

BUYING SHEEP.—Messrs Bristol & Soby are now engaged buying sheep which they export to the American markets. The first named gentleman shipped a number to England some time ago from this place. The firm will send 190 head to Cape Vincent. N. Y. on Monday per steamer Hastings.

HANDSOME DONATION.—Mrs. A. G. Northrup has generously donated 100 copies of Moody & Sankey's hymns to the Rine Club. This kind action on the part of the above named lady will, we are sure, be greatly appreciated by all who are interested in the success of the Gospel Temperance Movement.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—Many of our citizens to-day wondered very much why the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes floated from the flag staff of the City Hall, and were at a loss how to account for it. The only explanation to be given is that a gentleman asked permission of the Clerk to hang out his flags, and the request was granted. In acceding to it, however, Mr Newbery little thought that such a display would be made.

☞ Do not forget Thompson and Co's great exhibition in the Town Hall this evening, at 7:30. Children admitted for 10 cents.

LEGAL.—The following case came up in Toronto yesterday:—Pardee v. Lloyd.—Mr. Meredith obtained an order for defendant to attend at his own expense.

LECTURE.—Rev. W. H. Poole, of Toronto, will deliver his lecture "Anglo Israel" on Monday, the 12th inst., at 7:30 p. m., in the lecture room of the Bridge St. Church, instead of Bleecker St., as formerly announced. Admission 15 cts.

SPORTING.—The late heavy frosts have sent most of the snipe and plover off upon their annual journey to the south. Ducks are still numerous, but it is apparent that they are becoming scarcer year by year. Were there a law forbidding the shooting of the birds when on their way to the breeding grounds in the spring, it would be productive of good, as ducks are at that season in but poor condition, and their natural increase would not be interfered with.

MANITOBA'S PRODUCTIVENESS.—The 'Whig, says:—'A couple of years ago Mr. John Vandervoort, who had resided many years near Belleville, left for Manitoba, where he engaged in agricultural pursuits. In a recent letter to a relative in this city he gives the following instance of the productiveness of Manitoba, the crop being that raised on his own farm. On one and a half acres of land the yield was 160 bushels of potatoes, 18 bushels of onions, 9 bushels of turnips, 5 bushels of carrots and 2 bushels of beets. Note this fact, farmers.

YOU CAN GET anything in Hats, Furs & Millinery at Muir & Lawrence. They have one of the best and largest stocks in town and do not consider it any trouble to show goods. Give them a call.

JUST walk up street to Geen's drug store and see the large quantity, just arrived, of Lubys Parisian Hair Renewer, Phillip's Milk of Magnesia and Phospho-Nutrine, all recommended by the medical faculty. Physicians calling will be presented with a sample of the last.

THE RINE CLUB'S CONCERT.

The concert in the Town Hall, last evening, under the auspices of the Rine Club may justly be termed a gratifying success both as regards attendance, the character of the programme and the manner in which it was rendered. The weather was not such as could have been desired for such an event; yet a large audience assembled, who frequently during the evening testified their appreciation of the the entertainment by loud applause. The great attraction was—of course—the Tandy Brothers and consequently the amateurs who assisted, appeared to disadvantage; still they rendered their contributions very effectively and acceptably.

The Chair was occupied by C. L. Coleman, Esq., Vice-President of the Club, who acted as master of ceremonies.

The programme opened with a piano solo by Mr. Stanistreet (organist of the St. Andrew's Church) who performed his task in a creditable manner. He appeared twice, later on, and met with a pleasing reception each time. Of the singing of the Tandy Brothers too much cannot be said; their reputation as vocalists is well known and therefore needs no commendation from us. Suffice is it to say that their singing was first class and evoked unbounded applause. Miss Bland sang a couple of Scotch songs very neatly which met with considerable favor; Miss O'Carroll's singing was much admired, whilst that of Messrs Costello, Hurst, Price and Spangenberg met with favor at the hands of the audience. The programme was a good one; it was effectively rendered and well carried out and the Club is to be congratulated on the success of this, their first concert.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a vote of thanks moved by Dr. Hope and seconded by Mr. R. S. Patterson, was tendered the Club for getting up the concert and unanimously passed. We trust that the Club will see their way clear to repeat the concert at an early date.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Tribune says some representatives who voted for the Bland Silver Bill, now feel troubled because the Bill gives to every holder of silver bullion the right to have it coined free of expense into legal tender silver dollars. They favor an amendment giving to the Government the control of coinage and perhaps fixing a limit to legal tender.

The Herald says Evarts remarked concerning the Conkling interview, published yesterday, that this Administration has before it three things it means to accomplish. 1st, to nationalize the Republican party; 2nd, to resume specie payments; 3rd, to emancipate the action of voters from the control of office-holders. While regretting Conkling's opposition, Evarts said he believed the Republic's services will be performed without his aid, and in spite of his ill-will.

The World says the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections will doubtless agree to-day to report in favor of Kellogg's admission.

The Sun says the Committee of the Treasury, Officials investigating Bureau, and of statistics charge malfeasance, ignorance and neglect of duty on the part of Edward Young, Chief of the Bureau.

Moukhtar Pasha not Wounded

REPORTED RUSSIAN DEFEAT.

Arrested for Conspiracy.

RAGUSA, Nov. 10.—The Montenegrins have commenced the bombardment of Podgoritza. The place is expected to hold out as the principal defences have lately been reconstructed.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The report of the Russian repulse before Erzeroum is confirmed.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Constantinople despatches deny that Moukhtar Pasha was wounded on Monday. They also mention an engagement at Baiburt which may account for Moukhtar Pasha's determination to defend Erzeroum as Baiburt is on his shortest line of retreat to Trebizond; or it may be the Russians unsuccessfully attempted to prevent reinforcements going to Erzeroum. The latter is most probable as further Turkish despatches reiterate accounts of a Russian defeat in the last attack which would be hardly possible had not reinforcements arrived.

ALEXANDROPOL, Nov 10.—The Ardahan column joined General Herman after the battle of Deve Boyur. The Turks lost 2,500 killed, wounded and prisoners and a great part of their artillery.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov 10.—Forty-eight persons in the service of ex Sultan Murad, have been arrested in consequence of the recent conspiracy.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

The sun, scarce above the horizon, described a lengthened curve; and its rays, reflected on the snow, gave more light than heat. Fortunately not a breath of air stirred and this lessened the severity of the cold, although the rapid pace of the sledges through the keen atmosphere must have been trying to any one not inured to the rigor of a polar climate.

"A good beginning," said Jasper Hobson to the Sergeant, who sat motionless beside him as if rooted to his seat; "this journey has commenced favorably. The sky is cloudless, the temperature propitious, our equipages shoot along like express trains, and as long as this fine weather lasts we shall get on capitally. What do you think Sergeant Long?"

"I agree with you, Lieutenant," replied the Sergeant, who never differed from his chief.

"Like myself, Sergeant, you are determined to push on as far north as possible — do you not?" resumed Lieutenant Hobson.

"You have but to command to be obeyed, Lieutenant."

"I know it, Sergeant; I know that with you to hear is to obey. Would that all our men understood as you do the importance of our mission, and would devote themselves body and soul to the interests of the Company. Ah, Sergeant Long, I know if I gave you an impossible order—"

"Lieutenant, there is no such thing as an impossible order."

"What? Suppose now I ordered you to go to the North Pole?"

"Lieutenant, I should go!"

"And to come back!" added Jaspar Hobson with a smile.

"I should come back," replied Sergeant Long simply.

During this colloquy between Lieutenant Hobson and his Sergeant a slight ascent compelled the sledges to slacken speed, and Mrs. Barnett and Madge also exchanged a few sentences. These two intrepid women, in their otter-skin caps and white bear-skin mantles, gazed in astonishment upon the rugged scenery around them, and at the white outlines of the huge glaciers standing out against the horizon. They had already left behind them the hills of the northern banks of the Slave Lake, with their summits crowned with the gaunt skeletons of trees. The vast plains stretched before them in apparently endless succession. The rapid flight and cries of a few birds of passage alone broke the monotony of the scene. Now and then a troop of swans, with plumage so white that the keenest sight could not distinguish them from the snow when they settled on the ground, rose into view in the clear blue atmosphere and pursued their journey to the north.

"What an extraordinary country!" exclaimed Mrs. Paulina Barnett. "What a difference between these polar regions and the green prairies of Australia! You remember, Madge, how we suffered from the heat on the shores of the Gulf of Carpentaria—you remember the cloudless sky and the parching sunbeams?"

"My dear," replied Madge, "I have not the gift of remembering like you. You retain your impressions; I forget mine."

"What, Madge!" cried Mrs. Barnett, "you have forgotten the tropical heat of India and Australia? You have no recollection of our agonies when water failed us in the desert, when the pitiless sun scorched us to the bone, when even the night brought us no relief from our sufferings!"

"No, Paulina," replied Madge, wrapping her furs more closely round her, "no, I remember nothing. How could I now recollect the sufferings to which you allude—the heat, the agonies of thirst—when we are surrounded on every side by ice, and I have but to stretch my arm out of this sledge to pick up a handful of snow? You talk to me of heat when we are freezing beneath our bear-skins; you recall the broiling rays of the sun when its April beams can not melt the icicles on our lips! No, child, no, don't try to persuade me it's hot anywhere else; don't tell me I ever complained of being too warm, for I sha'nt believe you!'

Mrs. Paulina Barnett could not help smiling.

"So, poor Madge," she said, "you are very cold!"

"Yes child, I am cold; but I rather like this climate. I've no doubt it's very healthy, and I think North America will agree with me. It's really a very fine country!"

"Yes, Madge, it is a fine country, and we have as yet seen none of the wonders it contains. But wait until we reach the Arctic Ocean; wait until the Winter shuts us in with its gigantic icebergs and thick covering of snow; wait till the northern storms break over us, and the glories of the aurora borealis and of the splendid constellations of the polar skies are spread out above our heads; wait till we have lived through the strange long six months' night, and then indeed you will understand the infinite variety, the infinite beauty, of our Creator's handiwork!"

Thus spoke Mrs. Paulina Barnett, carried away by her vivid imagination. She could see nothing but beauty in these deserted regions, with their rigorous climate. Her enthusiasm got the better for the time of her judgment. Her sympathy with nature enabled her to read the touching poetry of the ice-bound north—the poetry embodied in the Sagas, and sung by the bards of the time of Ossian. But Madge, more matter of fact than her mistress, disguised from herself neither the dangers of an expedition to the Arctic Ocean, nor the sufferings involved in wintering only thirty degrees at the most from the North Pole.

And indeed the most robust had sometimes succumbed to the fatigues, privations, and mental and bodily agonies endured in this severe climate. Jaspar Hobson had not, it is true, to press on to the very highest latitudes of the globe; he had not to reach the pole itself, or to follow in the steps of Parry, Ross, McClure, Kean, Morton, and others. But after once crossing the Arctic Circle, there is little variation in the temperature; it does not increase to coldness in proportion to the elevation reached. Granted that Jaspar Hobson did not think of going beyond the seventeenth parallel, we must still remember that Franklin and his unfortunate companions died of cold and hunger before they had penetrated beyond 78° N. lat.

Very different was the talk in the sledge occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joliffe. Perhaps the gallant Corporal had too often drunk to the success of the expedition on starting; for, strange to say, he was disputing with his little wife. Yes, he was actually contradicting her, which never happened except under extraordinary circumstances!

"No, Mrs. Joliffe," he was saying, "no, you have nothing to fear. A sledge is not more difficult to guide than a pony-carriage, and the devil take me if I can't manage a team of dogs!"

"I don't question your skill," replied Mrs. Joliffe; "I only ask you not to go so fast. You are in front of the caravan now, and I hear Lieutenant Aobson calling out to you to resumd your proper place behind."

"Let him call, Mrs. Joliffe, let him call."

And the Corporal, urging on his dogs with a fresh cut of the whip, dashed along at still greater speed.

"Take care, Joliffe," repeated his little wife; "not so fast, we are going down hill.

"Down hill, Mrs. Joliffe; you call that down hill? why, it's up hill!"

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife. The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on Saturday, the 17th day of November. 1877.

he following lands and premises:

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of, $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

FARMERS' SONS FRANCHISE ACT.

AN APPEAL TO THE YOUNG MEN OF CANADA.

At Teeswater, Mr. Blake said: As things stand, I believe the working of the ballot so far has shown that it is, upon the whole, suited to the present condition of the country, and that it is likely to stand for sometime as a political institution. (Hear, hear.) It was and is the policy of our opponents to frame a uniform franchise all over this wide country, and to engage a horde of Government employees, at a great expense, to make the lists and determine who should be the voters. We, on the other hand, by the law which is now in force, gave to each Province the franchise which that Province considers was best suited to its circumstances, and this at comparatively no expense, the local lists being used for the common elections. (Hear, hear.) This talk of uniformity of franchise is to my mind preposterous. Uniformity in words would mean diversity in fact (hear, hear), for the circumstances and occupations of the people, and the form and distribution of wealth in each of the Provinces is very different; to lay down one uniform rule would be to suit the condition of no one Province accurately, and thus to dissatisfy all; it would create two different franchises in the same Province; it would cause enormous expense; it would place the control of the lists in the hands of Government employes; and it would be to my mind on all grounds a mistake. Remember, too, that if at any time Parliament is dissatisfied with a local franchise it retains power to frame one according to its own views. Meantime it is the policy of the Liberal party to adopt the franchise of the local Legislatures. I am glad to know that the Ontario franchise has lately been much improved. (Hear, hear.) One of my suggestions in a speech in 1874 which evoked discussion, has found its way into the statute book. A class of our population, which to my mind was entitled to the franchise by its intelligence and by its real though unrecognized stake in the country, but which by its practical expulsion from the benefits of the income franchise, was deprived of its right, has received it under the Farmers' Sons' Franchise Act of last session. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) The true tests of the franchise to my mind are citizenship and intelligence. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) I dont think we can uphold the principle of any Provinces as perfect; but the nearer we can approach to the practical adoption of the rule that every good citizen possessing a reasonable share of educated intelligence shall have a vote, the nearer shall we approach to what is my idea at least of the true basis of that franchise. (Loud cheers.) I rejoice that the men of this Province are admitted to the franchise while still young. I have always believed that the exercise of the franchise is in itself a very great educator, and that those who were about in a very few years to wield by their votes their country's destinies should be initiated into the discharge of that duty while yet their votes, though powerful, do not predominate. Being thus called on to take an early and active interest in the politics of the country, they will be the better fitted for the discharge of their duties of citizenship when they in their turn shall form a majority of the electors. (Loud cheers.) I congratulate the young men of Canada upon the right which has been recognized as theirs. I trust and believe that they will use it wisely—that they will use it as true Canadians ought—for the interests of this country in which they were born, in which they expect to live and die, and which holds within its bounds what is most dear to them, whether of substantial or immaterial things. (Renewed cheers.)

THE TEMPTATION TO OVERSTOCK

It is often hard to resist the temptation to overstock our farms, and yet is a very great mistake to do so. It is not safe to conclude that because a few cows or chickens give a certain return, double the number would yield double the profit There is a limit which is not safe to pass, as beyond that the animals receive proportionally less food and care. When overstocked, the question naturally is, how far can I make my feed go? The result is a stinting policy, which never pays. In my own experience, I am convinced that I kept too much stock, considering the conveniences, and the amount of food I could grow for them. Not that I stinted my stock, but on the contrary purchased every winter large quantities of hay and grain, but could not realize any profit with hay at $25 and meal at $40 per ton. Young growing stock, especially, need an abundance of nutritious food, good water and warm winter quarters. Yet those, and the dry cows, are most likely to suffer when feed is scarce. It is expensive raising such stock where hay and grain bring a high price. Better butcher a poor calf than attempt to raise it· but when a first-rate one is preserved no pains or expense should be spared to develop it into a superior animal. A stunted calf will never grow to be a profitable cow. I have, upon several occasions, visited the herds of noted breeders of Jersey cattle, and could but notice the difference between their young stock, comfortably housed, cleanly kept, abundantly fed, and the stock of many farmers, depending for both nourishment and shelter, upon a straw stack, or perhaps an open shed for shelter and over-ripe hay for food, I cannot understand how any man can, with a clear conscience, partake of warm, appetizing food, and enjoy the comforts of a cheerful fire and warm bed, while his cattle are shivering with cold and trying to fill themselves with trash only fit for the manure heap. I'll never have that sin to answer for, but always fill up the mangers with early cut hay, and bed the stock knee-deep with clean straw, before leaving the barn at night.—Wm. N. Beckman, in New York Tribune.

The Daily Ontario.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 12.

The Globe believes that the means adopted by Mr. Bourbeau's supporters to carry Drummond and Arthabaska were grossly in contravention of the law. The whole story of the late contest will, our contemporary says, be laid bare in a court of law.

Some of the Opposition Solons, notably the Toronto Leader and Sarnia Canadian are advocating the abolition of the Ontario Legislature. Despairing of ever again controlling Provincial politics, they would have the Legislature wiped out entirely. But, as the London 'Tizer observes, it is as likely to become Tory as to be dissolved.

The New York Herald incidentally remarks that the toasts of the President of the United States and of the President of France, at the banquet given to Gen. Grant by the American residents of Paris, "were responded to by music only." Perhaps this simple incident may be taken as an indication of the popularity of the two Presidents among radical Republicans both of American and Gallic origin.

The Democrats seem to have gained material advantages in the elections last Tuesday. In Pennsylvania, especially, the victory was an important one. Gen. McClellan's success in New Jersey points to Presidential possibilities in 1880. The Montreal Herald thinks that the election of John Morrissey over the organized forces of Tammany must be accounted for only on the theory that it is sometimes necessary to fight the Devil with his own weapons.

The Whig is not convinced, by the logic of the Mail, that the Constitution is in danger by Ministers ordering an extra, or sixth, session of Parliament before going to the people. Our contemporary coolly remarks:—"The Parliament will die, when it is old enough, and the Government will go to the people confident of receiving a renewal of that public confidence they have done nothing to forfeit and everything to deserve."

The late efforts of the Finance Minister, on the stump, have given Opposition organs a dose that does not agree with their digestion. As a consequence they have become exceedingly bilious, and say things that are not only very foolish but also very far from the truth. At Port Elgin, some time ago, Mr. Cartwright took up Senator Macpherson and his pamphlet, and before he was through with them both looked rather small in a financial point of view. This alarmed the Tory sentinels somewhat, but his more recent castigations of the Chieftain himself have made them furious. If Sir John's illustration of a popular man hold good the Finance Minister is now the most popular man in Canada.

"DOES PROTECTION PROTECT?",

The Louisville Courier-Journal is probably quite as capable of gauging the benefits of the fiscal policy of the United States as the Protectionists of Canada. When answering the above query it says:—"For many years this system has been 'developing' America, and its advocates ask now that it be continued, and urge as an argument for it that we are to-day in a condition no worse than England and Germany. Our laborers are dissatisfied and insurrectionary, capital is unremunerative and endangered and a nation that for many years has submitted to taxation reaching almost to confiscation, is gravely congratulated because it is as well off as England and Germany." This will answer for an interested opinion of how a highly protective system operates in the United States. We have heard a great deal lately about American goods going to England and competing successfully with those of home manufacture. Of this the Journal remarks:—"Even now we are sending 'coals to Newcastle,' or, to state a fact, cotton cloth to Manchester. But this is not due to protection; it is due to hard times. Twelve years of high tariff did not enable us to do it; but after two years of low prices, caused by the hard times, America entered the English markets. The whole case is stated by a writer in the New York Nation for September 27. The communication was written by an advocate of protection, and was signed 'Merchant,' but unconsciously he stated the arguments of the free traders in a nutshell. 'It is really only within the last two years or so that the shrinkage of values in this country has enabled us to produce goods at prices to compete with England in the world's market. Or, to state it in logical order, to succeed in manufactures we must compete with England; we can only do this under the reign of low prices, which can only be secured by free trade. Cheap production is the problem to be solved by our manufacturers. In nearly all the elements of it we have naturally great advantages over Europe, but under our present tariff we throw these aside, and bind ourselves with the fetters that other nations have long ago broken."

OBSERVATIONS.

The London Advertiser informs its readers that Mr. Laurier is to run for Quebec East, and when the result of the election is given it will tell them all about it. How very thankful they should be for so much consideration. The Advertiser is very enterprising, though.

There was a wedding up in the North-west a short time ago, and those present wanted to drink the health of the happy bride and bridegroom with "something hot." Owing to the stringency of the laws in that section no liquor could be obtained for the purpose, so they resorted to a weak preparation of "Painkiller," and felt very happy. We recommend the experiment to general use on nuptial and other convivial occasions.

Rev. Alfred J. Bray, of Montreal, denies that he ever said anything that could be construed into opposition to the Rine movement. He does not approve of setting up a reclaimed thief or drunkard as a popular expositor of the work of integrity. "Wait till he has given proof of the change," says Mr. Bray, "till he has lived and worked the old evil out of him, then put him up to speak for the work of culture. But even then tell him not to glory in his past folly."

The meeting of the Public School Inspectors, at Kingston, was addressed by Mr. Jessop, Superintendent of Education for the Province of British Columbia, who is on a visiting tour for the purpose of examining the school systems of this and the sister Provinces. The address was highly interesting and instructive. Mr. Jessop minutely described the working of the British Columbia school system, which he said was yet in its infancy, but making rapid strides towards perfection. The salaries of teachers are paid monthly, $600 being the minimum and $1,500 the maximum salary.

Probably the largest cargo of fish ever landed in Nova Scotia was brought the other day by the schooner Ceopola into the port of Yarmouth. When the cargo was perfectly dried it weighed 1,884 quintals, and was the result of the season's fishing off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland.

After reaping an abundant harvest and enjoying an exceedingly favorable fall for the prosecution of all sorts of farm labor, the farmers are now busily engaged gathering in the roots, which are a good average crop. We often hear it remarked that farmers are a discontented and grumbling lot. We don't think there is much truth in the statement. Certainly we see no reason why there should be, particularly this year.

The Grand Jury of the York Assizes in their presentment state that they agree with the learned Chief Justice relative to the necessity of maintaining a good jury system. They recommend flogging for repeated and aggrivated crimes. There are 852 prisoners in the Central Prison and 200 in the Jail. The Lunatic Asylum contains 670 patients. The farm of the Asylum, worked by patients, this season produced vegetables, etc., valued at their market value at $11,710.

The following, taken from the Advertiser, we cordially endorse:—These necessary accompaniments are in much demand so far, and we never remember having heard of so many being stolen or strayed as this Fall. Nearly every day somebody applies to the police to know if a silk umbrella, bearing initials on an ebony handle, etc., has been handed to them until called for, while at the court and in meetings of various kinds throughout the city scores "are taken through mistake," or mislaid in some way. We believe it will soon become the fashion not to leave one's umbrella out of hand at all, a practice quite befitting an age so degenerate.

BELLEVILLE & NORTH HASTINGS RAILWAY.

[From the Review.]

On Monday last, it having become known throughout the village that Mr. Pardee, Jr., of the B. & N. H. Railway, was in the place, a general feeling was manifested to ascertain his views on the present issues connected with the Road. Mr. Pardee, in the most courteous and frank manner, stated his views of the case, but the number of persons seeking information became so large that it was suggested that he meet the leading gentlemen of the place in the evening at Simmons' Hotel, to which he consented. A public meeting was proposed, but Mr. Pardee discouraged this. In the evening a large number of persons gathered at the hotel. Mr. Wood explained briefly what the position of matters were so far as the progress of the work was concerned, and read a letter he had received from Mr. Pardee's Solicitor, a copy of which he had been informed had been served on each member of the Board. The substance of the letter was as follows: That arrangements had been made by Mr. Pardee for money to pay the men and prosecute the work on the road, but owing to what had taken place he had come to the conclusion that he could not and would not proceed as the Board was now constituted. That if a change was made in the Board that would give Mr. Pardee confidence, as late as the season was, he would proceed at once to construct and complete the road. That it had been said that Mr. Pardee would not work the road when built, but this was absurd; he intended to work the road, it was in his interest to do so, and if he refused, if he accepted the bonuses, the municipalities could compel him by mandamus to do so. That he left the whole matter and responsibility with the Board to determine what they would do to meet Mr. Pardee's wishes. Mr. Wood then introduced

Mr. Pardee, who commenced by saying thet he came to this country with power from his father to construct the road, and had come here quietly to see how the "land lay." He went to Mr. Lloyd's office and worked hard to come to arrangement with that gentleman. He had brought Mr. Moffatt, a practical miner, with him to visit the mines and report as to their quality and value. He failed to settle with Mr. Lloyd, and they then went to Philadelphia, but could not settle matters there with Mr. Pardee, senior. He came back to Belleville but things still went wrong. All the money that had been put into the road had been advanced by his father, but he found that some of it had gone another way. Even of the last $6,000 sent the men only received one-fifth, and they did not propose to put any more money into the road until they understood how matters were going to be. All they asked was that they should be protected and secured for any further advances that might be made. As soon as matters were settled he was prepared to pay all that was owing to the men, and proceed at once with the construction of the road. In answer to a question, Mr. Pardee said that what he wanted was a change in the Board, but he was free to admit that he had no hopes of that being done. As soon as the courts gave him the power he wanted hew as prepared to pay the men and go on with the road at once. Mr. Pardee then withdrew.

Mr. Wood stated that he did not share altogether in Mr. Pardee's feelings that there was no hope through the Board. Take the strongest ground that could be assumed, which was that a portion of the Board that Mr. Pardee looked upon as hostile to him were thoroughly convinced they were right in the position they took—still, as matters stood it did not, he thought, follow that they would not do what was necessary to meet Mr. Pardee's wishes. Mr. Pardee was a comparative stranger, and had, from matters that came within his knowledge, become distrustful of M. Lloyd and the the members of the Board who supported his views. His counsel had advised him not to pay anything without a change of the Board or authority of the Court. He (Mr. Pardee) was evidently honest in what he stated. Hence, while we as a community had no interest or reason for interfering in the private differences of these two men, we certainly had a right to consider what was best to be done to secure the payment of the men and buildings of the road. He preferred to take no part in the deliberations as he was a member of the Board, and left it with those present to consider the matter.

The Meeting then chose John Dale, Esq., chairman, and after considerable discussion appointed a committee of the following gentlemen to act as they thought was best in the interest of the Railway: Messrs. A. B. Ross, Dr. Looms, Jas. A. Orr, S. D. Ross, John Dale, G. D. Rowe, John Robertson, and S. Reed. These gentlemen met and appointed Mr. A. B. Ross and Dr. Loomis to wait on Mr. Bowell and if possible induce him to concede the powers to Mr. Pardee that he had asked. Fortunately Mr. Bawell happened to visit Madoc the next day, and these gentlemen held a long conference with him. He expressed himself willing to do what would meet the case if his resigning would accomplish that object, but must have what Mr. Pardee wanted in writing. We understand Mr. Pardee did state in writing addressed to Mr. Ross that if the Board was made satisfactory he would at once pay the men and proceed with the work.

Mr. Bowell expressed himself desirous of addressing a meeting of such of the people as could be got together in order to put himself fairly before them. In a short time the reading room of Simmons' Hotel was filled to overflowing, and Mr. Bowell made a very full statement of his position. He disclaimed any hostility to Mr. Pardee and while admitting that he had not a dollar's pecuniary interest in the road, and that he had been qualified as a Director by Mr. Pardee, at the same time he claimed that he was guardian of the interests of the people who had voted bonuses to the road; that he had tried in conjunction with Mr. Wood to bring about a settlement of the difficulties; that any insinuation that he had profited by the enterprise was false; that it was insulting to him as a man to treat him as dishonest, which Mr. Pardee's expressed want of confidence did; but notwithstanding all the annoyances and all the trouble he had taken, he was willing to get out of the way—but that Mr. Pardee had no right to say he would not pay the men as his father had agreed to do so. He closed by saying that he had informed Mr. Ross and Dr. Loomis that he had written a letter to Mr. Bell and when he got an answer he would determine what he would do.

Mr. Pardee stated in reply that he had good reasons for want of confidence; that he had come here to protect his father's interests, and he did not purpose to put another dollar in the concern until he was protected in so doing; that he felt keenly the position of the men, but his counsel had advised that he must not pay until he had the protection of a Board that he had confidence in, or by the action of the Courts, which he was seeking with all possible despatch. There was a large sum already expended for which he had nothing to show from the Railway Company, and he did not intend to make matters any worse than they were. He would pay every man as soon as protected in doing so. The meeting then broke up.

SENATOR MORTON'S DYING WORDS.

"Worn out" were the dying words of Senator Morton, as his whole frame and system gave away at 54. What a commentary on the strain and fever of American life! Morton dies about the age that an European statesman is perhaps entering on his career. Thiers and Palmerston died in the harness at 80. Disraeli and Gladstone are active at an advanced age, hardly represented in our Congress save by Senator Cameron, while the tremendous war which carried the Prussian eagles into Paris was fought out by veterans of 70 and 80 who led their forces on horseback—Emperor Wilhelm, Von Moltke, Von Wrangel, Bismarck and others just as old, as hardy and as brave.—Philadelphia Press.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SOMETHING FOR THE SABBATH SCHOOL.

We have before us a specimen copy of "Golden Hours for the young." It is a non-denominational Sabbath School paper, and much more suitable for Canadian use than the American or English publications of a similar character. The reading matter is varied and well chosen. It is printed on fine paper, in clear type, with beautiful and appropriate illustrations. The terms are: 4 copies for one year, $1.00; 10 copies, $2.00; 20 copies, $3.00; 50 copies, $7.50; 100 copies for 1 year, $15.00. For further particulars, or specimen copies, address C. Blackett Robinson, Publisher, 5 Jordan Street, Toronto.

The Globe says that the steamer Rothsay made the passage from Kingston to Toronto at the rate of seventeen miles an hour.

A New Paper.—The Brighton Ensign says:—"We understand that a new paper to be called the Mill Point Echo, is soon to be started in the village of Mill Point, in the county of Hastings."

Typhoid is very prevalent in some parts of the eastern section of Toronto, and many deaths are daily occurring.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash system adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 12.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

SCHOOL BOARD.—A regular monthly meeting of the Board takes place to-morrow evening.

AFTER DUCKS.—A hunting party left here on Saturday night on the Katie Gray for a duck shoot down the Bay.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS.—The shipments from this port for the week ending Saturday, the 10th, amounted to 12,869 bushels.

ARRIVED OUT.—The steamship "Peruvian" arrived out yesterday, and the "Circassian" passed Father Point at 9.45 this a. m.

TOWN HALL.—The exhibition in the Town Hall on Saturday evening was well attended and satisfied all present.

TOWN COUNCIL.—A regular meeting takes place this evening at the usual hour.

SHIPMENT OF SHEEP.—A flock of sheep, numbering 193, was sent from this port this morning to Cape Vincent.

PRAYER.—The first of the series of prayer meetings of this week by the Y. M. C. A. takes place this evening at the rooms of the Association.

LECTURE.—Rev. W.H. Poole of Toronto will lecture on "Anglo Israel" in the basement of the Bridge Street Church this evening.

BAILED.—George Osborne, who was committed on Friday for being one of the parties to the assault on the girl Emsely, in August last, was on Saturday admitted to bail.

THE CELLS.—Four tramps kept company with three prisoners in the cells last night. Two of the latter were captured on Saturday afternoon and the other yesterday morning.

FISHING.—The close season for whitefish has ended, and, we are pleased to state, has been well observed. Herring are now said to be quite numerous, and the catch is reported good.

NOTICE.—The winter time table of the G. T. R. has been issued. The changes in the arrivals and departures may be seen by perusing the "Guide" at the head of this column.

MARINE.—The Kate is loading barley at Campbell & Co.'s; the Oswego Belle passed up yesterday; the Alexandria arrived on Saturday night and left soon after; the Mary Everett is laid up at B. F. Baker & Co.'s Mill.

BREAKING WINDOWS.—The windows of many unoccupied dwellings in town have been broken by mischievous boys, who appear to not care what amount of destruction they accomplish. We trust an example will be made of some of them, and a stop put to such conduct.

ARRIVED.—A herd of cattle numbering 110, which had been purchased by Mr. H. Corby jr. at Ailsa Craig, arrived here on Saturday evening and were yesterday taken to the distillery. The cattle are a fine lot and by Christmas will be in excellent condition.

HEARD FROM.—The triumvirate of hunters, composed of James Nosworthy, Angus McFee and Abraham Diamond, have been heard from. They have been fairly successful thus far, having killed four deer and a bear. The latter was captured by the dealer in silver and gold.

SALE OF CATTLE.—The great sale of thoroughbred Ayrshire cattle, takes place at the farm of Mr. Holden, on the front of Sidney, tomorrow. A quantity of farming implements will be sold at the same time. As Mr. H is giving up farming, a good opportunity is thus presented for securing bargains. Lunch will be provided on the ground.

GRAND CONCERT.—A grand concert under the auspices of the Temperance Association of the Holy Cross will be given in their hall in Robertson's Block, on Wednesday evening under the management of Profs. Stan street and Denys. A number of popular amateurs will render assistance. A beautiful oil painting of the transfiguration, now on exhibition in Mr. Costello's window, will be disposed of during the evening by lottery.

STOLEN HORSES.—On Saturday a telegram was received here from Brighton stating that a team of black pony mares, an open buggy and a robe, had been stolen from a resident of that section. A gentleman who lives in Napanee and who happened to visit this town on Saturday had a team which corresponded with the description given of the stolen horses. The owner of the missing property came here on Saturday night, but as the team in the possession of the Napanee man did not belong to him, he returned home.

AS IT SHOULD BE.—The Rev. R. S. Forneri in his sermon yesterday morning upon the text "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ," took occasion to express his gratification at the spirit which had animated his congregation during the past year. He stated that it had been one of the happiest years of his pastoral career, because of the spirit of harmony and good will, of brotherly kindness and charity, of earnestness and liberality which had prevailed among them.

YOU CAN GET anything in Hats, Furs & Millinery at Muir & Lawrence. They have one of the best and largest stocks in town and do not consider it any trouble to show goods Give them a call.

—Mr Forbes, having recovered his health, proposes to return to Bulgaria early in December.

Monday, Nov. 12, 1877.

DRUNK.

John Hannah and Gilbert Reed were brought upon this charge. The former was fined $4.00 and costs and the latter $2.00 and costs.

Hugh McTriggin, made his first appearance and was allowed to go.

CONDENSED NEWS

From Kingston

Already many payments of taxes for 1877 have been made to the Treasurer.

J. G. Stratton, an old and respected resident of this city, died at his residence on Saturday afternoon.

Owing to Mr. Rine's being engaged to return to Montreal, his meetings will be closed on Thursday evening.

Mr. Edwin Daily has purchased Mr. J S. Cartwright's residence for $3,500.

According to the Treasurer's report, the St. Andrew's Society is in a flourishing condition.

A Mr. Watters was thrown from a horse on Princess Street on Saturday and badly cut about the face.

The next session of the Congregational Union will be held in this city in November 1878.

The County Council brought its labors to a close on Saturday.

From Cobourg.

The Sentinel says, "We were shown on Wednesday last a basket of full grown second-growth potatoes taken from Mr. Jas. Gordon's garden near the G T. R. This is the first instance that has come under our notice of two crops of potatoes being produced in this part of the country in one season. The first was planted early in May, and from the produce of that seed the new potatoes were planted in July or August and now Mr. Gordon has a second-growth fully developed and fit for use.

From Madoc.

In accordance with a requisition, the Reeve of Madoc has called a public meeting to be held in that village on Wednesday at 1 o'clock p. m., "for the purpose of hearing statements from all parties interested in and connected with the Belleville and North Hastings Railway." Several prominent gentlemen from Belleville are expected to be present.

From Picton.

R. A. Norman, W. H. Johnson and W. T. Yarwood, J. P.'s—after deliberating upon the subject for nearly two weeks—have decided that James Jackson, of Athol was guilty of tampering with W. H. Insley, of the same township, a witness in the case against Harmon Case for a violation of the Temperance Act of 1864, and have inflicted a fine of $50 for the offence. Mr. Jackson has appealed this case to the next General Sessions.

FROM MILL POINT.

The lumber yard here has not looked so vacant for three years past as at present, and shipping still continues. The aggregate of manufactured lumber this year will amount to about 30,000,000 feet, or about six million feet in excess of any former season.

The manufacturing facilities of the Cedar Mills have, during the last season, been largely increased. Their production of shingles alone amounts to 100,000 per day, and yet the demand has been so much greater than the supply that it necessitates the erection of a new Shingle Mill, independent of the Cedar Mill proper. The building will be fire-proof throughout, with wrought iron roof. Dimensions—40x160 feet, and three storeys high.

In the Sash, Door and Blind Factory, business is unusually brisk for this time of year. An extra number of hands has been taken on in some of the departments in consequence of the demand for production.

In the Ship yard, under the able management of Mr. Wm. Jamieson, there is a new schooner being built of over 100 feet keel. They are also getting ready for their winter's repairing, of which a large amount is annually done. The yard is well adapted for overhauling and rebuilding vessels and steamboats of all sizes.

Lumbering operations in the backwoods are being pushed forward with vigor, and already several shanties are in operation. Others are to be started as soon as the "big mill" is shut down.

Taken altogether, we have the most prosperous village in Canada, at the present time. No man need be out of employment that is willing and able to work. And, what is better yet, when the work is done pay is forthcoming. The amount of money paid in the different manufactories at Mill Point, by the Messrs. Rathbun & Son, is about $3,000 per week.

The local trade among our business men is brisk. This is apparent by the pleasant "grin" that they bestow on their patrons, so different from the woe-be-gone look of the merchants of the dilapidated town up the river.

We have our share of tough cases, too, like all other enterprising communities. For instance, "Con Gorman," the barber, was up again on a charge of assault with intent to cut into sausage meat his landlord. In the opinion of our wise men he is insane, and they have sent him to Belleville to await further action.

GOGGLE-EYED-BOB.

THE IMP DYSPEPSIA ceases to torment those who use Milk of Magnesia, a mild pleasant and effective remedy which is, never violent but always decisive in its effects. There is nothing like it for relieving heartburn, flatulence, sour stomach and headache caused by indigestion. Sold by all Druggists and by A. L. Geen.

THE BEST AND LATEST medical discovery is Phillips' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE. In this incomparable tonic, a promoter of digestion and nervine, the most nourishing phosphate of wheat, those of Potash and Magnesia are the chief ingredients. It is rapidly winning "golden opinions." Sold by all Druggists, and by A. L. Geen.

RANDOM DASHES.

A dress parade-women going to church.

A clumsy Belleville woman has just broken a lamp chimney which she had kept for eighteen years.

There are hats in 75 different shapes for ladies to choose from this season. The female department at the Kingston Asylum will have to be immediately enlarged.

He was bound to be accurate, and he thus described the woman's costume: "She wore a suit of something or other, cut bias and trimmed endwise."

A man in Harrisburg has been married eleven years and has eleven children. He is so used to it now that he speaks of the "grand annual bawl" of the family.

A girl in this town is working the motto "I need thee every hour," to present to her young man at Christmas.

A young man wrote to a firm in Michigan who advertises a recipe to prevent bad dreams. He received a slip of paper on which was written: "Don't go to sleep."

THIS AND THAT.

—Two workmen were killed last week on section 15 of the C. P. R.

—Sir E. S. Smyth has set out on a tour of inspection through Ontario.

—The Spanish Government intends to give General Grant an official reception.

—Carl Sack of Eishburg and Sack Cincinnati, has absconded with $20,000.

—True bill found at Cornwall against Hank Coe, for the murder of Fry, the circus man.

—A meeting will was held at Hamilton Saturday to organize a Dominion Poultry Association.

—The annual meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade will be held on the 15th of January.

—2,000 French residents of Montreal have sent a letter of condolence to Madame Thiers.

—A large gang has been sent to Rond Eau to construct a breakwater for the protection of Government property.

—The shipement of eggs from Montreal to England is on a large scale. 24,000 dozen go by the steamer Lake Nepigon this week.

—The annual meeting of the Dominion Board of trade will be held on the 15th of January.

—Charlottetown, P. E. I., imposed a tax of $50 on commercial travellers. Considerable grumbling is the ruselt.

A FEW applications of Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer will impart to gray hairs the gloss and strength of youth, and when the natural color has appeared one application a week as a hair-dressing is sufficient. You are certain to like it, so give it a trial. Sold by all chemists, 50c. a bottle, and by Albert L. Geen, Front Street.

AMERICAN NEWS

THE ADMINISTRATION'S SUPPORT

Sitting Bull to Remain where he is.

TRADE AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The World's Washington special says it is stated that a Republican caucus of Senators held on Saturday evening showed the Administration had 10 Republican supporters in the Senate who, with the Democrats, could be relied on to stand by the President.

The World's Fort Walsh special says: Just as preparations had been completed for Sitting Bull's transfer to the Red River country, the Dominion Government ordered him to remain at his present location. The Government doubtless feared trouble with the Blackfeet. Sitting Bull expressed obedience and promised to keep his braves from the frontier.

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., Nov. 12.—The tramps who plundered the freight cars at West Chester Junction recently, were surprised in camp by a body of railroaders yesterday. A desperate conflict followed. Four tramps were wounded and twenty-two captured. It is estimated that between 1,000 and 1,500 tramps are wandering through the country traversed by the Pennsylvania road, and particularly between here and Pittsburg.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Imports here for October were over $26,000,000, a gain of one half million over Oct., 76. For last 10 mos the total imports are nearly $100,000,000 below the Corresponding figures 5 years ago. Exports last Oct. including specie, were over $32,000,000. Total for past 10 mos. $266,000,000, or about 3 and a quarter millions more than for corresponding period last year.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In the Senate to-day Conkling arose to a personal explanation, and referred to the publication on Friday in N. Y. Herald, purporting to some general sense to come from him. The statement contained some remarks which he made in casual conversation at times. It contained other remarks which he never made at any time. It ascribed to him forms of expression quite indefinite to say the least.

Voorhees was sworen as Senator from Indiana.

EUROPEAN NEWS

Stanley at Cape of Good Hope.

REPORTED DEATH OF THE POPE.

LONDON, Nov 12.—Stanley, the African explorer, and a hundred and twenty followers, were brought to Cape of Good Hope in the British storeship Industry, which will also take them to Zanzibar.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—It is reported this afternoon that the Pope is dead.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 12.—Mahmoud Damad Pasha has, under excitement, occasioned by a conspiracy against the Sultan, been prostrated by a stroke of apoplexy. Recovery doubtful.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A severe hurricane prevails on the British coast. Numerous disasters to shipping reported.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

At a quiet caucus of Democrats last week it was agreed to support all the President's nominations, unless ascertained to be unfit.

Little is known of what transpired in the Republican caucus.

It is judged that not a Republican Senator will vote against Kellogg's admission.

The Syndicate has notified the President that no more four per cent. bonds will be take, pending legislation on the Silver Bill.

Stewart's hotel for women will be open about New Years. It has a capacity for 1,000 guests, and cost $2,000,000. It will be open to all women of good characters at about $5 per week for board and lodging.

—Patrick Welsh, aged 70, was tried at Cornwall yesterday for the murder of his wife, and acquitted.

JUST walk up street to Geen's drug store and see the large quantity, just arrived, of Lubys Parisian Hair Renewer, Phillip's Milk of Magnesia and Phospho-Nutrine, all recommended by the medical faculty. Physicians calling will be presented with a sample of the last.

KISSES AND BEARDS.

Sir: Miss Neilson, at Birmingham, came before the curtain after she had successfully played the part of Rosalind, blue kisses to the audience, and quoting from Rosalind said; 'I would kiss as many as had beards that pleased me and complexions that liked me, and I am sure as many as have good beards, or good faces will, for my kind offer, when I make curt'sy bid me farewell,' There was for her the shadow of excuse, that she had been playing the part of Rosalind, and that the above words might have spontaneously occurred to her. But what was my surprise when I heard Mrs. Kendall say precisely the same thing about beards and kisses at Manchester, when she was called before the curtain. I am not myself an advocate of these gushing transatlantic demonstrations on the part of the actresses, for their taste is questionable; but I have a beard and I should be glad to know whether these young ladies meant what they said. Your obedient servant,—An Old Man with a Young Heart. I, too, have a beard, so I am equally interested in this question.—London Truth, Oct. 25.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKESS AND DEBILITY.

Epsom, N. H., May 3, 1870.

Dear Sir—Having received great benefit from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise, During the late war I was in the army, and had the misfortuud to be taken prisoner, and was confined in Salisburg and other Southern prisons several months, and became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained some two months and then came home. My physicians reccommended and procured for me several bottles of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since; and I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether arising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, GEO. S. BIXBY.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

Detroit Free Press.

The regular Tuesday convention of the Detroit colored whitewashers was at the central market yesterday, Brother Gardner presiding. After the minutes of the last meeting had been read, approved and ordered filed away in an oyster can, the hat was passed around for contributions to purchase roller skates for the poor heathen in Africa, Brother Gardner remarking as the hat started on its travel:

"Gem'lem, please remember dat none ob us kin take our riches beyond the grave." The hat came back empty, and he continued:

"But it 'pears dat dis crowd is gwine to try mighty hard to do it!"

Under the head of petitions a communication was received from Jonas White, a colored resident of Ohio street, asking the club to lend him ten dollars to buy liniments and other remedies to cure his wife of a lame leg.

"De petishun am declar'd out ob order," remarked the president, as he tossed it into a basket of onions. "Dis Mr. White didn't file no bond, as the rules require, didn't speciffi de kind ob lameness what ails his wife, an' whar's de proofs dat he was ebber marr'd tall?"

"And whar's de proofs dat dis club has any ten dollars to lend?" called a voice, and the deepest silence reigned for a long minute.

The application of Samuel Shorthead for membership was then presented. The application stated that he was an upright, industrious, cultured gentleman, with a voice pleasantly pitched, a ready speaker, and a warm friend of General Howard's plan of fighting the Indians at twenty-five miles' range.

"Ize a lettle sorry dat he didn't draw himself out on de free trade question," remarked the President, "but Ize satisfied dat he will prove a shinin' ornament to dis club. As many ob you'uns as favor de mention to elect will drop a peeled onion into dat hat, doze who don't favor kin stand ober dar an' rub your backs agin de post till de onions am counted."

It was a clear case in favor of the applicant, and the secretary was ordered to notify him by postal card to attend the next meeting and be ready with his half dollar for dues.

"De next business marked down on de shingle," remarked the president, "is de queshun. 'What attitood should dis Lime-kiln club take toward the poor ob Detroit durin' de comin' spell of co'd weather? Does we stan' wid em, or agin 'em? Does we expect to see 'em through, or shall we let de wolf ob starvation rub all de fur off his body agin de door? De time has come when dis club has got to put itself on de records—on de golden page of the day's book of local hist'ry. What is de sense ob de meetin', and what shall be done?"

Isaac Walpole, a grey-haired gentleman of many years' experiene at collecting fence rails for winter fuel, rose up and replied:

"I move, Misser President, dat we resolve to sympathise wid de poor, and dat we wish dey was all rich."

"I s'ports dat moshum! called Samuel Shin. 'It expresses de feelings ob dis club to a dot, an' it doan' cost a cent out ob pocket!'

"Gem'len, you has hit de nail in de middle," softly replied the president. 'Dis club stands ready to sympathize wid de poor till day can't rest, an' I declar' de resolushun carried an' advise de secretary to forward copies to the afflicted relative ob de decessed."

There being no further business before the meeting, the club adjourned for one week.

WOLVES IN CANADA.

Writing from the Wakefield Mountains, under date of October 15th, Mr. Vennor says: "Wolves are at present abundant on the rocky hills and mountains of Templeton and Wakefield. Some thirty sheep have been killed within the past few days in the neighborhood of our quarters. In Portland township and along the Priest's Creek hardly a night passes without the howl of the wolf being heard, and here, also, the sheep have been killed in large numbers. Mr. Pelissier, of Wakefield, informs me that two years ago an army came down along the valley of the creek just referred to, and destroyed everything in their track; some 200 sheep fell victims to these bloodthirsty creatures in Portland alone within a comparatively few days. In the Gore of Templeton these animals are just now particulary abundant, and this locality is barely fifteen miles from the East Templeton wharf on the Ottawa river. It is clearly seen whence these creatures come. A long range of barren mountains stretch from Portland northward between the rivers Gatineau and Lievres; and join in with the unexplored and unsettled areas of country towards the sources of these rivers. There is not a dear to be seen in this neighborhood at present. The wolves came down this season as early as the month of July, and commenced their work of destruction."

A Lecture to Young Men!

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife. The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference, can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at all there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

JULIANA COX, THE WITCH.

HOW AND WHY THE GOOD PEOPLE OF CONNECTICUT HANGED HER A CENTURY AGO.

Hartford Times:—A friend in Glastonbury sends us the following account which has been cut out of the Times away back in 1823, and pasted in an old scrap book. Juliana Cox,† we rejoice to believe, was the only witch that was ever hanged in Connecticut—and it is a matter of regret that even one such case of superstition and shame can be brought up against the good old State. The place of execution on "Gallows Hill" in this city, is now known as the commanding trap rock ridge by the "stone pits." Here is the account:

In the beautiful town of Glastonbury, in Connecticut, the following remarkable event occurred in 1753. In March of that year one Julian Perry went out with his dog to hunt. In the depths of the forest he discovered (as he alleged) an old gray fox, and his dog gave chase. After chasing this fox for upwards of two miles, the animal was holed. When Mr. Perry came up he over the other side of the hole, and going to the spot, he there found Juliana Cox lying and panting for breath. Her left shoulder was bleeding and had on it the marks of a dogs' teeth. This was just the spot on the gray fox's shoulder where the dogs had seized hold. Upon this testimony Miss Cox, a maiden lady of 44, was brought to trial for the capital offence of being a witch. On her arraignment she pleaded not guilty, and it was determined that a committee of select men should examine her person for witch marks, in order to introduce confirmatory proofs against her. She was therefore remanded to prison. The following persons were appointed on the committee: Ebner Brewer, Alexis Jones, and Samuel Cutworth. These men proceeded at once to the prison, and stripping Miss Cox, they began their examination.

For a time exceeding an hour they could find no marks, and Miss Cox submitted to their examination with tears and sobs. Finally when they had pricked many places in her body without success, she confessed to two marks—one a little below the right hip and one on the left arm. The committee now became satisfied that these were true marks, as the flesh was thereon discolored in a slight degree. They thereupon made their report to the court appointed to hear the trial.

This evidence, confirming that of Mr. Perry, was thought to be conclusive, and April 3rd the trial took place. It was thought unnecessary to resort to further tests, and Miss Cox was found guilty of witchcraft on the evidence already quoted and sentenced to be hanged. Strange noises and demons at Hartford up to the time that her execution took place, which was April the 7th, at five o'clock in the morning. There was a large concourse of men and women attending her execution, and, although she declared that she was unjustly accused, and that she confessed to the witch marks to stop the pain of being pricked so cruelly by the committeemen, yet every person present believed her to be a true witch and in league with the devil. She further declared that Julius Perry accused her wrongfully. She said that she was in the forest gathering herbs, and that Julius Perry came along and would have his will of her; that she constantly refusing, he set his dog upon her, and that animal bit her shoulder, and that he, fearing to be detected in this bad act, had laid the charge of witchcraft against her. This she said under the gallows. Whereupon a shout was made among the people to "burn the witch," as hanging was too good a death for so foul a strumpet of the devil. While the people went to fetch wood to burn her the sheriff hung her up, so that she died on the gallows before the wood could be brought.

This account of Julian Cox's witchcraft and death is abridged from the statement of Dinah Jones before a committee of delegates to revise the laws of Connecticut

EATING AND OVER-EATING.

From the Times.

Dr. Bennett maintains, probably with much justice, that many of the so-called diseases which sap the foundations of the human life after its middle period is passed are, to a great extent, the results of long years of indiscreet living; that gout and its congeners, if they cannot be cured when they are once declared, might at least be prevented when they are only impending; and that they are preceded generally, or even always, by symptoms of impaired nutrition, traceable in most cases to errors which might easily be avoided. These errors, however, are precisely of the kind most likely to elude medical observation. To commit them is easy; to avoid them requires thought and self denial, and their immediate and manifest effects are seldom alarming to the inexperienced and untaught. * * * In the time of Mrs. Hannah More young ladies were recommended by that admirable, if rather tiresome, moralist, always to rise from table with an appetite, and it is manifest that obedience to this recommendation might easily be carried to the extent of eating too little. Dr Bennett places his readers in no danger of thus falling into Scylla in their endeavors to avoid Charybdis, but teaches them how to preserve that golden mean in which it has always been the custom of philosophy to rejoice. In some cases he would even bring the habits of life to the homely test of the balance, and few parts of his book are more instructive than those in which he calls attention to the total result, at the end of the year, of a very small daily increment of weight, as a circumstance which justifies, or rather demands, the occasional use of the balance. He tells us that "the difference in the nutritive powers of healthy individuals, or of their capacity of extracting nourishment from the same food, is so very great that it is vain to attempt to lay down any limit as regards the amount of food that will merely supply wear and tear and organic combustion, and that which will, in addition, allow of the information and deposit of fact. One person will thrive and grow fat on what would starve another, and soon produce emaciation. It is, indeed, only by weighing the persons under study at intervals that we can ascertain the quantity individually required. This observation applies equally to those whose digestive functions are chronically disordered. At the risk of repetition, I would recall the fact that a small amount of carbonaceous food in addition to what the economy requires will create half an ounce of fat a day. A glass of beer, a piece of bread, a little light pudding more than is wanted for normal nutrition will amply suffice. Half an ounce a day is a pound a month, and a pound a month is neary a stone a year. One or two stones added to ten or eleven make all the difference between sparseness and corpulence." * * * There can be no doubt that the amount of food taken under the influence of our ordinary social habits is for many people greater than they need, and that the constant accumulation of the daily trifle too much is the weight beneath which many at last break down."

The Daily Ontario.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 14.

THE President of the United States has, by proclamation, appointed Thursday, 29th inst., as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God for his mercies to the people of that Republic.

THE issue between the Republicans and Democrats, in the United States, is rapidly coming down to the hard vs soft money question. The recent election in Wisconsin turned wholly on this pivot. The Republicans put out a bold, hard-money platform, against the soft-money of the Democrats, and they won by a handsome majority.

THE Ottawa Citizen admits that Mr. Laurier's reception in Quebec was very flattering, but thinks the people of the ancient capital were only extending hospitalities to a distinguished visitor, rather than pledging their votes. Our contemporary will know all about it next week, when the election comes off.

FIXING THINGS.

The Opposition are getting ready for the coming general elections with all possible expedition and certainty. They have been examining the ground carefully and laying their plans accordingly. Wherever a weak spot is discovered or difficulties loom up, matters are seriously considered with a view of ensuring success. Unpopular candidates are quietly pushed aside or transferred to other and more hopeful fields. In this way the cards are adjusted satisfactorily, and the party put into fighting trim. Mr. William Macdougall is perhaps the most unpopular politician in Canada. He is detested by the Reformers and suspected by the Conservatives. In consideration for certain services and present emergencies he is tolerated within the Opposition ranks as a useless member of the Ontario Legislature. But Mr. Macdougall has ambition, and an overgrown County Council is not the place where his abilities may find full scope. He sighs for a seat in the Commons, for an opportunity to grapple with "the beasts at Ephesus." South Simcoe, as defined by the Ontario Act, does not exactly suit Mr. Macdougall. He entertains grave doubts of again being elected from that constituency. Mr. McCarthy has pledged his word and honor on another contest in North Simcoe with Mr. Cook, where he has been twice defeated already. Cardwell is looked upon as a safe Tory borough, to be used as a sort of dernier ressort by rejected candidates elsewhere. So Mr. McCarthy tells his quondam ally to possess his soul in patience, for all will be made serene for him. In short, Mr. Macdougall will be sent to Cardwell to run for the Commons, and Mr. McCarthy must, in virtue of his pledge try his luck once more in North Simcoe. Other ridings are being "cooked" to suit the exigencies of the times.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE COMMISSION.

The enquiry into charges made against the Central Committee was resumed on Monday, in the Theatre of the Normal School, before Mr. Justice Patterson. Mr. J. D. Edgar and Mr. N. F. Davin appeared for the Minister of Education and the Mail newspaper respectively. The first witness called by Mr. Edgar was Hon. Mr. Crooks, who proceeded in the first place to give a succinct statement as to the constitution of the Central Committee, the relation of the booksellers to the Department in respect of library and prize books and text books, and the substitution of the Canada School Journal for the Journal of Education in official communications between the Department and the teachers, and others immediately interested in the work of education. He was then examined at length by both counsel, relative to the relation existing between the Committee and the publishing house of Adam Miller & Co. Other witnesses were also examined and the Commission adjourned until yesterday.

A FALSE ACCUSATION.

Some time ago Mr. Duncan McMillan, who is M. P. for one of the Ridings of Middlesex, made a speech at one of the Conservative meetings, and accused the Premier of falsehood in connection with the Steel Rails controversy. He gave as his authority for making such an accusation, Mr. Cooper, of Montreal, a member of the firm of Cooper, Fairman & Co., and declared that he (Mr. C.) had in a private conversation with him (Mr. McM.) stated that "Chas. Mackenzie did not go out of the firm until three months after Mr. Mackenzie said he did." Such a declaration, from an individual who is, or was at the time the alleged conversation took place, Mr. Cooper's legal adviser, opened a mine for the Tory organs to delve in, and they worked industriously for several weeks in covering the Premier with opprobrious epithets. They did not stop to consider the honor involved in Mr. McMillan's retailing what was told him privately by a client, in order to make political capital to injure an opponent, but charged their slush-buckets to the brim and hurled the contents upon the devoted head of Mr. Mackenzie. But their glorification was short-lived. Mr. Cooper, immediately upon the matter being reported to him, wrote denying emphatically the statements made by Mr. McMillan. He explained as follows:—"What I did state to Mr. McMillan, and what I expressed my willingness to establish before a committee of the House, was the very opposite of what was stated in the above report." He further adds:—"The facts are as mentioned in the letter of our firm to the Montreal Gazette in October, 1875, that Mr. Charles Mackenzie had no interest in our business after December, 1874, although the registration of the dissolution of the firm was not made, owing to the oversight of the professional gentleman to whom it had been entrusted. This was not material, however, as the formation of the new firm without the name of Mr. Charles Mackenzie was duly registered."

So Mr. McMillian is convicted of wilful misstatements, instead of fastening a falsehood on the Premier. Tory journals, however, or a few of them, profess not to have heard of Mr. Cooper's denial, and go on disseminating the lying slander and adding to it whatever they can originate conveniently. Says the Ottawa Free Press in connection with this matter:—"Meanwhile, when any of Mr. Duncan McMillian's political opponents have any 'private conversation' to transact with that gentleman, we advise them to follow the example of Mr. Blake when the notorious A. G. P. Dodge, during the Pacific Scandal debate, said to him: 'May I have a word with you, Mr. Blake?' 'Certainly,' said Mr. Blake, 'but just wait till I call in a friend.'"

OBSERVATIONS.

THE Mail virtually admits that the Conservatives of Quebec have a hopeless task in their efforts to defeat Mr. Laurier a second time. The same tactics cannot be resorted to in Quebec East as in Drummond and Arthabaska.

EXETER damsels are not to be trifled with. One of them—Miss Maud Parker—caused Mr. G. K. McLeod to be arrested for having kissed her without leave. He was duly summoned before the Cadi, but what the sentence was report sayeth not. Ventursome young men should learn a lesson from this case. Perhaps all the spirited young ladies, who object to being kissed promiscuously, do not reside in Exeter.

THE forthcoming Thanksgiving on the 22nd inst., will assume a national importance, inasmuch as it will be recognized throughout the whole Dominion, and will be the first general observance of such a day since Confederation. We presume services will be held in the several churches in town. Would it not be advisable to hold a grand union service in the evening, in one of the largest of our churches, in which the ministers of all the Evangelistic denominations could unite.

WE hear it whispered at the street corners that a certain religious teacher in Belleville, when enforing some truths last Sunday morning, before a class of young men, took occasion to show his political sympathies in a way that left no uncertain impression. He may have thought the illustration applicable, but it is a question that is open to objection; and a mixture of religion and politics smacks too much of the Ultramontane doctrine to be popular here or elsewhere in Ontario. The inference drawn from the teacher's remarks may not be warranted by the actual facts of the case, but if so, we would advise him to curb his political zeal hereafter when expounding the doctrines of the Bible.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A regular meeting of the Board was held last evening in the Council Chamber at eight o'clock.

Present,— Mr. Shepard the Chairman, Messrs. Glass, Tennant, Wensley, Northcott, Peterson, Backus, Yeomans, McGinnis' Dr. Wilson, Peck, Macoun, Rev. Mr. Burke and I. Diamond.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS &C.

An application from Mr. W, McCoy was read asking to be appointed Census enumerator.

An extract from a circular of Mr Marling, High School Inspector, was read stating that the school was improving.

Several accounts were handed in and referred to the Finance Committee.

An account for coal from Rathbun & Son was referred for discussion to the Committee of the Whole.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Mr. Peck moved that the bonuses given to teachers of five years' standing and the fixing of the maximum and minimum salary be rescinded.

In support of this motion he stated that the board by its passage would be left to act as they chose, and besides the arrangement itself had not worked satisfactorily.

Mr. Wensley seconded the motion which was carried.

Mr. Peterson's notice of motion was allowed to stand over till the next meeting.

Mr. Backus moved seconded by Mr. Wensley, that Mr. W. McCoy be appointed census enumerator

Mr. Johnson was in favor of Mr. McCoy's appointment but he wanted the work done at a less cost than what was incurred during the past two years.

Rev. Mr. Burke thought it best to learn why there was a reason for a change of officers in this department. He had heard it stated that Mr. Flint had done his work faithfully and well, and unless he heard something to the contrary he would be in in favor of him. He moved seconded by Mr. Macoun that E. B. Flint be appointed to the office at a salary of $100.

Mr. Johnson said Mr. Flint had done his duty satisfactorily but now Mr. McCoy was studying to attain a good position as a teacher, and as he had performed his duty well and was worthy of assistance at the hands of the Board he would support him.

Mr Wensley favored Mr McCoy's appointment. McCoy was a young man, a worthy citizen, the support of a widowed mother and if we could assist him we should do so. Mr Flint had done his duty well and right but he considered that the public money should be distributed especially in a case like this. He thought it the duty of the Board to help Mr McCoy.

Mr McCoy was appointed by a vote of 7 to 5.

The Board went into Committee of the whole—Mr Tennant in the chair.

An account of H B Rathbun & Son's was taken up and read, It comprises a bill for coal the payment for which had been made by money and a note.

Mr Peck said his idea about this was that it was a strange proceeding to act as was done in this instance. The payment of this account was irregular and in support of his views read the rules governing the supplies. He was informed that the Chairman of that Committee had bought this coal and paid for it without consulting his Committee. The rules provided against this and he here read the rule of the Board governing such cases.

Mr Yeomans said the Committee had been called together twice but no response had been made.

Mr Glass said in buying necessaries for the school it could not be done before a meeting of the Board. Coal had been bought from Mr Rathbun who wanted his money. His bill was receipted and Mr Yeomans got the money for it. He noticed that payment had been made for the account by note and the transaction looked shady especially so since the money had been given for the bill. The coal had been bought before the raise in coal; the rules could not be carried out in such premises as this.

Mr Peck said there was no trouble for the Committee in July to have made known their request and they could have got the money. Besides Mr Grant (Rathburn agent) only got the money on the 8th of this month.

Mr Glass said the money was paid on the 10th of last month.

Mr Peck contended, that the rules should be acted on in all cases.

Mr Wensley said a saving was effected by buying the coal at the time.

Mr. Yeomans said Mr. Rathbun had tendered to supply the town with coal for $4.36. He had asked Mr. Grant to put an order for 50 tons on his books at that price. Some time after Mr. R. withdrew his tender for the town supplies and put in another at $4,00. He spoke to Mr. Grant about the putting of the first figures and he asked him to supply to schools at $4.00. Afterwards the price went up to $5.25 and Mr. R. agreed to supply the coal at $5.00. After the delivery of the coal, the money was asked for. He had a note for $200 in his pocket and he gave it for the account which had been receipted. Both the note and the account had been paid. The note was given by Flint & Holton and was for 30 days.

Mr Glass said if the note had not been paid Mr Rathbun might have asked for his pay.

Mr Peck said Mr Grant had told him to-day if the note had not been paid the Board would have been asked to pay for it.

Mr Glass said that the proceeding was irregular and was not a clean transaction as it placed the Secretary Treasurer in an awkward position.

Mr Peck said if this thing goes on our rules might as well be put aside.

Mr Johnson said the Chairman of that Committee should have discretionary powers especially when he would have a chance to save money for the Board. He considered Mr Yeomans was doing what he could for the Board and that he was doing perfectly right.

Mr Macoun said Mr Johnson had not the right end of the matter. No fault had been found with the buying of the coal but the payment of the account was what was the matter. It was generally known that the Board did not give notes for the payment of accounts as it was irregular to do so.

Mr. Peck contended that Mr. Yeomans should have had a meeting of the Committee.

Mr. Johnson said he had heard Mr. Yeomans ask members to attend the meeting of the Committee.

Mr Northcott said tenders for coal and wood should be advertised for.

Rev. Mr Burke said the rules should be obeyed in all cases when it was possible. It was all very well in the present case but it might not be in cases in the future.

Mr Glass said that tenders for wood was a fallacy. His experience in a case of tendering for wood was that contracts were not fulfilled.

Mr Yeomans said he had asked Mr Glass to attend to the supply of coal and he found now that he (Mr Y.) was not cut out for such work. However he had now asked him to look after the contract for wood

The Question then dropped and the report adopted.

Mr Northcott gave notice of a motion for the collection of taxes in that portion of Thurlow annexed to the town for school purposes.

Board adjourned.

CANADA SCHOOL JOURNAL.

We have received the November number of this useful publication. The frontispiece is an excellent likeness of Dr. Dawson, Principal of McGill College and University, Montreal. An interesting sketch of his life follows. The Journal is well edited and must prove highly valuable to teachers and others interested in educational work. A valuable corps of contributors have been secured, who very materially increase the worth of the Journal to those for whose special benefit it is published, Adam Miller & Co., Toronto.

A PEDLAR, a few weeks ago, in the vicinity of Cornwall, hired a horse and buggy from a farmer, drove to Lancaster, put them on board a steamer and brought them to Montreal. After sporting about the city for some time he sold both for $50 and decamped.

WE learn, says the Seaforth Expositor, from several farmers that the fall wheat, which was sown early, is turning yellow in spots. Some of the fields so affected have been closely examined, and a small worm has been found at the very bottom of the stem. Those who have examined the worm say it is not the Hessian fly, but the wire worm. It might be well for the farmers to examine their wheat, and ascertain for themselves the correctness of the statement. There is no doubt but that in some places the wheat is turning yellow, and that the worm above referred to occasions the blight. Some practical and experienced farmers recommend the sowing of salt, at the rate of about a ton to ten acres.

The "poodle-dog" style of hair frizzed, frowzed and apparently uncombed—is all the rage at present.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 14.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. McCoy has been appointed Census enumerator at a salary of $100.

ENGLISH MAIL.—The English mail per S. S. Circassian arrived and was distributed at the post office here last evening.

FOR THE SHANTY.—Mr. Pierce, of Marmora, sent a gang of men to the limits of Marmora this morning. The men will be employed in getting out saw-logs.

KEEP YOUR CIDER SWEET!—Just arrived a lot of Sulphites of Zinc. One 25 cent package will keep a barrel of 40 gallons. Albert L. Geen, Druggist, &c.

VENISON.—A number of carcasses of venison were brought to town this week and found ready purchasers. This indicates that deer are plentiful in the northern districts.

SUNNING THEMSELVES.—There are several signs of winter, and perhaps the most reliable is that of the corner loafers taking their sun-baths and, indulging in complimentary remarks to passers-by.

—DIPHTHERIA.—We are informed that many children are prostrated with this malady, and a number of deaths have occurred lately in town. The first symptoms should receive medical attention.

THE PROOF.—Local Nimrods have not returned from their trips to the backwoods gameless. The several carcasses of deer and other animals that adorn the butcher stalls in town bear ample testimony to the accuracy of the hunters' aim. Some of the deer are exceedingly large and fat.

INSPIRATION.—The first snow-fall called forth the following from a contemporary; "Soon will the merry jingle of the sleighbells reverberate through the land, and the laughing, chaffing belles will have their cheeks painted rosy-red by nature's hand,

CONCERT.—A concert will be given in the hall of the Temperance association of the Holy Cross this evening. Prof. Stanistreet and Denys will conduct the entertainment and a number of amateurs will lend their assistance.

DANIEL'S BAND.—Special evangelistic meetings will be held every evening this week in the hall of Daniel's Band, at 8 o'clock sharp. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. Northrup, Evangelist. No collection. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

THAT COAL BILL.—The coal bill of Rathbun & Son was under discussion in the Board of Education and was brought up on motion of Mr. Peck. The account was for a supply of coal for the use of the schools. The bill for the coal was receipted by a note and as it was well known that the Board did not give notes in payment of its debts. The debate became somewhat general but was not provocative of anything definite being done. For our own part we cannot but say that such actions as this are irregular and set a bad precedent. Any one to whom the Board may be indebted, knows that he can get his money in due course of time without the necessity of a private individual giving his paper to relieve it—if only temporarily. Such conduct as that of the Chairman of the Committee on Supplies is to be deprecated, and for the sake of the Board and the ratepayers of the town we hope it will not be repeated.

TOWNSHIP CLERKS.—A correspondent of the Globe says:—"It will be admitted by all reasonable persons who understand the position of municipal clerks that there is not a class of public officers of the present day has greater cause of complaint. Since Confederation their duties are very much increased, particularly by the enactment of the past few years, consequently a clerk who discharges his duties faithfully must of necessity spend at least five hours of the day in his office, attending to the arduous duties connected therewith. He has to copy his assessment roll twice during the year, make out pathmasters' lists, make out his list of voters and attend to it while passing through the press, prepare the collectors' rolls, both resident and non-resident make returns to Government Departments and County Council, give deputy returning-officers a list prepared for municipal elections, spend on an average sixteen days in and six in Committees of Council, copy all proceedings in the minute book, and afterwards prepare the minutes for one or more papers, answer hundreds of letters through the year, and in many instances prepare the by-laws of the municipality, together with losing hours talking to men on municipal affairs, where five minutes might suffice if his visitors only considered the value of his time, and all this for the small sum of one hundred dollars. I think it is the duty of Parliament to do something to see that clerks are properly remunerated as well as members of Parliament, councillors, and even fence viewers." In endorsing the above we must state that we know of no harder worked and poorer paid class of officials than Township clerks. Almost every year their duties, onerous as they are, are considerably increased by Legislative enactments without any provision being as a requital for the laborious services performed by them. Their task is difficult and burdensome and we therefore hope that some action will be taken which will tend toward paying them for their work in a proper manner.

ARRIVAL.—The S. S. "Manitoban" passed Father Point, inwards at 12:25 this a. m.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

(Ottawa Herald)

Friday afternoon the two young and pretty sisters of Mayette, who was sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary, called at the Police Station to bid him a sad good-bye before his departure to Kingston. Sergeant O'Keefe received them kindly. Leaving them in the waiting room, he proceeded to the cell in which young Mayette was confined and whom he found bitterly weeping. He requested him to follow him into the room in which his two poor sisters were waiting. As he entered the room they both rose and bursting out sobbing, embraced him in a most affectionate manner. It was a sad picture to behold,—two intelligent young girls, in the full glow of youth, bitterly sobbing; while between them stood, with downcast looks and also crying, the unfortunate brother possessing also the appearance of intelligence, and with a bright future before him had he but directed his talents in a proper channel. When the Sargeant pronounced the hard but inexorable words, "Time is up," the poor heart broken ones gave a shriek, and one of them fainted away. The police lifted her up and placed her in a chair, and as she sat thus, her brother kissed his unconcious sister a long good-bye, and was then conveyed back into his lonesome cell to brood over his folly and its unhappy consequences.

HIGH HANDED OUTRAGE

A CATHOLIC PRIEST KIDNAPPED AND CARRIED OFF.

About the end of last week Rev. Father Phitch Patrick, late pastor of the Catholic Church of Woodslee, Essex Centre, came to the Rev. Mr. Henderson, of the same place, stating that he dad severed his connection with that body, and had some thought of joining the Methodist Church. Mr. Henderson advised the rev. gentleman to attend the quarterly service, to be held next day at Bell River Church, and Divine Service at Essex Centre in the evening, after which he would be better able to judge of the merits of the Methodist Church. After preaching, the rev. father stated, in substance, that differences had arisen between him and his Bishop, which he would not then explain, which had resulted in his leaving the Catholic Church. Mr. Phitch Patrick next went to Essex Centre in the evening, and being met by some of his late friends, he was requested to take a walk. Upon reaching the suburbs of the village, he was forced into a buggy, which was in waiting for him, and driven off; of course they only know where. From the vast number of Catholics in the village and church that evening, some armed, it is said, with clubs, there can be little doubt that it was a preconcerted plan to kidnap the rev. gentleman away. Great excitement exists in consequence—Leamington Post.

SUCH SUSPICION.—Sir John Macdonald is inclined to suspect persons who exalt Canadian nationality of unfriendliness to Great Britian. It would be just as fair to suspect persons who exalt the British connection of unfriendliness to Canada, and in both cases it would be senseless. Such suspicions are easily expressed, and can do nothing but mischief. These two ideas do not in anyway contradict each other, and it is those who proclaim such suspicions who are responsible for any conflict of notions and feelings which may grow out of due patriotism.—Witness.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKESS AND DEBILITY.

Epsom, N. H., May 3, 1870.

Dear Sir—Having received great benefit from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the late war I was in the army, and had the misfortuud to be taken prisoner, and was confined in Salisburg and other Southern prisons several months, and became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained some two months and then came home. My physicians reccommended and procured for me several bottles of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since; and I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether arising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, GEO. S. BIXBY.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the neryous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

THE GLADIATORS OF INDIA.

Another sort of combat, much more terrible than those already mentioned, and which is only to be seen now-a-days at Baroda, is the Nucki-ka-kousti, that is to say, "fight with claws." Here the combatants, almost naked, but adorned with crowns and garlands, tear each other with claws of horn. The claws were formerly of steel, and caused certain death to one or other of the combatants; but they have been abolished as too barbarous for modern times. Those now in use, are, as I have said, of horn, and are fixed on the closed fist with thongs. I was only once present at a combat of this kind, for my heart was so moved by this horrible spectacle that I refused to go again. The wrestlers, intoxicated with bang—liquid opium, mixed with an infusion of hemp—sing as they rush upon one another; their faces and heads are soon covered with blood, and their frenzy knows no bounds. The king, with wild eyes and the veins of his neck swollen, surveys the scene with such passionate excitement that he cannot remain quiet, but imitates by gestures the movements of the wrestlers. The arena is covered with blood; the defeated combatant is carried off, sometimes in a dying condition; and the conqueror, the skin of his forehead hanging down in strips, prostrates himself before the king, who places round his neck a necklace of fine pearls, and covers him with garments of great value. One episode, moreover, disgusted me to such an extent that, without any heed of the effect my sudden departure might have upon the Guicowar, I at once withdrew. One of the wrestlers, whom the bang had only half intoxicated, after receiving the first few blows made a show of wishing to escape; his antagonist threw him, and they rolled together on the ground before us. The victor, seeing the unhappy wretch demand quarter, turned to the king to know whether he should let the other rise; but, inflamed with the spectacle, the monarch cried out, "Maro! maro!" (strike! strike!" and the scalp of the unfortunate fellow was torn without mercy. When he was taken away he had lost all consciousness. That same day, the king distributed among the victorious wrestlers necklaces and money to the amount of more than four thousand pounds.—Rousselet's "India and Its Princes."

THOMAS DE QUINCEY.

His voice was extraordinary—it came as if from dream-land; but it was the most musical and impressive of voices. In convivial life what then seemed to me the most remarkable trait of De Quincey's character was the power he possessed of easily changing the tone of ordinary thought and conversation into that of his own dream-land, till his auditors, with wonder, found themselves moving pleasantly along with him in a sphere of which they might have heard and read, perhaps, but which had ever appeared to them inaccessible and far, far away. Seeing that he was always good-natured and social, he would take part, at commencement, in any sort of tattle or twaddle. The talk might be of "beeves," and he could grapple with them if expected to do so; but his musical cadences were not in keeping with such work, and in a few minutes (not without some strictly logical sequence) he could escape at will from beeves to butterflies, and thence to the soul's immortality, to Plato, and Kant, and Schelling, and Fichte, to Milton's early years and Shakespeare's sonnets, to Wordsworth and Coleridge, to Homer and Eschylus, to St. Thomas of Aquin, St Basil, and St. Chrysostom. But he by no means excluded themes from real life, according to his own views of that life, but would recount profound mysteries from his own experiences—visions that had come over him in his loneliest walks among the mountains, and passages within his own personal knowledge, illustrating, if not proving, the doctrines of dreams, of warnings, of second-sight, and mesmerism. And whatsoever the subject might be, every one of his sentences (or of his chapters, I might say,) was woven into the most perfect logical texture and uttered in a tone of sustained melody.—Bric-a-Brac Series.

A clever but intemperate sculptor having died at Montreal, recently, leaving three months' board unpaid, the proprietor of the boarding-house recovered part of the debt by selling the body to a dissecting room for $25.

The omission to furnish fowls with suitable drinking water is one of the worst features of cruelty to animals. Those whom we occasionally hear say that "there is no profit in poultry" are not qualified to have the management of the same, and in their attentions may be classed with the thriftless and neglectful parties who keep fowls that get drink when it rains.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

FILLITER vs OSTROM.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on the following lands and premises:

Saturday, the 17th day of November 1877.

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark, Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

REV. MR. TILLEY'S DEATH.

PROPHETIC WORDS—LAST WORDS, "ANOTHER SHIP! ANOTHER VOYAGE!"

The Mail, referring to the death of Rev. W. H. Tilley, says:—"On Friday morning, while being visited by the doctors who were attending him—Dr. Johnson and Rev. Dr. Bovell—he became conscious for a few moments, and said prophetically, it seemed,—"Doctor, in two days more I shall stand before the Great White Throne." He became again oblivious to all that was passing around him, and, as was stated in the Mail of Saturday, all hopes of his recovery were given up. At twenty minutes past eight yesterday morning, on the exact day of which he had spoken on Friday, surrounded by his family and in the presence of several dear friends, he expired, exclaiming just before his death, "Another ship! Another voyage!" He died in peace.

The announcement of the death of the rev. gentleman was made in St. James' Sunday school yesterday morning. There was no necessity to make it in the church. Everybody knew that he was dead, and, as the service went on, although no direct reference was made to the sad event, the congregation caught at every word that had any bearing on the subject, and many, many were the tears that were shed. The Very Rev. the Dean preached an eloquent sermon, in which he referred to the late Chief Justice Draper, and that, together with the knowledge of the death of Mr. Tilley, was very affecting.

At the close of the service Mr. Carter played the Dead March in Saul, in order to listen to which half the congregation stayed behind. With reference to the last words of the rev. gentleman, it might be added—and it is hoped that the statement will not be considered out of place—that while Mr. Tilley was in the Maritime Provinces, he is said to have received an invitation to take ship and make a voyage to Cuba for the benefit of his health. He declined, returned home, was taken ill, and yesterday—"Another voyage, another ship!"

HOW A MILLIONAIRE STOPPED SMOKING.

Wm. H. Vanderbilt was, at one time, greatly addicted to the habit of smoking. One day, on their way to St. Petersburg, on board the steam-yacht "Northern Star," the father and son were walking on deck. The latter was puffing away his after-dinner cigar. "I wish you would give up that smoking habit of yours. I'll give you $10,000 if you do it," said the Commodore abruptly "You need not give any money. Your wish is sufficient." answered the son, throwing the cigar overboard. And he has never smoked since. The command which William H. has always had over himself is quite remarkable. He was, for example, like his father, very fond of a game of whist, and like him, considered himself to be one of the best players. When he had removed to New York and became connected with the Harlem railroad, he used to spend three or four evenings a week at the Union Club. But he noticed that tobacco smoke and midnight hours interfered with the clearness of his head the next morning, and he at once gave up both club and whist. The same thing happened with wine. He likes a glass of champagne, but having discovered or imagined that his head felt it next day, he never touches any wine now, not even at public banquets and dinner parties at his own house. As to spirits, they were always out of the question with him.

A TESTIMONY.

Chas. Watertown, in the Authobiography of a Naturalist, says:—

"The severe attack of dysentry, and the former indispositions caused by remaining in unwholesome climates, and by exposure to the weather, seem to have made no inroad into my constitution; for although life's index points to sixty-two, I am a stranger to all sexagenarian disabilities, and can mount to the top of a tree with my wonted steadiness and pleasure. As I am confident that I owe this vigorous state of frame to a total abstinence from all strong liquor, I would fain say a parting word or two to my young reader on this important subject. If he is determined to walk through life's chequered path with ease to himself and with satisfaction to those who take an interest in his welfare, he will leave every chance in his favor, provided he makes a firm resolution never to run the risk of losing his reason through an act of intemperence, for the preservation of his reason will always insure to him the fulfilment of his resolution, and his resolution will seldom fail to crown his efforts with success. The position of an irrational ass, cropping thistles on the village common, is infinitely more enviable than that of a rational man under the influence of excessive drinking. Instinct teaches the first to avoid the place of danger, whilst intemperance drives the last headlong into the midst of it. To me there is no sight in civilized society, more horribly disgusting than that of a human being in a state of intoxication. The good Jesuit who, six and forty years ago, advised me never to allow strong liquors to approach my lips, conferred a greater benefit on me than if he had put the mines of Potosi at my immediate disposal. I might fill a large volume with the account of miseries and deaths which I could distinctly trace to the pernicious practice of inebriety. I have seen manly strength, and female beauty, and old age itself, in ruin under the fatal pressure of this degrading vice. The knave thrives on the follies of the drunkard, and whole families may trace the commencement of their decay to the dire allurements of the public-house."

The English papers state that young ladies who wear the "deer stalker" hats have taken to raising them in acknowledgment of the salutations of gentlemen.

The masculine element predominates in ladies' street costumes, since the fair sex now wear white vests and flat folded scarfs precisely like those worn by gentlemen.

The Daily Ontario.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 15.

THE Permanent Exhibition at Philadelphia, which grew out of the Centennial, threatens a speedy collapse. Creditors are importuning for money long past due, the total liabilities we are told amounting to more than a quarter of a million.

HALIFAX would like to be the winter port of the Dominion, and we can see no good reason why her desires should not be gratified. The Allan Company have broken with the Grand Trunk, and purpose taking their steamers to Baltimore instead of Portland. Halifax asks that they be sent there, and her merchants and business men generally promise to make a "big push" to work up a paying freight traffic.

SOMETHING LIKE A THREAT.

Elsewhere will be found an article from the Railway World, an organ published in the interest of Railway Corporations at Philadelphia. It will be seen that Congress is actually advised to take such proceedings as will prevent or lessen the competition of the Canada trunk lines with American railways, and the hint is thrown out that it is more than possible that such action may be taken. This, however, may only be a kind of bullying indulged in for the purpose of frightening the managers of Canadian railways into a submission to American dictation. But even the publication of such an article in such a journal indicates a feeling of opposition that cannot be viewed indifferently by the people of Canada. Since a large portion of the through freight carried by our railways is of American produce, the object sought is to have Congress so legislate as to compel such freight to go by the American lines. This would be accomplished by placing an embargo upon produce passing from one part of the United States to another, and partly over Canadian railways. Should such a policy be adopted, undoubtedly there would be reprisals from this side of the line, and we have only to consider what they would consist of. The Montreal Gazette has the following on this point:—"We are at this moment spending about twenty millions of dollars in the enlargement of Canadian canals. That enlargement will be of the greatest advantage to shippers of American produce. So much was this recognized as true, that in the Washington Treaty the British Government undertook to urge upon the Canadian Government the propriety of grantirg the use of these canals to American shippers upon equal terms with Canadian shippers. That has always been the policy of the Canadian Government, and no legislation has taken place on the subject. But although it has been the policy, there is no treaty or obligation compelling them to continue it. Nothing in the Washington Treaty, nor in fact, in any other treaty existing between Great Britain and the United States, prevents the Canadian Government from delaring that American vessels passing through the Welland Canal shall be charged exceptionally hig tolls or excluded altogether from the use of the canal. We dare say that American trunk railway lines whould not seriously object to such a policy on the part of Canada. But the people of the Western States, who are viewing with the greatest interest the enlargement of these canals, would regard such a course on the part of the Canadian Government as the most serious blow struck at their interests. There is no doubt, however, that such a blow would be struck if Congress was foolish enough to act upon the suggestion of the Railway World.

FROM BRIDGEWATER.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO

Sir: Our Toronto & Ottawa Surveyors decamped for the East this morning, after completing a very satisfactory line of survey through, and several miles to the east of, Bridgewater, with engineering difficulties growing less as they advanced. Its general course through Madoc and Elzevir is fifteen degrees north of east, along the southern boundry of said townships.

On entering Kaladar it bears to the north, touching lot 17 in the 7th concession, at the Balkan Mountains, forming a curve whose perpendicular is about five miles; increasing the distance of line about two miles.

A gentleman arrived here this evening from Perth, in the interest of that town, being well posted on the line from the Balkans east, is delighted to pilot the surveying party through direct to Perth. He says there will be no difficulty in securing a first rate line to that point; most of the route being almost a dead level.

Mining is becoming more interesting every day, and the coming Spring will open with almost infinitely better prospects of success than was anticipated during the balmiest days of the Madoc gold excitement. A discovery of the precious metals recently made is destined to cast the mines of Mexico and California in the shade.

It is no less than an unlimited deposit of the native ores whose value is estimated at thousands of millions of dollars.

G. M.

P. S. Their whereabouts will be kept secret till satisfactory arrangements are made with the Government.

—"On dit" that the U. E. Club is $90,000 in debt.

—The Montmagny election petion has been dismissed; costs heavy.

—The employees of two carpet mills in Philadelphia have struck.

THE B. & N. H. R.

A Public Meeting in Madoc Suggestive of Revelations Shows up Light.

Several Speakers "Crafe" and Endeavor to Set Themselves Straight.

And The Meeting Kindly Listens to Them.

A GREAT DEAL SAID AND NOTHING DONE.

In accordance with a requisition of the rate payers of the township, a meeting was convened in the Town Hall Madoc, on Wednesday the 14th, for the purpose of discussing matters appertaining to the B. & N. H. R.

At the appointed hour the horney-handen sons of toil began to assemble, and when the meeting was opened, the Town Hall was completely filled with an audience of eager and expectant listeners.

The Reeve, Mr A F Wood, read the requisition calling the meeting and stated that he had acted in accordance with it, and hoped that good order would prevail.

Mr Rawe moved that Mr Bowell make a statement in response to a call made at the last meeting.

Mr Elliott seconded the request which on being put was passed.

Mr Bowell said the meeting referred to was an impromptu one, and at it he had explained his views. He was not now inclined to repeat what he had then said. He drew attention to a report made in a Madoc paper in which he considered he had been dealt with unfairly. He then read a paragraph which stated that he had been qualified by Mr Pardee. This he did not say, although it was so in fact. The report would lead people to suppose that the other members of the Board had qualified "at their own expense, whereas only two had done so, the others being qualified. He then read an editorial comment of the Review on the representation at the Board, and averred that the interest of the municipality outside of the town helped itself as well as the town. T'was not correct to say that Belleville did not put its shoulder to the wheel to put the road through. The town had voted a bonus for Smelting Words and if Mr Pardee had carried out his promise to build the Smelting Works and the Road, the sums voted would have been given. If $225,000 had been expended in the construction of the Smelting Works the mines of the back country would have been developed. This information had been given to him personally Mr Pardee Jr had come to town and asked for certain powers from the Board, and he (Mr B) had been asked to accept the Presdency of the road. Mr Pardee, Jr, had come here and his father having resigned, he asked that his son be put in his place. Meetings of the Board had been held, and resulted in the election of Mr Pardee Jr to the Presidency, and authorized him to make necessary arrangements for the building of the road. Mr Lloyd had asked to be changed in regard to the management, so that he should be Manager under the authority of the Board. He received a letter from Mr Bell to which he had replied by stating that he would not act on the Finance Committee, if he had construed his letter right by making the President an ex officio member of every Committee. Mr Bell, the Solicitor, never, however, acquiesced in this, and he never thought but that his ideas would be accepted. He related a conversation between himself and Mr Wood which resulted in his asking certain regulations, which gave certain powers to the Manager, should be repealed. Mr Wood and himself had been appointed a Finance Committee, and the regulations above mentioned by him were repealed. This was demurred to by Mr Pardee, although he submitted to it, as Mr Wood stated to him that if it did not suit him he need not act under it. Subsequently Mr Pardee said he did not consider that that the by-laws did not go far enough. The result was that an interview with Mr Bethune was had, which resulted in Mr Pardee's saying he would not go on with a Board that was hostile to him. Mr Patterson was a member of the Board and he had every confidence in him and he said himself (Mr B) that he would resign his position on the Board. He had not received any money from Messrs Lloyd and Pardee, and always paid his own expenses He here related another conversation with Mr Wood in regard to the resignation of a member of the Board, and said that now there was no right in asking to not have this road built. He had told his friends that if any arrangemnts could be made to have the road built and the men paid, he would resign from the Board. He read a letter from Mr. Bell, in regard to the road, on behalf of Mr Pardee, which stated that arrangements had been made for the building of the road, but he would not go on with it unless a change in the Board was made. He also stated that the road would be built and worked, especially so since he had spent a large amount of money on it, and bonuses had been given it by several municipalities. He continued by saying that he had heard rumors that Mr. Pardee was going to pocket the bonuses given, and would not operate the road. He then said that if that was true, and Mr Lloyd and Mr Falkiner had told him so, he would do his utmost to prevent it, and would resign atonce, as he did not think his fellow-members of the Board would like to be compelled by mandamus to do what was required. He read a copy of a letter written by him in reply to Mr. Bell's, asking what Mr Pardee wanted, and to state it definitely. That was on the 3rd of November. He went away the next day, and on the 6th received another letter, purporting that Mr Pardee had spent every dollar that the road had cost, and averred that the Board was in favor of Mr. Lloyd instead of him, and concluded by stating that if the Board was constituted to favor him he would go on with the work. The letter, in the opinion of the speaker, intimated that if he was out of the way, all would be right, and the road would be built. He read his letter in reply to the above, and asked what was wanted, and what was intended to be done. An answer was received to that, to the effect that if a Mr Moffatt was placed on the Board, instead of some one member, he would go on with the road at as early a date as possible, and pay the men. A reply to that was sent by him, which resulted in his tendering his resignation, and asking relief for pledging his responsibility for payment of right of way to certain parties in the township of Huntingdon. He then read a copy of his resignation, also a copy of Mr. Pardee's "brief," in which he stated his view of the case. It stated that Mr Pardee, Jr., had been refused permission to see the books, and the result was that Mr A Pardee resigned and asked for the appointment of his son. He (Mr P., Jr.) was elected a Director. The books were subsequently looked over by Mr Marchon, of New York, and Mr Pardee, Jr., and extracts were being made from them, when a "flank movement," which resulted in the books being "captured" by Mr. Sutherland, the "so-called Secretary," and the Mayor being met at Shannonville so as to void a meeting which had been called. Subsequently, the stock and minute books were shown Mr. Pardee, and they were taken away by Mr. Sutherland. He says in his letter that the books were forcibly taken away in my presence. This was not so. The reading of the letter was continued. The definition of Mr Lloyd's duties were examined, and in the opinion of the writer was greater than that of the President; greater than Lloyd had ever before possessed. Mr P therefore concluded that Mr L had too much power, and had nothing to fear from that Board. He the speaker wrote in answer say that a large portion of the letter detailed information that he knew nothing of, and he denied that extra powers had been given by Mr Lloyd. If Mr P had a complaint in regard to his treatment, he should have made it to the Board. In this affair he was held responsible for what was done. He had acted on the suggestion of his friends, and when he met the people who appealed to him, he made up his mind that if the people were paid and the road built, he would leave the Board. He was now held responsible for what was done, by the Board since he had resigned. It was said he knew what was to be done; this he emphatically denied. Injustice to himself that it was understood between Mr Foster and himself that he knew what the Board was to do, he would deny it. He had pursued a clear course, and refused to ratify stock taken by Mr Lloyd, and also to state that he had taken the stock surreptitiously. The gentlemen interested are now in Chancery, and why should we be asked if Mr Lloyd had taken stock improperly, or whether he had done so legally. He would not interfere with Mr L's case nor with Mr P's; he may have erred, but if he done so it was unintentional on his part. Mr Pardee had said the men employed on the work should be paid, and Mr P Jr. should not stipulate that their payment should not be contingent on the conduct of the Board. Mr P considered that he would prejudice his case if he did this, and he had even to regret that his convictions were that he had no right to keep these men out of their money, as it was his bounden duty to pay them in accordance with his promise; and the more he thought of this matter the more he was convinced that Mr P should have carried out his promises. He had endeavored to lay all matters before this audience clearly and fairly, and felt obliged for the hearing accorded him.

In reply to Mr G. D. Dickson, Mr Bowell said that, in regard to a charge of misappropriation of funds made against Mr Lloyd, he (Mr L) asked that an audit be made of the books, which Mr. Pardee refused.

In answer to the Reeve, Mr Bowell said all Mr Lloyd's accounts were included in the books, and subsequently an Auditor was appointed.

Mr Bowell read a letter from Mr Newbery stating that he had been appointed Auditor. He asked for further time and said that the monthly statements of expenditures as far as he had examined the books, were correct.

In response to Mr Dickson, Mr Bowell said that Mr Lloyd had asked for an examination into charges made against him.

Mr N B Falkiner said the books containing the indebtedness of the B & N H R were never in Belleville; they were here in Madoc. He had ordered Mr Sutherland to give copies of the accounts to Mr Pardee.

Mr Wood said that the books were in Belleville three or four weeks.

Mr Falkiner said the books were in the possession of Mr Daly. He had asked the indebtedness of the road, and could not get it as the Solicitor said the books were in the possession of the Surveyor. He asked, as he had advanced money to a man in Huntingdon for $120, which he wanted to recover.

Major Rawe said the books of Mr Daly had been taken to Belleville.

The Reeve said the books were sent to Belleville before Mr Pardee came there.

Mr. Bowell here denied that he was instrumental in getting up this meeting, and had no responsibility in its being gotten up.

Major Rawe said the meeting had been got up by a requsition.

The Reeve read a letter which stated that J R Ketcheson and Samuel Rollins were deceived in the object of the meeting, and regretted that they had signed the requisition.

Dr Sutton said the ratepayers had called the meeting; and that Mr Bowell had said that he would attend it.

A resolution, asking the Mayor for an explanation of the kidnapping of himself at Shannonville was made.

Mayor Foster asked that Messrs Lloyd, Falkiner and others be heard.

Mr Lloyd was requested to speak. He said this was his first attempt to address an audience, but if ever there was an occasion to inspire a man who was on his trial, as he was to day, this was it. He had kept silence of late, but the greatest enemy he had to contend against were one or two men. He first adverted to the arrangements made by him with Mr. Pardee, and said Mr P. and himself became interested in mining property here three years ago. He met Mr P and the result was that a joint interest was made for the payment of the properties. Instead of paying for the property, he got an extension of time. Mr P subsequently came here and negotiated for the mines. He, the speaker, made overtures to certain parties to build a railroad, and he Mr P took up the interest which he had thought would go to Syracuse and Sodus Point He read his first letter written to Mr P and stated that the real difficulty between himself and Mr P was in regard to the part of the road he, the speaker, should own. The letter contained a proposition offered by Mr L to Mr P to work the iron mines in the north, and supply the capital. In this Mr P said he considered that he and his friends were to supply all the capital and give him (Lloyd), a one-half interest. Under the agreement made the road had been begun, and continued thus far.

Mr Rowe asked, was there any one who could tell us how or when this road was to be built?

A COMMUNISTIC SOCIETY.

An obscure communistic society, called Amana, occupies a tract of fertile land near Iowa City, and has 1,624 members. There are seven villages, and in each a boarding house sufficient to accommodate the population of the village. To these all the people go to get their meals, the hour for which is given by a bell from a central tower. There are also laundries, where all washing and ironing are done; so that no housekeeping is done in the families, which leaves the members to other departments of labor, and every member of the society has something to do. Once in every year the executive officers make an annuity appointment to each family or single individual, which is to be for use for that year for personal expenses. There is in every village a store, in which all kinds of goods are kept, and which are delivered to members of the society without profit; a record of each person's purchases is kept, and at the end of the year the amount is deducted from the annuity, so that very little money is used. If a member withdraws from the society, what he puts in is returned, without interest or increase. If a member dies, and is the head of the family, his share or interest in the society is divided among his legal heirs and placed to their credit on the books of the society. There are three physicians, whose duty is to visit the sick. Their medicines and teams are supplied by the society. So, also, schools are maintained.

CIRCULAR.

While notifying our numerous customers throughout Hastings, Prince Edward and the surrounding country that our importations for the Winter are complete, we beg to invite their attention to the fact that we continue to follow out the Strictly Cash System adopted by us last Winter. We find, after nearly a twelvemonth's experience, that it has proved eminently satisfactory to our customers as well as to ourselves. We have been benefited by the absence of bad debts and by the increase of our sales, while our customers have benefited by the reduction of prices thereby effected.

The Cash System is undoubtedly an advantage both to buyer and seller. The merchant in order to sell cheaply, must at all events buy cheaply; and for this end, especially under the altered aspects of trade, he must not only have ample means, but have these means at his immediate disposal, and this he cannot have if he sells on credit. If he gives credit he must buy on credit, and so pay a higher price for his goods, and consequently must sell them at a higher price.

It is a mistake for persons to suppose that because they themselves are known to be good pay they can buy goods and have them charged in the books of the storekeeper at the same price as if they paid cash. If, indeed, it were only people who are good pay that got credit, matters would not perhaps be so bad; but unfortunately where credit is given at al there must always be a large number admitted on the books who turn out bad pay, and those who are good have to make up for losses incurred through the bad. In other words under the Credit System those who pay their bills regularly and those who pay cash have together to make up for the bills of those others who do not pay at all. Doing business upon a strictly cash basis, the merchant can sell much cheaper, and yet at the same time make a better profit than under the old system of Credit.

The best evidence that satisfaction has been given to our customers is in the fact that our trade has not only been maintained during the recent prevailing dull times, but our sales actually increased, and we have good reason to anticipate a continued and further increase. The stock this season is unusually well assorted, and the prices low. Our stock, in fact, is the largest in this part of the country, we being the heaviest importers of Dry Goods in this section of the Province, as is shown by the returns at the Custom House here; and our business connexions in Great Britain give us an undoubted advantage—not only as to the quality and style of goods, but also as to price.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

☞ Sweet cider by the gallon at Mrs. Vandervoorts.

REASON WHY.—Absence of our local editor and pressure of other matter will account for the meagreness of this column to-day.

APPRECIATED.—The new sidewalk on the east side of Hotel Street, between Charles and Albert streets, is much appreciated by residents in that vicinity.

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—The new time table of the Grand Trunk Railway came into force on Sunday night. It contains a morning table for thirty trains daily—six more than has ever been run by the Company. The rush of freight eastward never was so great, but the rates are low, and the line is not making a fortune.

RELIGION AND POLITICS.—A gentleman who was present when the alleged reference to political matters was made by a religious teacher, as mentioned yesterday, informs us that no such inference as we assert could be drawn from the remarks. We are glad to make this correction. Our information was derived from what we thought reliable authority.

QUICK DISPATCH.—On the 23rd ult. Messrs. Geo. Ritchie & Co. ordered a quantity of goods from England by Atlantic Cable and to-day they are showing them in their store here, and moreover a portion of these had, we understand, to be manufactured after the order was received. This is very quick work, and speaks well for the promptness of English Houses as well as for the enterprise of Messrs Ritchie & Co.

ABOMINABLE.—The following from the 'Whig' may apply with equal force to somebody in Belleville:—"The beastly, vulgar habits of some men are disgusting, and we intend this remark to apply to those who create a nuisance in our halls (and in Sydenham Steet Church last evening) by spitting tobacco juice on the floor, and otherwise conducting themselves in such an uncouth manner as to merit no countenance from respectable society."

MONEY ORDERS.—The following additional article of agreement between the Post Office Department of the Dominion and that of the United States is published:—To facilitate the exchange of money orders between the United States and Canada, it is agreed that all money orders mailed at the exchange office in the U. S. and addressed to payees in Canada shall be transmissible in the mails between the two countries free of postage. This article shall take effect immediately, and shall have equal duration with the postal arrangement now in force between the United States and the Dominion of Canada.

CANADIAN TRUNK LINES.

(From the RAILROAD WORLD.)

"The relation of the Great Western, the Grand Trunk and Southern Railroads of Canada to the railway system of this country is rather anomalous. Practically, they form part of lines of railway between leading cities and districts of country in the United States, by connecting at their termini with railways in the States, and become competitors for traffic with other lines of railway. The Grand Trunk also connects with Montreal, a shipping point in Canada. The first two of these Companies are mainly owned in England, and are controlled by English shareholders. It is well understood that their presence has been, since their construction, an element of trouble to the trunk lines in arranging proper rates of freight between the west and east. The New York Central meets the competition from the Grand Trunk Railway throughout New England, and its policy as to raise rates has to be adjusted to the action of this Canadian Company. This policy has been frequently in opposition to the interests of the other trunk lines and to the business of the city of New York. It is entirely within the power of these Canadian Companies to prevent any harmonious or profitable arrangements being made between our American trunk lines. In other words, the management of these Canadian Companies can determine, to a great extent, the profitable results of the working of our own east and west lines of railway.

It is further well to remember that these Canadian railways are beyond any control of our State or National Governments. They pay no tax of any kind to any city, county or State of this country, or nation. The labor they employ is not ours, but Canadian; the material used upon the road is of Canadian production or of English manufacture. The profit derived from the expenditure of the money to build and sustain the working of these lines is kept in Canada. Yet the main supply of traffic to sustain them comes from our country and in competition with our railway companies.

Now, is it not a fair question for the Congress of the United States to consider how far this kind of competition should be allowed? Every ton of grain or of goods that passes over those Canadian lines, from the west to the east, or vice versa, is just so much wealth taken from the people of this country, and by a competitor over which we have no control, yet one, as has been noticed, that may largely control our trunk lines. Charity begins at home—or call it selfishness. Every shipper, every farmer or producer, every merchant, every consumer in the east, northeast and northwest, at least, is injured by this division of the traffic; because if the whole amount of United States business done on these roads was distributed among the trunk lines, or given mainly to two of these lines, they could afford to carry such and all freight at lower rates. The larger the traffic the less the cost of carrying.

Why might not Congress enact a law that would regulate this competition?

It may be to the interest of the parties controlling these Canadian railways to bear these suggestions in mind. In some respects we are a patient people, certainly a liberal one; but when the people see that they are injured, and their property lessened in value, because of competion from these companies, they will not be very long in finding a remedy, and when found it will be effectual."

PROBABILITIES.—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

CERTAINTIES.—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like MUIR & LAWRENCE'S where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKESS AND DEBILITY.

Epsom, N. H., May 3. 1870.

Dear Sir—Having received great benefit from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise, During the late war I was in the army, and had the misfortuud to be taken prisoner, and was confined in Salisburg and other Southern prisons several months, and became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained some two months and then came home. My physicians recommended and procured for me several bottles of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since; and I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether arising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, GEO. S. BIXBY.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF BLACKMAIL.

In August two very gentlemanly-looking persons registered at a Montreal hotel as "F. T. Wilder" and "G. A. Rogers." they were quiet and retiring in their manners and were supposed to be tourists. Rogers left town in a day or so, but Wilder as he was called, remained for quite a time and apparently was in great distress of mind. He shunned the notice of his fellow-guests, and his conduct had awakened suspicions and enquiries were being made about him, when suddenly, in response to a telegram, he left by the afternoon train for the United States. The cause of his presence in Montreal, and his sudden departure, are owing to the following train of circumstances. In July last Dr. H. F. Damon, of Boston, was called on to professionally attend a Miss Addie E. Ward, a rather elderly woman, who pretended to or really did fall in love with him. The doctor however, did not reciprocate the attachment and was on the eve of sailing on a pleasure trip to Europe when a letter from Miss Ward was placed in his hands. In this missive she accused him of breach of promise of marriage, seduction and abortion. He was greatly alarmed at the prospect of such a story gaining currency and was advised by Mr. C. A. Barry, Supervisor of Drawing in the Public Schools of Boston to try and hush it up. Barry was also an acquaintance of Miss Ward's. No satisfactory terms being arrived at, Barry, a lawyer named McFarlane, and Geo. A. Rogers, a private detective, induced Dr. Damon to leave the city, on the ground that Miss Ward was taking steps to have him arrested. The Dr who was now fearfully alarmed, fled in company with one of the three before mentioned persons, and went to New York, thence to Maine, then on to Sherbrook, P. Q., and at last he came to Montreal in a nervous prostration from the terrible mental excitement he had been undergoing. When he reached here, lawyer McFarlane wrote, strictly enjoining him not to visit the United States nor to correspond with any one without his, McFarlane's, consent he in the meantime to try and "fix" matters. The doctor having been from home for some time, and his family becoming alarmed for his safety, enquiries were made, resulting in his discovery here. When the lawyer learned of this he wrote to the doctor to change his name from "Wilder" to J. P. Black" and to go to an obscure town in Massachusetts, while another lawyer offered to settle with Miss Ward for $1,250 and costs. In despair Damon began to suspect that there was a conspiracy and, unbeknown to any one, he wrote to his father. He had been junketed about the country from July to August 28th, paying all the bills including those of Barry, Roger and a man named Warner, amounting to about $1,008, and his father an learning all particulars soon got him home again, and now the doctor has taken proceedings against all concerned for conspiring to levy blackmail.

ABOUT WOMEN.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FOR OUR LADY READERS—FALL STYLES.

Ulsters for ladies are out of fashion.

There is a woman's printing school in Berlin.

Wedding invitations are on small note sheets.

Frowns blast your children as frosty nights blast your plants.

Elbow sleeves filled with illusions make the arm look plumper.

Lace which has been discarded for ages is again coming to the light.

Woman sufferages receive nearly forty per cent. of the votes of Colorado.

"Women can talk if she can't vote," says the "Woman's Journal." You bet!

Meissonier never paints women. He regards it as a work of supererogation.

The latest kid gloves have a side cut that adds to the symmetry of the arm.

Hotel life is for women what garrison life is for men—leisure without repose.

Among the new lace conceits are large collars copied from historic portraits.

Lace mitts, white, light colored or black, will be worn for full dress as heretofore.

Russian ladies are more anxious to marry because they have no liberty when single.

A woman's hair is her crown of glory, but her hat is getting to be a crown of feathers.

Ladies who have any regard for their figures should never do anything in a hurry. Haste makes waist.

Warm petticoats for ordinary winter wear are of gray felt, trimmed with rows of black braid two inches wide.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKESS AND DEBILITY.

Epsom, N. H., May 3, 1870.

Dear Sir—Having received great benefit from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the late war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and was confined in Salisburg and other Southern prisons several months, and became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained some two months and then came home. My physicians recommended and procured for me several bottles of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good [illegible] since; and I can cheerfully rec[illegible] weakness and de-

FILLITER vs OSTROM.

PURSUANT to the Decree and final order for sale made in this cause, and bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1877, and the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1877, there will be sold by Public Auction, with the approbation of Samuel Shaw Lazier, Esquire Master of this Court at Belleville, at his office in the Shire Hall, in the Town of Belleville, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, on the following lands and premises:

Saturday, the 17th day of November 1877

Lot number one, on plan of part of Lots numbers four and five, in the first concession of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, made for the Bleecker Estate, duly registered, and now in the Town of Belleville.

The property will be sold in one lot or block, and consists of a water-mill privilege on the west bank of the river Moira, in West Belleville, or the Grove, and has erected thereon a frame saw-mill, 75x25, containing a gang of saws, one circular, edgers, butters and slash saw and the necessary belting and machinery for running same.

Also, a frame Carding and Fulling Mill, 30 feet square, 2 stories high, but not fitted with machinery.

Also, a frame dwelling house 24x30, two stories,—all in good state of repair,—and known as the Ostrom Saw-mill property.

The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay down a deposit of, in the proportion of $10 for every $100 of his purchase money to the vendor or his Solicitor, and shall pay the remainder of his purchase money within one month from date of sale.

In all other respects, the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Further particulars can be had from the Law Office of Ponton & Denmark; Thomas Holden, Geo. D. Dickson, and the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, in the Town of Belleville, and to defendant, Ostrom on the premises.

Dated at Belleville, this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1877.

POND'S EXTRACT.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE FUR COUNTRY.

PART FIRST.

"I tell you we are going down!" repeated poor Mrs. Joliffe.

"And I tell you we are going up; look how the dogs pull!"

Whoever was right, the dogs became uneasy. The ascent was, in fact, pretty steep; the sledge dashed along at a reckless pace, and was already considerably in advance of the rest of the party. Mr. and Mrs. Joliffe pumped up and down every instant, the surface of the snow became more and more uneven, and the pair, flung first to one side and then to the other, knocked against each other and the sledge, and were horribly bruised and shaken. But the Corporal would listen neither to the advice of his wife nor to the shouts of Lieutenant Hobson. The latter, seeing the danger of this reckless course, urged on his own animals, and the rest of the caravan followed at a rapid pace.

But the Corporal became more and more excited—the speed of his equipage delighted him. He shouted, he gesticulated, and flourished his long whip like an accomplished sportsman.

"Wonderful things these whips," he cried; "the Esquimaux wield them with unrivaled skill!"

"But you are not an Esquimaux!" cried Mrs. Joliffe, trying in vain to arrest the arm of her imprudent husband.

"I have heard tell," resumed the Corporal—"I've heard tell that the Esquimaux can touch any dog they like in any part, that they can even cut out a bit of one of their ears with the stiff thong at the end of the whip. I am going to try."

"Don't try, don't try, Joliffe!" screamed the poor little woman, frightened out of her wits.

"Don't be afraid, Mrs. Joliffe, don't be afraid; I know what I can do. The fifth dog on the right is misbehaving himself; I will correct him a little!"

But Corporal Joliffe was evidently not yet enough of an Esquimaux to be able to manage the whip with its thong four feet longer than the sledge; for it unrolled with an ominous hiss, and rebounding, twisted itself round Corporal Joliffe's own neck, sending his fur cap into the air, perhaps with one of his ears in it.

At this moment the dogs flung themselves on one side, the sledge was overturned, and the pair were flung into the snow. Fortunately it was thick and soft, so that they escaped unhurt. But what a disgrace for the Corporal! how reproachfully his little wife looked at him, and how stern was the reprimand of Lieutenant Hobson!

The sledge was picked up, but it was decided that henceforth the reins of the dogs, like those of the household, were to be in the hands of Mrs. Joliffe. The crest-fallen Corporal was obliged to submit, and the interrupted journey was resumed.

No incident worth mentioning occurred during the next fifteen days. The weather continued favorable, the cold was not too severe, and on the 1st of May the expedition arrived at Fort Enterprise.

CHAPTER VI.—A WAPITI DUEL.

Two hundred miles had been traversed since the expedition left Fort Reliance. The travellers, taking advantage of the long twilight, pressed on day and night, and were literally overcome with fatigue when they reached Fort Enterprise, near the shores of Lake Snare.

This fort was no more than a depot of provisions, of little importance, erected a few yeas before by the Hudson's Bay Company. It served as a resting place for men taking the convoys of furs from the [illegible] Bear Lake, some three hundred miles further to the north-west. About a dozen soldiers formed the garrison. The fort consisted of a wooden house surrounded by palisades. But, [illegible] it offered, Lieutenant [illegible] and comforts it offered, Lieutenant [illegible] companions gladly took refuge in [illegible] rested there for two days.

The gentle influence of the Arctic Spring was beginning to be felt. Here and there the snow had melted, and the temperature of the nights was no longer below freezing point. A few delicate mosses and slender grasses clothed the rugged ground with their soft verdure; and from between the stones peeped the moist calices of tiny, almost colorless flowers. These faint signs of reawakening vegetation, after the long night of winter, were refreshing to eyes weary of the monotonous whiteness of the snow; and the scattered specimens of the Flora of the Arctic regions were welcomed with delight.

Mrs. Paulina Barnett and Jasper Hobson availed themselves of this leisure time to visit the shores of the little lake. They were both students and enthusiastic lovers of nature. Together they wandered among the ice masses, already beginning to break up, and the waterfalls created by the action of the sun. The surface itself of Lake Snare was still intact, not a crack denoted the approaching thaw; but it was strewn with the ruins of mighty icebergs, which assumed all manner of picturesque forms, and the beauty of which was heightened when the light, diffracted by the sharp edges of the ice, touched them with all manner of colors. One might have fancied that a rainbow, crushed in a powerful hand had been flung upon the ground, its fragments crossing each other as they fell.

"What a beautiful scene!" exclaimed Mrs. Paulina Barnett. "These prismatic effects vary at every change of our position. Does it not seem as if we were bending over the opening of an immense kaleidoscope, or are you already weary of a sight so new and interesting to me?"

"No, madame," replied the Lieutenant; "although I was born and bred on this continent, its beauties never pall upon me. But if your enthusiasm is so great when you see this scenery with the sun shining upon it, what will it be when you are privileged to behold the sterrile grandeur of the Winter? To own the truth, I think the sun, so much thought of in temperate latitudes, spoils my Arctic home."

"Indeed!" exclaimed Mrs. Barnett, smiling at the Lieutenant's last remark; "for my part, I think the sun a capital travelling companion, and I shall not be disposed to grumble at the warmth it gives even in the polar regions!"

"And, madame," replied Jasper Hobson, "I am one of those who think it best to visit Russia in the winter, and the Sahara Desert in the Summer. You then see their peculiar characteristics to advantage. The sun is a star of the torrid and temperate zones, and is out of place thirty degrees from the North Pole. The true sky of this country is the pure frigid sky of Winter, bright with constellations, and sometimes flushed with the glory of the aurora borealis. This land is the land of the night, not of the day; and you have yet

The Daily Ontario.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 16

IN response to a deputation of Irishmen, in regard to the O'Donoghue affair, Mr. Laurier stated that the Government would introduce into Parliament a measure for the relief of O'Donoghue, so as o place him on the same footing as Reil Lepine.

e suicide of William F. Coolbough, Pr lent of the Union National Bank, Ch go, and a leading spirit in financial circl , is another social episode of import ce. The real cause of the sad act is veiled in mystery, but domestic unhappiness is hinted as being at the bottom. He shot himself through the head while kneeling at the base of the monument to Stephen A. Douglas, who was when living a warm personal friend of Coolbough.

MR. WILLIAM MACDOUGALL says he is the very pink of Reformers; that the men who call themselves Reformers today have no right to the name; and "from experience of political parties" he believes that Sir John Macdonald is a better Reformer than Mr. Blake or any of "these so-called Reformers." Of course the Pacific Scandal and Northern Railway revelations, to say nothing of the North-west difficulties and a host of other well-known affairs, are ample testimony to the claim of Sir John to all that Mr. Macdougall asserts.

CANDIDATES for teachers' second-class certificates are reminded that the holders of Intermediate certificates will now be admitted to the Ottawa Normal School. An attendance for one session of three months, and passing the professional examination, entitles students to second class certificates. In addition to this, the travelling expenses of successful candidates to and from Ottawa will be refunded them. Besides these substantial advantages to holders of Intermediate certificates, at the Ottawa Normal School, there is yet another in the payment of two dollars per week by the Department to successful students, to assist them in paying their board while in attendance at the school.

"HUNTING IN PAIRS."

The Kingston Daily News assures us that it was not "horrified" but only "surprised" at the idea of Dominion and Provincial Ministers "hunting together." Our contemporary then proceeds to state its reasons for being "surprised," but as we have heard them several times before a repetition here is unnecessary. What Mr. Mackenzie contended for when in Opposition he still adheres to. Sir John made Provincial politics serve an important factor in promoting his own interests at Ottawa. Mr. Mackenzie, and with him other leading Reformers, have objected to any semblance of union between the two bodies, or no more than constitutional practices would warrant. They still maintain the same opinion and act upon it. At the public meetings lately held, where members of the Dominion and Ontario Governments spoke, there was no collusion of interests. Each spoke for himself or the branch he represented. This course was made necessary by the attacks previously indulged in by Conservative speakers. Both Governments had been assailed, and both were defended by their respective members. The News will have to hunt up some better proof of Mr. Mackenzie's being a demagogue. Its arguments in this case do not "hold water."

WORKINGMEN'S TESTIMONIAL.

Sir John has repeatedly announced himself the workingmen's friend, but somehow the class thus honored are slow to recognize the relationship. In order, however, to give some force to the assumption and qualify the claim a so-called "workingmen's testimonial" is periodically in order. The Globe tells how the thing is managed :—"It is reported that a 'workingmen's' testimonial in honour of the Chieftain is being got up in this city. It is hardly necessary to say that the character of the movement is like unto that of the Brantford and other affairs of the same description. The 'workingman' in the present instance is represented as a collector of funds by young kid-gloved exquisites with a strong flavor of the U. E. Club perfume about them, and funds are solicited with a generous disregard for social distinctions, the last 'workingman' we heard of as one who was invited to contribute being a member of the legal profession. What a thorough sham is the Conservative party! Bogus through and through!"

OBSERVATIONS.

SOME of the heirs of the late Com. Vanderbilt, and we might say all of them, with the single exception of the lucky Wm. H., are making a determined attack upon his "last will and testament." The social and business life of the dead Commodore are being shown up in a way to please the gossips.

THE Globe intimates, and several others of our exchanges applaud the resolution, that hereafter less personal abuse will characterize the discussion of pub- [illegible] leading organ. Let

THE B. & N. H. R.

Mr Lloyd continued, and read a number of letters, showing his connection in business with Mr. Pardee, and the operations performed by them, and contended that from these letters it should be inferred that the financial embarrassment of Mr. Pardee was the cause of the work not being completed. He denied that he had misappropriated any of Mr Pardee's money, and averred that he had honestly and loyally expended it. He had ordered the Secretary to give Mr Pardee Jr full and free access to the books and papers. Mr Pardee had copies of the monthly statements of expenditures as they had been sent to him, and he had made copious extracts from the books. He thought none of his friends had been poisoned against him by the rumors which were afloat about his actions in connection with the road. Efforts were made to injure him by some people here, and he doubted not if Mr Pardee was present that everything would be satisfactorily settled in a short time. He was anxious to push on the work, and it was no matter for the people to consider their legal difficulties, but to see how the road could be built. He had not the means to pay the men; he was a beggar; but he would gladly pay all indebtedness if he could. He had large landed and mining interests in the county and would hypothecate them for $10,000 in order to pay the men. He was determined to build this road; he was at its inception, and he would be here in Madoc when it was completed. He had some iron in Belleville, and would hypothecate his interest in it to pay the men. He had spoken to Mr Pardee Jr. about the working of the road, and he Mr P thought that it would not pay. It was because he Mr L would not let the road be built in a slovenly manner, which Mr P considered would be accepted by the Government, that he Mr L had been traduced and maligned. He denied that he was ever drunk or that he played cards, and yet a letter containing such charges against him were sent to a bank manager in Belleville. A spirit of vindictiveness seemed to follow him wherever he went. He next adverted to the purchase of the G J R and the necessity for it and contended that had he acted in that matter like a dishonest man he could, from the opportunities presented him, have made lots of money. After Mr Pardee got interested in the G J R he wished to get rid of his contract with it, and he (Mr L) made arrangements with Messrs. Pusey & Humphreys to assume his Mr P's interest. He could not understand why young Pardee should come here and stop the further progress of the road. In the building of the G J R, he had found it necessary, inasmuch as the men on the B & N H R had not been paid, to put up $2,500 as an earnest of his intentions with first named: this sum having been taken from $6,000 got by a note of Mr Falkiner's; the balance being given to the men. He was quite willing to leave the verdict in the hands of the people."

In response to Mr O'Flynn, Mr Lloyd said copies of all monthly disbursements made on the work were sent to Mr Pardee. He averred that Mr Pardee had not lost confidence in him, and was well aware what the "nigger" was in the fence.

Calls for an adjournment were here made, and the meeting closed till 7 p m.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

The evening session opened with a large attendance of ratepayers who manifested considerable interest in the proceedings.

Mr Lloyd resumed. He adverted to the effort made to financier for the road and avowed that the money could be procured by means of notes. He read a letter among a lot which stated that an arrangement had been made for procuring the necessary funds for the building of the road but Mr Pardee had not complied with the provisions of the proposed loan. He made other efforts for both iron and money but unsuccessfully. One arrangement had among others been made with Mr Coglan of Montreal for the iron and with the Bank of Montreal for $35,000, to offset which the $66,000 expected from the Government, $30,000 from Madoc and a like sum from the County were to be hypothecated. Mr Coglan came up here and went to see Mr Bell on the subject and when he heard that, he, Mr L, considered that his labor had gone for naught. Mr Coglin said he had conversed with Mr Bell and that gentleman said that he considered the county bonus was not worth the paper it was written on. He here read a letter of Mr Wood's in regard to the second extension of the by-law. He had heard that the necessary money could be procured for the building of the road from the Federal Bank on securities. The conditions on which Mr Wood said he could obtain a loan were that the bonuses should be as county bonuses and amount to $66,000 which were to be put in the hands of trustees; that the men were to be paid and that Mr Shanley should survey the road but that all moneys should pass through Mr Mr Wood's hands. This was a fact as Mr Wood had wrote to Mr Pardee so.

Mr Wood. That's not so and I have no hesitation in saying it. He, Mr W. in his conference for money was told that Mr Lloyd was in bad repute in Montreal and that the money should be drawn from the Federal Bank by the Board. He wrote to Mr Pardee to that effect and he offered the same securities as Mr Lloyd had done. His letters would state that and he was prepared to stand by it.

Mr Lloyd continued. He wondered why it was that Mr Wood was named as the one through whose hands the money had to pass. He did not see why Mr Wood should have the handling of this money although it had been said the road could not go on without putting his finger in the pie. He read a statement made on his behalf at the Board meeting asking an investigation in regard to his misappropriation of money and challenged any one to put their finger on anything improper on his part or to say he had caused any expenses dee had entrusted him with large sums of money which he had returned at times when he considered justice was not done to Mr Pardee. It was hoped that some fraud on his, Mr Lloyd's part would have been found by his enemies who were now hounding him; some irregularity they could pick out, was wanted by them, but they could not attain it. Pusey & Co had contemplated the building of the road, its extension, and the building of furnaces the cost of the mines which aggregated 5,199 acres and other capital would make $1,500,000. Later on Mr P showed a disposition to abandon the enterprise and offered to sell out at a sacrifice. A third of a series of letters from Mr Pusey was read in which he said his efforts to raise money for the road were cut short by a cablegram to the effect that Mr Pardee had withdrawn his option. Another letter was read from Mr Pardee which stated Mr Wood was not worth the salary paid him and advising a conciliatory policy and to bide time. Another was read wherein Mr Wood asked his situation for three years longer. In conclusion he said he would build the road arrangements were being made to that end and all the Woods and Bells could not prevent it. He asked that his efforts of the past should be judged as what he should do in the future. (Cheers.)

Mr. Wood said that when attacked as he had been he had a right to reply. If associating with John Bell was disreputable, he wanted to be in that company all the time. Mr Bell was an honorable gentleman, and he was proud of his acquaintance. Mr Lloyd's statements about him were untrue. In anything he wrote to Mr Pardee, he said nothing that he was not afraid of being shown. He had not poisoned Mr Pardee's mind against Mr Lloyd, and he here emphatically denied it and added that his statement had been endorsed by Mr. Pardee, Jr. He had written to Mr. Pardee, and he would read the letter sent. He had spoken to Mr Bowell about the money to be raised, and no attempt had been made to make capital of it. He was not aware why there was suspicion against Mr Lloyd, and did not know anything to warrant it. He had never attempted anything that would have a tendency to prevent the working of the mines. All this difficulty between Mr Lloyd and himself would not build the road or help it, and now it befel him to make a reply to what had been said. He read a complimentary letter written by Mr Pardee, and asking him to keep him (Mr P.) posted. A copy of his reply was read thereto, referring to the points raised and his ideas on them. He had told Judge Dean that he was willing to be guided by what he had written, and had never said anything to injure Mr Lloyd. He had talked with Mr. Bowell on this subject, and he had not said or done anything to injure Mr Lloyd. He respected Mr Bell and the Messrs. Pardee, and there was no reason why anything could be thought wrong of them. There were no fair grounds to bring charges against him, and he had been unjustly dealt with. Mr Pardee had never shown him a letter; his Solicitor had said what he had done was only honorable and fair. What he stated were facts, and would be believed by those who knew him. It was of no interest to read the correspondence produced, but the question was, what were the best means to bring about a completion of the railway?

Mayor Foster said he had been a Director of the Board of the B. & N. H.R., but until lately little had been done. The Board met after Mr Pardee's arrival to receive Mr Pardee, Sr.'s, resignation, and appoint his son. He had thought it due to the County that a public man here should be appointed to the Presidency (Mr Bowell for instance), but that had been demurred to and was not acted on. With regard to the kidnapping affair, he said that he was not kidnapped, as was rumored. At a meeting of the Board Mr Pardee, Jr., was appointed President and Mr Lloyd was placed under the direction of the Board. Subsequently a meeting was called to repeal Mr. Lloyd's powers. The result was that Mr Lloyd said he would give up his position if the road would go on, and he was then named as Managing Director without anything to do. Again, Mr Lloyd's position on the Board was demurred to and after considering the matter, he deemed it best that a public man and not an alien should be on the Board. He did not support Mr Moffatt as he could not favor a man who was unknown. The only interest he had to serve was that of the public, and as the money belonging to the public was being spent now a man who would be able to control an influence would be placed upon the Board.

Mr Wood here said that Mr Bell told him he would advise a meeting of the Board of Directors on Saturday or Monday.

Mr N B Falkiner was glad to be able to speak, and he hoped he would not hurt the feelings of any one in doing so. He had a home and family in Belleville, and considered that this road would be beneficial to the town. He had assisted at the inception of this scheme, and was identified with it when any one in Belleville so situated, was considered to be in hot water. The B & N H R commenced nowhere and ended nowhere, and consequently the G J R was a necessity. Of the latter road he spoke and the bonus given it by the town for nothing, and said those who belonged to the B & N H R were looked on as enemies of the G J R and this resulted in a bitter feeling. It was determined by Mr Kelso that the B & N H R should be like the tail of a cow—a little attache to the G J R, and that the cars of the former couldn't pass over the latter road unless by process of law. Mr Pardee bought the Bickford claim so that he could have the head, body and tail of the cow. He then related the action which resulted in the injunction being served on the G J R and the troubles which afterwards occurred. He gave a brief history of the efforts to build the G J R, and then spoke on the B & N H R. He had nothing to do with the quarrels of Messrs Pardee, Lloyd and Wood but would tell them the last of this eventful funeral. Six weeks ago himself and three days after there was a change. Then Mr Pardee h [illegible] fidence in Mr Lloyd; the G J R [illegible] on and had the road been built [illegible] dee would have been $102,000 ah [illegible], and the G J R from Belleville to Campbellford wouldn't have cost him a cent. He vindicated the character of Mr Lloyd and asserted that if Ario Pardee was here for two hours all difficulties would be settled. He concluded amid great cheering.

Mr G D Dickson spoke. He said there were certain features connected with this road which to his mind were inexplicable as Mr Pardee according to a statement would have made over $300,000 three weeks ago and why he should deliberately throw away such a sum and place the community it its present situation he could not imagine. He respected Mr Pardee and he would be sorry to see his name go down especially as he was identified with the grand schemes of the B & N H R and the G J R which could not but redound to the benefit of the people. Mr Lloyd had been instrumental in the spending

This latter was a great detriment to the farmers as they had grown a great deal of shipping grain which occupied too much time in being taken to market as it was such a distance away now. The time has arrived when a railroad in this section is a necessity and the person who prevents it cannot do so with impunity. He hoped that the road would be built.

A motion expressing confidence in Mr. Bowell and asking him to withdraw his resignation was passed and the meeting broke up.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Sweet cider by the gallon at Mrs. Vandervoorts.

THE CELLS.—Three tramps and one prisoner lodged in the cells last night.

Have you left your photographs at Reynolds' to be painted by Sibbald.

PRAYER MEETINGS.—The prayer meetings of the Y. M. C. A. are held nightly in their rooms and are fairly attended.

PEN AND PLOW.—The November number of this literary gem has been received. Only one dollar a year, or ten cents a copy. P. O. Box, 3242 New York.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—We are informed that some shoddy cloth peddlers are now in Prince Edward and that they are doing a rushing business. Humbuggery seems to be the order of the day—especially in this section.

THE T. & O. R. R.—We are informed that the surveyors have secured a favorable route for the Toronto & Ottawa Railroad, through the Township of Elzevir.

MUD.—There is enough mud on the streets now to keep a large force of corporation laborers at work for a week scraping it away. It would be greatly to the interest of all were the mud removed.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.—Mr D. B. Robertson, as will be seen by announcement, offers himself as a candidate for Alderman for Baldwin Ward for 1878. Others will doubtless follow his example in a few days.

ESTRAY.—Parties having animals on their premises which do not belong to them run a great risk by not advertising them, as damages for them can be claimed unless public notice has been given about the animals.

APPOINTMENT.—Captain Carroll for many years Master of the Bay of Quinte and latterly Purser of the Alexandra has been appointed an overseer at the Central Prison. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

MARINE.—The William Elgin has arrived and is discharging coal at Lee's dock. The Oswego Belle left for Trenton last night. The Kincardine with 7,500 bushels of barley left for Oswego this afternoon. The Kate will complete her cargo at Campbell & Co's dock.

ORGAN FACTORY.—The attention of the reader is directed to the announcement of Mr W. H. Bland of the Belleville Organ Factory. Mr. Bland has long since established a reputation as an organ maker, second to none in the country, and his large and increasing business, is an evidence of the favor in which his instruments are held. He is agent for the most celebrated pianos, which he offers for sale at manufacturers' prices. See advertisement.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Mr. Poole passed through here to-day on his way home to Toronto. He visited Prince Edward during the week and delivered three lectures to large and appreciative audiences. The rev. gentleman has attained considerable celebrity by the brilliancy and excellence of his lectures and his services are now eagerly sought for. The discourse delivered here was very highly admired, and we only wish that efforts will be made to have it repeated at an early day.

RACING.—A trotting meeting opened on Wednesday at the Bay Side track and was very fairly attended. The opening consisted of a trot for local horses which was won by Mr. John Nicholson's black mare Annie Foster. Yesterday the events comprised a district trot and a 2.40 race. The first event was won by the Queen of Wellington. Mr. Corcoran's Kitty captured one heat in this race and her owner thinking his beast superior to her antagonist matched her for $25 for a race for this afternoon. Two heats in the 2.40 contest were trotted and were taken by Mr. Morton's Cheap John. The deciding heat or heats of this race were set down for this afternoon.

LARCENY.

William McKee charged William Jenkins with the larceny of $5.00 from him at the Windsor House last night.

It appears that the parties to the case were examining two trunks belonging to the complainant and in one of them was a roll of bills which Jenkins picked up but subsequently returned—as McKee alleges—less $5.00.

After hearing the evidence the Magistrate sent the case up for trial.

THE village of Blairton is receding, and beginning to have the appearance of a deserted locality. When the mines were in operation, a few years ago, there was quite an influx of people, it was prosperous, and the thriving little place presented a busy spectacle. With the suspension of work in the mines, the miners were obliged to seek other places for employment. Family after family left, and grdually it became depopulated. Once it had a post office and issued money orders; now both have been cancelled.

MR. VENNOR tells us that between the Lievre and Ottawa rivers lies a vast belt of apatite—phosphate of lime—which at its outer edges approaches the surface, but which towards the middle is deeply buried under formations of more recent geological date. It is believed that this identical belt of apatite crosses under the Ottawa river, and is continued southward and westward, capped over for a long distance by immense deposits of Silurian limestones and sandstones, between Ottawa and Perth, until it crops out again in the township o North Burgess at Rideau, at Sydenham village, back of Kingston, and other localities not far distant.

THE Postmaster of Spring Brook, Hastings County, writes to the Globe to ask if there is any such firm as "The Canadian Seed Company," doing business at No. 290 King Street East, Toronto, and saying that a person giving that address, and whom he suspects to be a swindler, is going around that county taking orders for a new variety of spring wheat called Quio, or Poland Club. There is no seed firm in the Dominion that we are aware of called "The Dominion Seed Company." The address given is an unoccupied house which has been empty for some time. We know of no new variety of spring wheat of the names mentioned.

MELANGE.

A Sunday-School class in Wilmington, Del. was asked who was the author of the Psalms. Silence at first, then a little hand was held up. "I know." "Who?" "Sam!"

"Why," asked a teacher in the Sunday school, "did Solomon send the sluggard to the ant?" "Because," said a thirteen-year old boy, "he knew his aunt would have him at the woodpile, or in the onion bed every afternoon as soon as school was out.

A little girl named Libby O'Brien, only thirteen years old, has been convicted in New York city on the charge of committing a great number of house robberies, probably fifty. She is rather pretty and very innocent in appearance. Her system was a simple one. She was in the habit of walking into private houses and asking for some imaginary person, and generally contrived to steal either money or jewelry. Her youth shielded her from all suspicion. A woman named Kloss was sent to the State prison for thieving on the evidence of this girl, and there is now some doubt of her guilt. Libby expended the proceeds of her thefts in dress and good living.

Here is a classification of kisses in rhymes;

"There is a formal kiss of fashion
And a burning kiss of passion;
A father's kiss,
And a sister's kiss to move.
There's a traitor's kiss for gold,
Like a serpent's clammy fold,
A first kiss,
A stolen kiss,
And a thrilling kiss of love.
A meeting kiss,
A maiden kiss,
A kiss when fond hearts sever,
But the saddest kiss
On earth is this—
A kiss to part for ever!"

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKESS AND DEBILITY.

Epsom, N. H., May 3, 1870.

Dear Sir—Having received great benefit from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the late war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and was confined in Salisburg and other Southern prisons several months, and became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained some two months and then came home. My physicians recommended and procured for me several bottles of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since; and I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether arising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, GEO. S. BIXBY.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

to make acquaintance with the delights and marvels of the long polar night."

"Have you ever visited the temperate zones of Europe and America?" inquired Mrs. Barnett.

"Yes, madame; and I admired them as they deserved. But I returned home with fresh love and enthusiasm for my native land. Cold is my element, and no merit is due to me for braving it. It has no power over me: and, like the Esquimaux, I can live for months together in a snow hut."

"Really, Lieutenant Hobson, it is quite cheering to hear how our dreaded enemy spoken of in such terms. I hope to prove myself worthy to be your companion, and wherever you venture, we will venture together."

"I agree madame, I agree; and may all the women and soldiers accompanying me show themselves as resolute as you. If so, God helping us, we shall indeed advance far."

"Bou have nothing to complain of yet," observed the lady. Not a single accident has occurred, the weather has been propitious, the cold not too severe—everything has combined to aid us."

"Yes, madame; but the sun which you admire so much will soon create difficulties for us, and strew obstacles in our path."

"What do you mean, Lieutenant Hobson?"

"I mean that the heat will soon have changed the aspect of the country; that the melted ice will impede the sliding of the sledges; that the ground will become rough and uneven; that our panting dogs will no longer carry us along with the speed of an arrow; that the rivers and lakes will resume their liquid state, and that we shall have to ford or go round them. All these changes madame, due to the influence of the solar rays, will cause delays, fatigue, and danger the very least of which will be the breaking of the brittle snow beneath our feet, or the falling of the avalanches from the summits of the icebergs. For all this we have to thank the gradual rise of the sun higher and higher above the horizon. Bear this in mind, madame; of the four elements of of the old creation, only one is necessary to us here, the air; the other three, fire, earth and water, are de trop in the Arctic reigons."

Of course the Lieutenant was exaggerating, and Mrs. Barnett could easily have retorted with counter-arguments; but she liked to hear his raptures in praise of his beloved country, and she felt that his enthusiasm was a guaranty that he would shrink from no obstacle.

Yet Jasper Hobson was right when he said the sun would cause difficulties. This was seen when the party set out again on the 4th of May, three days later. The thermometer, even in the coldest part of the night, marked more than 32° Fahrenheit. A complete thaw set in, the vast white sheets of snow resolved itself into water. The irregularities of the rocky soil caused constant jolting of the sledges, and the passengers were roughly shaken. The roads were so heavy that the dogs had to go at a slow trot, and the reins were therefore again intrusted to the hands of the imprudent Corporal Joliffe. Neither shout, nor flourishing of the whip had the slightest effect on the jaded animals.

From time to time the travellers lightened the sledges by walking a little way. The mode of locomotion suited the hunters, who were now gradually approaching the best district for game in the whole of English America. Mrs. Paulina Barnett and Madge took a great interest in the chase, while Thomas Black professed absolute indifference to all athletic exercises. He had not come all this distance to hunt the polecat or the ermine, but merely to look at the moon at the moment when her disc should cover that of the sun. When the queen of the night rose above the horizon, the impatient astronomer would gaze at her with eager eyes, and one day the Lieutenant said to him—

"I would be a bad look-out for you, Mr. Black, if by any unlucky chance the moon should fail to keep her appointment on the 16th July, 1860."

"Lieutenant Hobson," gravely replied the astronomer, "if the moon was guilty of such a breach of good manners, I should indeed have cause to complain."

The chief hunters of the expedition were the soldiers Marbre and Sabine, both very expert at their business. Their skill was wonderful; and the cleverest Indian would not have surpassed them in keenness of sight, precision of aim, or manual address. They were alike trappers and hunters, and were acquainted with all the nets and snares for taking sables, otters, wolves, foxes, bears, etc. No artifice was unknown to them, and Captain Craventy had shown his wisdom in choosing two such intelligent men to accompany the little troop.

While on the march, however, Marbre and Sabine had no time for setting traps. They could not separate from the others for more than an hour or two at a time, and were obliged to be content with the game which passed within range of their rifles. Still they were fortunate enough to kill two of the large American ruminants, seldom met with in such elevated latitudes.

On the morning of the 15th May the hunters asked permission to follow some fresh traces they had found, and the Lieutenant not only granted it, but himself accompanied them with Mrs. Paulina Barnett, and they went several miles out of their route towards the east.

CANCERS CURED BY A NEW, BUT CERTAIN, speedy, and nearly painless process, and without the use of the knife, The cure will be guaranteed, and as proof of this, no pay is required, until the cure is complete The moment a Cancer is discovered, it should be cured, as it will cost less and is more speedily cured than when longer standing, and there is nothing to gain, and everything to lose by delay. What now seems a a harmless lump in the breast, neck, eyelid, or elsewhere, or small wart or sore on the lip, may in a few short months become a hideous, disgusting, destroying mass of disease. If required, reference, can be given to parties who have been cured many years since, and who are now sound and healthy. All communications promptly answered.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.
Price One Dollar.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

STEWART'S WOMEN'S HOTEL.

PARTICULARS OF A PHILANTHROPIC ENTERPRISE.

An enterprise projected and begun by the late A. T. Stewart—the erection of a "Women's Hotel" on a gigantic scale—is now being completed by the managers of his estate. The site chosen is on the corner of Fourth avenue and Thirty-Second and Thirty-Third streets, New York. The building is a little over 200 feet each way, and seven stories in height, with a vacant square in the interior. It contains 502 private rooms, 115 of which are double rooms, 30 feet x 16 each, and 387 single rooms, of half that size. The outer walls are massive, no less than 36 inches thick at the top of the seventh story, and the building is considered as nearly fireproof throughout as it is possible to make it. The basement floor is of stone, the first, second and third floors of marble, and the four floors above that of hardwood, laid over cement ceilings and iron joists. Between every second room throughout the entire building there is a brick wall twenty-four inches thick, the other partitions being built of iron studding, iron laths, and the best of plaster. On the roof are two large iron tanks, each of 13,000 gallons capacity, with pipes attached connecting with every part of the building. Besides numerous and spacious stairways, there are five immense elevators, carrying from basement to roof.

It is claimed that the appointments of every room in the house are, not merely equal, but superior in every respect to those of the great hotels of New York and Saratoga. Thirteen thousand yards of superior carpets cover the floors, and every room has gas, hot and cold water, and is connected by wires with the offices. The dining room will seat 600 persons at a time, and the great kitchen, which is to be put in charge of Professor Edwards, a celebrated French cook, has capacity to cook for 5,000 people in first-class style. One thousand guests can find both board and lodging at the hotel, but besides this it will be able to accommodate two or three thousand more with three meals each per day. Outsiders are not to eat in the hotel, but will have the best of cooked food furnished to them at cost price, to be taken to their own dwellings. Not only the necessaries of life, but something more, is to be provided. There are several spacious and elegantly furnished reception rooms, also one magnificent parlor, 55x100, said to be the most beautiful parlor anywhere, and each of these rooms will contain several first class pianos. And there is also a library, which already contains 2,500 volumes, and which is to be supplied with every newspaper and periodical that is considered worth almost any woman's time to read.

The cost of the whole will be two million dollars, and the result is expected to be to give a comfortable home to 1,000 working women, and the means of living well at small cost to some 3,000 or 4,000 more. This was Mr. Stewart's design, and it will ere long be accomplished. The Women's Hotel is not to be a charitable institution; all that it furnishes must be promptly paid for. The hotel is to be conducted strictly on business principles, no charity, no trusting, but cash down for everything, in fact "cheap for cash" is to be the motto. Any woman of good character will be admitted, and the terms will be between $4 and $5 per week, certainly not to exceed the latter figure; and it is claimed that the living will be as good as that furnished in New York hotels for $5 per day. On or about New year's day the hotel will be formally opened. After we have in a manner "taken in" a proper idea of the magnificence and luxury of this "Working Women's Hotel," we begin to think what a rush there will be to secure rooms in it, and how much the fortunate thousand who manage to get in will be envied by those who come too late.

DR. TALMAGE'S STYLE.

The following paragraph has been handed us for publication showing as it does the animated style used by Rev. Dr. Talmage in his lectures. The subject was "Pagan Temples in India." Said the Doctor:

"But every god must have its temple, and the golden calf of the text is no exception. Its temple is vaster than St. Paul of the English, and St. Peter of the Italians, and the Alhambra of the Spaniards, and the Parthenon of the Greeks, and the Mahal Taj of the Hindoos, and all the other cathedrals put together. Its pillars is grooved and fluted with gold, and its chandeliers are hovering gold, and its floors are tessellated gold, and its vaults are crowded heaps of gold, and its spires and domes are soaring gold, and its organ pipes are resounding gold, and its pedals are tramping gold, and its stops pulled out are flashing gold, while standing at the head of the temple, as the presiding deity, are the hoofs and shoulders and eyes and ears and nostrils of the calf of gold. Further: every god must have not only a temple, but its altar of sacrifice, and this gold calf of the text is no exception. Its altar is not made out of stone as other altars, but out of counting-room desks and fireproof safes, and it is a broad, a long, a high altar. The victims sacrificed on it are the Swartouts, and the Ketchams, and the Fisks, and the Tweeds, and the Mortons, and ten thousand other people who are slain before this golden calf. What does this god care about the groans and struggles of the victims before it? What cold, metallic eye it looks on and yet lets them suffer. O! heavens and earth what an altar! what a sacrifice of body, mind and soul! The physical health of a great multitude is flung on to this sacrificial altar. They cannot sleep, and they take chloral and morphine and intoxicants. Some of them struggle in a night-mare of stocks, and at 1 o'clock in the morning suddenly rise up shouting; 'A thousand shares on New York Central—one hundred and fifty-eight and a half!' until the

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 19.

THERE are not only less business failures now than a while ago, but those that do occur do no involve so many others in the common ruin. This must be taken as an indication of greater caution on the part of dealers in giving credit generally.

DURING Sir John's regime 400,000 French Canadians left the Province of Quebec for the United States, according to the showing of his own statisticians. Since the present Government came into power fully that number of immigrants rom the United States is reported. How is this accounted for?

THE Japanese did not take part in the American Centennial for mere pastime. They went to compare their own manufactures with those of other and more enlightened nations, and were not slow in noting improvements that they had hitherto been ignorant of. The consequence is, they are now manufacturing articles that were formerly imported from Europe and America.

TUNNELLING THE ENGLISH CHANNEL.

Some time ago it was announced that a project was on foot for tunnelling the English Channel. It was to be jointly participated in by English and French companies, and simultaneously commenced from both sides. Not having heard of any progress being made in the work, the impression prevailed that the project had been abandoned. But this does not seem to be the case. On the French side of "the silver strip of the sea" operations have been begun. Shafts are being sunk and the scheme discussed with every belief in success. The conditions upon which the line, when completed, is to be worked, have been mutually agreed to by the united English and French Committees. They are briefly as follows:—

1. The general work of excavation will be done on the French side by the Great Northern Railway of France, and on the English side by the Chatham and South-Eastern Companies. The two latter have each a direct route from London to Dover. 2. Each company will pay the expenses of its portion. 3. The property of the Tunnel is to be divided in half by the length. The distance will be reckoned from coast to coast at low tide. 4. The Tunnel will belong to its founders.

To save transhipment of through freight, the companies will use each other's lines and materials, and similar arrangements will be effected with other English and Continental lines. At the expiration of thirty years the French and English Governments will be able to take possession of the Tunnel upon certain conditions.

These are the facts as detailed by recent correspondence from the "Old World." Now for the speculation deducible therefrom: When this sub-aqueous route shall be completed and opened for travel France will be brought within 30 minutes ride of England. There need be no longer any contrivance for the cure or prevention of sea-sickness, for the very best remedy imaginable will have been discovered. Henceforth those travellers who for business or recreation go from "the tight little island" to the Continent need not any longer dread the passage from Dover to Calias. They will dip beneath the wave and after only 30 minutes submersion come up at the other side perfectly dry and without any unpleasant gastronomical sensations.

MR. GLADSTONE.

The English ex-Premier is now in Ireland for the first time in his life, and is doing his best to make himself thoroughly acquainted with all classes of Irish character and all kinds of Irish society. He possesses the elements of agreeableness, and knows how to employ his persuasive faculties to good purposes. Good results will undoubtedly follow his visit. Ireland would be less discontented and troublesome did the leading English statesmen make themselves more familiar with her institutions and people. Mr. Gladstone has long delayed his visit to the Emerald Isle, but he is none the less welcome for coming near the close of an active public life. The feeling of the Irish people should be cordial towards the ex-Premier, in recognition of his eminent services to their country. The disestablishment of the Irish Church, which he accomplished, is itself sufficient to give him a warm place in their affections. We must not forget, however, that there is a class in Ireland—low, vicious and dangerous, who hate the very name of Gladstone, and who would not hesitate long in putting his life in peril. But it is scarcely probable that any very threatening exhibition of ill-feeling will be made; and the distinguished Englishman, with his accomplished wife, will return from their visit to the sister isle possessing a better knowledge of a people too little known in England.

THE flattering notice of an Orange Sermon, which appears elsewhere, will be pleasant reading to Mr. McIntosh's many friends in Belleville. We predict for him a successful future in the responsible work he has chosen to follow.

OBSERVATIONS.

THE Kingston News to the rescue. Sir John was Premier in addition to being Minister of Justice, and that is the reason why he paid so much more for cab-hire. It is as clear as mud.

WILL there be a revolution in France? This is now the question of the hour, and we observe that an English gentleman, writing privately from Paris, says such a result of the present state of affairs is only a matter of time—and a very short time, too.

THE coming Thanksgiving Day should be loyally observed by the people of Canada, who have so much to be truly thankful for. In Belleville, especially, the gifts of a merciful Providence have been lavished with a bountiful hand. Let us express our thankfulness next Thursday in a fitting way.

THE sidewalks in different parts of the town are considerably dilapidated, but perhaps it is asking too much to have them repaired at this season of the year. When the frost leaves the ground in the spring there is always necessary repairing to be done, and we can soon get along tolerably well without any sidewalks at all.

THERE is some indignation in Hamilton. The denizens of that ambitious hamlet are considerably puffed up in their own conceit, and expect deferential compliments from all who pretend to express an opinion of themselves or the city they inhabit. Lieut.-General Sir E. S. Smyth lately inspected the 13th Battalion, and did not gratify the volunteers or their friends with one complimentary remark. He listened with apparent pleasure to the music furnished by the band, and merely smiled upon the men under arms. The Times and Spec. want to know what that smile indicated.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION AT HUNTLEY.

SERMON BY REV. MR. MCINTOSH.

The Orangemen of Huntley L. O. L. No. 55, celebrated the 5th November in a fitting manner. They marched from their lodge room to the Methodist Church, where service was conducted by Rev. E. ..ford McIntosh, junior pastor. Mr. McIntosh is a young man of great energy, always appearing in the pulpit with a full knowledge of his subject, and delivering his discourses in a manner which cannot fail to impress his hearers. He has only been in his present position five months, having previously been stationed at Belleville. He has already endeared himself to the congregation. His sermon on this occasion was listened to throughout with close attention and his remarks frequently applauded. The text chosen was Isaiah, 54th chapter, and 17th verse—"No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper, saith the Lord." The rev. gentleman said in offering any remarks on this occasion he was actuated by no other motive than a sincere desire to contribute all in his power to the promotion, perpetuation and rapid spread of Christian freedom and religious liberty. Civil and religious liberty was the cause of God and must as a consequence prosper. Ever since Christianity had been launched in our midst it had been called upon to encounter rough seas and fierce gales of opposition, but God be praised, amid the terror of the storm, when gloom and dismay filled all hearts, a beacon light of hope dawned ahead, and a rainbow of promise spanned the Heavens bearing the inscription, "No Weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper." He referred to the Church of God as able to withstand all enemies, and said it would endure blows but not strike them. The march of progress under true Christianity was pointed out and commented upon at some length. The Gunpowder Plot, the anniversary of the frustration of which they were celebrating, was next taken up, and the subject handled in a clever manner. After exhorting his hearers to stand firm in faith, and to cherish the liberty secured to them under the glorious constitution of the country, the reverend gentleman concluded a highly interesting and instructive sermon.

At the close of the service it was unanimously resolved to request Mr. McIntosh to prepare the sermon in manuscript form so that it could be sent to the Ottawa Citizen for publication.

The members then marched back to the lodge and subsequently repaired to the residence of Mr. John Johnston, where they partook of a sumptuous repast, prepared by Mrs. Johnston. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were heartily thanked for their generous hospitality.

[NOTE.—We regret that want of space prevents the publication of the sermon in full.—ED.]—Ottawa Citizen.

THE POET PLUMB.

One of our contemporaries, the Cobourg World, is great on astronomy. Says our spherical friend:

"The London Advertiser says that the smaller of the two satellites of Mars, lately discovered, is considerably larger than J.B. Plumb. But the Advertiser forgets that the decision as to size all depends upon who is judge of the matter. If he can get Mr. J. B. Plumb to fall in with his opinion, he may confidently make it public; but up to the present writing we think the matter is undecided. Besides, Mr. J. Burr-Plumb was not intended for a satellite at all; and the comparison is unjust. He was intended for a poet; and if any of his Clear Grit critics can pronounce him below the first magnitude in this department, let him now declare it, or forever hereafter hold his peace. We say that as a poet politician, Jupiter himself could not hold a candle to Plumb—let alone a common satellite of a little thing like Mars."

OSLER VS. BOWELL ET AL.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Sinclair gave judgment in the above case, to which the parties are Mr. B. B. Osler, Q. C., plaintiff, and the Dominion Gas Light Co., of Belleville. The facts in the case are as follows:

Mr. Osler, then a resident of Dundas, purchased a machine for making gas from the defendants. It was neligently constructed, and he and his wife were severely injured in consequence of an explosion which nearly wrecked his house (which will be well remembered), for which he sued the Gas Company, on the grounds of negligence, and recovered a verdict for $8,300 damages, besides costs. The Company became bankrupt, and nothing could be realized from the writ of execution. The present action was then instituted against the three defendants as trustees of the Company under their articles of incorporation, under section 49, chap. 63, Consolidated Statutes of Canada, also under section 35 of the same statute, as stock-holders in the Company, not having paid up their stock. These sections make trustees and holders of unpaid up stock "liable for all debts and contracts made by the Company." The case was tried before Judge Sinclair, sitting for Mr. Justice Wilson, at the Spring Assizes for 1876. Both parties desired the findings to be stayed until another case in the Court of Queen's Bench should be decided. In that Court the Judges were equally divided and no decision was arrived at, and it has since been carried to the Court of Appeal. In this case Judge Sinclair, after citing numerous authorities, held that the plaintiff's cause of action against the Company was not a debt or contract within the meaning of these sections. A verdict was entered for the defendants, and if the Superior Court should hold that the plaintiff is entitled to recover the amount to which he is entitled to will be $8,633:37, with interest from the 29th of February 1876.—Hamilton Times Nov. 17th.

CANADIAN TRADE AND INDUSTRIES.

—It is reported that a starch factory is about to be established at Fort Erie.

—The Miramichi, the last gulf ports steamship to Montreal this season brought 1,007 barrels of oysters from Summerside, P. E. I.

—St. Hyacinthe threatens to forstall Quebec in the establishment of a beet sugar manufactory, notice of application for the incorporation of a company being given.

A company is being formed in Montreal to manufacture the new glass veneer, which is very rich looking and can be made to imitate all kinds of wood.

—Boston and its vicinity consumes about 16,000,000 dozen eggs annually. The State of Massachusetts produces only about 4,000,000 dozen. A large share of the balance comes from Prince Edward Island.

—Operations at the Nova Scotia coal mines have become brisker, and most of the mines are being worked on full time. Several large orders have been received from the United States.

—The lower Provinces are exporting potatoes to Europe, as well as Quebec. The St. John Telegraph says:—John E. O'Brien Esq., is loading his new vessel at Bathurst with potatoes for Liverpool. Nine thousand barrels will be on board this week, costing 70c. to 80c. per barrel. Special arrangements have been made for ventilation The failure of the potato crop in Great Britain seems to indicate a new market for our surplus production.

THE WAR NEWS.

Two operations of an important character are announced this morning. An assault has been, or is said to have been, made upon Plevna, resulting in the repulse of the Russians. And a report from a Russian source announces the fall of Kars yesterday after twelve hours fighting. An engagement has also taken place at Etropol, in the direction of Sofia, in which a Russian attack on the Turkish positions was repulsed with heavy loss. The Montenegrins are also reported to have captured Antivari.

A feeling in favor of peace is now manifested in high circles at Constantinople. At a Council held on Friday—presided over by the Sultan—a general feeling, in which the Sultan participated, was expressed in favor of bringing the war to a close, and a hope is expressed that England would aid in such a movement.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

PETTIT'S SALVE,

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 19

LOCAL AND GENERAL

THE CELLS.—One prisoner and six tramps were quartered in the lock-up last night.

COUNTY COUNCIL.—The last session of this body for the year 1877 opens in the Shire Hall to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock.

KETCHESON WARD.—Mr. Morgan Jellett is the first to proclaim himself as a candidate for Aldermanic honors in Ketcheson Ward.

THE ELEVATOR.—A force of men is now engaged in tearing down the charred timbers of the structure and removing the iron bolts which held the frames together.

THE MAYORALTY.—Mr. James H. Hambly in our issue of to-day inserts his card, offering himself as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1878

MUSIC.—Belleville can now boast of two bands; the Oddfellows and the 15th A. L. I. Both practice frequently and are making satisfactory progress.

THE CIVIC CHAIR.—Mr. Alex. Robertson, barrister, announces himself as a candidate for the Mayoralty and presents his card in this issue.

THANKSGIVING.—Mayor Foster has issued his proclamation calling on our citizens to suspend business and observe Thursday as a day of thanksgiving.

ARRIVED.—A majority of the members of the County Council has arrived, including many from the northern townships. The Gravel Roads Committee met this afternoon.

THE "GAZETTE".—The appointment of Mr John Brenton as one of the License Commissioners in and for the Electoral District of the West Riding of Hastings, appears in this week's Gazette.

GRAIN.—The farmers taking advantage of the good roads brought considerable grain to town to-day. Barley ranged from 55cts. to 65cts., rye, 55cts., peas, 60cts., oats, 35cts.

STREET OPENING.—Hillside Street in West Belleville is now being opened. It will prove a great boon to the people of that section and particularly to the attendants of the new C. M Church.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS.—The shipments of grain from this port for the week ending the 17th, amounted to 16,686 bushels. The total shipments to date this season are 325,863. The figures for last year were 282,875 bushels.

THE WEATHER.—Last night's frost was thus far the severest of the season. The mud in the roads was frozen hard and solid and loaded waggons passed over it readily. The roads are now in very good condition.

TO CANDIDATES.—Those who intend offering for civic honors should lose no time in making their intentions known through the columns of this paper. No time should be lost as the date for holding the elections is fast approaching.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC.—The G. T. R. is now doing a very good though not very remunerative business as a vast amount of freight is being transported over it. At this station yesterday the yard was almost completely filled with freight trains.

LAYING UP.—Already vessel men are beginning to lay up their craft for the winter and numbers have been put out of commission. The season just passed has not been profitable and but few have any thing to show as the result of their labors for this year.

HIDES AND LEATHER.—A meeting of the Board of Examiners for the purpose of testing the qualification of applicants for the office of Inspector or Deputy Inspector of Hides and Leather in this district, will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock in Phippen & Graham's office.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—An exchange makes the following valuable suggestion to correspondents: "When writing for information, it is customary to enclose a stamp for reply. The stamp should be stuck to the letter by first moistening its entire face, and then subjecting it to a letter press. If a press is not handy, a heavy weight in position one night will do."

WIRE FENCES.—Acting under the instructions of the County Council, the Road Superintendent has built portions of wire and tight board fences on roads which during the winter are blocked with snow drifts. A wire fence 36 rods long and costing $54 (half of which is paid by the County) has been built on the road between Belleville and Frankford, and a light board fence has been erected in a "drifted" locality in Hungerford. Should either of the above experiments be a success, a general system of fencing will be adopted on those lines of roads which become blocked during the winter.

LARCENY.

George Hanshaw was charged with stealing a black overcoat and $10, the property of John Shannon. The prisoner elected to be tried summarily and was remanded till three o'clock. The coat was ordered to be given to the prosecutor.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL,

THE article in APPLETON'S JOURNAL for December which will be considered the freshest, and most distinctly a departure from customary magazine examples, is one entitled "An Artist on Art," being the result of a colloquy with Daniel Huntington, the venerable President of the National Academy of Design, in which we have an explanation of Mr. Huntington's method of work, criticisms on contemporary art, and reminiscences of some of the old artists. The illustrated paper of the number is called "The Head-Waters of the Rhine," the marvellous progressive changes that in recent years have occurred within that ancient country. A paper, with the title of "Observation and Imagination," by Junius Henri Browne, illustrated by numerous examples from the great works in literature and art, that even the masters do not so much invent as observe—or rather, observation "supplements, stimulates, and strengthens" imagination to a degree almost incredible. The article is rendered interesting by examples and incidents of great suggestiveness. There is a short story by Rebecca Harding Davis, the scene of which is in North Carolina; and two other stories, by Mrs. Amelia Barr and Mrs. Church; several other sketches go to make up the number, giving it striking variety, one being of the Bermudas another of the Crimea, and a third of the Rocky Mountains. Among the poetical contributors are R. H. Stoddard and Sidney Lanier. The serial "By Celia's Arbor," is certainly one of the best novels of the year.

MARINE NEWS.

A steamer will ply on the route between Whitby and Rochester next year.

The canal boat E. W. Rathbun left Oswego on Friday morning with 10,350 bushels of barley—the largest load on record.

The efforts of four tugs, which went from Buffalo to pull off the brig Cohen, were unavailing, and they had to return to the city.

There is considerable enquiry for vessels at Oswego, Fair Haven and Charlotte, to load coal for Toronto.

The steamer Alexandra arrived here on Saturday evening and is now in Picton where she will be laid up.

The Oswego Belle came down from Trenton this afternoon and proceeded to Oswego on her last trip for this season.

The O'Gorman arrived this morning with a part cargo of barley and will finish out at Campbell & Co's dock.

The Highland Beauty is loading rye at Pretty's.

The William Elgin is having her canvass dried preparatory to being stripped.

Squiers, Whittier and Jeffs report the following shipments; On the 17th the John Walters from Wellington with 11,400 bushels of barley and the Nellie Sherwood from Consecon with 3391 of peas and 1232 of rye; on the 16th the David Andrews with 9564 of barley from Consecon and the Olive Branch from Milford with 5824 of rye. The same firm is loading the Clara White at Shannonville and the Rapid at Trenton.

The Kate is still here not having completed her cargo.

PROBABILITIES,—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

CERTAINTIES,—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like MUIR & LAWRENCE's where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

A WORD IN SEASON.—Besides the Sulphite of Lime to keep your cider sweet, a fresh supply of the latest sensation among housekeepers has just come to hand—Sunbeam polish for stoves. No labor, no dust, and costs you just 15 cents at GEEN'S DRUG STORE.

RANDOM DASHES.

Money is the missing link between a man and tailor.

High heels are cornfull. For this have we chiropodists.

Advertise and beat your competitors by a large majority.

About the only thing that will keep Lent shortly, will be the umbrellas.

A new idea at socials—filling a bottle with beans and guessing at the number.

The courage that can face the cannon's mouth without flinching is of a high order, but is it safe to bet that it outranks that required to look a cold cook stove in the face about 5 a.m.?

"My dear," said a husband in startled tones, after awaking his wife in the middle of the night, "I have swallowed a dose of strychnine!" "Well, then, do for goodness sake lie still, or it may come up."

The Advertiser, having originally brought Mr. Burr-Plumb's merits as a poet before the public, is very much hurt to hear that certain unprincipled persons are trying to transfer the authorship of the poems to Senator Macpherson.

CONDENSED NEWS

An important debate is expected to take place in the French Senate to-day on the subject of the enquiry into electoral abuses, an interpellation being addressed to the Ministry as to how they instructed officials to act in connection with the investigation. After the interpellation the Senators of all sections of the Right will, it is believed, support an order of the day approving whatever statement the Government may make and expressing confidence in MacMahon.

WE SOMETIMES EAT TOO MUCH.—When appetite thus outruns discreation, indigestion is the result. In such a case the most effectual means of soothing the irritated stomach is MILK OF MAGNESIA which is pleasant as as well as prompt. For sale by Druggists and James Clark & Co.

ALL those who have gray hair in the prime of life can remedy that unpleasantness and restore its natural color and beauty with Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer; wash the head clean, and, when perfectly dry, apply it as an ordinary dressing. It pleases every one who has occasion to use it. Only 50 cents a bottle; sold by all chemists and James Clark & Co.

USE AS SUPPLEMENTARY to ordinary diet, the new invigorant, and fortifying agent, PHILLIP'S PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE, a solution of wheat phosphates, which restores exhausted nerve and muscular power, protects the system against disease, improves appetite, and promotes repose. Sold by Druggists generally.

AMERICAN NEWS

The President and the Senate.

No Open Rupture Feared.

A MURDER IN CHURCH.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 19.—Alexander Sayres, who shot his wife in church yesterday, refuses to make a statement. He was sentenced two years ago for throwing her down stairs and breaking her arm, but was pardoned at her request. He had not lived with her since. The cause of the trouble was a dispute about the wife's property.

BETHEL, Conn., Nov. 19.—While Mrs. Thos. Doran was attempting to start a fire with kerosene on Saturday, the can exploded. Mrs. Doran and two children were burned to death.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov 19.—The Saturday evening train on the lower valley branch, of the B. & O. R. R., was wrecked and the engineer and fireman scalded to death. Two women were arrested for maliciously obstructing the track. One confessed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Tribune says at a Republican caucus on Saturday, Edmunds recounted the incidents of the Committee's call upon the President. The President said there was an evident tendency on the part of the religious element of the South to support the Administration and its policy. The President based his expectation on letters and professions of Bishops of the Methodist Church, South. In regard to the general question of appointment, the Senator said the President as much as told the Committee he proposed to follow his own ideas. Edmunds regarded the President's position as one of substantial defiance. Hamlin remarked that this was the conclusion he also reached. Matthews had nothing to say, and Conkling contented himself with pointed questions. A second caucus has made the fact more apparent than ever that there is to be no division among Republicans of the Senate on the direct proposition of the appointment of Democrats to office. It is probable while the President will not withdraw any nominations, he will in future appoint none but Republicans, where such can be found deserving and suitable.

GRAFTON, O., Nov. 19.—Early yesterday morning a tramp while robbing the post-office was fired upon by Charles Allen, who slept in the building. The tramp returned the fire with a probable fatal effect, and then escaped.

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 19.—Geo. Mecum, County Treasurer, whose term of office has just expired, is short in the cash account $20,000, through supposed embezzlement of his son who was Deputy Treasurer.

EUROPEAN NEWS

The Capture of Kars.

VERAN KALEH, Nov. 19.—The fortress and city of Kars, with three hundred cannons, stores, ammunition, cash, etc., fell into Russian hands. The Turks lost over 5,000 killed and wounded, 10,000 prisoners, and many flags. The Russians loss is about 2,700. The Russian soldiers made but trifling booty and spared peaceful citizens, women and children. General Louis Melikoff directed the battle. During the day the Grand-Duke Michael was present. The former entered the city at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Geo Bash and James Johnson were instantly killed at Scranton, Pa., on Saturday by a falling rock.

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After resource to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the BALSAM has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it."

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

whole family is affrighted, and the spectators fall back on their pillows and sleep until they are awakened again by a 'corner' in Pacific Mail, or a sudden 'rise' in Rock Island. Their nerves gone, their digestion gone, their brain gone, they die. The gowned ecclesiastic comes in and reads the funeral service: 'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.' Mistake. They did not 'die in the Lord;' a golden calf kicked them! The trouble is when men sacrifice themselves on this altar suggested in the text, they sacrifice their families. If a man by any ill course is determined to go to perdition, I suppose you will have to let them go; but he puts his wife and children in an equipage that is the amazement of the avenues, and the driver lashes the horses into two whirlwinds, and the spokes flash in the sun, and the golden headgear of the harness gleams, until Black Calamity takes the bits of the horses and stops them and shouts to the luxuriant occupants of the equipage: 'Get out.' They get out. They get down. That husband and father flung his family so hard they never get up. There was the mark on them for life—the mark of a split hoof—the death-dealing hoof of the golden calf."

A SHOWER OF FISH.

THE INCREDIBLE STORY A CANADIAN SCHOOL-TEACHER TELLS.

A confirmation says the Toronto Globe of the strange report that a shower of fish had fallen on the fourth concession of Harwich Township is given by a school teacher of the neighborhood, who, in a letter to the London Free Press, testifies to what he saw as follows:

'Having dismissed the children for the day, I was returning to my boarding place, when, with a side glance, I discovered something in the grass. At first I thought it was some species of rattle-snake, but upon more careful scrutiny I found it was a fine, firm, fresh fish of the pickerel species. Having been brought up at the seashore, I knew at once the fish was good, and picked it up, while wondering whence it came. My astonishment was increased, however, when stepping on a few yards further, I saw one more, and then I thought I ought to return to the school-room for some paper to wrap them. On entering the room I seized (rather thoughtlessly you will say) one of the pails, and proceeded to collect fish. When I had more than half filled the pail I saw a man in the distance carrying some fish, and supposing the mystery was about to be solved, I awaited his approach. I dropped the pail and felt somewhat guilty for having appropriated the fish till relieved by his assuring me that he had gathered up also those he had in the same way and that he had just been culling the largest of them. He observed; 'These are as good and fresh as money could buy. I filled the pail not only to the brim, but up the whole height of the handle, and having deposited my burden, naturally, in the farm house where I boarded, I returned to collect the remainder. When I had finished my task, I assure you that I felt fatigued. The work had occupied half an hour. This fall of fish extended about three-quarters of a mile. On the same evening one of the maids was sent for the cows to a field about half a mile from my boarding place. She also returned laden with fish that she had picked up in a similar way. This girl reported that she had left others behind which she could not conveniently carry to the house. The lady, with her maids, prepared the fish the same evening for drying and smoking, and they were subjected to this process next day. The circumstance, you will admit, is unique, apart from its strange surroundings, and I cannot but think the correspondent of the Rondeau "News" did not err much in reporting it. As to whether these now famous fishes fell six feet or 6000, I know not. One thing I know, that they were scattered for a distance of about three-quarters of a mile, and that at least to my knowledge, three persons gathered them."

CITY HOTEL,

BY CAPTAIN WM. POWER.

HAVING leased my Hotel in Cannifton, I am now Proprietor of the City Hotel, Front Street, Belleville. I therefore respectfully solicit the patronage of friends and others, as this house is second to none in the city, with its spacious yard and good stables. Having much experience in horses, horsemen and others would do well to favor me with a call, as my table and bar will be well supplied with the choicest the market will afford,

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines. Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye.

FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation, which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

POND'S EXTRACT. POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farmhouse. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

RAWDON COUNCIL

Town Hall, Rawdon,
Nov. 5th, 1877.

Council met pursuant to adjournment. Present,—Mr. Walker, Reeve; Mr. McKim, Deputy Reeve; Messrs. Cook Jeffries, and Montgomery, Councillors.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Mr Montgomery, seconded by Mr Jeffries, that James Cook act as Clerk for the day in the absence of Mr Hogle, Clerk.

Moved by Mr McKim, seconded by Mr Montgomery, that C A Jordison be appointed collector for S S No 17, and that David Linn be accepted as bondsman for said collector.—Carried.

Edward Bush made application to get a ditch dug along side of the 2nd Con line, in front of Lot No 12.

Mr Montgomery presented the petition of Patrick McInnich and three others, to have the bridge repaired in front of Lot No 7, in the 3rd Con.

Moved by Mr Jeffries, seconded by Mr Montgomery that the Road Surveyor be notified to get the bridge repaired in front of Lot No 7 in the 3rd Con.

Ordered that the following accounts be paid: Widow Johnston for support, $10; Widow Small, for support, $13; Stephen McQuigg, for support, $13; Asney Badgley, for support, $13.

Moved and seconded that the Council adjourn until the first Monday in December.

JOSEPH HOGLE,
Clerk.

HUNTINGTON COUNCIL.

Town Hall, Huntingdon,
Oct. 29th, 1877.

Council met on above date.

Members present, James Haggerty, Reeve, Mathew Robinson, Dep. Reeve Councillors, John Gordon and George Conly.

The minutes of the last session and also of the special meeting at Mykels' Hotel West Huntingdon were read and approved. The Trustees of school section No 15 applied for the wild land taxes due said section amounting to $3.75. An order was given for the amount.

The arrears of taxes against lot 15 in the eight con. and lot 3 in the tenth con. were cancelled by the council, said arrears of taxes having come against said lots were they were wild lands and unpatented.

The matter of arrears of taxes against lot 14 in the 8th con. owned at present by William Ray was laid over until next meeting.

Mr. Robinson moved seconded by Mr. Gordon that the concession road allowance across lot 16 between the 10 and 11th con. be given to Mrs. Pitman in lieu of the road running through said lot 16 in the 11th con. until such time as the council may require the same for public use. Carried.

James Benson presented a petition asking for the road allowance across lot No. 3 between the 5th and 6th con. in lieu of the road running through said lot in the 6th con, now used for public travel.

Adam Deen was heard with reference to said road allowance when on motion of Mr Conley seconded by Mr Robinson the whole matter was laid over until next meeting of the council.

An order was given W. H. Deen for $6 to apply on his salary as caretaker of Hall.

Mr Gordon moved seconded by Mr Robinson that the council adjourn to meet on the first Monday in December. Carried.

A RED-HOT FIGHT.

TWO MEN WITH BURNING SOLES PUMMEL EACH OTHER IN A TURKISH BATH-ROOM.

From the St. Louis Republican.

The story of the encounter, as nearly as can be learned, is as follows: On Thursday afternoon the bank cashier visited the Turkish bath, and was soon disrobed and stretched upon a couch, enjoying the pleasures of the hottest room of all. About the same time there entered the bath the physician known as the doctor, as well as the other was rioting in the comfort of a high high temperature. They might have continued to enjoy themselves if they hadn't noticed each other; but the cashier soon saw the doctor, and the doctor the cashier. The cashier demanded sternly that the doctor should apologize for a mysterious something in the past, and the doctor didn't seem disposed to accommodate him. The hottest room of the Turkish bath is one where the tile of the floor is so heated that bare feet must be burned which come in contact with it, and where strips of thick carpet protect the feet of the bathers. Along the front of the row of couches in this room a heavy strip of this carpet ran, and here it was that the battle was carried on. The doctor struck his opponent in the face, cutting open a little vein in the forehead, and filling one eye of the cashier with blood. At the same time the cashier returned the blow, and, snatching a hold upon the doctor's flowing beard, tore out what "Con," one of the attendants, calls a "double handful." At the same time, in the struggles of the men, the long broad strip of carpet beneath them was pushed aside by their feet, and the instant the two men were capering about upon the heated floor. The men were naked, they were perspiring violently, and they could not clutch each other to retain a hold. They could strike, however, and they mauled away, leaping up and down in agony as they did so. Nothing like it ever occurred in all the history of the prize ring. Imagine two men dancing on a blistering floor and hitting each other's faces in a fine frenzy! Each man felt that something had to be done quickly. The doctor capered about like a ballet-master from over the sea, and the cashier seemed to put on springs. It was a wilder dance than ever cannibals had in view of a sizzling victim, for here the dancers were the toasted. There was the same light skipping, and the same odor of roast meat in the air.

Meanwhile the attendants had hid in, and one seized the cashier while another held the doctor, and a moment later the two men were dragged out and away from each other. The combatants were found to be very badly scorched indeed. From the soles of the doctor's feet the parched skin peeled off like the bottom of an old boot, and the cashier's injuries, though somewhat less in the way of burns, were numerous and painful. The liniment and poultices were applied, the burned feet wrapped up and then the two gentlemen hobbled away.

The Daily Ontario.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 20.

NOTES.

Ex-Mayor Workman, of Montreal, is again very ill.

The Montreal Council is still fighting over the question of Volunteer pay.

They think Winter has fairly set in at Ottawa.

Longfellow has a graceful tribute to Tennyson in the December Atlantic.

The Montreal Star is down on Thomas Jr., too. His enemies multiply.

The Tandy Bros. are singing to crowded houses in the western part of the Province.

The Whig is confident that Mr. Laurier will triumph in Quebec East on the 29th inst.

The closing arguments on behalf of Great Britain, before the Fishery Commission, commenced last Thursday, when Hon. Mr. Whiteway, of Newfoundland, spoke. On Friday and Saturday Mr. Doutre, of Montreal, continued the arguments, and probably finished yesterday. To-day and to-morrow will be occupied by Mr. S. R. Thompson, of New Brunswick, when the matter will be left in the hands of the Commission.

When the pugilistic John Morrissey announced his intention to seek Senatorial honors from the citizens of New York, the Tammany "Boss," Mr. Kelly, said he (Morrissey) could not be elected up town. John is not the man to refuse a challenge, so he went up to Kelly's own district—the Seventh—and defeated one of the "swallow-tailed," Tammany Democrats—Mr. Augustus Schell, by a majority of three thousand. Kelly will hereafter be cautious how he dares John Morrissey.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The recent visit of the Finance Minister to his constituents has already borne good fruit. The Reformers of Lennox have been aroused from their lethargy, and are determined to close ranks for the coming conflict. They are no longer indifferent to the tactics of their opponents, and will present a united force when the "tug of war" comes. On Saturday there was a convention in Napanee, and nearly one hundred of the representative men of the County were present. They met for the purpose of organizing a Reform Association and making necessary arrangements for strengthening their party. Officers were chosen from among the very best men in the riding, who will work energetically and harmoniously for the success of Reform principles. Township associations will also be organized immediately and everything possible done to ensure a full party vote at the ensuing general election. We commend the action of the Lennox Reformers to our friends in Hastings. It is quite obvious that the party in this county is not in the most perfect state of efficiency. We do not say that there is discord and contention, but we do charge indifference that is almost criminal in view of the aggressive attitude of political opponents. Union is strength, and it is absolutely necessary that every vote for a party nominee should be known. This is impossible without a thorough organization. We again advise our friends to imitate the good example set by the Reformers of Lennox.

PLAYING UPON WORDS.

If Mr. Mackenzie did not oppose the the appearance on the same platform of Sir John Macdonald and the late Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, the Premiers of the Dominion and Ontario Government respectively, why, we ask the Belleville Ontario, did he criticize their doing so, referring to the latter gentleman as "the long thin shadow behind Sir John!" A dozen times at least Mr. Mowatt appeared as Mr. Mackenzie's shadow during the late summer campaign. Then as to the two Governments making common cause, did the Ontario ever read any document like the following, written by the Postmaster-General of the Dominion to the Premier of Ontario in 1875 during the Provincial election contest:

"I think the river counties are all right for you. We (that is, the Dominion Government) are doing all that we possibly can for you."

"D. A. M."

What say you, friend Ontario?—Kingston Daily News.

Mr. Mackenzie criticized the appearance of Sir John and the late Mr. Sandfield Macdonald on the same platform because he was opposed to a collusion of Dominion and Provincial politics, and because he knew what object was to be served by their "hunting in pairs." Our contemporary persistently refuses to acknowledge the point of our argument, while at the same time he does not dispute it. We have said that Messrs. Mackenzie and Mowat appeared on the same platform to discuss entirely distinct political questions. The Governments of which they are the respective leaders had been attacked by Sir John and his co-workers at the pic-nic demonstrations, and it was much more convenient for them to reply at the same meetings. We have said, too, that not once did the two Premiers meddle with questions outside their own domain. Does the News deny this? If so, we demand the time and circumstances.

We regularly exchange with the Kingston Daily News and could not help having seen the above-mentioned "document," as it was quoted ad infinitum by our contemporary when after Messrs. Mackenzie and Mowat last summer. We generally read what the News has to say editorially. It was written by the Postmaster-General, Hon. D. A. Macdonald (now Lt.-Gov. of Ontario), and addressed to Hon. Mr. Mowat, in 1875. All right. We deny, however, that the pronoun "we" signified the Dominion Government, of which Mr. Macdonald was then a member. He represented Glengary, one of the "river counties," and merely used the plural number in speaking of himself and friends in those counties. The News will not dispute his right as an elector and prominent member of the Reform party to exert his individual influence in behalf of those who were in political accord with him. "We are doing all we possibly can for you." This had reference to the Reform electors of Glengary and adjoining counties. How ingenious our contemporary can be when it is necessary to invent a meaning or analyze a sentence to suit a political fancy.

OBSERVATIONS.

The startling announcement is made that leprosy has been brought to New York by Chinese from California. The pig-tailed Mongolians have, in consequence, been stopped coming to Gotham, and the Consul is sending all he can back to the Flowery Kingdom.

Our hint the other day had the desired effect. Candidates for municipal honors are coming to the fore in rapid succession, and will soon be as thick as "Autumnal leaves in Alambrosia." The electors have to make a choice, and we ask them to choose cautiously. Inaugurate our new City Council under the most hopeful auspices.

We thought it would turn out that there was some method in Oakey Hall's madness, after all. He suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from New York and, he says, found himself wandering about London, not knowing how he got there or what he wanted. He as suddenly and as mysteriously returned to New York a few weeks ago, and is now announced for a series of lectures, to begin at the Hub on the 26th inst. Oakey will draw now.

The London Chief of Police has issued an order for the clearing of the sidewalks from all obstructions arising from the exposure of goods for sale, and the merchants are up in arms against it. They are petitioning the Council praying for the allowance of a certain space on the walks for the exhibition of their wares.

The Hamilton Times denies that it ever apologised for Mr. Cauchon's political sins. Such apologies were due from Tory organs only, as the sins were committed when he (Mr. C.) was a colleague of Sir John Macdonald. Since associating with Reformers M. Cauchon has been a decent sort of a politician, and has committed no sins to be apologized for. But the Times does not love Cauchon much.

KARS CAPTURED.

This was the intelligence received last evening, and it was probably correct, though from Russian sources. The fortress had been besieged for months and could not hold out against the incessant rain of shot and shell that was poured upon it by Russian batteries. We are not told that want of provisions compelled the besieged to surrender. Judging from the reported booty captured by the victors the city was not greatly reduced. If Kars has really fallen, Erzeroum will soon follow, as the Russian army operating against Kars would be at liberty to march against the capital of the province. The conquerors, so we are told, were merciful, and honorably spared "peaceful citizens, women and children." This may be true, but the other side must be heard before taking it for granted.

THAT DEMONSTRATION.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto National referring to the "late Cabmen's Demonstration" throws some light on the subject:

"Under the patronage of the late regime, the 'Hackney' population of Ottawa increased to an enormous extent; and cabmen were to the metropolis what gondoliers are to Venice. In those days, a prominent member of the Cabmen's Union told me recently it was a common event for a driver to earn three, four and five dollars between ten o'clock at night and the small hours of the morning; but since the parsimonious (in small matters) administration of Mackenzie has been in office, these golden days have passed away. The cabmen blame the Government for the change, but possibly hard times is entitled to a share of the blame. The truth is that the recent Macdonald demonstration, when, using the vehicles in the public service, used to pay the drivers their own demand; but of late their successors have adhered to the tariff as regulated by the municipality."

What princes and rulers the Tory nabobs were, to be sure! They squandered the people's money with a Bourbon magnificence, and apparently had a right royal time of it. "Ten o'clock at night and the small hours of the morning" at the public expense! When they flung away thousands on hack hire, what tens, what hundreds of thousands they must have placed where they would do most good."

They have a prophet in Connecticut in the shape of a blind colored man named Richardson, who predicted the recent earthquake and is also credited with having foretold a railway accident.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Members of the Irish Catholic Union, of Montreal, are buried with great parade and society honors when they die.

The steamer Newfield is loading at Montreal for the Paris Exposition. She will call at Quebec and Halifax.

The Desjardins Canal has been made over to the town of Dundas under the Act respecting public works &c.

Burglars carried off all the ordered boats in the store of Mr. Finn, Toronto, last Wednesday night.

H. A. Knapp, a merchant of New Edinburg, has been arrested on a charge of defrauding his creditors.

Twenty Six convicts in the Central Prison were confirmed on Sunday by His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto.

Mr. Hillard, editor of the Waterloo Chronicle, was assaulted in his office last Friday by Mr. John King, barrister.

Another suicide is suspected at Niagara Falls. Seneca S. Spencer, of Chicago, is missing, and he was last seen wandering about the falls in a dejected state of mind. His friends fear that he has committed suicide.

Application has been made for letters patent to incorporate the St. Hyacinthe Beetroot Sugar Company for the manufacture of sugar from beets; the capital is to be $200,000, in shares of $100 each. The head place of business will be at St. Hyacinthe.

The contracts for the furnishing of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal have been apportioned as follows:—Messrs. R. Hay & Co., Toronto, 130 suits of bedroom and parlor furniture, thirty mantel mirrors, and bedding for the entire hotel; Bowmanville Furniture Company forty bedroom suites and forty mirrors; and the remainder to an American factory.

News has been received in London by a private letter from New York that a dry goods salesman named Robert Lunnie, formerly of Guelph, and for some time employed in a store there committed suicide in a New York theatre while the play was in progress, being prompted to the act by some suggestive part of the stage dialogue.

Great uncertainty exists with reference to the opening of the new railroad to Montreal. The construction train did not reach Hull on Saturday as was expected, yet it is stated that a train will be run over the entire distance to Montreal on Thursday next. On the other hand it is confidently asserted that no regular traffic will be attempted before spring.

While loading the schooner J. Stephenson, Wm. Davis, an old resident of Burlington, was accidently killed. It appears that while Davis was engaged in shoveling barley in the bin of Mr. Baxter's storehouse, the slide below was drawn and he was sucked in and suffocated. An inquest will be held.

The wrecking tug Windsor, of Detroit, got at the schooner Almeda, in Canadian waters, by employing a vessell of Canadian bottom to act as a lighter. The steam pump was placed on the lighter, and thence transferred to the Almeda; then a tow line from the lighter to the schooner, made the tug pull the lighter, but the lighter pulled the Almeda. Very clever.

Zetilda Jacobs, a Prussian Jewess, wife of Charles Jacobs, of the firm of Jacobs Bros., clothing and hat storekeepers on Young street Toronto, was charged at the Police Court yesterday morning on a warrant issued at the instance of Robert Hall Smith, Official Assignee, with fradulently endeavoring to conceal $1,200 belonging her husband's estate. When taken into custody she was stripped to the buff in being searched, and $1,140 was found on her person. Mr. MacNabb appeared for the prisoner, and contended that she had been shamefully used, that they could not commit an offence against the complainant under the Insolvent Act, and that the Magistrate had been imposed upon by being led to issue a warrant without authority. Mr. Denison adjourned the case till this afternoon, in order to consult a superior judge.

THE PRESS.

The first number of the Mill Point Echo came to hand this morning. It is the same size as the Daily Ontario, patent outside, and inclined to be newsy. The "Salutary" promises many good things, not the least being an advocacy of Reform and support of the present Government. Messrs. Gould and Blodgett are wise in their day and generation, and know something of the signs of the times. We extend fraternal greetings.

The Dominion Farmer is the rather comprehensive title of a new agricultural publication, hailing from Drayton, Ont., the initial number of which has just reached us. It is a four-page quarto paper, neatly printed and carefully edited. Only 50cts. a year, for twelve copies. Proctor Bros., proprietors.

DOMINION BOARD OF TRADE.

SUBJECTS FOR DEBATE AT THE ANNUAL MEETING.

At a meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade Friday night, it was decided to pesent the following subjects for discussion at the annual meeting of the Dominion Board:

1. The amendment of the Inspection Act in so far as it relates to the inspection of hides.
2. The repeal of the Stamp Act referring to bills of exchange and notes.
3. The repeal of the 17½ per cent. duty on pork barrels and all packages containing meats.
4. The desirability of urging the Government to take such steps as will result in the securing to vessel-owners of the Dominion the rights of using American canals and rivers, as provided by the Washington Treaty, and to urge the impropriety of allowing American bottoms to be treated as Canadian vessels by simple registration.

A CANARD.

A telegram from Ottawa says:—The "Citizen" to-day published a sensational story to the effect that:—The government has received private advices from Winnipeg, through what are stated to be reliable sources, that a combination of the English and Irish element intend to resist Lieut.-Governor Cauchon's entrance into Manitoba, and that a disturbance is anticipated. Mr. Cauchon and the Premier held a long consultation yesterday. Prompt measures have been adopted, and will be put into force should occasion demand it."

This is pure imagination. The information received from Manitoba by the Government in reference to the new Lieut-Governor is quite the reverse, and no "measures" such as intimated have been taken at all. On the contrary, there is reason to believe that Mr. Cauchon will meet with a cordial reception at Winnipeg, for which place he left Ottawa at ten o'clock this morning.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

ENOCH ARDEN IN A NEW ROLE.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—A case of romance in real life has occurred here. It is somewhat after the character of Enoch Arden. A montreal man, who was only married set out some years ago for California, leaving his young wife behind. He corresponded with her for some time, but at last ceased to write. The wife subsequently learned that he had been killed in a quarrel and married again. The second husband died shortly after, and the lady married, as her third husband, a rich real-estate agent here. Their happiness, however, was not of long duration, as letters, soon came from the Golden Gate party, from the first husband, requesting his spouse to go out there to meet him. In order to satisfy herself, the lady went out, and found her recalcitrant husband, but declined to stay with him, and returned to the man she was last wedded to, between two stools. However, she has come to grief, as the last husband, having taken legal advice, declines to take her back. The affair is very unfortunate, as the lady is highly respectable and respected in this community, where she has resided all her life.

HYPOCRISY EXPOSED

An example of Tory hypocricy was exposed by the Hon. Mr. Blake in his famous Teeswater speech. It has been the subject of much Tory animadversion that the report of the Committee to which Mr. Algin's case was referred should have been delayed to the hour of prorogation. Mr. Blake tells us that after resolving the report that the seat be vacated, the Committee unanimously instructed their chairman to defer submitting their report till the last moment, so as not to interfere with the progress of public business by unnecessarily members of the committee were consenting parties to the arrangement, which was purely removing the Speaker of the House. The Tory one of convenience, and yet these men have since seen fit practically to repudiate their own action in order to have a petty fling at their opponents before the people. To trust in the honour of such men is to learn upon a broken reed.—"Whig."

--The Miramichi, the last gulf ports steamship to Montreal this season, brought 1,097 barrels of oysters from Summerside P. E. I.

—A company is being formed in Montreal to manufacutre the new glass veneer, which is very rich looking and can be made to imitate all kinds of wood.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity and when combined with the pure medical gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE and BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

PETTIT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

The American Eye-Salve is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. Ringworm and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the American Eye-Salve. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 20.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Arrival.—The S. S. Moravian arrived at Halifax at 6:30 this a. m. The mails left by regular train.

Well Patronized.—Last night no less than six tramps and three prisoners were quartered in the lock-up.

Returns.—The Assessor's returns for the year 1878 show an increase of $65,935 in the assessment over that of 1877.

Grain.—A large quantity of grain was brought to town to-day and stored at Campbell & Co.'s elevator.

R. T. A. C.—A meeting of this Club was held in the Town Hall last night and was very successful—in that respect being full equal to any of its predecessors.

Ice.—On the eastern side of the island and in sheltered places generally, ice formed strongly last night. With a continuation of such weather navigation must soon close.

Stripped.—The Katie Gray has been stripped and this morning her ballast was taken out and she was being prepared for her winter quarters.

Lecture.—Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin will lecture in the Metropolitan Hall to-morrow evening on "The British House of Commons."

A Good Price.—Several loads of barley changed hands to-day at fair figures. No. 1 brought 65 cts, and other samples proportionate rates.

Carried Off.—The sign on the corner of Bridge Street and Foster Avenue has been taken off the tree on which it was placed and carried away.

Skating.—Such was the severity of the weather last night, that ice was formed on the bay shore near the G. J. R. dock, and enabled a number of boys to amuse themselves by skating.

The G. J. R.—It is said that the County Council will reconsider their action of the September session and make an effort to stop further litigation in the matter of the bonus to the above named road.

Accident.—Whilst William Wray, Township Clerk of Hungerford, was driving to town this morning, one of the axles of his buggy broke and caused an injury to one of his legs, which, though not serious, was yet quite painful.

Trouble.—Some person broke some windows in a frame house on Bridge Street, West Belleville, last night and there was quite a commotion in that locality for a time. The person who did the act was not discovered.

Game.—Hunters report that they have never seen deer so plentiful as they are this year, and that a large number of them have been captured. In this district ducks are occasionally plentiful, but the number of lucky ones is small.

A Skating Rink.—It is now about time that steps were being taken to provide a place for skating during the approaching winter. The rink put up last year on Pinnacle Street was a popular one and if enlarged we have no doubt would be as popular if not more so than it was then.

D. & D. Institute.—The Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D. D., Pastor of St. Ann's Church for Deaf Mutes in New York, visited the Institute here yesterday. In the afternoon he delivered an address in the sign language to the pupils, which was much appreciated by them. He left for Montreal last night, where he speaks to-night.

Sudden Death.—We regret to learn of the sudden death of the wife of Mr. Benjamin Johnson, which took place yesterday afternoon. Deceased had been up town in the afternoon shopping and a few minutes after her return dropped dead with apoplexy. She was about 48 years of age and leaves a family of seven children and a bereaved husband to mourn her loss.

A Double Honor.—Those who become Aldermen next year will also be Justices of the Peace. This is an honor, which few know they will possess before this announcement, but then it should be borne in mind that all who seek for seats at the Council Board cannot have their wishes gratified, unless the majority want to stay at home. In the meantime, however, we would say: Gentlemen, trot out your announcements, especially so since our advertising columns are not full.

The Latest.—An exchange says a young man and young woman are just now making a trip through this part of the country and paying their expenses in a novel and truly original plan. They represent themselves to be a couple of runaway innocents, who were married privately and then obliged to fly from the wrath of a wealthy and tyrannical father. All that is required, of course, is a little money to enable them to reach friends in a town a little further on, where they propose to wait till the storm blows over. The girl's great beauty and young man's very plausible manner seldom fail to work up the desired amount of sympathy, which is readily converted into cash, and the precious pair pass on to greener people and pastures new.

—The Ottawa saw-mills stopped running on Thursday, throwing between three and four hundred men out of employment.

NAVIGATION NOTES.

Sunday's blow made things lively for shipping, as instance the following: The Starling had her mainsail and foresail torn to pieces; the Trade Wind had her jib-boom injured; the Mary Annette collided with the Marysburg, broke the latter's jib-boom and otherwise damaged her; the W. R. Gades lost her mainmast in the storm and had to run to Kingston from Thirty Mile Point, and the J. Stevenson lost her two anchors at South Bay Point.

The Chicago Tribune says: "The 'foreign' wrecking business has been carried too far already, and it is about time the silly nonsense was stopped, as we have a firstclass horror under the nose of a foreign wrecker, who cannot act even for the sake of humanity, because the Government regulations will not permit."

On Sunday, such was the violence of the wind that the Oswego fleet was unable to make that harbor.

Ten schooners, five steamers, two tugs, and a number of barges have been laid up at Kingston.

The Rochester Democrat, of Saturday, says the steamer Norseman, heavily laden with sheep and cattle, left Port Hope yesterday morning at 8 o'clock but when about forty miles out in the lake the cross head of her engine broke and she was left in an almost helpless condition. Rockets of distress were fired into the air, the whistle was blown and everything possible was done to attract the attention of some passing vessels, but without avail. The accident was bad enough, but it did not leave the steamer entirely incapable of motion, and after much difficulty she managed to make her way into Charlotte, arriving at eight o'clock last evening. It is expected that repairs will be so completed that the steamer can leave in a day or two.

The Fannie Letford with lumber from Mill Point is unloading at Rathbun's dock.

The O'Gorman with barley left for Oswego this afternoon.

The St. Clair is loading barley at Campbell & Co's dock.

The Ploughboy with coal, arrived yesterday afternoon and is discharging at Lee's dock.

The O.S. Storrs with a part cargo of barley taken on at Rednersville has arrived here to finish out.

The William Elgin received another order yesterday and to-day began loading with barley at the Grangers' dock on the front of Sidney.

The Kate has finished her cargo of barley.

CONDENSED NEWS.

From Shannonville.

Mr. Robert Harvey of Tyendinaga was recently brought up before Messrs. Appleby and Pegan J. P's at this village for an infringement of the liquor law by selling intoxicants on Sunday. After hearing the evidence adduced, the case was dismissed with costs.

From Newburg.

Fears of a spring freshet have set the authorities of the village on their mettle as they have now ordered Rathbun & Son to remove their logs lying in the river near the place. The latter have complied with the request and a gang of men are now engaged in removing the logs to a place from where no danger of their hurried removal can be apprehended.

ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE.

To-day's Globe furnishes the following:—On Sunday a young girl named Ann Jane Clark made her escape from the Magdalene Asylum, Yorkville. She went into the house of a Mrs. Jacobs, who resides on Victoria-avenue, Yorkville, and stated that she had come from Belleville. The girl was in a miserable plight, having on her neither shoes nor stockings, and scarcely any clothing. Mrs. Jacobs, not knowing what to do with her, brought her to the city and took her to No. 2 Police Station. A constable was sent from there to the Magdalene Asylum where he ascertained that she had left that institution on Sunday. Yesterday afternoon two ladies came and took the girl back to her old quarters. The officer at No. 2 Police Station thinks, from the appearance of the girl, that she is scarcely in her right mind. She seems to be frightened of everybody and can scarcely be got to speak above a whisper. This same girl was abused by a man in the east end of the city about six months ago, and since then has been in the Magdalene Institution.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The last session of the County Council of 1877 opened in the Shire Hall this afternoon at two o'clock.

Present His Honor the Warden.

Messrs. Wood, Flint, Aylesworth, McCready, Fitzjerald, Currie, Anderson, Weese, Bennett, Kavanagh, Wilmot, Pearce, Gordon, McKim, Gonter, White, Haggerty, Ashley, Murphey, Rose, Robinson, Grass, Craig and Young.

The minutes of the last meeting were read.

Mr. Ashley objected to the clause in the minutes regarding the extra sum to be given to the Clerk and Treasurer for assistance.

Mr. Wood objected to discussion on the matter.

The minutes were then approved.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

The Warden delivered the following addresses:—

It is with a feeling of deep regret, in which I am certain you will all sympathize that I have found myself obliged in consequence of the unexpected death of our late respected Treasurer to call you together before the time fixed by adjournment at the last preceding meeting of this Council.

By this melancholy event the Corporation of the County of Hastings has lost a most valuable, efficient and zealous officer, who at all times watched over the interests of the County with as great care as if they had been his own, and whose long experience, close attention and intimate acquaintance with every detail of municipal business and of the laws relating thereto, especially the intricate subject of non-resident taxation, were of very great advantage to the Councillors and other officers, both of the County and minor municipalities, in his intercourse with whom he always exercised the greatest kindness, courtesy and perfect readiness to render any advice, assistance or information in his power.

The same estimable characteristics distinguished his conduct in his judicial capacity as a magistrate and in his private life, and he has carried with him to his grave the regretful esteem of the whole community, of which he was for so many years a prominent and respected member.

It will be part of your business at the present session to appoint his successor, in order that the pecuniary business of the County may be carried out with as little interruption as possible.

The other business of the session will be the ordinary business of the Council. The reports of the Gravel Road and other Committees will be laid before you for consideration as also the repot of the County Surveyor.

It will also be necessary to order a special audit of the books of the Treasurer's office previous to their transfer to Mr. McAnnany's successor.

As this will be the closing meeting of the Council for the present year, I trust that the members will give their best attention so that the business of 1877 may be satisfactorally concluded.

Thanking you heartily for the kind assistance and support you have given me in the discharge of my official duties during the year, I now request your attention to the business of the session.

Probabilities.—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

Certainties.—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like Muir & Lawrence's where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

A Word in Season.—Besides the Sulphite of Lime to keep your cider sweet, a fresh supply of the latest sensation among housekeepers has just come to hand—Sunbeam polish for stoves. No labor, no dust, and costs you just 15 cents at Geen's Drug Store.

A VICE CONSUL IN A NEW ROLE.

Cremation of a Child.

Crimes and Casualties.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20.—The Fort Edward Institute was burned last evening. Nearly 200 students of both sexes were in attendance. Nothing was saved but the accounts and records; loss $120,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the bursting of a lamp.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—The following telegram referring to U. S. Vice-Consul Bradford has been received from Shanghai: "Bradford has been tried for embezzlement; he pleaded guilty and has been imprisoned. He appeals to the President.

New York, Nov. 20.—Hester Brown, a colored girl, who was supposed to have swallowed a living reptile, and whose case attracted much attention last year, died yesterday. A post mortem disclosed consumption of lungs and of the bowels and Bright's disease and dyspepsia, all in their very worst forms. The Coroner accounted for the peculiar movements in Hester's abdomen, which her friends thought were caused by the snakes, as peristaltic movements of the bowels common enough in cases of consumption of intestines.

Julius Kircher and his wife disputed concerning the burial place of their dead infant. He ended the controversy by wrapping it in linen and cremating it in a paint factory furnace. The case is being investigated.

Lucy Martin was found dying near the cemetery entrance last night. Her lover had forsaken her and she had taken arsenic.

The night watchman at Daly is charged with murdering Jas. Ward, a laborer in the 12th ward on Sunday night. It is alleged that Ward while drunk was ordered out of Daly's house and in a tussle that followed was fatally hurt.

Mrs. Wm. Hawkins of Brooklyn, an invalid, while bathing on Sunday fainted and was drowned in a bath tub.

The Hearld states that the Spanish Commander-in-Chief, General Campos, has issued an order that all Cuban prisoners of war be shot and reported as if killed in battle.

EUROPEAN NEWS

The Situation at Paris.

The Loss at the Capture of Kars

Paris, Nov. 20.—The official journal announces the resignation of the Cabinet, which MacMahon accepts. Ministers will serve until successors are appointed. Republican newspapers comment bitterly on the Senate's vote last night, on the order of the day proposed by the Right, regarding it as the commencement of a serious conflict between the two Chambers. Conservative organs consider the result of yesterday's proceedings leaves the President's position intact, as it places him above party strifes.

London, Nov. 20.—Russian official report states the Russian losses at the capture of Kars were 2,500. Among the officers killed were Gen. Balinsky and Lt. Col. Melikoff.

Physicians say that Milk of Magnesia is the best preparation they have ever seen and strongly recommend it for disorders of the stomach, gout and gravel. It is peculiarly beneficial to children who, like its smooth pleasant taste. Sold by all druggists and J. H. Hambly.

The great success and reputation that it has already obtained, proves that Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer restores gray hair to its natural color, and from its balsamic properties strengthens the growth, removes all dandruff, and leaves the scalp clean and healthy. Can be had of all chemists and J. H. Hambly.

The great superiority of Phillips' Phospho-Nutritine over the ordinary preparations of phosphates lies in the fact that it contains the most invigorating of the phosphatic Salts, Potash and Magnesia. In these its rivals are deficient. Sold by all Druggists.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PEREORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and DemocratC orinth, Miss."

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After resource to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Headaches caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

GRAFTING IN A SCALP.

A very curious case, unparalleled in the annals of surgery, has its existence now in Jamestown, N. Y., and so extraordinary is it that it is exciting the attention of medical men all over the country. It seems that on the morning of April 23rd, Mrs. Hay, an employee of the Jamestown alpaca mills, went from her home, adjoining the mills, to the basement of the weave room, to feed some poultry.

In some unknown way her hair, worn loosely, caught in a horizontal bar, revolving rapidly, and the scalp was torn off from the neck to the eyebrows, leaving the skull entirely bare and making a wound fifty-nine square inches in extent. She walked to her home, about 500 feet distant, and gave orders about sending for a surgeon before she became unconscious. At first an attempt was made to replace the scalp, and it was patched up and sewed on, but soon began to slough off, and the physicians were at a loss what course they should pursue.

The case had no precedent, and for a time they were completely nonplussed. At last, however, they hit upon the experiment of grafting, and published a card in the daily papers explaining the case, and asking contributions from young and healthy people to replace the lost scalp. The young people responded in goodly numbers to the call, and the doctors took from each of their arms a very small piece of skin, which was transferred to the head of the unfortunate lady.

At first the experiment seemed doubtful, but at last the grafts began to adhere, and the patient is now in a fair way of recovery. Two hundred and forty-one 'plants' have been applied, which cover about half the scalp, and the remainder will be placed in position as soon as possible. Mrs. Hay has been unconscious for days, but the enthusiastic physicians who have the case in hand are very sanguine that she will ultimately recover.

SEDUCTION AS A CRIMMINAL OFFENCE.

In the course of an article on "The Criminal Record," the London Free Press thus favors increased punishment for seduction.—

Some are in favor of making these base acts partake of the nature of crime, and to be punished as such, instead of being, as now, atoned for by a money compensation. Every man who puts himself into the place of a father, so wronged and outraged, must feel that money is no compensation for the ruin brought upon a respectable family through the act of a selfish, heartless scoundrel. In cases where the family may contain several daughters, one of whom falls a victim to a villian in this way, it is not one sister alone who suffers, but the whole family of girls, as the reputation of all suffer in the common, and become socially degraded through the faults or misfortunes of one. It would be worthy the attention of the religious teacher, the moralist, philanthropist and the legislator to unite in devising such reforms in our laws and customs, as would help to put a stop to such an evil and one becoming so common.

If making the offence punishable with fine and imprisonment, would in the opinion of our public men, abate the evil or tend to abate it, then there ought to be no hesitation in introducing the change. A man may, under the present provisions of the criminal code, be sent to the penitentiary for stealing the value of a few dollars, even when the thief may have proved beyond question, that the crime was committed to relieve his wife and children from the pangs of hunger or pinching cold, while a man may destroy the prospects in life of an innocent girl, and reduce her to the condition of a social outcast, while the father and family of such a daughter are mocked by the laws only empowering the parent to sue for the loss of his daughter's time and services. Surely we are right in calling such a compensation a mockery of justice, as no money compensation can atone for such a wrong.

But it may be said that punishing the heartless seducer as a criminal, would not right the wrong done. Granted; but though it can never restore the unfortunate girl to her former position in society, gain her again the respect of friends and acquaintances and dissipate the dark cloud that has settled down over her prospects for life, yet it may save others, and thus serve society. The murderer is not hanged, and the lesser criminal imprisoned for life, to avenge the victim or make atonement to his family, but as a salutary lesson to society and to deter others from the perpetration of similar crimes in future.

WANTED THE WORTH OF HER MONEY.

An Irish lady called on a photographer to have a cabinet portrait taken. When the artist removed the plate he told her she need not sit any longer. On coming out from the dark room he found her still bolt upright in the chair, with that look of petrified despair on her face peculiar to the photographic pose. "You needn't sit there any longer," said the frightened artist. "What's that?" she hoarsely whispered, without changing a muscle. "I say you needn't sit there now—I have finished," he explained. "Ain't I to pay ye a dollar?" she interrogated, in the same gurgling tone, with her eyes strained on the dark. "Yes," "Well, thin, do ye mane to say I'm to give ye a dollar for only five minutes fur the money, an' that's little enough in all conscience!" And she had it.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

DR. WM. GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Before Taking.

The GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorhea,

After Taking

Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self-Abuse, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlets free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing

WILLIAM GRAY & CO.,
Windsor, Ont.

Sold in Belleville by L. W. Yeomans & Co., A. L. Geen & Co., and by all Druggists everywhere.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.
Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye, FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation, which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

Manufactured by R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N.H.
NORTHRUP & LYMAN, Toronto, Agents for the Dominion.

POND'S EXTRACT.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief, and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Tuesday, Nov. 20.

PETITIONS &C.

The following were presented and read.

From John Hallam enclosing a petition from the City Council of Toronto in regard to the matter of exemptions of property from taxation and praying the Legislature to establish equality of taxation.

From J E Clarke asking a contribution for the support of the Hospital at Kingston.

From A A Campbell applying for the Treasurership.

From Q Macnider to the same effect.

From Wm J Massie for the same office.

By Mr Aylesworth—From Felix Collins and others in reference to the building of a proposed bridge.

By Mr Anderson.—From Donald McRea asking to be reimbursed for some land used as a County Road.

By Mr Murphy.—From George Easterbrooke and others for the establishment of a road from Tweed to the Sodom station.

Mr. Murphy gave notice of a by-law to carry out the provisions of this petition.

Mr Wood gave notice of a by-law for the appointment of a Treasurer.

Mr. Flint from the Committee appointed to look into the matter of the expenditure of a grant, which was to be made in Huntingdon, reported that $500 had been granted and that $456 had been expended and that a contract for a portion of a road not yet completed amounting to $45 had been made.

Mr. Flint moved the adoption of the report.

Mr Murphy wished to hear from Huntingdon.

Mr Haggerty said he had not much to say on the matter only this, that Mr Ostrom had given his son-in-law the contract mentioned in the report since the last meeting of the Council, and he would have something to say before the session closed.

Mr Flint moved, seconded by Mr Wood, that we the members of the Council of the County of Hastings in Council assembled sincerely deplore the decease of our late Treasurer, Francis McAnanny, Esq., who from his long and valuable services as Treasurer, which office he held for nearly 27 years, and who by his kind and obliging treatment in our intercourse with him, and in the courteous and gentlemanly manner in which he always met us in the various business transactions in connection with County and Township matters as well as otherwise, we feel it a sad duty to record the loss, not only of a valuable officer, but also of a sincere friend, and we cannot but feel that both County and Town has met with the loss of one of its oldest and most respected citizens, and one whose memory will long be cherished by all who knew him.

We also desire to tender our consolations to Mrs McAnnany and other members of the family, and trust in their great bereavement they may ever find comfort from the fact that the richest promises of our Heavenly Father are to the widow and fatherless.

That the Clerk of the Council is hereby instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. McAnanny.

In moving the resolution Mr Flint said he deeply deplored Mr McAnnany's death. He had known him 48 years, and during all his intercourse with him, although he had differed with him in political matters, nothing had occurred to mar their warm friendship. His self-denying life and uniform kindness made him feel that he himself and the community had lost a valuable friend. There are few now who were here when he came to town, and it looks strange that he was left when nearly all the old residents of the town had been depopulated by death. Whilst he has gone from amongst us we have reason to feel grateful that he has passed away quietly and peaceably, and he had no doubt but that he was now around the throne of God in Heaven.

Mr Wood fully endorsed the sentiments of the mover of this resolution. He (Mr W) had found in Mr McAnnany a friend who carried out in detail more than he did in promises. He had been associated with him for 10 years and he had been intimately acquainted with him, and he here bore testimony to this unswerving integrity of character. The man who succeeds him must bear an integrity of character that will enable him to retain the estimation of the people. Mr M never allowed any discrepancies to occur in his accounts, and his habits were characteristic of the man, and we will have to have a man as his successor who is possessed of a high character. Deceased was a kind man, and though at times he acted somewhat brusqely yet few public men will be as kindly remembered as he will be by the people. He hoped we would all be able to leave as good a record behind as he did, and he deeply sympathized with the family.

Mr Murphy had known Mr McAnnany for 40 years, and felt a deep sympathy with the family in their sad loss.

The Warden fully endorsed all that had been said of their late Treasurer.

Mr White said Mr M. had left a record behind him worthy of being followed. His actions should lead us to make an appointment of one worthy to be his successor. Mr M. was a loss to the church, County, Council and community, and he felt proud that he came from the same country as he did, and he trusted his successor would leave as good a record behind him.

Mr Ashley had known the Treasurer for 10 years, and always found him ready and willing to give what information in his power. He always found him courteous and agreeable, and felt sure the County sustained a great loss in his death. He trusted the next Treasurer would be as well thought of as he was.

The motion was passed.

Mr Haggerty moved, seconded by Mr Robinson, that statements having been made by Thomas Kelso, Esq, President of the Grand Junction Railway Company, that certain members of this Council received money, or a promise of money, from Mr Lloyd to support a by-law granting aid to the Belleville and North Hastings Railway, and that if an opportunity were given him he would appear before the Council and make this statement,

Be it therefore resolved that the said Thomas Kelso be permitted, in accordance with his own request, to appear before the Council to make such statements or charges.

Mr Wood rose to a point order

Mr White said as the motion was a question of privilege it was right to discuss it. It was unfair for Mr Kelso to attack him and make such a statement and it was only right that he could have a chance to vindicate his character.

Mr Flint favored an adjournment.

Mr Wood said it was a mistake to prevent a discussion of Mr Haggerty's motion.

Council adjourned.

The Daily Ontario.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 21.

NOTES.

It is now denied that Mr. A. Wilson of the Montreal Herald is insane.

Bishop Fellows, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, has been lecturing in Montreal.

Concerts are to be held in most of the Toronto Methodist Churches to-morrow evening.

The Ontario will not appear to-morrow. Printers are thankful like other mortals.

The Thames has arrived at St. John's, Nfld., under sail. Three men were lost overboard during the stormy passage out.

A branch of the Laval University will be opened in Montreal.

The Whig can understand why the Mail wants Mr. Blake made Chief Justice. He is the Nemesis of the Tory party.

The Messrs. Allan contend that they should not be bound to take their steamers to Portland in winter, now that the mails are landed at Halifax. Since their contract with the Government was only for carrying mails, and had no reference whatever to commercial advantages, it is probable that their application for leave to cease making Portland the winter terminal will be granted.

Mr. Marcus Smith, acting Chief Engineer of the Pacific Railway, during Mr Fleming's absence, has arrived at Ottawa from British Columbia. It is understood that he has solved the difficulty heretofore existing with reference to the best route across the Rocky Mountains and through the Pacific Province. Will we have to wait until the Government report is submitted to the House before learning the route selected by Mr. Smith!

Elsewhere we refer to the export trade of Montreal during the month of October, and show by figures taken from returns published in the Herald that the increase over the corresponding period of last year was nearly $700,000. This is of itself the best evidence possible that "better times" are at hand. We have also given items referring to the commercial interests of the country, which go to confirm the impression that things are beginning to look up and the prospects brighten. In addition, too, to the improved condition of existing manufacturing establishments, we have reports of new ones being projected in nearly every section of the Dominion. All of which point to the important fact that the present tariff of 17½ per cent. is quite sufficient for the protection of our manufacturing industries and for the encouragement of new ventures. Even Conservative journals, that have gone mad over the "national policy" agitation, are industriously circulating intelligence of a directly opposite import to the doctrine they have been teaching.

THANKSGIVING.

To-morrow will be observed as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the cumulative blessings of the past year. It will be the first really national Thanksgiving Day since Confederation, inasmuch as it will be recognized by every Province in the Dominion. The Executive proclamations have been suplemented by those of magisterial authority, and the people will undoubtedly comply with the request to rest from their labors and return thanks to Him who sends the early and late rains upon the earth, and whose universal will orders the seasons in due course of time. As a nation we have much to be thankful for. Our homes have been unmolested by foes from without or strife from within. Peace and plenty reign everywhere, and righteousness looks down from Heaven. Our barns are filled with the produce of the soil. Meagre want does not stalk through the land. "Hard times" have been felt, it is true, but not so severely as elsewhere. There are few in Canada suffering for the necessaries of life. A long and severe winter, which is just now coming upon us, does not bring with it the guant spectre of starvation. Of course we speak here in a general sense. There are individuals who, through their own negligence and excesses, or Providencial causes, are in destitute circumstances and will feel the biting blast and pinch of penury. But these are only exceptions to the general rule. We are a favored people indeed, and to-morrow praise and thanks should be rendered to Him "from whom all blessings flow."

ENCOURAGING FIGURES.

The Montreal Herald furnished the following figures, showing the quantity and value of exports from that port during the month of October, 1877, as compared with the corresponding month of the previous year. They are suggestive of the dawn of better times, of which we have been hopefully speaking:—

	Oct. 1876.	Oct 1877
The Mine.........	$ 43,561	$ 7,601
The Fisheries.....	2,563	10,020
The Forest.......	143,653	105,788
Animals and their Products....	994,189	981,376
Agricultural products..........	1,031,559	1,808,479
Manufactures....	86,842	110,737
Miscellaneous....	5,768	89,583
Total products...	$2,308,135	$2,889,574

We may merely observe that those returns refer to exports of Canadian produce and manufacture only. They are also for one month and for a single port. It will be observed that the exports of Montreal, for October, 1877, exceed those for the same month last year by some $681,439. The two specific items that show the greatest increase in the export trade of Canada are agricultural products and manufactured goods. This can be proven by the following figures:

	Decrease	Increase
The mine..................	$35,960	$........
Fisheries..................	....	7,457
Forest......................	38,865	....
Animals and produce.	75,813	....
Agricultural products..	....	776,920
Manufactures............	....	23,895
Miscellaneous...........	....	23,905
	$150,638	$832,077
		150,638
Total increase of Canadian goods over Oct. 1875......................		$681,439

Those who are contending that our export trade is being ruined for want of a protective tariff should consider the figures above quoted. They will find, too, that the very branches of that trade which they assert need an average 45 per cent. tariff to preserve them, are the ones showing the greatest vitality.

OBSERVATIONS.

We are glad. Sitting Bull has told us exactly who and what he is. He is not a chief, but a judge of all the Indians, and by birth an Uncpapa Sioux.

The millennium is not far off. The rival medical schools, known as Allopathy and Homœopathy, are harmonizing their hygienic treatment, and Dr. Richardson, F. R. S., in a recent article in the Lancet, predicts a possible fusion of the two schools at no distant day. And thus the world advances.

Russia is talking soft velvet to France, and hints at a Franco-Russian alliance. The North German Gazette pours cold water on this project by declaring that such a step would at once convert the friendship of Austria and Germany into hostility.

They don't do things by halves down at Pittsburg. The Grand Jury there have returned "true bills" against one hundred rioters. If they could only indict a few thousand tramps, Pennsylvania would place their names on the honor roll.

The Mechanics' Institute announce a list of lectures for the winter, to be inaugurated by Mr. N. F. Davin to-night. They are certainly worthy of the public patronage, and we hope to see them receive it.

Miss Van Hillern, of San Francisco, walked one hundred miles in twenty-eight hours. We don't record this fact as an inducement for Canadian young women to go and do likewise, but merely to show what a woman's physique is capable of standing when there is inducement enough. Perhaps, however, a little more pedestrianism would not do our girls much harm.

Gen. Lowry and Judge Morris are prominent citizens of Mississippi, and they are bitter enemies, too. A few days ago they accidentally met in front of the Capitol at Jackson. Lowry immediately drew his weapon—a bowie-knife, and called upon his enemy to defend himself. The Judge was unarmed, and friends told the General that it would be a cowardly act to attack him, so a truce was called until the Judge could procure arms. This he did in a few moments and returned to the locality, but an officer of the law had, in the meantime, arrested the General. The local organs regretted the abrupt termination of what promised to be an interesting affair. And this is the nineteenth century civilization of the "glorious South."

THE COUNTY TREASURER.

To-day the County Council made an appointment to the vacant County Treasurership. The choice lay between Messrs. Appleby and Wills, and the latter received the larger vote. We unhesitatingly express our sincere regret at the decision of the Council. We have no fault to find with Mr. Wills as a citizen, but we object to a monopoly of offices to gratify a political feeling. Mr. Appleby's claims were decidedly the stronger, and no man can dispute his entire fitness for the office. Mr. Wills, too, seems to have rested his chance in the hands of Father Farrelly, who canvassed importunately for his favorite, and exerted no little influence in the contest. It was apparent, as the question was being discussed, that politics should be a ruling consideration in the the appointment, but for what reasons we are at a loss to know. The office practically belongs to the County, and since an applicant equally as well qualified as any from the Town was before the Council, we contend that, in justice to the ratepayers of the County, who have to provide the salary, he should have been chosen. We commend the action of those who so ably and consistently advocated the claims of Mr. Appleby, and feel assured that the electors will have something to say about this matter next January. They should enquire why it is that the Family Compact has been revived in connection with our municipal affairs.

The following are the names of those who voted for and against the appointment of Mr. Wills:

For—Flint, Wood, Pearce, Gunter, Walker, White, Rose, Robinson, Haggerty, McKim, Craig and Gordon.

Against—Ashley, McCready, Kavanagh, Fitzgerald, Anderson, Currie, Wilmot, Murphy, Young and Aylesworth.

Mr. Grass shirked the vote after promising Mr. Appleby. It is said that he was promised the Orange vote—which now is traded like ordinary merchandize—against Mr. Wilmot at the next election, as a consideration for his sneaking out of the room and avoiding his duty as well as breaking his pledge. Mr. Appleby should thank Messrs. Grass, Walker and Weese for the "friendship" they manifested in his cause. Mr. Appleby feels grateful for the support accorded him, and is thankful to those who voted in his favor.

Had Mr. Appleby's friends remained true to him, he would have received the appointment by a majority of four, exclusive of the vote of Mr. Aylesworth, who was in the Chair.

By referring to the interest taken in Mr. Will's election by Father Farrelly, we do not infer that the Catholic members of the Council were thereby influenced. They exercised their right to vote independently and conscientiously.

ABBREVIATIONS.

An attempt was made on Monday to burn Bookless' Hotel at Guelph.

Mr. R. Alleyn, Q. C., has accepted the nomination for Quebec West in the Local Legislature.

The contest in Quebec East will be an exceedingly close one. The nomination takes place to-day and the election on the 28th inst.

Mary Hughes, fishwife, was found dead in a shed in Toronto on Monday. The jury returned a verdict that death was the result of dissipation.

Patrick McKale, of Cornwall, was drowned Monday night by falling from lock-gate No. 17. The body was recovered yesterday morning.

The trains are running as usual on the Brantford and Port Burwell Railway, the obstructions caused by the late accident having been removed.

On Sunday, a child of Mr. Holtz, Berlin was choked to death by a marble which it attempted to swallow. Medical relief was sought, but the child was quite dead before the doctor arrived.

A Woman named Smith was found dead in her house in Toronto Saturday night, not having been previously seen for a week. Several bottles smelling of whiskey were found beside her.

The Oddfellows' Lodge, of which William Scott, collector of rents and debts, Toronto, was a member, and whose sudden death in a hotel on Thursday, created some commotion, has appointed a Committee of Enquiry to elicit, if possible, further information obtained at the inquest as to the cause of death.

Lord and Lady Dufferin had a narrow escape of their lives as they were travelling recently on the West Wisconsin Railway. The occasion was the placing of a bar of railroad iron across the track, by some unknown miscreants, and bracing it in such a manner with other bars of iron as to have wrecked the train had it not been discovered.

A Mr. Cassidy and a Mr. Little, from the township of Dereham, have been at Aylmer in search of the brother of the former and uncle of the latter. From the description given, it is supposed that the body washed ashore at Pt. Bruce last month is that of the missing man. The gentlemen went to the lake for the purpose of having the body exhumed.

The Department of Agriculture has ordered that full information shall be sent to the Department of every person convicted by police magistrates—not only actual criminals, but also vagrants and drunks. This will entail a great deal of work on some one, as there are over 3,000 names on the books this year.

Louis Salumiere, of Montreal, a bachelor 48 years of age and a joiner by trade, has been suffering from epilepsy for sometime. Yesterday he told his brother he would drown himself and was seen afterwards to enter St. Peter's Catholic Church and to remain sometime at devotions. He then emerged into the street and proceeded down to one of the warves and deliberately took off his coat, hat and boots. His brother then seized him but could not hold him as the unfortunate man disengaged himself, jumped in and was drowned. His body was recovered.

The Winnipeg Free Press says:—From a person recently in from the railway we learn that a terrible nitro-glycerine accident occurred on contract 15, two weeks ago. One of the workmen, by the name of John Smith, employed on the line, while carrying a can of the explosive, stumbled, and fell with the can on the rock. The explosion immediately followed, and the unfortunate man blown to atoms. Such of his remains as were collected were not sufficient to fill a powder keg. Two men working about two hundred feet from where the explosion occurred were knocked senseless.

An official telegram from the Colonial Office, London, has been received stating that the design of Mr. Scott, chief architect for the Canadian trophy, to be erected in one of the towers of the Exhibition building at Paris, has been approved of and is much admired. The construction of the trophy will now be proceeded with. The frame alone will be prepared here, but all the material for completing it will also be sent. The whole will be shipped from Halifax by the steamer Newfield. The trophy is formed of wood framework, divided into five stages, and will reach a height of about one hundred feet.

The Detroit Post says that a British naval officer is on the way from Ottawa to Windsor, where he will arrive soon, commissioned to charter a steamboat and fit her out as a gunboat to be ready for service in view of the troubles that have lately arisen on the question of American tugs wrecking in Canadian waters. The officer is to be clothed with extraordinary powers, included among which are the authority to enforce international regulations and settle recent difficulties and the appointment of subordinates in the various custom house districts to look after Canadian interests in the connection named.

INTERNATIONAL AMENITIES.

The officers of the "London Irish" Volunteers request the publication of the following paragraph in Canada. It is taken from the "Volunteer Service Gazette" of the 4th of August last:

"For many years past the camps of the teams sent over by the Dominion of Canada, to represent that important portion of "Greater Britain" at the Imperial Rifle contests on Wimbledon Common, and the regimental camp of the London Irish Rifles have been pitched side by side, the result of this proximity being a constant interchange of hospitalities, the Canadian officers being year by year constituted honorary members of the Irish officers' mess. It gives us great pleasure to record here a practical proof of the cordial friendship which has sprung up on both sides, such proof taking the shape of the presentation of a very beautiful piece of plate, bearing the following inscription:—"Presented to the officers of the London Irish Volunteers by the undermentioned officers of the Canadian Militia in return for the hospitality shown them on various occasions: Lieut.-Cononels Gillmor, Peters, Kirkpatrick, Mackinlay, Worsley, Montizambert; Majors Arnold and Cotton; Lieut. Drury. July, 1877." The piece of plate, which is made of Canadian silver and workmanship, mounted on a stand of maple wood, consists of a snuff-box, in the shape of a bugle, about five inches high, entwined with maple leaves, while on the cover is placed the emblem of Canada, a silver beaver, holding a gold maple branch in its mouth. The presentation was made by Lieut.-Colonel Gzowski, President of the Dominion Rifle Association, at the lunch given 19th July 1877, by the Canadian Team, and we understand the "bugle will be placed in the hands of the Colonel the Marquis of Donegall, K. P., commanding the London Irish Rifles, to be brought out at mess on state occasions.

Early yesterday morning the large plaining mill of Mr. J. Oliver, situated on the Esplanade, opposite the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, was burned. Loss, about $25,000. No insurance on stock and only about $8,000 on the machinery.

During the last ten years the proprietor of the Great Shoshonees Remedy has faithfully redeemed every promise and guarantee made to the public over his signature. Alarming and apparently hopeless cases of lung Diseases, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, afflictions of the Kidney and Chronic Complaints of every discription, including Scrofula and Skin Diseases of life-long duration, have been permanently removed and eradicated. Those who volunterred their testimony of the efficacy of the Remedy are not bogus people in unhead-of localities of foreign states, but respectable citizens of this Dominion, easy of access and open to question, upon whose verbal recommendation we are willing to rest the reputation of the Great Shoshonees Remedy. If you are afflicted do not delay until medicine may be powerless to aid you. No injurious effects can possibly follow the use of these Indian Remidies, as they certain no minerals, by which the fate of the invalid is so often sealed under the from of some temporary oedative or stimulant. These Indian Remedies are widely known and still possess the public confidence after the lapse of sufficient time to test their efficacy.

The Shoshonees Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills have won for themselves the most favorable reputation of any pill before the public. Their efficacy has deen fully proved as a remndy of Biliousness, Sick headache, and snactivities of the stomack. Price for the Remedy in point bottles $1; Pills 25 cts. a box.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 21.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

To Our Readers.—To-morrow being a holiday, no paper will be issued from this office.

Adjourned.—The County Council adjourned this morning to meet again on Friday.

Postponed.—The lecture announced to be given by Mr. N. F. Davin, to-night, has been postponed till further notice.

The Cells.—No less than 13 tramps were provided with lodgings in the cells last night. From this it may be inferred that Winter is really with us.

The Harbor.—The St. Clair is loading at Campbell & Co.'s and the Ploughboy at Pretty's. The Kincardine has arrived and will make two more trips.

The Treasurership.—The County Treasurership—made vacant by the death of Mr. Francis McAnnany—has been awarded to Mr. Thomas Wills by the County Council, by a vote of 13 to 11.

To-morrow.—There will be services in all the Protestant Churches of the town to-morrow at the usual hours. In the evening a social tea will be held in the basement of the Bridge-st. C. M. Church, free to all members of the society and congregation.

Manitoba Grain.—Mr. William Shepard who has spent the last seven years in Manitoba, is now here on a visit to his parents. He brought with him several samples of grain grown in that province, all of which beat anything for weight and size that we have yet seen. Mr. S. is in the real estate business and we are glad to know is meeting with encouraging success.

Thanksgiving.—To-morrow, Thursday having been set apart as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest vouchsafed us, it will we hope, be properly and appropriately observed. The Mayor, by proclamation has requested a due observance of the day which we trust will be acted on and business suspended.

Sparrows.—Large numbers of English sparrows can now be seen in our streets, and to those who do not know the nature of these birds, they appear strange. We have noticed that several persons—evidently with a desire to keep the little creatures near their localities have put up houses for their accommodation during the winter.

Don't Forget.—We mean don't forget the Thanksgiving Dinner in the basement of the new M. E Tabernacle to-morrow. The ladies of that Congregation and their friends have worked hard to get up something worthy of public patronage and they deserve all the encouragement that can be given them. We ask all our readers to go and take dinner with them.

Beware of Sharpers. We have already taken occasion to warn our readers against the frauds that are being perpetrated by a band of sharpers, who are selling shoddy cloth in this county. We now learn that the whole county is infested with this nuisance, which is worse than the Colorado Beetle or the Hessian Fly. We repeat the caution, don't trust your own judgment, for the goods appear all right, but whoever buys them is sure to get bit.

Inspection of Hides.—At the meeting of the Board of Examiners appointed to ascertain and examine the qualifications of applicants for the position of Inspector of Hides and Leather in this district, four persons presented themselves and were awarded certificates. An appointment for this section will soon be made by the Government.

NAVIGATION NOTES.

The Oswego Palladium of Monday says: —At noon to-day a fleet of eighteen vessels were in sight, bound for this port, They were mostly of the Bay of Quinte fleet, which ran into South Bay Saturday night for shelter.

TWO BIG FARMS.

In a recent number of your journal the following appears:

"Ex-Governor Abner Coburn, of Maine, is said to be the largest landholder in America. He owns 593,000 acres, a large part of which are in Canada and at the West."

I wish to correct this by saying that Wilson Waddingham, now of this city, is believed to be the largest land owner in the United States. He owns in one compact body on the Canadian River in Eastern New Mexico 656,000 acres, for which he has a United States Government patent, and improvements that represent a large sum of money. On this estate he has, in connection with another gentleman, about 8,000 head of cattle and 12,000 head of sheep, the nucleus of a live stock growing operation. In addition he owns other lands situated on the Rio Grande River and elsewhere in the same territory, about 600,000 acres more, making a total of 1,256,000 acres owned by Mr. Waddingham, or more than twice as much as is claimed to be owned by ex-Governor Abner Coburn, of Maine.—"New York Evening Post."

[The above Mr. Waddingham, we understand, is a Kingstonian, and must have been a very lucky one too.]

—931 sea-going vessels entered at Quebec this season.

A Word in Season.—Besides the Sulphite of Lime to keep your cider sweet, a fresh supply of the latest sensation among housekeepers has just come to hand—Sunbeam polish for stoves. No labor, no dust, and costs you just 15 cents at Geen's Drug Store.

Probabilities.—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

Certainties.—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like Muir & Lawrence's where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

CONDENSED NEWS.

From Napanee.

A despatch says the liabilities of the Messrs. Grange Bros., druggists and paper manufacturers, are $138,000, besides a claim on the paper mill about $22,000. The assets are not yet known.

Sold by A. L. Geen.

The Best and Latest medical discovery is Phillips' Phospho-Nutritine. In this incomparable tonic, a promoter of digestion and nervine, the most nourishing phosphate of wheat, those of Potash and Magnesia are the chief ingredients. It is rapidly winning "golden opinions." Sold by all Druggists, and by A. L. Geen.

A COMMON ERROR.

Sir John A. Macdonald never had a majority from his own Province. Referring to the remark that there "never was a time —except once, by accident—when Sir John had a majority from his own Province," the Ottawa Free Press points out that he never at any time had such a majority. We give the words of our Ottawa contemporary:—"The common error, that Sir John Macdonald was the leader of the Coalition Government from 1864 to 1867, is here apparent. Sir John was never the leader of that Government, which was under the leadership, first of Sir E. P. Tache, and next of Sir Narcisse Belleau; and the Ontario Liberals, so long as they supported the Coalition, were led, not by him—for they repudiated him—but by the representatives of their own party in the Government."

LIFE IN THE BLACK HILLS

A very pathetic description of the perils of life in the Black Hills is given in the following extract from the letter of a miner there to his brother living in Nevada:—"I've been spending the last week trying to think of some plan which will enable me to get home. If I only had $500 I could get to Cheyenne, and then it would be easy sailing into civilization. If you send the money by express, the Indians are sure to get it, as they split open a Wells-Fargo coach every few days. If you send it by mail, I wouldn't get it for months, as the post master is off on a big drunk most of the time, and can't read anyhow. Don't send a draft on the bank, as it is liable to be lost. If you know some friend coming to the hills, don't trust him with the cash, as he is sure to gamble it off at Cheyenne or get robbed at Custer. If you can think of some way of sending the money that it will be sure to get here, send it right away; but unless you are sure, don't risk it. Perhaps you had better come yourself and bring it." The brother wrote in reply, "Just borrowed $12 to settle a board bill."

WIFE-BEATING.

The practice of wife-beating, which seems to be common enough in England, should not be encouraged in Canada. There has been several instances of wife-beating of late, and it is said that the brutal murder of his wife by Williams, the Weston murderer, was simply the result of the practice of wife-beating which he was in the habit of following, and which happened on that occasion to result more disastrously than on previous occasions. There is no punishment too severe for the wife-beater, and it is to be hoped that those who have to deal with this class of criminals will see to it that their punishment is sufficiently severe. It is a question if it would not be advisable to resort to the use of the lash for the punishment of such offences. It might have a deterring effect on some of the unfeeling monsters who are given to belaboring their wives on the slightest provocation, and sometimes without any provocation at all. A drunken husband is affliction enough for any woman to bear, but a husband who is both drunken and abusive is the sum total of a woman's misery.—Telegram.

AMERICAN NEWS

An Interview with Chief Joseph.

New Mexican Minister.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bismarck, Dak., Nov. 21.—Gen. Miles had two interviews with Chief Joseph yesterday. Joseph said he wanted to return to Idaho. Miles refrained from telling Joseph that orders had been received that his band would be taken in a few days to Fort Leavenworth. The 7th Cavalry and 1st Infantry came into town to-day with pockets inside-out, as a hint that they had received no pay for seven months.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Herald's Rio Janerio special reports the steamship Parona lost Oct. 8th on the rocks north of Bahia. All on board were saved, including Minister Hilliard. When she struck the Italian passengers drew revolvers and pludered the after-cabins.

The Herald's Columbia, S. C., special says the elections yesterday to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of State Senators Nash and Representative Minort, (Colored), resulted in the election of two Democrats. A year ago the Republicans polled a vote of 2,000 majority. Yesterday not 25 voted their ticket.

The Herald's New Orleans special announces the arrival of Senor Zamacona, the new Mexican Minister to the U. S. He says he is a special agent of the Mexican Government to establish commercial and friendly relations between the two countries, and that the border troubles originate among bad men who have an interest in stirring up strife. The great mass of the Mexican people have no feeling of enmity to the U. S.

The Herald's Washington special says it is known in the State and Treasury Departments that the Cubans have been fitting out a military expedition against Cuba. Steamers are expected to start from New Orleans, Bristol and Philadelphia.

A lot of two-legged donkies talk of opposing Governor Couchon's entrance into Manitoba. They are bound to make Mr. Cauchon popular yet.

A lady in the market on Saturday observed that "if the Aldermen were forced to wear skirts, they would soon have the mud scraped off the crossings and square." That's a fact.

We are looking for the man who will soon step into our sanctum, spit on the carpet, get his feet on the table, beg our tobacco, and go through several other preliminaries before he raises his hand to high heaven and swears that he killed a pig, six months old, which weighed 1,000 lbs.

This is an off season for the small boy. He can't eat green fruit, and he can't fall through an ice hole; so he hangs round the parlor and tells his sister's young man how much of Anna Maria's chiefest glory is hair and how much is jute switch.

This and That.

—There are 313 vacant houses in three wards in Ottawa.

—The Superior Court, Montreal, has refused an application for stay of execution in the St. Andrew's pew case.

—The Windsor water-works this year will yield a revenue of $16,191. The annual expenses are about $6,000.

—Mr. A. Wilson of the "Herald" Printing Co., Montreal, is insane. We have not heard the cause, if any can be assigned.

—Mr. B. Sulte, of the Militia Department, will probably go to Manitoba as private Secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor.

—The Wesleyans and Primative Wesleyans of Ireland are holding frequent union meetings, as a preparation for the approaching amalgamation of the two bodies.

When the Empress Eugenie visited Queen Victoria first after her flight from France, she threw herself into the Queen's arms, and cried, amid tears and sobs, "Oh! it was all my fault—Louis did not want the war—but I would have it!" The Prince of Wales felt so touched by her grief that he had to leave the room—to blow his nose.

MELANGE.

A lady fell into an open coal hole in the pavement in front of a store in Richmond, Ind., and in falling thrust her head through a window. The store-keeper pulled her out and charged her $1.40 for broken glass.

The "Hawkeye" relates that "six months ago a party of young men left Burlington for the Black Hills. From time to time they have proudly written back that they were doing well. But last week one of them wrote to his father that he would be home Wednesday evening, and added, 'meet me on the Agency road, at dark, just out of town, and bring a blanket or a pair of trowsers with you. I have a hat.'"

A boquet of compliments to woman: "There are but two fine things in the world,' says Malherbe, 'woman and roses.' Dessing exclaims, 'Woman is the masterpiece of the universe.' Bourdon says, 'The pearl is the image of purity, but woman is purer than the pearl.' Thackeray writes, 'A good woman is the loveliest flower that blooms under heaven.' Balzac says, 'Even the errors of woman spring from her faith in good.' Voltaire declares, 'All the reasonings of man are not worth one sentiment of woman.' Lamartine asserts that 'women have more heart and imagination than men.' Otway exclaims, "O woman! lovely woman; nature made thee to temper man; we are but brutes without you.' To which Mark Twain adds: 'But for you we should be nothing, for we should not be here.'

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and Democrat, Corinth, Miss."

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After resource to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.
ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Headaches caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.
ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

EPITAPH ON A CANDLE.

A wicked [illegible] lies buried here,
Who died in a decline;
He never rose in rank I fear,
Though he was born to [illegible].
He once was fat, but then indeed
Grew thin as any griever;
He died, the [illegible] all agreed,
Of a most [illegible] fever.

If e'er you [illegible] Go out, I pray,
As much [illegible] showed;
On such occasions he would [illegible]
"Vy, if I do, I'm blowed."

In this his friends do all agree,
Although you think I'm joking,
When going out 'tis said that he
Was very fond of smoking.

Since all religion he despised,
Let these few words suffice:
Before he ever was baptized,
They dipped him once or twice.

TO FLIRTS.

You lady, are you in the habit of flirting? By flirting I mean not only the trifling with the affections of gentlemen with whom you are acquainted, but I mean the trifling with strangers by medium of fan or handkerchief, etc. And do you know what will be the result of your thoughtlessness? I can very easily tell you. You will lose your good name; you will lose the respect of all honorable and virtuous people; you will be 'lightly' spoken of; your name will become the jest of saloons and billiard halls. You say "Pshaw!", If you knew how these very men with whom you flirt talk about you, you would not doubt what I say. Perhaps you have not sat in some public place and heard men make sport of "the little fools" who have flirted with them. Perhaps you have not had cousins, who were aggents; and perhaps you have not heard those same cousins talk about "their unknown correspondents," and about the girls who have flirted with them. "No!" Well I have, and I know of what I speak, and no young lady that respects herself will flirt under any circumstances. If she flirts she cannot expect that others will respect her. If she realizes what a heap of trouble she was causing herself and all her friends, she would not do so, but she is like the man taking the first glass of whiskey, she cannot think it will lead to the terrible results which she has seen in the case of others.

"Good name of man or woman
Is the immediate jewel of their souls"— and as such it should be preserved very carefully from anything which can in any manner tarnish its brightness. Please girls as you value your happiness, desist from this useless habit. It only inquires yourselves and makes all your friends unhappy and you never saw a flirt that was respected. Be something better, nobler, truer; you can be if you will. Be true to your womanhood, true to your mothers, true to your God.

ECCENTRIC WILLS.

The head of a great industrial family, which has been renowned for generations for its eccentricities, remarked in his will: "To my only son who never would follow my advice, and has treated me rudely in very many instances, instead of making him my executor and residuary legatee, (as till this day it was,) I give him £100,000." It is on record that another gentleman once directed his executors to purchase a copy of a picture representing a viper biting the hand of the man who had saved it, and to give that to a certain friend of his, in lieu of a legacy of £3,000 which he had left him by a former will, now revoked and burned. "I give and devise to my son, Daniel Church," said Mr. S. Church, in his will, "only one shilling, and that is to hire a porter to carry away the next badge and frame he steals." Dying people have often had thus a grin at their friends' expense. A certain magnate of Plymouth once decreed by his will that his wife should cut off one of his toes or fingers to make sure he was dead, adding that he made the request so that "as she had been troubled with one old fool, she will not think of marrying a second," though why her cutting off a toe from her deceased lord should have prevented her choosing a successor to him does not clearly appear. A Mr. Swain, of Southwark, gave "to John Abbot and Mary, his wife, six pence each, to buy for each of them a halter, for fear the Sheriffs should not be provided," A Mr. Darley left to his wife a shilling, "for picking my pocket of 60 guineas." A bookseller in Bond street, London, is said to have left the handsome legacy of £50 to Elizabeth Parker, whom, through my foolish fondness, I made my wife, without regard to family, fame or fortune; and who, in return, has not spared, most unjustly, to accuse me of every crime regarding human nature save highway robbery."

WHAT HIS VISITS WERE LIKE.

"Your visits remind me of the growth of a successful newspaper," said Uncle Jabez, leaning his chin on his cane and glancing at William Henry, who was sweet on Angelica.

"Why so?" inquired William Henry.

"Well, they commenced on a weekly, grew to be tri-weekly, and have now become daily, with a Sunday supplement."

"Yes," said William Henry, bracing up, "and after we are married we will issue an extra—"

"Sh—h," said Angelica, and then they went out for a stroll.—Keokuk Constitution.

CITY HOTEL,

BY CAPTAIN WM. POWER.

HAVING leased my Hotel in Cannifton, I am now Proprietor of the City Hotel, Front Street, Belleville. I therefore respectfully solicit the patronage of friends and others, as this house is second to none in the city, with its spacious yard and good stables. Having much experience in horses, horsemen and others would do well to favor me with a call, as my table and bar will be well supplied with the choicest the market will afford.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN
HAIR
RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.
Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye.
FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation, which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

The Daily Ontario.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 23.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Legal.—The case of Pardee vs. Lloyd was on Wednesday enlarged for a week.

Postponed.—The march-out of the 15th Batt., A. L. I., announced for yesterday, has been postponed till Monday next.

English Mail—The "Circassian's" mails arrived and were distributed at the post office here on Wednesday evening.

Late.—On Wednesday evening for the first time in several weeks, the evening train from the east, was behind time.

Personal.—Mr. Aaron Stearne, of Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., a prominent fur buyer, was in town to-day. He reports the trade as in anything but a blooming state.

In Harness.—Prof. Bell, this morning, assumed the duties of the office of County Clerk to which situation he was appointed 'pro tem' on Wednesday.

Dunkin.—In Toronto, on Wednesday, in the case of the Queen vs. Lake—Mr. Ferguson, Q. C., obtained a rule nisi for a certiorari.

Court of Inquiry.—The investigation into certain charges preferred by the Colonel of the 15th Batt., A. L. I., against the Quartermaster of the same force is to be heard by Cols, Strabenzie and Worsley.

Successful.—In the list of those who passed the first intermediate law examination without an oral, we observe the name of Mr. W. B. Northrup. We congratulate the young gentleman on his success.

Remanded.—A couple of prisoners who were brought up in the Police Court yesterday for breaking into a bonded car on the G. T. R. here, were remanded. They were the only persons brought before the Court,

The Elections.—The nominations for Mayor and Aldermen in cities, and for Reeves, Deputy Reeves and Councillors in rural municipalities, will be held on Monday, December 31st. The elections will be on Monday following Candidates.—Two new candidates for Aldermanic honors are announced in to-day's issue, both of whom, if elected, will make good public servants. One, Dr. B. S. Wilson, is for Ketcheson Ward, and the other, W. H. Garratt, is for Samson Ward.

Advice.—We have lately observed in our exchanges numerous instances in which travellers have been swindled by the 'freight bill' dodge. This is an old game and though often shown up, does not prevent its repetition. Travellers now a days cannot guard their money too well, and the wider the birth they give pretending strangers, the better off they will be in the end.

For the Holidays.—As the Christmas holidays are close upon us, no time should be lost preparing for these festive occasions. The turkeys should be put into winter quarters and be generously ministered to in order that they may present a plumb, stall-fed and juicy appearance when the glory of their great sacrifice shall be given them.

Recovered.—A zinc or tin covered trunk which was found on Mr. Blanchard's farm, on the front of Sidney, and which is supposed to have been a portion of the property stolen from the village of Grafton recently, is now at the Police office. On the outside of it is written, "John McCabe, Grafton."

Thanksgiving Day.—Yesterday was generally observed as a holiday and business was almost entirely suspended and the stores closed. Services were held in the several Protestant churches but the congregations were not large on account of the disagreeable weather. A dinner was given in the basement of the new M. E. Tabernacle which was very largely attended, and a free tea was given in the evening in the Bridge Street Church. The town was very quiet all day.

A Word in Season.—Besides the Sulphite of Lime to keep your cider sweet, a fresh supply of the latest sensation among housekeepers has just come to hand—Sunbeam polish for stoves. No labor, no dust, and costs you just 15 cents at Geen's Drug Store.

Probabilities,—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

Certainties,—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want. and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like Muir & Lawrence's where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

MELANGE.

The difference between the preacher, the builder, and the architect of the church is simply this: One is the rector, the other the erector, and the third the director. So a party says who knows,

A number of young ladies and gentlemen are getting up a social debating club. The first question to be discussed is, "Should we marry or live single?" You may count that decided in the affirmative, especially as there is a preponderance of female votes in the club.

There is a singular contest going on in a Hartford family, where a sixty year old farmer and his twenty one year old son are both courting the adopted daughter and sister. The girl is in a strait betwixt the two; the young man is of the age that suits her, but he can't support a wife, while the old gentleman has plenty of money, and she owes him gratitude for taking her from a life of poverty. Meanwhile both parties urge their suits openly and vigorously.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

SECOND DAY,—MORNING SESSION.

The Council met at ten o'clock.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

PETITION.

Mr Carry presented the petition of Miles Sweeney asking for remuneration for some of his land used as a County Road. Referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

BY-LAW.

Mr Wood introduced a by-law for the appointment of a Treasurer. Referred to the Committee on By-laws.

Mr Haggerty read his motion which appeared in Tuesday's report. In moving the resolution he thought it his duty, as a member of the Council, to bring this matter before the Council, for Mr Kelso had said that the charges he made would be substantiated by him.

The motion was carried.

Mr Wood moved that rule 39 be suspended for the day, and the Council then went into Committee of the Whole on By-laws,—Mr Aylesworth in the Chair.

Thomas Emo, Esq., here took a seat inside the bar.

The Chairman read the by-law introduced by Mr Wood.

Mr Wood moved, seconded by Mr Pearce, that Mr Thomas Wills be appointed. In making the motion he stated that he had known Mr Wills for many years, and in many ways and always found that his motives were pure and upright. Mr W had filled the office of Clerk for over 25 years and he found him a zealous officer. He contended that if there was any promotion to be made he was entitled to it.

Mr. Flint said he had been asked to take the Treasurership before Mr McAnanny's death by a gentleman, and afterwards he had said that if the Council sought fit to give him the office he would take it. At the same time he would state that he had not canvassed the members for the office and wished to be put in that position where no one would be trammelled. After consideration he deemed it best that some one else should be put in that place. He favored Mr Wills and hoped the vote for his appointment would be unanimous. His long experience in municipal affairs, and otherwise made him better fitted for the position than any other applicant. When we came to take everything into consideration we will find that he is the best man for the place. He thanked those who interested themselves in his behalf and if he had offered and only got a few votes he would have felt no hardness against those who voted against him.

Mr Ashley proposed Mr N S Appleby and in doing so said the appointment should be given to one in the county as he believed a person who should take the office should come from there. Mr A had given more of his time for nothing to the County than any other man in it, and he was satisfied if he received the office he would perform his duties well and satisfactorily.

Mr Anderson seconded the motion and said it did him great pleasure to do it. The Treasurership was an important office and he hoped Mr. McAnanny's successor would be as good as he was. He had no doubt that Mr Appleby would be a good Treasurer.

Mr Wilmot said if we have men within the bounds of the County, men eligible to this position, we should give it to them. Mr Wills had made an excellent Clerk, but it was a question in his mind whether or not we should appoint to this office a man who lives in town. Any men who served the county municipally for a long time would become acquainted with the financial affairs of the county, and they did it at a certain sacrifice, and therefore if we have offices to give we should bestow them on such persons. If the town wants an officer they don't send to the county for applicants, and he considered that he would not be consistent if he voted against an applicant from the county. He supported Mr Appleby, who was an old servant of the county, and would make a good officer.

Mr. White said that the town had been visited for the purpose of giving candidates for parliament to the County. He had nothing to say against Mr. Appleby and was sorry that he had to vote against him. Threats had been made against him; threats of many kinds but he did'nt care for them as he was going to vote for Mr. Wills. Mr. Wills was a tax-payer in the County and resided in the County until a few years ago, and it was not right that a man should not be taken on his merits. No matter who was appointed he would have to be a resident of Belleville. No matter who was appointed he would vote for Mr. Wills.

Mr. Wilmot said if we have been inconsistent before that is no reason we should do so now. If we did not appoint a man from the County we would ignore the claims of a deserving person.

Mr. Ashley said if Mr. Farley be appointed he could live in the County and perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. With the two applicants it stood this way. One had filled offices for the County and got no pay for his services; the other had always been paid. In his opinion Mr. Appleby had the best claim for the office.

Mr. Flint said Mr. Wills was well qualified for the office and he knew that Mr. Appleby had not as much claims as any other for the office. He did not know why he should be looked on as better than any other simply because he lived outside the town. He disliked town and county distinctions and considered that any candidate's qualifications should be looked at no matter where he came from. No one was better qualified to fill the position than Mr. Wills. We should strive to do everything for the prosperity of the County and therefore he disliked distinctions.

Mr. Anderson said East Hastings had not to come to Belleville for a member and we need not go elsewhere for a Treasurer. Mr. Wills was a good man but he wanted him kept in the position he now occupied.

Mr. Wilmot ag giving the appointn
the County.

Mr. Gordon would much as the people of the the appointment of a resident ty—no distinctions should have

Mr Wood argued that as the Cau an officer who performed his duties factorily if an occasion offered, he sho be promoted. With regard to the pay he never thought it adequate and the person who gets the office must have other occupation and become a resident of the town. It was a grand mistake that the two offices of Clerk and Treasurer should not be amalgamated for then the best talent could be procured for the purpose.

Mr Ashley disdained the drawing of distinctions. He contended that a man who resided in another place did not have the claims that a resident of the County would have. It was his belief that the offices should be kept separate.

Mr Anderson asked what the salary should be and whether the increase for assistance given Mr. McAnanny would be continued.

Mr Aylesworth said the salary had been £200 but an increase of $200 was made besides some fees. With regard to the applicants for the Treasurership he would only say that both were well qualified to receive the office. Had Mr Flint been a candidate he would have voted for him.

The first motion was put for the appointment of Mr. Wills and was declared carried and his surities were fixed at $20,000, and Mr Wills in the same sum.

Committee rose and reported—adopted.

Mr Wood moved the third reading of the By-law for the appointment of a County Treasurer.—Carried.

Mr Wills returned his thanks for the appointment of Treasurer and tendered his resignation as Clerk which was accepted.

Mr Wood moved the appointment of James Thompson Bell as Clerk pro tem carried.

Council adjourned till Friday morning at ten o'clock.

The Pharmacopœia affords no antacid comparable to milk of magnesia, a most salutary regulator of the stomach and bowels, a preventive and remedy for gout, rheumatism, and bladder complaints, and a special blessing to children. Sold by all druggists, and by Ed. Chandler.

It is an object of no slight importance to remedy the effects of premature gray hair, nor do all persons know how effectually that can be done by using "Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer." A few applications as an ordinary hair dressing is all that is necessary. It becomes popular everywhere it has been introduced. Sold by all chemists. And by Ed. Chandler.

The Wear and Tear of Business exhausts the nervous energies, and thus lays the foundation of disease. Prevent such a consequence by bracing and fortifying the debilitated system with Phillips's Phospho-Nutritine, the great restorative of physical and mental vigor. Sold by Druggists generally, and by Ed. Chandler.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

How it was kept in Belleville.

Yesterday was Thanksgiving Day in Canada, and was generally observed as such. The morning opened wet and raw. There was little to entice people outside, but many did brave the wind and rain in the performance of thanksgiving duties. Services were held in the different Protestant churches of the city, and subsequent gatherings of a social and religious nature were in order. Our limited space to-day will not admit an extended notice of what was said and done in Belleville. The Dinner given dy the ladies of the M. E. Church, in the basement of the new Tabernacle, was a success in every particular. The spacious hall was occupied by long tables stretching across, and literally groaning beneath the delicacies provided for the gratification of a thousand stomachs. We might quote Byron and say that they "——were a sight to tempt even ghosts to cross the Styx for more substantial feasts."

And ample justice was done to the good things provided. The attendance was large, and those who had charge of the entertainment are to be congratulated on the success that crowned their efforts.

In the evening a social tea was served in the basement of the Bridge St. Church, which was numerously attended. Here, too, the culinary art shone transcendently. The ladies made a "big push" and succeeded admirably. After satisfying the inner man an interesting ceremony took place. This was the presentation of a gold watch and chain to Nathan Jones, Esq., as a token of respect for him as an old member of the Society and for long and valuable services as Chorister. Other business was transacted to which we cannot now refer.

CONDENSED NEWS

From Picton.

The New Nation attributes McMain's escape, to the man who sold "hollow cord-wood."

Personal cases for violation of the liquor law were heard this week. One of the victims, W. Black Blanchard was fined $20 and cost.

Two companies of the 16th Batt. were inspected on Wednesday and went through the different evolutions very creditably.

On Thursday Messrs. McDonald & Morgan shipped 325 sheep from this port for the European market via New York.

From Prince Edward.

Andrew Davidson Esq. of N. Marysburg, slaughtered two pigs of the Chester breed seven months and sixteen days old, one of which weighed 336 lbs, the other 327 lbs. Mr. Davidson has the reputation of being a successful pork raiser, and the above will not diminish his laurels.

The store of Mr. Owen Roblin of Ameliasburg, was entered by burglars on Saturday night, and a quantity of goods carried off. The contents of the post office, amongst which were several registered letters, were untouched.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does perform what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and Democrat, Corinth, Miss."

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline, After resource to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health, Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Headaches caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

[illegible] tempest continued to increase. The wind roared in the narrow pass and [illegible] the tops of the icebergs. Loud reports, [illegible] twenty times [illegible] the echoes, [illegible] notice of the fall of avalanches, and [illegible] Hobson began to fear that his [illegible] progress would be barred by the mass of debris accumulated between the mountains. Other sounds mingled with these reports, which Lieutenant Hobson knew too well, and he did not disguise from Mrs. Barnett that bears were prowling about the pass. But fortunately these terrible animals were too much occupied with their own concerns to discover the retreat of the travellers; neither the dogs nor the sledges, buried in the snow, attracted their attention, and they passed on without doing any harm.

The last night, that of the 25th or 26th of May, was even more terrible. So great was the fury of the hurricane that a general overthrow of the icebergs appeared imminent. A fearful death would then have awaited the unfortunate travellers beneath the ruins of the broken masses. The blocks of ice cracked with an awful noise, and certain oscillations gave warning that breaches had been made threatening their solidity. However, no great crash occurred, the huge mountains remained intact, and toward the end of the night one of those sudden changes so frequent in the Artic regions took place; the tempest ceased suddenly beneath the influence of intense cold, and with the first dawn of day peace was restored.

CHAPTER VIII.—THE GREAT BEAR LAKE.

This sudden increase of cold was most fortunate. Even in temperate climes there are generally three or four bitter days in May; and they were most serviceable now in consolidating the freshly-fallen snow, and making it practicable for the sledges, Lieutenant Hobson, therefore, lost no time in resuming his journey, urging on the dogs to their utmost speed.

The route was, however, slightly changed. Instead of bearing due north, the expedition advanced toward the west following, so to speak, the curve of the Arctic Circle. The Lieutenant was most anxious to reach Fort Confidence, built on the northern extremity of the Great Bear Lake. These few cold days were of the greatest service to him; he advanced rapidly, no obstacle was encountered, and his little troop arrived at the factory on the 30th of May.

At this time Forts Confidence and Good Hope were the most advanced posts of the Company in the north. Fort Confidence was a most important position, built on the northern extremity of the lake, close to its waters, which being frozen over in Winter, and navigable in Summer, afforded easy access to Fort Franklin, on the southern shores, and promoted the coming and going of the Indian hunters with their daily spoils. Many were the hunting and fishing expeditions which started from Forts Confidence and Good Hope, especially from the former. The Great Bear Lake is quite a Mediterranean Sea, extending over several degrees of latitude and longitude. Its shape is very irregular; two promontories jut into it toward the center, and the upper portion forms a triangle; its appearance, as a whole, much resembling the extended skin of a ruminant without the head.

Fort Confidence was built at the end of the "right paw," at least two hundred miles from Coronation Gulf, one of the numerous estuaries which irregularly indent the coast of North America. It was therefore situated beyond the Arctic circle, but three degrees south of the seventieth parallel, north of which the Hudson's Bay Company proposed forming a new settlement.

Fort Confidence, as a whole, much resembled other factories further south. It consisted of a house for the officers, barracks for the soldiers, and magazines for the furs—all of wood, surrounded by palisades. The captain in command was then absent. He had gone toward the east on a hunting expedition with a few Indians and soldiers. The last season had not been good, costly furs had been scarce; but to make up for this the lake had supplied plenty of otter-skins. The stock of them had, however, just been sent to the central factories in the south, so that the magazines of Fort Confidence were empty on the arrival of our party.

In the absence of the Captain a Sergeant did the honors of the fort to Jasper Hobson and his companions. This second officer, Felton by name, was a brother-in-law of Sergeant Long. He showed the greatest readiness to assist the views of the Lieutenant, who being anxious to rest his party, decided on remaining two or three days at Fort Confidence. In the absence of the little garrison there was plenty of room, and dogs and men were soon comfortably installed. The best room in the largest house was of course given to Mrs. Paulina Barnet, who was delighted with the politeness of Sergeant Felton.

Jaspar Hobson's first care was to ask Felton if any Indians from the north were then beating the shores of the Great Bear Lake.

"Yes, Lieutenant," replied the Sergeant; "we have just received notice of the encampment of a party of Hare Indians on the other northern extremity of the lake."

"How far from here?" inquired Hobson.

"About thirty miles," replied Sergeant Felton. "Do you wish to enter into communication with these Indians?"

To be continued.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.

Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye.

FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation, which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

A Lecture to Young Men

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE CONDUCT OF LIFE.

Be it good that we do, let us do it,
Giving soul and strength to the deed;
Let us pierce the hard rock and pass through it,
And compass the thing that we need.

Does Fate, as a dark cloud, hang over,
And cover our heads from the light,
Does hate mock the heart of the lover?
Must wrong be the victor of right?

Yet in Fate there is freedom for each one
To make or to mar, as he will;
And the bolts of ill fortune that reach one
May maim, but they never shall kill.

Ever onward and upward pursuing
The aim that is thine for the day,
Adding strength to thy strength by thy doing,
Thou shalt gain it, nor faint by the way.

And though thou art bruised with small things,
Though menial thy labor shall be,
Do thy utmost in that and in all things,
Thou still shall be noble and free.

Dost thou love? let it be with full measure;
Nor single with coldness or hate
Of others the joy of thy pleasure,
The passsion that crowns thy estate.

Be to every man just; and to woman
Be gentle, and tender and true;
For thy own do thy best; but for no man
Do less than a brother should do.

So living thy days full to number,
In peace thou shalt pass to thy grave;
Thou shalt lie down and rest there and slumber
Beloved by the good and the brave.

THE FUR COUNTRY.

PART FIRST.

"Yes," said Hobson; "they may be able to give me some valuable information about the districts bordering on the Arctic Ocean, and bounded by Cape Bathurst. Should the site be favorable, I propose constructing our new fort somewhere about there."

"Well, Lieutenant, nothing is easier than to go to the Hare encampment."

"Along the shores of the lake?"

"No, across it, it is now free from ice, and the wind is favorable. We will place a cutter and a boatman at your service, and in a few hours you will be in the Indian settlement."

"Thank you, Sergeant; to-morrow then."

"Whenever you like, Lieutenant."

The start was fixed for the next morning; and when Mrs. Paulina Barnett heard of the plan, she begged the Lieutenant to allow her to accompany him, which of course he readily did.

But now to tell how the rest of the first day was passed. Mrs. Barnett, Hobson, two or three soldiers, Madge, Mrs. Mac Nab and Joliffe explored the shores of the lake under the guidance of Felton. The neighborhood was by no means barren of vegetation; the hills, now free from snow, were crowned by resinous trees of the Scotch pine species. These trees, which attain a height of some forty feet, supply the inhabitants of the forts with plenty of fuel through the long Winter. Their thick trunks and dark gloomy branches form a striking feature of the landscape; but the regular clumps of equal height, sloping down to the very edge of the water, are somewhat monotonous. Between these groups of trees the soil was clothed with a sort of whitish weed, which perfumed the air with a sweet thymy odor. Sergeant Felton informed his guests that this plant was called the "herb of incense" on account of the fragrance it emits when burned.

Some hundred steps from the fort the party came to a little natural harbor shut in by high granite rocks, which formed an admirable protection from the heavy surf. Here was anchored the fleet of Fort Confidence, consisting of a single fishing-boat—the very one which was to take Mrs. Barnett and Hobson to the Indian encampment the next day. From the harbor an extensive view was obtained of the lake; its waters slightly agitated by the wind, with its irregular shores broken by jagged capes and intersected by creeks. The wooded heights beyond, with here and there the rugged outline of a floating iceberg standing out against the clear blue air, formed the background on the north; while on the south a regular sea horizon, a circular line clearly cutting sky and water, and at this moment glittering in the sunbeams, bounded the sight.

The whole scene was rich in animal and vegetable life. The surface of the water, the shores strewn with flints and blocks of granite, the slopes with their tapestry of herbs, the tree-crowned hill-tops, were all alike frequented by various specimens of the feathered tribe. Several varieties of ducks, uttering their different cries and calls, eider ducks, whistlers, spotted redshanks, "old women," those loquacious birds whose beak is never closed, skimmed the surface of the lake. Hudreds of puffins and guillemots with outspread wings darted about in every direction, and beneath the trees strutted ospreys two feet high—a kind of hawk with a gray body, blue beak and claws, and orange-colored eyes, which build their huge nests of marine plants in the forked branches of trees. The hunter Sabine managed to bring down a couple of these gigantic ospreys, which measured nearly six feet from tip to tip of their wings, and were therefore magnificent specimens of these migratory birds, who feed entirely on fish, and take refuge on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico when winter sets in, only visiting the higher latitudes of North America during the short summer.

But the most interesting event of the day was the capture of an otter, the skin of which was worth several hundred roubles.

The furs of these valuable amphibious creatures were once much sought after in China; and although the demand for them has considerably decreased in the Celestial Empire, they still command very high prices in the Russian market, Russian traders, ready to buy up sea-otter skins, travel all along the coast of New Cornwall as far as the Arctic Ocean; and of course, thus hunted, the animal is becoming very rare. It has taken refuge further north, and the trackers have now to pursue it on the shores of the Kamchatka Sea, and in the islands of the Behring Archipelago.

"But," added Sergeant Felton, after the preceding explanation, "American inland otters are not to be despised, and those which frequent the Great Bear Lake are worth from £50 to £60 each."

The Sergeant was right; magnificent otters are found in these waters, and he himself skillfully tracked and killed one in the presence of his visitors which was scarcely inferior in value to those of Kamschatka itself. The creature measured three feet from the muzzle to the end of its tail; it had webbed feet, short legs, and its fur, darker on the upper than on the under part of its body, was long and silky.

"A good shot, Sergeant," said Lieutenant Hobson, who with Mrs. Barnett had been attentively examining the fur of the dead animal.

"Yes, Lieutenant," replied Felton; "and if each day brought us such a skin as that we should have nothing to complain of. But much time is wasted in watching these animals, who swim and dive with marvelous rapidity. We generally hunt them at night, as they seldom venture from their homes in the trunks of trees or the holes of rocks in the daytime, and even expert hunters find it very difficult to discover their retreats."

"And are these otters also becoming scarcer and scarcer?" asked Mrs. Barnett.

"Yes, madame," replied the Sergeant; "and when this species becomes extinct, the profits of the Company will sensibly decline. All the hunters try to obtain its fur, and the Americans in particular, are formidable rivals to us. Did you not meet any American agents on your journey up, Lieutenant?"

"Not one," replied Hobson. "Do they ever penetrate as far as this?"

"Oh yes!" said the Sergeant; "and when you hear of their approach, I advise you to be on your guard."

"Are these agents, then, highway robbers?" asked Mrs. Paulina Barnett.

"No, madame," replied the Sergeant; but they are formidable rivals, and when game is scarce, hunters often come to blows about it. I daresay that if the Company's attempt to establish a fort on the verge of the Aactic Ocean be successful its example will at once be followed by those Americans, whom Heaven confound!"

"Bah!" exclaimed the Lieutenant; "the hunting districts are vast, and there's room beneath the sun for everybody. Let us press on as long as we have firm ground beneath our feet, and God be with us!"

After a walk of three hours the visitors returned to Fort Confidence, where a good meal of fish and fresh venison awaited them. Sergeant Long did the honors of the table and after a little pleasant conversation, all retired to rest to forget their fatigues in healthy and refreshing sleep.

The next day, May 31, Mrs. Barnett and Jasper Hobson were on foot at five a. m. The Lieutenant intended to devote this day to visiting the Indian encampment and obtain as much useful information as possible. He asked Thomas Black to go with him, but the astronomer preferred to remain on terra firma. He wished to make a few astronomical observations, and to determine exactly the latitude and longitude of Fort Confidence; so that Mrs. Barnett and Jasper Hobson had to cross the lake alone, under the guidance of an old boatman named Norman, who had long been in the Company's service.

The two travelers were accompanied by Sergeant Long as far as the little harbor, where they found old Norman ready to embark. Their little vessel was but an open fishing boat, six feet long, rigged like a cutter, which one man could easily manage. The weather was beautiful, and the slight breeze blowing from the northeast was favorable to the crossing. Sergeant Felton took leave of his guests with many apologies for being unable to accompany them in the absence of his chief. The boat was let loose from its moorings, and tacking to starboard, shot across the clear waters of the lake.

The little trip passed pleasantly enough. The taciturn old sailor sat silent in the stern of the boat with the tiller tucked under his arm. Mrs. Barnett and Lieutenant Hobson, seated opposite to each

DIRECT TAXATION.

We have reference to the United States. The New York World is our authority for saying that receipts of the United States from the Customs and Internal Revenue Departments have fallen off so seriously that there is a feeling prevailing at Washington antagonistic to continued payments of the national debt. If this means anything it is that direct taxation has been reached, and politicians at Washington are preparing to take advantage of the discontent that must generally prevail, and will make the cry for repudiation, or some other such dishonest course. It is quite evident, from statistics lately published, that the extreme protective tariff of the States has very nearly killed off the revenue which was once very large. As a consequence, direct taxation will have to be resorted to. The people are not disposed to complain so long as the necessary revenue for carrying on the business of the country is derived from Customs dues. The duties paid for luxuries and necessaries of life are only taxation in an indirect form, but they are not objectionable so long as the tax-collector does not make disagreeable visits. We shall watch the development of affairs among our neighbors with increasing interest, for there is now good reason to believe that considerable discontent will be the result of any move towards direct taxation.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

Nhe Hamilton Times publishes the substance of a conversation between Sir John and the owner of a leading manufacturing establishment, which took place on the day after the Tory demonstration in that city. After referring to the prosperous condition of their business, and the satisfactory tariff arrangements of the present Government, Sir John asked:

Sir J.—Am I to understand then, that should I obtain power and raise the tariff to 20, 25, or 30 per cent. your employees would reap no advantage from the increase?

M.—I cannot see how they could expect it. The trade in the States is duller than it is here. They could not better themselves by leaving us, and would therefore remain, even though what extra gains were made came solely to us.

Sir J.—Ah! well, you understand your own business best. Keep these matters to yourself, however, and impress it on the minds of your workingmen, that unless I get into power soon everything in the industrial line will go to everlasting smash. You may suggest that you are carrying on your business without profit, for the sole purpose of keeping them at work until I am made Premier. You know I have in my own way, promised to give you whatever tariff you wish for, so that if you will only keep your men in line and get me in office you have only to come down to Ottawa and ask what you want. I am really sorry though that you are so busy now as you are, for it makes, in such cases as yours, the demand for increased taxation look very much like a sham.

MINISTERS AND PATRIOTISM.

Conservative organs have made good use of the figures furnished them by the Mail, relative to the increase of the public expenditure, and more especially those relating to official salaries. The point attempted to be made is, that Ministers of the present Government have taken a portfolio only that they might, with all possible expedition, vote themselves into a good office. In order that their remarks may be suitably emphasized the following names are paraded in bold type as specimens of Grit patriots:—

M. Dorion	$ 7,000
M. Letellier	19,000
M. Fournier	7,000
M. Cauchon	9,000
Mr. Laird	8,000
Mr. Ross	4,000
Mr. D. A. Macdonald	10,000
Per annum	$55,000

These gentlemen, the organs declare, were all Ministers and actually selected themselves to fill the fat berths they now occupy. It is a poor rule that does not work both ways, so on the same parody of reasoning we make up the following list:—

Belleau,	appointed Lt.-Gov.	$10,000
McDougall,	" "	10,000
Archibald,	" "	10,000
Morris,	" "	10,000
Howe,	" "	9,000
Howland,	" "	10,000
Kenny,	" Administrator	9,000
Tilley,	" Lt.-Gov.	9,000
Dunkin,	" Judge	4.000
McDonald	" "	4,000
Per annum		$75,000

We need only add that these gentleman were all members of Sir John's Government, and, therefore, selected themselves to fill the very fat berths they now occupy or once occupied. The rule applies with equal force to each of their cases, and places them just were they ought to be as politicians and patriots. The organs have a singular fatuity of "putting their foot" into whatever they undertake to do. Instead of convicting the Government of greed for office they have, by means of the rule we quote, convicted themselves of downright hypocrisy and duplicity.

OBSERVATIONS.

WEST ELGIN Conservatives have met and decided that it is too soon to put a candidate in the field.

WE have the first skating accident from Ottawa. A venturesome boy went through the ice on the Rideau and was drowned. Others will certainly follow in regular order.

THE area of the British Empire covers a third of the world's surface, and the Queen rules over nearly 250,000,000 of of subjects! Surely it is an honor to belong to such a mighty empire.

QUEBEC papers publish the announcement that an amnesty has been granted to O'Donoghue. This may be an electioneering rumor, but it is not unexpected.

A BANK teller in Quebec has caught the small-pox from handling the filthy Dominion notes now in circulation. This should be a warning to all but editors and newspaper men generally. They are safe by virtue of their poverty.

MR. CAUCHON is safe in Winnipeg. Those rebellious Orangemen and disaffected residents of the "Prairie Province" did not make a demonstration, as the Tory press predicted, and now there are some disappointments.

IT was bad enough to hold Mr. Mackenzie and his Government responsible for the potatoe bug and grasshoppers, but it is worse to make them shoulder the Hessian fly, too. But this is just what the Tory organs are bound to do. They are tickled over the appearance of this new pest, and pray that it may work industriously between now and next election. "Hard times" having taken his leave, the Hessian fly is a God-send to the Opposition.

IT has been known for some time that the Mail was in very low water, financially speaking. Yesterday the announcement was made that the publishers had reached the tother of their line, and in order to keep "the leading Conservative organ" up a while longer, Mr. Christopher W. Bunting has been induced to come forward with "an ample capital" and purchase the property. We are told that the Mail will be "a more potent champion of the Conservative cause" than ever before.

ABBREVIATIONS.

GEO. R. NEWBOLD, the bigamist, has been sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.

PORT HOPE has organized a Reform Association and committees have been appointed for all the wards of the town.

FIFTY-SIX liquor cases were before the Toronto Police Magistrate last Wednesday afternoon.

THE police stations of Toronto are literally besieged every night by vagrants and persons out of employment.

THE Quebec Legislature will not be called to meet for the despatch of business before the 19th of December.

THE Consolidated Bank has a claim against the insolvent firm of Mulholland & Co., Montreal, for $250,000, of which the Bank holds security for $155,000.

THE question of uniting Toronto and Yorkville is again being agitated. It is said the people of the village are more reconciled to the idea of being gobbled up by the city.

F. W. LIGHTFOOT, formerly a waiter at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, has been arrested for stealing a bracelet valued at fifty guiness, from the trunk of Mrs. Stanley Smith, a guest on the 16th ult.

THE Recorder of Quebec fined two defendants $10 and costs each, and sent them to jail for a month extra, without the option of a fine, for inciting a prisoner to resist and escape from the police.

GREAT destitution is anticipated among the Newfoundland settlers in Anticosti this winter, and applications for relief have been made to both the Dominion and Quebec Governments. The matter, however, lies entirely within the province of the latter.

MR. MALCOLM CURRIE, aged seventy-seven years, residing on lot 34 in the Gore of Puslinch, dropped dead Thursday afternoon after returning from church and while unhitching his horses from the waggon. The deceased was the father of Donald and John Currie, of Knox College, and was greatly respected.

A TELEGRAM from Montreal says:—The S. S. Strathroy, that left here on the 12th, laden with grain for Aberdeen, Scotland, was lost on the island of Miquelon, Gulf of St. Lawrence. Capt. Small and a crew of 25 men were saved. The cargo was owned by D. Butters & Co., of this city. It was insured for $66,000, full value, in American and Canadian Companies. The steamer was owned by W. Thompson & Co., Dundee, who are their own insurers. It was worth $150,000.

The writ for the Nicolet election was issued yesterday. The nomination will take place on the 11th prox.

The Coaticook clothes-pin factory, which has been closed for some time past, is about to resume operations.

For the ONTARIO.

REMEMBER THE POOR.

SIR,—As the fine weather is now drawing to a close, and Winter with all its stern realities and matter-of-fact principles may be ushered into our presence at any moment, I beg to remind those whom Providence has blessed with a competence, not to forget the suffering poor in our midst. They are many, and when hunger and nakedness press them to your door, it would not be prudent to stop till you hear a history of their unfortunate lives before the hand of charity is extended to them.

On the 16th of September, when I made the last statement, there were on the books of the Poor and Sanitary 162 recipients, many of whom with large families; and from present indications I am safe in saying the town will be burdened with many more this Winter. I believe the largest appropriation ever made for that purpose by the town was made the present year ($2,500), and it is nearly all appropriated. Your humble servant's hands were too heavy the fore part of the year, which obviates the necessity of economy at present, which is anything but pleasant. Aid us kind and charitable ladies and gentlemen in any way you can, and should any of you be possessed of old garments they will be thankfully received by the Inspector, Mr. Jas. Ross, at the Town Hall, where they will be properly distributed.

Yours, &c.,
JAS. MEAGHER,
Ch'n of Poor and Sanitary,

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D. C. Nov. 19. 1877

It cannot be denied that Ex-Gov. Shepherd did an immense deal of good for the National Capital as a city, notwithstanding the abuse that has been heaped upon him since he retired from office. Ten years ago those parts of the city that are now the handsomest, and where the bon ton of the District reside, were regular sloughs of despond. One locality in particular, now known as Highland Place, at that time was considered uninhabited but now the handsome dwellings of Judge Wylie of the District Supreme Court; Commissioner Bryan; Senators Bayard, Edmunds and Morrill; Associate Justice Miller; Prof. Bairn, of the Smithsonian Institute; and S. S. Cox the would-be speaker of the present House of Representatives are situated there. The last named gentleman and his wife are now boarding at the Briggs House having but recently purchased their home at Highland Place. Ex-Gov. Shepherd failed in business a year ago and very much out of the fashon of now-a-days, he failed poor, and an immediate retrenchment in his style of living manifested the fact as nothing else could have done. He possessed, among other valuables, a collection of very rare pictures, statuary and bronze, which were sold at auction last week. Among the purchasers were the Japanese Minister, Lady Evarts, Mr. Bancroft and some prominent New York gentlemen.

Although society here will receive several important acquisitions, yet its losses will be keenly felt. Mrs. Hamilton Fish was a conscientious devotee to her society duties. She gave herself up to them, feeling that, while her husband was next in political power to the President himself, she was a leader in the social world. She was old, but everybody loved and admired her in the same way they did Mrs. Grant. It is said that Mrs. Fish never left a call unpaid or a visit unreturned. Her familiar face framed by those short silvery curls, will be much missed. Lady Thornton comes next. Regret is expressed on every side that Sir Edward is coming back this winter without his wife and daughters. Lady Thornton's presence was very much courted at receptions and after entertainments. We poor untitled Americans think so much of having a "sure-enough" Lord or Lady or Count at our houses. I have seen Lady Thornton so admired and have heard such enthusiastic remarks as to her beauty and gracefulness that I know it would be deemed sacrilege here if I should say, as I think, that it's all because she is Lady Thornton. But I do not say it and I know if she were plain Mrs. Thornton, the grocer's wife, she would be angular and tall as a hay pole, her complexion would be dishwatery and her taste abominable. Verily, a title can cover a multitude of sins. Another loss to society will be the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett of the British Legation; and still another among the Diplomatic Corps, will be that of Count Hayes, the Austrian Minister, who as well as his wife, has earned great popularity in the last two years in the gay world of the Capital. The Countess Hayos was also much sought after both for reasons given above and for the fact that she possessed more rare diamonds than any lady in Washington. On very ceremonious occasions she has worn a necklace of large solitaires, sprays in her hair, long ear-drops composed of a succession of solitaires and long narrow pins studded with diamonds, clasping her belt and a boquet de coreage of diamonds. Her son, born here last winter, was given the name of "Columbus" as one of his baptismal appellations in honor of the District.

Last week was perfect as regards the weather. Nothing can exceed the loveliness of our Indian Summer which still hold away. We have had frost but a few nights. The Hess English Opera troupe opened the Opera season here last week in "A Summer Night's Dream." A telephone concert also took place, the music being rendered in Philadelphia. To-night John McCullough appears at the National Theatre in his celebrated role of Shakespeare's Othello, and during the week John B. Gough is to lecture, Emma Thursby to sing besides a variety of other entertainments.

Congress still talks of adjourning on the 22nd but the proposition is strongly opposed by many, principally by those who live far away.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

THE AWARD.

The decision of the Fishery Commissioners was given at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, awarding Great Britain five and a half million dollars—Judge Kellogg, the United States Commissioner, dissenting. This is better than we expected, though $10,000,000 were first thought the lowest possible award that could be accepted.

FROM ENTERPRISE.

The Standard says:—We have obtained the particulars of the reported burglary at Enterprise on Sunday night, 11th inst. It turns out to have been a case of house-breaking and gross outrage. On the night in question, our informant says, three young men named Thomas Shirley Hinchey, Thomas Laveck, jr, and Thomas Carland, jr., having an unenviable notoriety as hard cases, burst open the door of the house occupied by Peter Pappa, an old man crippled in his legs, and dragged him from his bed to another room where they left him helples and unable to move. They then returned and compelled his wife, who was in bed also, to swallow a large quantity of whisky, gagged and half-smothered her with the bed clothes, and then proceeded in the most fiendish manner to outrage her person in turn, two of them holding her meantime. Their yells awoke some of the neighbors who rushed in but only secured Laveck, against whom Mrs. Pappa could not testify with sufficient positiveness to warrant his commitment. Warrants are out for the apprehension of the other miscreants and it is to be hoped that they have not permanently escaped punishment for their crime.

WAR BULLETIN.

Saturday, 24th.

A report comes to hand this morning that negotiations have been opened for the surrender of Plevna, and that orders have been received by Russian contractors at Giurgevo to prepare 70,000 bags of buscuit for the use of Osman Pasha's army. It is but a few days ago that Plevna was reported to be well victualled; the Russians themselves stated that large herds of cattle were to be seen within the lines of the beseiged, so that this rumour from the Danube would appear to lack authenticity. A great battle is said to be progressing at Tirnova, and a slight engagement has occurred in the direction of Orchanie in which two Russian regiments were all but cut to pieces.

Small-pox is prevalent in Montreal.

Letters from England state that Canadian barley is in great request for malting purposes.

The rumored retirement of Earl Beaconsfield from public life is authoritatively contradicted.

An official contradiction is given of the report that small-pox has again broken out in Keewatin.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 24.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Cells.—Five tramps and three prisoners were registered at the cells last night.

Personal.—The London "Free Press" of yesterday says:—"Rev. A. Cossar, of Belleville, is on a visit to his friends in this city.

Town Council.—A regular fortnightly meeting of the Council takes place on Monday evening.

The Marchout of the 15th Batt. was postponed till Monday, 3rd Dec. instead of next Monday.

Adjourned.—The County Council brought its labors to a close this afternoon and adjourned "sine die."

☞ Ladies wanting tinfoil very thin and polished on both sides can obtain it at the drug store of Albert, L. Geen.

Samson Ward.—We understand that Mr. Henry E. Filliter will contest Samson Ward for Alderman. We will expect to see the Churchwarden head the poll.

Murchison Club.—The regular monthly meeting of the Murchison Club will be held in the Committee Room, Shire Hall, on Monday 26th inst., a 7:30 p. m.

Davin's Lecture.—We understand that Mr. N. F. Davin will deliver his lecture on the "British House of Commons" in Metropolitan Hall next Thursday evening.

The Mud.—It is a disagreeable subject to talk about, but disagreeable things cannot always be avoided. The streets are, just now in a horrible state, and tramping, anything but nice.

Appointment.—Mr. Harry Wil's formerly of the Merchants' Bank, Belleville but latterly of Renfrew, has been removed to Napanee, where he will act as teller in the agency of the bank there.

The B. of Q. & O. Co's. Steamers.—The Oswego "Palladium" says:—"The propellers Oswego Belle and Kincardine will lay up here this winter. The Belle has had a comparatively successful season and has added to her popularity as a passenger boat. It is to be hoped that the same officers will be found aboard her next season.

Oyster Supper.—Thomas Wills Esq. M. P., County Treasurer, last evening entertained the members of the County Council and a number of friends at an oyster supper at Hambly's What with a pleasant supper, attentive waiters, a kind host, a happy company and good speakers, whose remarks were brief though spirited, a very enjoyable time was had.

Think of It.—During this changeable weather, it is important to guard against the insidious inroads of disease, and especially of colds. It is hazardous for a person to lay aside an overcoat or cloak when going out, because the atmosphere is milder. The constant exercise of common sense in what are considered minor matters, will often prevent sickness and death.

Inspection.—Cols. Straubenzie and Worsley have been engaged in inspecting the different companies of the 16th Battalion in Prince Edward County during the past week. The Sixteenth has not had any drill for five years, but the drill and muster were exceedingly good, and the inspecting officers expressed great satisfaction at the progress made.

An Umbrella Fiend.—The latest swindler is the man who calls at the house and enquires whether there are any umbrellas to mend. If so, and he is given a good one to examine, he says he will return it in a few minutes, or as soon as he can run to his shop and make the necessary repairs, but the too trusting people never see their property again unless they find it in a pawn shop. The man carries a few old umbrellas with him, and by this means imposes upon unsuspecting persons. The best way for those who have parasols, etc, requiring repair hereafter will be to give a wide berth to fellows of the "fiend" stripe and patronize the established institutions in town.

The G. J. R.—In the County Council this morning the report of the committee appointed to confer with a committee of the G. J. R. was presented. It was subsequently amended so that the County could be better secured. Its contents are this: On the presentation of good and sufficient securities the County is to give to the company $15,000 and as a return for that sum the company is to procure a locomative and flat and box cars and by operating the road to Stirling another $10,000 will be given. When the road is completed to Campbellford $10,000 more will be handed over making in all $35,000. The County withdraws the suit now pending and the company pays the costs &c.

Legal.—The following cases appear in yesterday's proceedings at Toronto:—

Black v. Mot[illegible]hed. Mr. Diamond obtained a rule 'nisi' to enter a verdict for the defendant.

Osler v. Bowell. Mr. G. D. Dickson moved for cross rule 'nisi' herein on behalf of defendant.

Spry v. Hayne, Mr. Watson moved for a rule 'nisi'. Refused.

Wilkins v. Lock. Mr. Wallbridge, Q. C., obtained a rule 'nisi' for a new trial.

Jordan v. Grand Junction R'y. Mr. Delamere obtained orders for an issue in two garnishee matters.

Osler v. Bowell. Mr. E Martin, Q. C., moved for a rule 'nisi' for a new trial. Rule 'nisi' granted.

Regina v. Prettie. Mr. H. J. Scott obtained a rule 'nisi' to quash a conviction for having liquor for sale under the Crooks Act in a place where the Dunkin Act is in force.

And Still They Come.—Mr. A. A. Farley inserts his card in this issue, announcing himself as a candidate for Bleecker Ward.

Going to Retire.—Messrs. Haggerty, Rose and Walker of the County Council will close their connection with municipal matters at the end of the year. Neither of the gentlemen named above intends to run again for office.

Runaway Accident.—Mr. G[illegible] of Stirling whilst driving along the Marmora road on Wednesday was severely injured by a runaway accident. His horse became frightened and he lost control of him and the buggy in which Mr. G was seated collided with another, throwing the old gentleman into the ditch. He is now at at his home under medical care.

From Napanee.

David Johnson, of Kingston, was arrested at Napanee station, on the up express Wednesday evening, charged with stealing a pocketbook from Mr. Archibald McKellar, Sheriff of Wentworth, who was a passenger on the train. The prisoner. who escaped from custody but was re-arrested, claimed that he found the pocket-book lying on the floor of the ticket-office after a party had purchased tickets for himself and his bailiff. but he tried to use the ticket coming up on the train. The Magistrate committed him for trial.

The formal dedication of the Oddfellows' new hall in the Perry Block took place on Thursday at 5 p. m. The ceremonies were conducted by the Grand Chief Patriarch, J. Ham Perry, P. G. M., of Kingston; and Dr. Tracy, G. W., of Belleville. A large number of delegates from Kingston, Picton, Belleville, and Mill Point were present. After the ceremonies had been performed the party adjourned to the Town Hall, where addresses were made and a grand lecture was delivered by Mr. J. Ham Perry, after which a musical entertainment and farce was played by the Napanee Dramatic Club. The party concluded the programme with an oyster supper at the Briscoe House, which was attended by about seventy-five of the brethren.

It is rumored the petition for the separation of the Town from the County is to be withdrawn, and the County Council petitioned for the repeal of the Dunkin by-law.

SMOKING THEM OUT.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

LOSS OF A U. S. STEAMER.

Fort Hall Agency, Idaho, Nov. 23.—The Indian agent to-day arrested an Indian who shot two white men last summer. An Indian friend of the prisoner went to a traders store and shot dead Alex. Rhoden, well known in the county. The agent asks for troops to arrest the murderer and prevent trouble.

Deadwood, D. T., Nov. 23.—Soldiers having surrounded the Keet's mine, closed all openings except the main shaft, and smoked the miners out by the sulphur process. At 10 o'clock last night one came out, and all are now under arrest.

A Columbia, S. C., special says the passenger train which left there at noon yesterday on the Charlotte road, broke through a trestle bridge at Fishing Creek. About twenty passengers were on the train. The water was 20 feet deep and the current running terribly swift, owing to recent rains.

A second despatch states that the baggage, express and mail agents were saved, and Conductor Kline and others could be heard at different points on the stream shouting for assistance, where they were clinging to trees for support. The current and darkness prevented their being reached and the locomotive was sent to Catawba for a boat.

A later despatch seys W. J. Orr and J. T. McLoughlin, of Charlotte, were drowned. The two passenger coaches fell into the middle of the stream. Only about a foot of their tops was visible Many passengers escaped through the windows and lodged in trees, from whence several were rescued.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Observer at Kitty Hawk reports the U. S. man-of-war steamer Huron struck two miles north of No. 7 station at 3 30 a. m. The foremast and main-topmast are gone; the steamer is a total wreck; assistance is needed immediately; the sea is breaking over her and several are drowned. The number on board is about 135; no cargo.

DON'T BE SO FOOLISH.

Old farmer Pettingill went into his house and caught John, the hired man, hugging Mrs. P.

The farmer said nothing, but went to the field.

After dinner he wanted John; but he was not to be found.

He went at last into John's room, where John was on his knees packing his trunk.

"What's the matter, John?" asked Mr. Pettingill.

"O, nothing," said John.

"What are you packing your trunk for!"

"I'm going away."

"Going away! what are you going away for?"

"O, you know," said John.

"No I don't; come, give me some reason for your sudden desire to leave."

"Well, you saw what I was doing this morning."

"O, pshaw!" laughed Pettingill; "do not be so foolish. If you and I can't hug the old woman enough, I'll hire another man."

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and Democrat Corinth, Miss."

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline, After resource to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health, Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it."

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Headaches caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

other examined with interest the scenery spread out before them. The boat skirted the northern shores of the lake at about three miles distance, following a rectilinear direction, so that the wooded heights sloping gradually to the west were distinctly visible. From this side the district north of the lake appeared perfectly flat, and horizon receded to a considerable distance. The whole of this coast contrasted strongly with the sharp angle, at the extremity of which rose Fort Confidence, framed in green pines. The flag of the Company was still visible floating from the tower of the fort. The oblique rays of the sun lit up the surface of the water, and, striking on the icebergs, seemed to convert them into molten silver of dazzling brightness. No trace remained of the solid ice mountains of the winter but these moving relics, which the solar rays could scarcely dissolve, and which seemed, as it were, to protest against the brilliant but not very powerful polar sun, now describing a diurnal arc of considerable length.

Mrs. Barnett and the Lieutenant, as was their custom, communicated to each other the thoughts suggested by the strange scenes through which they were passing. they laid up a store of pleasant recollections for the future while the boat floated rapidly along upon the peaceful waves.

The party started at six in the morning, and at nine they neared the point on the northern bank at which they were to land. The Indian encampment was situated at the northwest angle of the Great Bear Lake. Before ten o'clock old Norman ran the boat aground on a low bank at the foot of a cliff of moderate height.

Mrs. Barnett and the Lieutenant landed at once. Two or there Indians, with their chief, wearing gorgeous plumes, hastened to meet them, and addressed them in fairly intelligible English.

These Hare Indians, like the Copper and Beaver Indians, all belong to the Chippeway race, and differ but little in customs and costumes from their fellow-tribes. They are in constant communication with the factories, and have become, so to speak, "Britainized"—at least as much so as is possible for savages. They bring the spoils of the chase to the forts, and there exchange them for the necessaries of life, which they no langer provide for themselves. They are in pay of the Company, they live upon it, and it is not surprising that they have lost all originality. To find a native race as yet uninfluenced by contact with Europearns we must go to still higher latitudes, to the ice-bound regions frequented by the Esquimaux, who like the Greenlanders are the true children os Arctic lands.

Mrs. Barnett and Jaspar Hobson accompanied the Indians to their camp, about half a mile from the shore, and found some thirty natives there, men, women and children, who supported themselves by hunting and fishing on the borders of the lake. These Indians had just come from the northernmost districts of the American continent, and were able to give the Lieutenant some valuable, although necessarily incomplete, information on the actual state of the sea-coast near the seventeenth parallel. The Lieutenant heard with considerable satisfaction that a party of Americans or Europeans had been seen on the confines of the polar Sea, and that it was open at this time of year. About Cape Bathurst, properly so-called, the point for which he intended to make, the Hare Indians could tell him nothing. Their chief said, however, that the district between the Great Bear Lake and Cape Bathurst was very difficult to cross, being hilly and intersected by streams, at this season of the year free from ice. He advised the Lieutenant to go down the Coppermine River, from the northeast of the lake, which would take him to the coast by the shortest route. Once at the Arctic Ocean, it would be easy to skirt along its shores, and to chose the best spot at which to halt.

Lieutenant Hobson thanked the Indian chief and took leave after giving him a few presents. Then, accompanied by Mrs. Barnett, he explored the neighborhood of the camp, not returning to the boat until nearly three o'clock in the afternoon.

CHAPTER IX.—A STORM ON THE LAKE.

The old sailor was impatiently awaiting the return of the travelers; for during the last hour the weather had changed, and the appearance of the sky was calculated to render any one accustomed to read the signs of the clouds uneasy. The sun was obscured by a thick mist, the wind had fallen, but an ominous moaning was heard from the south of the lake. These symptoms of an approaching change of temperature were developed with all the rapidity peculiar to these elevated latitudes.

"Let us be off, sir! let us be off!" cried old Norman, looking anxiously at the fog above his head. "Let us start without losing an instant. There are terrible signs in the air!"

"Indeed," exclaimed the Lieutenant, "the appearance of the sky is quite changed, and we never noticed it, Mrs. Barnett."

"Are you afraid of a storm?" inquired the lady of old Norman.

"Yes, madame," replied the old sailor; "and the storms on the Great Bear Lake are often terrible. The hurricane rages as if upon the open Atlantic Ocean. This sudden fog bodes us no good; but the tempest may hold back for three or four hours, and by that time we shall be at Fort Confidence. Let us then start without a moments's delay, for the boat would not be safe near these rocks."

The Lieutenant, feeling that the old man, accustomed as he was to navigate these waters, was better able to judge than himself, decided to follow his advice, and embarked at once with Mrs. Barnett.

But just as they were pushing off, old Norman, as if possessed by some sudden presentiment, murmured.

"Perhaps it would be better to wait."

Lieutenant Hobson overhead these words, and looked inquiringly at the old boatman, already seated at the helm. Had he been alone he would not have hesitated to start, but as Mrs. Barnett was with him caution was necessary. The lady at once saw and understood his hesitation.

"Never mind me Lieutenant," she said; "act as if I were not present. Let us start immediately, as our brave guide suggests."

"We are off, then," cried Norman, letting go the moorings; "to the fort by the shortest route."

For about an hour the bark made little head. The sail, scarcely filled by the fitful breeze, flapped against the mast. The fog became thicker. The waves began to rise and the boat to rock considerably, for the approaching hurricane affected the water sooner than the atmosphere itself. The two travelers sat still and silent, while the old sailor peered into the darkness with bloodshot eyes. Prepared for all contingencies, he awaited the shock of the wind, ready to pay out rapidly should the attack be very violent. The conflict of the elements had not, however, as yet commenced; and all would have been well if they had been able to advance, but after an hour's sail they were still only about two miles distant from the Indian encampment. A few gusts of wind from the shore drove them out of their course, and the dense fog rendered it impossible for them to make out the coast-line. Should the wind settle in the north it would probably go hard with the light boat, which unable to hold it own course, would be drifted out into the lake no one knew where.

Ayer's

widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

POND'S EXTRACT.
POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting: heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

WAIT AND SEE.

When my boy, with eager questions,
  Asking how, and where and when,
Taking all my store of wisdom,
  Asking o'er and o'er again
Questions oft to which no answers
  Give no others still the key,
I said, to teach him patience,
  "Wait, my little boy, and see."

And the words I taught my darling
  Taught me a lesson sweet;
Once, when all the world seemed darkened,
  And the storm about me beat,
In the children's room I heard him,
  With a child's sweet mimicry,
To the baby brother's questions
  Saying wisely, "Wait and see."

Like an angel's tender chiding
  Came the darling words to me,
Though my Father's ways were hidden,
  Bidding me still wait and see
What are we but restless children,
  Ever asking what shall be?
And the Father, in His Wisdom,
  Gently bids us "Wait and see."

COUNTY COUNCIL.

THIRD DAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Council met at ten o'clock.

Mr Vankleek came in.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

REPORTS.

Mr Ashley reported that the amounts awarded for expenditure on the road near Corby's mill and on that in the 5th Con. of Thurlow, near James Sheffield's, had been expended; he presented vouchers for the same.—Received.

The County Surveyor's report was handed in and referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

NOTICES.

Mr Pearce gave notice of a by-law for the appointment of a Clerk.

Mr White gave notice for the repeal of the issue of the County debentures, instead of Madoc debentures.

Also, that as the B & N H R Co had not completed their contract, it was not advisable to issue debentures for the assistance of the same.

In accordance with a resolution of Mr Haggerty's on Wednesday, Mr Kelso was heard, in answer to Mr H's resolution, and said that he heard that Mr Lloyd stated that if he was in Belleville when the G J R bonus matter was brought up it would have been defeated, as that he (Mr L) had promised Mr White $1,000. Of the truth of this he did not say, but would make his affidavit that such had been told him.

Mr White said Mr Robertson denied this.

Mr Kelso said Hon R Read was present when the statement was made. He had not mentioned Mr Flint's name in connection with Mr White.

Mr White said that the way Mr Robertson had it was, that had Mr Lloyd been present he would have voted different, and that Mr Bell's man had heard he (Mr W) had got $600. It was only right that Mr Robertson should be heard.

In reply to a question of Mr White's, Mr Kelso said he (Mr K) had not offered any money to him (Mr W), either directly or indirectly, nor had he received any from the G J R.

Mr White considered it was unjust that such statements be made for they hurt the feelings of himself and family and he would not say anything against anyone's family. God forbid that he should do it. He spoke about the G J R and the action of the County thereon and he next referred to his connection with the B & N H R and said that $90 had been placed in his hands for the payment of parties for the scrutinizing of votes during the campaign for the passage of the first by-law. He read a statement which gave a full account of the expenditures incurred by him during that election, which showed the various items of expenses and the parties whom paid to. He thanked Mr. Haggerty for bringing up this matter and said it was now high time that a stop was put to the malicious statements of persons who were endeavoring to injure public men.

At Mr White's request an affidavit from Mr Lloyd was read, stating that Mr W had given a full and proper account of the money put in his hands and that he had not received a copper for his services nor personal expenses.

Mr White continued—When this matter was brought he had felt it keenly and perhaps forgot himself in speaking to the motion. He denied that he had been corrupted and he hoped that this would prove a warning to Mr. Kelso not to repeat idle rumors. He had stated his case clear and distinct and trusted that this would be the last time it would be heard. There were certain persons who from causes were successful and went around the county injuring the people, and he hoped that such peddling about of idle rumors would be stopped. No man could accuse him of bribery and the next time such a statement was made he would carry the matter into Court.

Mr Kelso said the affirmation of Mr. Lloyd did not meet the case as the matter in question related to the second bonus by-law. He had no desire to injure Mr White.

Mr White said such a statement had been made in a public bar-room, and should not have been made unless it was with a view of injuring him.

Mr Haggerty said he had met Mr Kelso in a saloon and that gentleman told him he would not account for his opposition to the G J R matter but could account for Mr White's as he had been promised $1,000, $600 of which had been paid him but as there was $400 short he voted against the project.

Mr Bowell was requested to speak. He said he had not noticed such statements as those made by Mr Kelso for men who made them were not in a fit state to have

THEY convert infidels in Illinois by means of the lash.

MR. MACDOUGALL regrets that the new Lt.-Governor of Manitoba entered Winnipeg unmolested.

MR CURRAN, Q. C., of Montreal, is in the employ of the Quebec Government, but spends most of his time in Quebec working against Mr. Laurier.

THE young women of Kingston are to have a sermon for their own special benefit. They will no doubt profit by it.

THE Kingston News will overhaul "the patent somersault policy of Mackenzie, Blake & Co." to-day. Look out for breakers with white-caps.

THE 'Tizer wants to know who Mr Christopher W. Bunting is. Pass.

MR. McCARTHY will argue before the Judges for a new trial in the Simpson-Wilkinson case.

ONE Mr. Clarke, who is represented as "the architect of the Capitol," is charged at Washington with having kept a carriage at the expense of the Government when performing his work. Or, in other words, Mr. Clarke charged too much cab-hire to Contingencies, and the people of the United States demand that he be made to answer for such a public crime. Perhaps a distinguished gentleman nearer home might learn something from Mr. Clarke's case.

AN independent Conservative journal of Quebec gives as one of its reasons for predicting the defeat of Mr. Laurier in Quebec East, that the Local Government is spending large sums of money in public works in the division, and have in their pay, directly and indirectly, over a thousand hands of all kinds. These employees will, in all likelihood, vote to a man against the Minister of Inland Revenue.

REFORMATORIES FOR WOMEN.

Chief Justice Harrison has called attention to a matter that has too long been left in the background. He pointed out, in a recent charge to a Grand Jury, the great need there is for a Dominion reformatory for women. As yet no provisions have been made for the establishment of such an institution, although frequent reference has been made to the necessity that existed for such action being taken. Chief Justice Harrison regards the absence of such an institution as a defect that should be remedied as soon as possible.

We believe that the State of Indiana has a reformatory for women, and that it works most admirably. Four years ago the experiment was tried at Indianapolis, by placing the female reformatories entirely under the control of women, and the result has been so satisfactory that there is not the slightest disposition to return to the old system. Out of a total of ninety-five inmates who have been discharged during these four years, only two have been sentenced for subsequent offences. This is something remarkable, and sufficient, we think, to enlist the sympathies of our public men in the establishment of such an institution for Canada. The inmates are carefully looked after while in the reformatory, and are not forgotten after leaving it, for the ladies in charge are enthusiasts and do not perform their duties in a coldly perfunctory manner. We are sure that we express the wishes of all who have given the subject the least attention when we say that the Government should take some steps to improve this department of charity amongst us.

MORAL EDUCATION.

Some time ago we observed in one of our exchanges an article on the above subject, in which the moral depravity of the present generation was intelligently discussed, and suggestions made as to the means that should be employed to remedy the evil complained of. We freely admit that our public schools are too often made the disseminating centres for criminal practices, but how this is to be obviated is much more easily discussed than practically enforced. Many children have but a vague idea of moral maxims, and seem to know little of what lying, swearing or stealing implies. But such cases are not to be reformed entirely by our public school teachers. The responsibilities already devolving upon those who have charge of our schools are onerous enough in all conscience, and should be lessened rather than increased. The teacher undoubtedly should be a conscientious Christian gentleman or lady, and fully alive to the duties expected of his or her position. It is, indeed, a great work to try experiments on an immortal mind, and this is what the teacher is daily doing. The moral training of children, however, must rest chiefly with the parents and Sabbath Schools. It is impossible for a public school teacher to devote so much time to moral instruction as is necessary to reform those who have received no such training at home. A brief manual of morals, as suggested by our contemporary, to be used in the schools, would do well enough, but it would not answer all the purposes expected of it. The question, though, is full of interest, and worthy of serious consideration.

HOW TO IMPROVE MUNICIPAL COUNCILS.

We believe a large majority of the people of Belleville, or more especially those who have a direct interest in the management of our municipal affairs, are beginning to ask themselves whether something cannot be done to improve the present condition of our Council proceedings. For some reason, the very men whom the ratepayers would like to have at the head of the municipal government are the least disposed to offer their services. The position is no sinecure; and after a man has labored almost incessantly for a whole year, and perhaps greatly neglected his own business for the good of the community, he more frequently receives abuse than thanks for his good intentions. Only a few days ago a gentleman who has been an active and useful member of the Town Council for two years was heard to express his determination to refuse a nomination at the ensuing election. He had more than done his duty, in return for the confidence imposed in him by those who had voted for him as Councillor, and he now finds that instead of increasing his popularity he has only multiplied his enemies. This, we believe, is the experience of most municipal Councillors. The London Advertiser has been considering the subject and remarks as follows:—

"The admittedly unsatisfactory composition of the municipal bodies by which cities and towns are 'governed' has set people devising plans by which improvement can be secured. It is matter of every-day complaint that the most suitable class of citizens cannot as a rule be prevailed on to enter the Council where they are so much needed. If the number of representatives were smaller, say one-half what it is at present, it might be easier to get good men. It is questionable if it would not be a pecuniary gain to have one representative from each ward and pay him for his services. Something might be effected by a citizens' Association, formed for the express purpose of supporting the best men, and opposing the worst, irrespective of political or other small-potato considerations. Whatever the remedy, it is evident that something must be done, and that ere long. Meantime, the rate-payers dread to enter upon any large or expensive scheme of improvement lest it become the prey of mismanagement and extravagance, not to say corruption; and they are naturally in doubt whether it may not be wiser to bear the ills they have than fly to others they know not of."

OBSERVATIONS.

CONSERVATIVE organs are greatly puzzled how to counteract the influence the O'Donoghue amnesty will create for the Government. In their mad efforts to find cause they fall foul of the Hon. Mr. Blake, and insist that he is both inconsistent and dishonest.

KINGSTON ministers referred to public affairs in their Thanksgiving sermons, which was proper enough, we suppose. One of them, however, undertook to reform the local press, and herein he blundered. The newspaper of to-day will not submit to even pulpit-criticism, more especially when that criticism is both unjust and ungenerous.

CAPT. ALLAN, of Kingston, has been engaged to examine the sunken schooner Magellan, in Lake Michigan, with a view of ascertaining whether there is any prospect of raising her, and whether she was run down or not. The body of Captain John Belyea, of the Magellan, has been washed ashore at Two Rivers, Mich., in a frightfully mangled state, which strengthens the conviction that the Magellan collided with some unknown vessel.

THE Ottawa Free Press wants to know what we will do with our criminals, and how we can best prevent criminal tendencies from having a development into actual crime. Our contemporary calls attention to the very unpleasant fact that crime has for several years past been steadily on the increase in this Province, and contends that a reform in our system of prison management is necessary.

ENGLISH papers announce the death of the Compte de Lally Tallendal, the last of an honored race, who was found dead in a coal cellar at Soho, and moralize over the event at considerable length. Mr. Edmd. T. Lally, claiming to be a member of the Lally family, writes to the Toronto Leader declaring the story as told by the English papers a fib, or the person who died in the Soho coal cellar an imposter, if he claimed to be as represented.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The Globe announces that the Assembly will be called for the despatch of business on Wednesday, the 9th of January, two days after the municipal elections, which this year fall on the 7th of the month.

The wife of a Pennsylvania clergyman when dying recently called him to her bedside and said: "Don't grow morbid when I am gone. Go into society, be cheerful, and let no regard for my memory check you when you see fit to marry again. It is my wish; the children must be cared for; you will need a helper in your work. You cannot live alone, your temperament is all against it; only choose a careful woman, and teach her to love our children. Don't answer me, and don't be governed by what the world says or thinks." Now that was a sensible woman.

ABBREVIATIONS.

THE thirty old cannons, now belonging to Canada, are to be rifled at Montreal.

EIGHTY men have been engaged at Ottawa to go to the Michigan shanties and start this week.

ELLEN MCGRATH has been taken into custody at Stratford for concealment of birth.

No clue yet as to the whereabouts of H. E. J. Baker, the absconding bookkeeper of Mulock & Campbell of Toronto.

MR. GEO. ROBENSON'S bain, near Toledo, Ont., was burned last Thursday night with contents.

GRAND TRUNK receipts for week ending 17th inst.,—$211,106 an increase of $17,248 over corresponding period of last year.

A YOUNG man named Hanston, who taught school a few miles from Pakenham, was thrown from a horse on Friday last, and died shortly after from injuries received.

CAPT. MCNAUGHTON has discovered a vein of phosphate, thirty feet deep by a quarter of a mile in length, near High Falls, on the Lievre. One man took out over 15,000 pounds in two days. A block weighing 40,000 pounds was blasted out, and the phosphate is said to yield 90 per cent. The mine is valued somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000.

A FEW days since Mrs. Wilson, of the township of Horton, Renfrew, having just finished milking a cow, was suddenly and fiercely attacked by the animal, which knocked her down. Mrs Wilson was compelled to crawl under a waggon near by, where she remained a prisoner for an hour, during which time the animal kept watch over her, waiting to renew the attack. When rescued, Mrs. Wilson was found to have sustained considerable injury, her breast bone having been broken by the blow she received.

GHOSTS having been seen in a house near Guelph, the neighbors gathered, armed themselves in divers way, and proceeded to investigate the spirits. Getting near the place the party was startled by a number of shots being fired from the house, the bullets whistling close by the heads of the investigators. Some had a narrow escape from death. The investigating party of course retired, and the investigation was postponed. The supposition is that the place was inhabited by tramps, young scamps playing ghosts, or a gang of men engaged in some illegal trade.

MR. WILMOT, chief superintendent of fish culture for the Dominion, has just returned to Newcastle from Sandwich, after a week's absence. He has successfully laid down in the Government fish-breeding establishment on the Detroit River some thirty million white fish ova. These eggs were taken from the fish as they were hauled on shore by the fishermen to be conveyed to the markets of the United States and Canada for consumption. It thus appears that the percentage of young fish to be hatched from these eggs will be gain to the waters of Lake Erie, as otherwise this vast quantity of ova would have been cast away with the offal of the fish.

A MISERABLY clad, starved-looking old man, upwards of seventy years of age, lately took night's lodgings in a stable belonging to the Mayar of Lindsay. His Worship had his unwelcome guest arrested next morning and brought before the Police Magistrate, where he gave his name as Kenebrick, and was committed to jail as a vagrant, on his own testimony that he had no ostensible means of support. While the prison officials were making the necessary examinations, much against the old man's will, two small bags were found attached from a cord around his neck, which contained twenty-one sovereigns, $38 10 also a quit claim deed on a farm, a note for money lent at interest amounting to $135,-56, and a large bowie-knife. The prisoner was discharged and ordered to leave town at once.

WAR BULLETIN.

Monday, 26th.

Sensational reports respecting both the attitude of the Powers and the movements of the belligerants appear to be the order of the day. While last week rumours respecting Osman Pasha's intention of surrendering, and the inauguration of negotiations looking towards mediation are contradicted, a fresh batch of improbable reports are served up. It is now stated that Russia is willing to entertain peace proposals, and as fitting pendant to this unlikely story, we are told of a Parisian rumour that England has sent an ultimatum to Russia. The story is as improbable as the other, while a third improbability is given in a rumour that Osman Pasha has broken through the lines at Plevna. Even Turkish advices admit that Osman's position is hopeless unless Mehemet Ali manages to come to his rescue in time, and every effort will be made in this direction.

MELANGE.

Women will not hold office in the Episcopal Church hereafter, as they must be twenty-five years old before they are allowed to do so, and it is a well known fact that when a woman gets to be twenty-five years old she is superannuated.

A maniac in Notick, Mich., caught a glimpse, through a window, of a woman in her night clothes, and thought she was an angel. This was complimentary to her beauty, but dangerous to her life, for he fired at her with a pistol to find out whether she really wasn't human. The bullet grazed her head.

A school-board inspector asked a small pupil of what the surface of the earth consists, and was promptly answered, "Land and water." He varied the question slightly, that the fact might be impressed on the boy's mind, and asked; "What, then, do land and water make?" To which came the immediate response; "Mud."

The Boston "Advertiser" relates that an amateur sportsman down in Maine crept up to a lot of decoy ducks the other day and blazed away enthusiastically. They didn't fly away, and he bagged the whole lot.

CARTWRIGHT'S BUNGLING.

HOW CANADIAN TRADE AND INDUSTRIES ARE GOING TO RUIN.

—A new door, sash and blind factory is being erected in Strathroy.

—A Galt carriage maker is shipping buggies to Australia.

—Letters from England state that Canadian barley is in great request for malting purposes.

—The Coaticook clothes-pin factory, which has been closed for some time past, is about to resume operations.

—Mr. F. Rostorie, of Watford, left on 2nd inst., with 750 very choice sheep for the English Market, via the steamer from New York, for London, England.

—One vessel recently took $83,000 worth of canned lobsters from Halifax to England.

—A valuable iron mine has been discovered on a lot of Sheriff Ferguson's, near Sharbott Lake, and within a short distance of the Kingston Pembroke Railway. The ore has been tested, and yields a large percentage of metal.

—A woollen factory, the first in the Province, is about to be established in Lake district, ten miles from Victoria, British Columbia. The Local Government gives a bonus of $2,000

—The shipments of grain from Belleville to date show an increase over the total for last year of 42,000 bushels.

—Lake Superior mining news is encouraging. The Silver Islet mine is working a large force, and has already sent down 40 barrels of rich silver. The same vein, full of mineral, has been discovered on the mainland. The Duncan mine shows a wonderful improvement in the deposits from the diamond drill prospecting. The Q. A. mine is showing well.

—A wholesale firm in Kingtson has had the notes of retail firms in its safe for two or three years. These have been all taken up this fall, and very little is owing them on old accounts —The car works are now in full blast. One has a contract to build ninety five cars, which will keep the works running all winter.

WESLEYAN MISSIONS.

We have received the 53rd annual report of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada. As usual it contains much valuable and highly interesting information in regard to the great work of mission labor in which this branch of the Christian Church is engaged. By reference to the Subscription and Donation Table we find that Belleville Circuit contributed $862.73 to the Mission Fund last year, and the total from the whole District was $3,143,17. The total from Picton District was $1,799.67, and from Kingston District, $5.386 70.

The Welland Railway station at Welland was burned on Saturday morning.

The new French Ministry met the Senate and Chamber of Deputies on Saturday, and in the latter House immediately sustained a defeat, Jules Ferry moving a direct want of confidence motion, which was adopted by 323 against 208.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FOSTER WARD.—In this issue Mr. David Brennen announces himself as a candidate for Alderman for Foster Ward.

NOTICE TO SPORTSMEN. — Sportsmen should bear in mind that the season for killing deer expires on Friday next the 30th.

MURCHISON CLUB.—The regular monthly meeting of this club takes place this evening at 7:30 in the Committee Room, in the Shire Hall.

ARRIVED.—The steamship Sardinian from Liverpool on the 15th, arrived at Halifax yesterday at 8:30 a. m., with 15 cabin, 9 intermediate and 38 steerage passengers.

CARD OF THANKS.—Mr. H. Corby Jr. Foreman of No. 1 Hose, returns his thanks to Mr. J. P. Thomas, Agent of the Imperial Insurance Co., for a donation of $10, in aid of the funds of the Moiras.

NEW FIRM.—The Martin Brothers have purchased the plant of the foundry owned by the late Charles Martin and will continue the business at the old stand, where they will be pleased to wait on all who may favor them with their patronage.

MEETING.—A regular fortnightly meeting of the Town Council takes place this evening at the usual hour. As the festive election season is fast approaching some of the members will endeavor to distinguish themselves so as to obtain a seat among the Aldermen of the City of Belleville for 1878.

CLEANED.—The crossings on Front St. were cleaned to-day, greatly to the convenience of pedestrians, who were subject to considerable annoyance on account of the abundance of mud with which they were covered during the past four days.

FOR THE POOR.—The Chairman of the Poor and Sanitary Committee now appeals to the charitably inclined, for donations in aid of the poor. We trust his appeal will be met with that generous consideration it deserves.

ST ANDREW'S DAY.—The St. Andrew's Society have made appropriate arrangements for the celebration of St. Andrew's Day (Friday next.) The ceremonies will consist of a procession, a sermon and a dinner.

A GOOD WORK.—A number of men are now employed in taking up the dead and dying trees on the terraces in front of the Court House and substituting good ones. If all the trees now planted there continue in a good healthy state, the grounds will in time present a fine appearance.

DETECTING SHEEP-WORRYING DOGS.—A few months ago we gave a short account of a very effective way adopted on the Continent to prove the guilt or innocence of a dog suspected of killing sheep. The plan was simply to give the animal to which suspicion is attached an emetic as soon as possible after the foray on the flock had been made. Some salt, or a little warm water and mustard is all that is necessary to discover what the last meal consisted of. This plan, according to "Land and Water," a London journal, was lately put into practice at Cross Inn, near Haverfordwest.

VENNOR'S WINTER PREDICTIONS.—Vennor's latest prediction is as follows:—The present balmy weather will abrubtly terminate towards or in the proximity to the 25th of the present month, and probably give place to a sharp spell of weather, with sleet and snow. I shall not be surprised should the waters become pretty well ice locked as in 1874 in the latter part of November or the early part of December. This condition, however, will be of short duration, and will speedily give place again to rains and open weather during December and Januray. Consequently should the waters escape this first pinch of the winter, navigation will probably be open to an unusually late date. To all intents and purposes, however, our winter of 1877-8 will be upon us towards the last week of the present month; but this, as I have already several times stated, bids fair to be gloomy, wet and open, as well as short.

BEWARE.—We are informed that certain parties are going about the town canvassing and representing themselves as candidates for office at the approaching municipal elections. This is no time for indulging in nonsense and we therefore advise our readers to give 'pretenders" a wide berth. Economy is a good thing in its way, but it may sometimes be tried to the detriment of the individual who practises indiscreetly, and when a man looking for an office will not insert a card in a newspaper giving his platform, he isn't worth voting for. There are a number of candidates for municipal honors out already: those who value what they are looking after have already advertised, those who have not should not be noticed by the electors, as they are the worst hand-shakers in the business. Trust them not: They are fooling thee.

LOOK AT THIS.—The following paragraph which is clipped from the London Free Press is respectfully commended to bank clerks and others who carry clubs or canes: —Carrying a cane is a common custom among young men, and it is popularly considered as harmless as it is frivolous. We have the assurance of a medical authority, however, and his name ain't Dr. Brown, either, that the practice works incalculable harm, with a tendency to bodily derangement. The action of walking with a stick insidiously causes contraction of the chest —an organ which is of the highest importance—to expand and whatever produces this result is an ally to that deadly foe to humanity—consumption.

BIG WORK.—Mr. Anson Thrasher, one day recently, thrashed 111 bushels of grain in 20 minutes at Mr. Wm. Cook's in the 5th Con. of Thurlow. This must have been lively work and shows ample evidence that no time was lost in its performance.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Jacob Sills of Cainfton was recently injured by being thrown out of his buggy, by the two front wheels running off, the nuts securing which had not been put on securely. Mr. L. is still confined to his house from the effects of the injuries received.

STIRLING HIGH SCHOOL.—In all probability this school will not be continued as Madoc is now considered a more desirable site for a High School and besides the County Council has made a grant for the establishment of such an institution in that village.

LEGAL.—The following cases came up on Saturday in Toronto:—

Gangar v. Walsh.—Mr. Dickson moved for a rule 'nisi' to set aside verdict for defendants and for a new trial. Reserved.

Billington v. Hastings Ins. Co.—Mr G. D, Dickson showed cause to a rule 'nisi' for a new trial, Mr. Osler, Q C. contra. Reserved.

THE RECORD.—On Saturday night two tramps and three prisoners were quartered in the lock-up. One of the latter was discharged yesterday morning, and his two fellow sufferers were kept in the bastile till this morning. Three tramps sought shelter from the inclement weather last night

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—Already six gentlemen have publicly announced themselves as candidates for Aldermanic honors. There is a multitude of others who seek berths in the synagogue but as they don't think it worth their while to advertise, they therefore can't think much of the offices they seek. Electors, avoid them unless they advertise.

MARINE.—The schooner Annie Foster, coal laden, ran aground yesterday morning on a shoal off Ox Point. The tug Bonar with a lighter, went to her assistance and brought her into the harbor. Owing to the thick weather the steamer Hastings did not reach here till yesterday afternoon. The Ryan is in port; also the Highland Beauty which is under the charge of the Sheriff.

ADVICE.—We have frequently remarked on the necessity of parents and others, giving a proper attention to the recording of vital statistics and now, as imperative instructions have been given to Division Registrars to enforce the provisions of the Act respecting Births, Marriages and Deaths, those interested, to save themselves annoyance, trouble and costs, should give the matter their attention.

NAVIGATION NOTES.

The brig "Cohen" is high and dry and has been abandoned.

The Chicago "Inter-Ocean" says most of the vessels are stripping,

The propellers Lake Michigann, Ontario and Corsican were wind bound in South Bay on Saturday,

It is reported that the schooner 'Kate L. Bruce' has gone down on Lake Huron, and all hands have perished. A yawl boat with the name of 'Kate L. Bruce,' a mast, and a portion of a vessel's deck have floated to shore in Thunder Bay.

The survey of the schooner Delos DeWolf, now in Goble & Macfarland's dock, is proceeding. Capt. Ben Hammond and John E. Lee are making the survey of the hull, and Capt. Blackburn, harbormaster, of the rigging. It is understood that the parties in interest have stipulated to abide the decision of the surveyers,—"Palladium."

A telegram from Manitowoc, 20th, to the Inter-Ocean says: Another body was found on the beach this noon, and from a description left here by his brother last week, was recognized as Sandy Kennedy, the cook of the wrecked Magellan. The body was well dressed—dark pilot jacket, check pants and box-toe shoes; $5 in United States money and $1.50 in Canadian scrip were in his pockets.

Police Court.

(Before A. DIAMOND, Esq, P.M.)

Monday Nov. 25th.

LARCENY.

George Armstrong charged with stealing a coat and $40 the property of John Shannon was sent to jail for one month.

DRUNK.

Wm. Sargent was reprimanded and discharged.

☞Ladies wanting tinfoil very thin and polished on both sides can obtain it at the drug store of Albert, L. Geen.

PROBABILITIES,—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

CERTAINTIES,—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like MUIR & LAWRENCE'S where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

CONDENSED NEWS

From Napanee.

On Friday, a child of about two years of age, belonging to Wm. Perry, was, it is feared, fatally poisoned by drinking a solution of saltpetre.

The Gas Company is in difficulty, and application has been made to the Council for such help as will tide it over the present embarrassment.

The Express says that beside the Reform Association which has recently been formed in that town, it is expected that a branch Association will be established in every township, with working committees who by their vigilance will be able to secure the rights, and a proper representation for the Government party at the coming elections.

Napanee is blessed with one of the most accommodating Postmasters in the Province.

From Kingston.

Four cases—none of which were of any great moment—occupied the attention of the court on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rine will visit the city on Thursday next to attend the R. T. A. C concert.

The Elocution Association of Queen's College had a very successful entertainment on Friday evening.

A contract for the construction of a large iron tank at the oil refinery (late Morton's distillery) has been given out.

Four additional oil tanks are to be placed on the deck of the schooner Fannie Campbell whose services are solely confined to the carrying of oil.

William Towers was severely wounded about the head on Saturday afternoon by being struck with the handle of a shovel in the hands of John Kinchler.

Clothes-line thieves are at work about the city.

On Thursday last it was reported to Mr. Barker, Post Office Inspector, that on the 29th of October three registered letters had been stolen from the mail bag between Adolphustown and Kingston. Circumstances led to a suspicion that Charles Aylsworth, mail driver between Picton and Kingston, was the guilty party, and he was arrested last night. He will probably be summarily tried before Judge Henderson next week.

MR, CARTWRIGHT AND HIS ACCUSER.

It has probably struck the Conservative Chieftain by this time that in devoting a good portion of his pic-nic speeches to personal attacks on Hon. Mr. Cartwright, and urging his newspapers to take the same line, he has committed one of the greatest blunders of his life. For a long time Mr. Cartwright endured their blows "under the belt" with patience. Knowing the evidence he had at hand, with which at any time he chose he could crush out Sir John's lying tales and distortions of private correspondence, he went on calmly in the discharge of his official duties, leaving his passion-crazed opponent to say what he would. But during the recent series of open-air meetings Mr. Cartwright has fairly considered that the Chieftain has had full swing long enough, and he consequently commenced at Simcoe and Aylmer a series of replies to Sir John's attacks, and exposure of that person's political career, which have left Sir John like a plucked jackdaw. Those who have read Dickens' novels will remember one character, that of a benevolent looking (but in practice a scoundrelly acting) old patriarch whose face, on the application of a pair of scissors to his venerable locks, appeared in its true character—hard, cunning and repulsive. Mr. Cartwright has performed a similar work for Sir John and that "old man" now appears in his true light as a common trickster, as treacherous to his friends as well as his foes, as thinking of himself and himself only, as the willing recipient of illegally obtained moneys which were applied to his own personal uses; a fraud as a statesman, the most corrupt of intriguers as a politician, and the falsest and most unreliable of Canadian public men in his statements.—Hamilton Times.

MOTHERS give your baby Milk of Magnesia, if food turns sour on its stomach. The little creature will swallow it with avidity, as it is smooth and pleasant to the taste. It is infinitely preferable to the ordinary calcined or carbonate of magnesia. Sold by all druggists, and by J. H. Hambly.

NO NEED of having a gray hair in your head, as those who use Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer say. It is, without doubt, the most appropriate hair dressing that can be used, and an indespensible article for the toilet table. You require neither oil nor pomatum with it, hence it is more economical. Sold by all chemists and by J. H. Hambly.

As a means of compensating for an abnormal waste of physical tissue causing debility, the phosphates of Potash and Magnesia contained in Phillips' PHOSO-NUTRITINE render it far more salutary than preparations containing only phosphates of lime and soda. Sold by all Druggists, and by J. H. Hambly.

Revenue Frauds and Taxation.

Loss of the "Huron."

THE VIRGINIA FLOOD.

Victory for the Cubans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue's annual report says not less than 3,000 illicit stills have been operated in the Southern States at inaccessible points, generally by ignorant and armed men. Illicit tobacco manufacturers are of a different class. He recommends strengthening the force of collectors and marshals in infected districts, and favors no change in tax on spirits, tobacco or fruit brandy. He thinks the law taxing matches could with propriety be repealed, and also, if the financial interests would warrant it, the tax on bonds and checks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Reports from the Huron contain new facts. There seems no doubt the number lost is 13 officers and 91 men. Eight bodies have been recovered and are being brought to Norfolk. The Government has ordered the survivors to proceed direct to Washington, where it is understood a court of inquiry will be held. Yesterday Capt. Guthrie was lost from the surfboat. He was enthusiastic in organizing life-saving crews. He distinguished himself during our trouble with China, and served with credit in the Confederate navy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A Havana despatch of Nov. 18th reports that General Dabau with 3,000 troops was attacked near Polgesim by the combined forces of Gomez and Garcia and after four hours skirmishing and fighting the Spaniards were forced to abandon the field leaving thereon 25 per cent of the number killed, wounded and prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Signal Service reports the water in the river falling at Great Falls, Harper's Ferry and Georgetown. The damage here along the river front, including Georgetown, is very extensive. The river is filled with debris from the Upper Potomac, and much valuable property is being secured by men and boys. Communication with Alexandria is interrupted.

Voting on the Wellington Dunkin by-law commences to-morrow.

The last ocean steamer of the season left the Port of Montreal on Saturday.

Passenger trains are expected to be running between Montreal and Hull, P. Q. early in December.

The Provincial Assembly will be called together for the despatch of business on Wednesday, the 9th of January.

A regiment of Mexican regulars has arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande. They are the first detatchment of a force of 2,500 men ordered to the frontier by Diaz to preserve order.

It is feared that 2,700 men will be thrown out of work owing to the damage occasioned by the recent gale to the new docks at Liverpool. An excavation of forty two acres has been flooded, and work is not likely to be resumed for six weeks,

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and Democrat" Corinth, Miss."

TONIC.

Every one, at times, feels the necessity of some restorative of the vital powers, depressed by mental or bodily exhaustion. In such conditions, let every one, instead of flying to the alcoholic or medicinal stimulants, which must be followed by depression equal to their excitement, reinvigorate his deranged system by the natural tonic elements of the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

o read a statement made son which averred that Mr said John White got $1,000 for the G J R.; Mr. Bowell got 0 and Messrs Flint and Wood some. e denied emphatically that he had received any money from any body of men. On account of his action in regard to the G J R it aroused the feelings of Mr Kelso who was endeavoring to injure him but his actions or speeches he did not care for.

Mr Kelso said he saw a letter written by Mr Lloyd to Mr Pardee that Mr Read had got $1,000 for stopping the proceedings of the G J R board for two hours. Such matters should not be discussed in the Council as they were personal.

Mr Bowell said in sitting at the Board he represented solely his own stock and had a right to sell it equally as well as Mr Kelso could sell groceries. It was not corrupt on his part to sell stock which he considered valueless and which was to others valuable. He left the Board of the G J R because he differed with the other members, but had went on it again as he deemed it in the interests of his constituents. He had been offered par for his stock and only regretted that he had not taken it.

Mr White said he was not here when the second by-law was submitted, and as Mr Kelso was not satisfied, he would put in a second affidavit.

Mr Haggerty said Mr Kelso had said he would come before the Council and make his statement about Mr White.

Mr Flint said he had been spoken of in this matter and had appealed to Mr Kelso who said his name had not been mentioned. Mr Kelso was to blame in this matter for such a conversation should not have been reported. A wrong had been done Mr White and Mr Kelso should endeavor to make the matter straight. With regard to the G J R he said he would only favor the road on commercial principles and now he held aloof from it. With reference to the B & N H R he said he had worked hard for it but found in the end that he had been sold. He had done all he ever intended for either the B & N H R and G J R, and his impression was that the parties connected with them had killed the goose that laid the golden egg for them.

Mr White said he was not satisfied with Mr Kelso's statement and he would procure another affidavit which would have the effect of closing the mouth of every scandal monger in the country.

A communication from the Secretary of the G J R was read asking the Council to appoint a committee to meet a committee of the Board with a view of an amicable settlement.

Mr White said it was time that this matter had been met in a spirit of fairness and if the company would withdraw the suit and pay the costs he considered that it would meet with approval. He did this for he had spoken with many who were in favor of an amicable adjustment of difficulties. He moved that a committee consisting of Messrs Pearce, Aylesworth, Rose the Warden and the mover be appointed to confer on this matter.

The motion was seconded by Mr Anderson and carried.

The Warden said the time of the session was now short and therefor an early meeting should be arranged.

It was definitely settled then that a conference should take place at 7.30 o'clock p. m.

Mr Aylesworth moved seconded by Mr Rose that it having been stated by Mr Kelso that Mr White had received money in connection with the G J R and having heard Mr Kelso's statements and Mr White's statements and written evidence in refutation of such charges this Council is opinion that Mr White is wholly free from such charges.

Mr Flint said it had been stated that Mr Kelso had built a $3,000 house out of the funds of the G J R and was receiving $3,000 a year as President. He did not believe either as the company did not have the funds. He trusted that idle statements made about the streets would not be repeated unless their correctness had been ascertained. He had no doubt that this would tend to stop such stories and might in the end assist both roads.

Mr Gordon said he had known Mr White and always considered him above taking bribes.

The motion was passed.

Mr White in a very feeling manner returned his sincere thanks for the kind remarks of the speaker and said he freely forgave Mr Kelso.

Mr Gordon introduced a by law to assume a certain portion of a road leading from Tweed to the B & N H R Depot as a county road. Referred.

Council adjourned till 1.30 p. m.

Ayer's
Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

POND'S EXTRACT.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.

The Universal Pain Extractor.

Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.

Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farmhouse. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

THIRD DAY.—AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Council met at 1:30.

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means—Mr Flint in the chair.

Several accounts were read and ordered to be paid.

Mr White moved seconded by Mr Craig that $25 be granted to each of the reporters. —Carried.

Committee rose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

Mr Grass moved seconded by Mr Wilmot that the G. T. R. be required to make a crossing over their road on the County road between the Townships of Sidney and Murray.

Mr White's motion to rescind the granting of County debentures in lieu of Madoc debentures was taken up.

Mr Wood had no objection to this as the road would not be completed before the expiration of the charter and did not want such a motion to longer remain on the books as it was useless. He was gratified at the action of the Council before in granting the request made and deeply regretted the road was not built.

Mr White had objected to the exchange of Madoc for County bonds before. The Township of Madoc had granted $30,000 in good faith and he had no doubt Parliament in response with the wishes of the people would legalize the bonus granted. At the same time he would state that he deemed it unwise to transfer bonds as in this case.

Mr Wood explained the reason for his asking that the exchange of debentures be made and said no possible loss could have been caused by it.

The motion was passed.

Mr White's motion to rescind the by-law issuing bonds for $30,000 to the B. & N. H. R. be was carried.

Mr White said Mr Bell was now Solicitor for the County, the Grand Junction and Mr Pardee.

Mr Wood said Mr Bell was not acting for the County, in the G. J. R. suit.

Mr White said that Mr Bell being County Solicitor and holding the other positions named it was not proper for him to act as a County officer in this case. Mr Bell was a good authority in railway matters but he should only act for the County.

Mr Wood explained that in the suit against the G J R, Mr Bell stated that he was acting for the G J R, and the Council had been informed of the fact, and if the county could employ others he was in duty bound to act as counsel for the road. In Mr Pardee's case, however, the matter was different, as there was no law suit at present against the B & N H R, and it would not be right to deprive him of his clients. Mr Falkiner was Solicitor for the B & N H R, and Mr Bell for only one of the proprietors.

Council went into Committee on Roads and Bridges—Mr Ashley in the chair.

The County Surveyor's report was read, and is as follows:—

SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

The Surveyor reported that timber had been purchased for a bridge at Millbridge; the Downing Rapids' road has been repaired; a new culvert has been built near Moon's, and drains made; a wall of Seymour bridge has been repaired; a new bridge has been built at Marsh Creek; a bridge has been rebuilt at Hon R Read's; the bridges and approaches at Brownson's have been repaired; a bridge at Meyers' hill has been rebuilt; a bridge near Bridgewater has been repaired; the hill near Hazzard's has been lowered; a culvert near the B C Church, Allan settlement, has been repaired; wood has been drawn into the jail yard; the payment of $50 was recommended to be paid Mr McGurn for land for a road. Deer Creek bridge has been repaired; with regard to the proposed bridge at Collins', the surveyor thought no harm could arise by its erection; parties whose fences are on road allowances have been ordered to remove them; timber for a bridge at Kerwin's cheese factory has been procured. There are a number of minor matters which it is unnecessary to mention.

The petition in regard to the bridge at Collins' was taken up.

Mr Aylesworth said Mr Collins and Mr Burns had made strong statements to him in reference to the bridge, and said that the present bridge could be repaired so as to remain for 15 years. Besides, the location of the bridge on the proposed new site would seriously damage his property. He would recommend that Mr Collins be damaged as little as possible in the building of this bridge, and his feelings injured as little as could be done.

The Surveyor said he showed Mr Collins that no damage would be done to his premises, and besides the road would be straightened and his barns left uninjured.

Mr. Flint said that he had spoken with Mr Collins and told him that if a new bridge was built it would have to be erected a little to the west of the present one, and pointed out the place to him, and he made no objections. He (Mr C) had asserted that his timber would be injured by the straightening of the road, but he knew he would get his money for it. He was confident that Mr C's farm would be benefitted $100 by the proposed change in the road and bridge. Thirty-six of Mr Collins petitioners did not own an inch of property in Elzevir, and many doubtless did not reside there. He had become disgusted with people who lived where improvements were wanted, and he only wondered why they could come here and ask for payment for a stick of timber for a culvert that would benefit them. He moved, seconded by Mr Pearce, that the Surveyor be instructed to repair and straighten the road near this bridge, and build a new bridge, and if an arbitration was necessary to have it proceeded with.

Mr Anderson favored straight roads and therefore supported the motion.

Mr White and Mr Aylesworth were in favor of building the bridge, but thought it unnecessary to go on with the straightening of the road.

Mr Wilmot said it would be best to defer the matter, especially as no estimate had been made of the cost.

The motion was carried.

The claim of Mr McGurn for compensation for a part of his farm used as a road evoked considerable discussion, and was referred to the County Surveyor and Mr Aylesworth to examine into.

Committee rose and reported.—Adopted.

Mr Wills handed in his sureties for the Treasurership, Mr Bowell and Mr James Glass. He had no doubt both were competent.

Mr White had no objection against Mr Glass, but it should be remembered that Mr G was bondsman for the late town Treasurer.

Mr Ashley said this was a particular

NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Wood, Provincial Treasurer, is ill of typhoid fever.

A toronto firm has been detected smuggling goods to customers in Detroit.

Over 200 rooms already taken by boarders in the new Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

Sir A. T. Galt will be banqueted by the citizens of Montreal.

Mr. Rine is now in Gananoque. He is indeed active in good works.

Private advices received in Ottawa from Quebec indicate the safety of Mr. Laurier's return.

It is understood that Mr. Pattison's connection with the Mail is only temporary.

The Conservatives have another grievance to ventilate. The Quebec election necessitates something desperate being done, and as usual, the party is equal to the emergency. "A friend" writes to the Richmond Guardian that he lately travelled in company with the Premier, and during a "friendly conversation" the latter expressed himself in very bitter terms in regard to the Province of Quebec. Should Mr. Lourier be again defeated he avowed his intention to do something by way of retaliation that would make an impression. Much more of the same twaddle was indulged in by this "friend" of the Guardian, and the Tory organs, great and small, help circulate the falsehood. The Ottawa Free Press is authorized to state that such a conversation as alleged never took place; that the whole story is a deliberately invented falsehood, got up for one special purpose, viz: to deceive and mislead the people of Quebec.

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW.

We believe the interest felt in the Quebec election, which takes place to-morrow, is almost unprecedented in the history of Canadian politics. The contest has been waged with all the bitterness and determination that could be enlisted. Especially on the Conservative side has this feeling been shown and acted upon. Mr. Laurier has been subjected to a most cruel and heartless persecution by men who privately must confess his stirling abilities and personal honor. His youth, eloquence and fine manly qualities have been suitably recognized by the Quebec Liberals, who support him with an enthusiasm that must be highly gratifying to the young statesman. But the issue of the contest, now so near at hand, is by no means certain. We have calculated upon a considerable majority for the Minister of Inland Revenue, but if the combined opposition of the Quebec Government and Ultramontane party can reduce that majority the object is in a fair way of being accomplished. Both in Drummond and Arthabaska and in Quebec East Mr. Laurier has spoken bravely in condemnation of the unconstitutional practices of certain prelates, and by this means he has brought upon him the whole weight of the Ultramontane party. While carefully avoiding any overt act which might expose them to the censure of the law, the priests are none the less determined in the exercise of their influence against the young Liberal whom they cordially hate. It is even asserted by those who take the stump against him that he is in heart a Protestant; that all his sympathies are with the Protestants, and that in former elections he has been unanimously supported by the Protestants. But this is not enough. The Protestant vote of Quebec East is comparatively small, while the Irish Catholic vote is proportionately large. In order, therefore, to create a feeling in favor of Mr. Tourangeau, and prejudicial to the interests of Mr. Laurier, another devise was resorted to. The Montreal Gazette, a journal which is becoming notorious in this respect, announced a few days ago that when addressing his constituents the Minister of Inland Revenue had referred to the tea duty, and averred that it only affected the Irish, who would give up their tea any day for whiskey. This slander has been promptly met and refuted by the accused, who writes to the True Witness most emphatically denying the statement, and asking whether his adversaries give him credit for an ordinary share of common sense. Mr. Laurier says: "I feel somewhat humiliated to be obliged to notice such foul slanders, but I am satisfied that my friends will appreciate their object." In addition to all this, we have positive information that the Ministers and attachees of the Local Government are resorting to gross corruption and intimidation among the poorer electors of St. Rochs, a suburb of Quebec East. The Railway Commissioners are offering to hire hundreds of voters for whom, it is well known, they have no work. Others are engaged to leave the city until after the election, and no stone is left unturned that promises the least assistance. The question of protection, too, is being made an important factor in the contest, as Mr. Laurier and his friends defend unflinchingly the actual policy of the Government. We might mention here that the nomination papers of Mr. Laurier were signed by nearly all the ship-builders, manufacturers and traders in the constituency, while those of his opponent were endorsed by a few politicians.

OBSERVATIONS.

Mr. Hughes has completed the enquiry into the examination frauds and the evidence taken will be reported upon immediately.

Mortgage sales have occurred in different sections of the Province, and Tory papers call them "cheering announcements," as they can be utilized for electioneering purposes.

There is a Christian Minister not far west who objects to billiards and skating rinks, and society in the village is divided on the question. He insists that the devil is a shareholder in both concerns.

The river is rising rapidly. The way the water comes down the Moira just now is quite as interesting as the dashing and splashing, the tumbling and mumbling of the Ladore.

A friend from Napanee, and a Tory of the old school, admitted to us yesterday that there is no possibility of their defeating Mr. Cartwright at the next election in Lennox. He thought the majority of eight hundred with which he defeated Mr. Hooper could be reduced, but not obliterated. The difficulty is, as our friend remarked, the Conservatives have no man to put in the field whom the electors would accept in place of the Finance Minister. They recognize his ability and are proud of him as their representative. Only blind partizanship counsels opposition, and then with a sure prospect of defeat.

It is difficult to sympathise with those men, young an healthy, who appear before our Police Magistrates and ask to be sent to jail for food and shelter. That work is sometimes difficult to be found we admit, but that a healthy man, who is willing to earn a living, must commit a crime that he may be fed and protected, we deny. Farmers will employ them to do light work for the season and give them the comforts of a home. The trouble is, these characters do not relish labor of any kind, and would rather accept charity as a criminal than earn an honest livelihood.

TOWN COUNCIL.

AN ENDLESS NUMBER OF PETITIONS —WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.—A NUMBER OF COUNCILLORS SUDDENLY FIND OUT THAT SIDEWALKS ARE WANTED IN THEIR RESPECTIVE WARDS AND THEY ACT ACCORDINGLY.

A regular meeting was held in the Council Chamber last evening at eight o'clock.

Present, — His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. Holden, Pringle, Smith, Meagher, Brennan, Yeomans, Price, Lingham, St Charles, Pope, and Ridley.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS &c.

The following were presented and read:

From the Town Clerk giving the exemptions from taxation in the town of Belleville.

From Thomas Hardy with regard to certain land for the opening of Ann Street.

From Joseph Durand and others asking for certain sidewalks in West Belleville.

From Albert R Lee asking that a number of wells be sunk throughout the town, and stating his readiness to perform the work.

From L Baker and others for a crossing on Bridge Street to Everett Street.

From Jane Eaves asking for a remission of a portion of her taxes.

From Hon R Read to a like effect.

From R S Clute informing the Council that if it was thought advisable to employ Hon O Mowat in re Belleville vs. Cronk it should be done by resolution.

From John Fahey and others protesting against the by-law in regard to the Separate School funds.

From the Separate School Board asking that $2,000 be granted on certain conditions in aid of the Separate Schools.

From the Solicitor in re the claim for Mr Dougall's services, and stating that as the Commissioners had employed him, the town was held liable for his claim if the Commissioners sued for it.

From the same in regard to Way's claim holding the town liable for the loss of Mr W's horse.

From the same in regard to the opening of Pine and Hotel streets, and their extensions.

From James A Clark asking the repeal of the Market By-law.

From Dr Wilson saying Mr Lawlor could perform duty as a policeman during the day but not during the night.

Several accounts were handed in.

The above were referred to their appropriate Committees with the exception of the requisition of the S S Board and the petition against it; and also for the crossing on Bridge Street, were laid on the table.

In regard to the latter, Mr Pringle said the Surveyor had instructions to attend to it.

REPORTS.

The Finance Committee reported recommending the payment of a number of accounts &c.

The Police Committee reported that they had investigated the charges against Officer Downs and found them unsustained, also that certain changes be made in the Council room to accommodate the Aldermen for 1878.

NOTICES.

Mr Holden moved notice of a by-law appointing returning officers. Also, one for the payment of an award to Mr. Neil McArthur.

Council went into Committee on Ways and Means—Mr Meagher in the Chair.

A number of accounts, salaries &c, were ordered to be paid.

On the reading of the Market and Police Committee's report, Mr Ridley asked that the matter of changing the seats in the Council be left to Mr Evans.

Mr Holden said those desks in use were too large and the committee had considered it best to adopt the style of desks used in Toronto.

Committee rose and reported—adopted.

Mr Holden moved the first reading of the by-law regarding the award to Neil McArthur.

Mr Brennan gave the first reading of the by-law for the transfer of the Jones & Vandusen property to Mr Vandusen for $1500.

Mr Pope asked how much this property paid the town.

The Solicitor said $1,000 for five years.

The Treasurer said $900 were due on taxes.

Mr Brennan moved seconded by Mr Smith that the $1500 clause be struck out of the Harbor Committee's report and Mr Vandusen be allowed to treat with the Government.

The rules were suspended to pass the by-law granting the award to Neil McArthur.

Council went into Committee on by-laws.

Mr Pope in the chair.

The by-law was read a second time.

Committee rose and reported—adopted.

The by-law was read a third time passed and numbered.

The rules were again suspended to give the by-law transferring the Jones & Vandusen property a second reading.

Council went into Committee on by-laws,—Mr Lingham in the chair.

The by-law was read a second time clause by clause.

Mr Holden moved that any claims of the crown to the unpatented lands now held by the Warehousing Company be paid by the purchaser of the Jones & Vandusen leasehold.

Mr Holden said he made this motion in order that no claims should be brought against the town.

Mr Brennan said this would be an injustice to Mr Vandusen. The town he considered had no more claim on the property than Vandusen had. Besides it was wrong for Mr V. to pay the patent on property used by others. Mr V. was paying $600 in excess of what the town asked for it and if Mr V. got the property the town would realize something from it.

Mr Holden said he fancied the taxes on this property could not fall short of $1,000. Besides the by-law as it now was would leave Mr. Vandusen to pay the back rent and taxes and if that was the intention no objection would be made to it.

Mr Brennan said Mr Vandusen only expected to pay $1,500 for the property exclusive of back rent and taxes.

Mr Holden said if the town was only to get for the property what was due it for rent and taxes it was only fair that Vandusen should pay for the patent for the other property especially so since the town was acting very liberal in the matter.

Mr Holden's motion was withdrawn.

Mr Brennan moved that for the $1,500 all claims against the property be relieved.

Committee rose and asked leave to sit again.—Granted.

Mr St Charles with reference to the petition for sidewalks in Coleman Ward said these walks were ordered last fall. This ward had not received due regard at the hands of the Street Committee this year. No report had been received from that Committee and he did not approve of that kind of business. It was only reasonable and just that something should be done in this matter particularly so as in some places the streets in that ward required grading and sidewalks were also necessary.

Mr Pringle said one walk had been ordered to be built by him in Coleman Ward.

Mr Holden said there was no money to build any walks. It would have been more desirable had this action be taken by Mr St Charles earlier in the year. Mr St Charles should have given this matter better attention.

Mr St. Charles said these walks had been promised last year and should have been built before this.

Mr Meagher said the Chairman of Streets had during the season spent all the money in his power. The appropriation for streets was not sufficient for the purpose and he had to regret that the corporation laborers had been compelled to stop work. He was in favor of having $500 placed to the credit of the Street Committee and therefore moved that $500 be placed to the credit of the Street Committee and taken from the appropriation for streets.

Mr Pope moved the Council go into Committee to pass a resolution for a sidewalk and lamp in Murney Ward.

Mr Holden said these motions were out of order and contrary to the rules. He asked why petitions for these works had not been brought in in the spring for the people who suffer now must have suffered then. Doubtless sidewalks were needed in Coleman Ward but others were wanted in other places. Some persons thought the town owned a vault of gold and that all who wanted sidewalks could have them. The appropriation for streets had been exceeded and items occasioned like these created confusion in the accounts and gave rise to other annoyances. The chances were that all appropriations for opening streets would be required.

Mr Brennan asked for a crossing on Dundas and Church streets and one on Warf and Pinnacle streets both of which he stated required immediate attention.

Mr Pope said the street he wished to have a sidewalk built on had only recently been opened and the people there only wanted a cheap sidewalk which would be a convenience to them.

Mr Pringle said Mr StCharles had not helped him out in a single thing for Coleman Ward during the year.

Mr StCharles said Mr Pringle had not asked him to see what could be done in the ward.

Council went into Committee on Ways and Means—Mr Yeomans in the chair.

Mr Pope asked for a sidewalk on George Street.

Mr Holden raised a point of order that no appropriation could be made unless first referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor declared the objection good, as also one against Mr Meagher's motion.

Mr Price asked if the small accounts for provisions for the volunteers during the strike would be paid.

Mr Holden said the men had been paid and the accounts should have been taken out of their pay. In his opinion the town was not liable.

Mr Brennan asked what was to be done in Lawlor's case.

Mr Pope said he felt as much for Lawlor as any one in the Council, and would like to put him in some situation where he could be made do service for the town, but were he put him on the force as he now is, it would be a great injustice to the Chief and the men now doing duty. If Lawlor was left at the station he would doubtless be called on at some time when no officer was on hand to attend to some matter outside; besides it would be unjust toward the other policemen to keep them on the street all the time. With such weather as we have had during the past few days it would be a gross wrong to have the men on the street all the time, as they would be if Lawlor was left at the station. He was not in favor of putting Lawlor on the force at present, but would gladly and willingly do anything to relieve him.

The subject was then dropped and the Council adjourned.

EXEMPTIONS.

The following is a complete list of the exemptions from assessment in the town of Belleville for the year 1878, as furnished by Mr. R. Newbery, Town Clerk:—

Town Property		$ 64,800
Church "		158,350
School "	Separate	12,500
" "	Public	47,300
Clergymen		19,400
Burying Grounds		1,900
Dom'n Gov't Property		9,675
County "		75,000
Total		$388,925

As the matter of exemptions is now receiving considerable attention, the above will doubtless be read with interest by the ratepayers generally, many of whom will be surprised at the large amount of property from which the town realizes nothing. The work of completing this statement was an onerous one, and Mr. Newbery is entitled to great credit for putting it in shape and presenting it to the people.

CANADIAN BARLEY.

The "Prairie Farmer of Nov. 17th has an editorial in praise of Canadian barley. It states that no such barley as that obtained from Canada is or can be grown in the prairie region tributary to the Mississippi River. Largely demanded in Chicago and elsewhere at the West, great quantities are annually imported. Our contemporary says: "As we write, ten or twelve cargoes by lake are close at hand to arrive, perhaps before this will meet the eyes of our readers. Last week duties were paid in one day in the Chicago Custom-house on 20.408 bushels of this grain.' All this would be very satisfactory, showing the amount of business done in spite of protective duties, but that there is another side to it; rather there are two other sides to it. One is at this fall's prices, it has been suicidal policy for Canadian farmers to sell their barley. It is worth more for feeding purposes than it has brought in the market. For cattle, swine, poultry and other stock, barley meal is one of the very best feeding and fattening articles, and at the figures it has brought so far the present season, it has been sold at a loss. The other consideration is that it is the brewers of Chicago and other Western cities who have imported our barley converting it into ale and lager. We should like to see this valuable grain turned to better account both in this country and across the border.'

ELECTRICITY.

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold—Pain cannot stay where it is used.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It postively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumore, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, or from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentary. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightes discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man and beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of "S. N. Thomas" is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

Note.—"Electric"—Selected and Electrized.

The Most Valuable Gift—Restoration of the Health.

During the last ten years the proprietor of the Great Shoshonees Remedy has faithfully redeemed every promise and guarantee made to the public over his signature. Alarming and apparently hopeless cases of lung Diseases Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, afflictions of the Kidney and Chronic Complaints of every discription, including Scrofula and Skin Diseases of life-long duration, have been permanently removed and eradicated. Those who voluntered their testimony of the efficacy of the Remedy are not bogus people in unhead of localities of foreign states, but respectable citizens of this Dominion, easy of access and open to question, upon whose verbal recommendation we are willing to rest the reputation of the Great Shoshonees Remedy. If you are afflicted do not delay until medicine may be powerless to aid you. No injurious effects can possibly follow the use of these Indian Remidies, as they certain no minerals, by which the fate of the invalid is so often sealed under the from of some temporary sedative or stimulant. These Indian Remedies are widely known and still possess the public confidence after the lapse of sufficient time to test their efficacy.

The Shoshonees Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills have won for themselves the most favorable reputation of any pill before the public. Their efficacy has deen fully proved as a remedy of Biliousness, Sick headache, and snactivities of the stomach. Price for the Remedy in point bottles $1; Pills 25 cts. a box.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 27.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

BALDWIN WARD.—Mr. Wellington Diamond will be a candidate for Alderman for this ward for 1878.

STILL THEY COME.—Mr. F. C. Ridley inserts his card in this issue, announcing himself as a candidate for the office of Alderman for Foster Ward for 1878.

ARRIVED.—The English mail per S. S. Sardinian (which arrived at Halifax on Sunday morning,) arrived and was distributed at the post office here this morning.

SCARCELY SO.—According to Vennor, yesterday was to end the warm weather and we were to have a cold spell, which unfortunately for that weather seer has failed to connect. If his future prognostication regarding the weather are not more correct than this his almanac will not be looked on with much favor.

THE CELLS.—Five unfortunates, who may be classed among those who journey along by the way, were registered at the police station last night. It was a bad night for law-breakers and none of that fraternity were out—at least if there was the police did'nt know it and for that they should be thankful.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.—Those who attended last evening's session of the Council and there was quite a number present, must have been amused by the actions and speeches of some of the members. It was suddenly discovered by some that sidewalks were needed in their particular localities and efforts were made to have them built but as the appropriation for streets had been expended their desires could not be gratified. We dont mean to hint or insinuate that these gentlemen are anxious to do something at this time that may tend to their re-election. Oh! no; we would'nt say that. But then we would politely intimate that their conduct is somewhat strange.

ALMOST USELESS.—In some parts of the town where there are no gas mains, it has been deemed necessary to substitute in lieu of gas, coal oil lamps, of which there are quite a number. Now it is generally known, that in order to show a good light, coal oil lamps must be kept in proper order or they are almost useless and the cost occasioned by them is in reality thrown away and when it is remembered that the town has no funds to spare it is greatly to be wondered at that money should be thrown away uselessly. Last night in several places (as well as on previous evenings in different localities) many of the coal oil lamps were perfectly useless. We hope the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee will look into the matter and give it his attention.

HYMENEAL.—With pleasure we chronicle the marriage of Mr. George Eyvel, of the Globe reportorial staff, to Miss Ella James, of Napanee. On sundry occasions we have been led to wonder what possible attraction there could be in a town like Napanee for a young man like him, but now this is accounted for, and thus the question is set at rest. Jovial, good-natured, life enjoying people newspaper men are known to be, and when one of the above class—and a prominent one he is—leaves the ranks of single blessedness to enter the matrimonial state, his fellow quill drivers, to whom bachelordom is an acme of bliss and comfort, sigh at his departure and mourn over his loss. Still as George has followed in the footsteps of many in the profession, we must not complain, but bear the ill in patience. To the happy couple we extend our heartiest congratulations. May their journey through the pathway of life be pleasant, undimmed by any lowering cloud or dampened by any storm, and when at last they arrive at a good old age—which we sincerely trust they will—may their record of life be one as of sunshine and happiness.

WAR BULLETIN.

Tuesday 27th.

The fall of Plevna now appears to be regarded as a foregone conclusion, the more so as the Roumanians have succeeded in carrying the important position of Pravetz, which Mehemet will be compelled to recapture in order to secure the success of his relief movement, unless he moves his main body further west. The Russians are reported to be so confident of the speedy reduction of Osman Pasha's stronghold that they have countermanded the preparations for wintering in Bulgaria in the expectation that the fall of Plevna will lead to negotiations for peace. St. Petersburg advices state that the Russian Government are extremely anxious to exclude England from participation in any such negotiations, and it is announced from Constantinople that the Sultan has expressed his intention of treating separately with the Czar.

ABBREVIATIONS.

THE health of Mr. Wm. Markman, of Montreal, is improving.

WELLINGTON will vote on the Dunkin Act on the 27th inst.

THE schooner "Celia Jeffers," of St. Catharines, sank last Friday night in Lake Erie. The crew was saved.

REV. G. M. GRANT, of Halifax, will be installed into his new position of Principal of Queen's College, Kingston, on Dec. 5th.

SAMUEL HAWKINS, who shot his wife at Union last year, has been arrested in Lafayette, Ind. He is to be extradited.

BURGLARS broke into the jewellry store of Mr. Nicholas Armour, at Georgetown, on Saturday night, and carried off articles worth $1,500.

A THOUSAND dollars was subscribed by those present at a preliminary meeting in London to organize for the purpose of raising a memorial to the late Rev. W. H. Tilley.

ANNIE EDWARDS, a vagrant, was found dead yesterday in the portico of a house. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from intoxicating liquors.

THE brigantine Amelia Anne, owned in Quebec, was lost on a voyage from Newfoundland to Sidney, C. B., for coal. The captain and crew were saved and landed at Conway, Wales.

MESSRS. MULHOLLAND & Baker's assets amount to $260,000, and the assets of M. H. Mulholland individually, which will be swallowed up by the failure, $130,000, making $390,000 against $760,000 liabilities.

THE Oka Indian Chiefs, on behalf of their people, have sent a petition to the Government praying it to issue an injunction against the Seminary of St. Sulpice, to prevent it from cutting the timber and alienating the land, as it has been doing from year to year.

AN old soldier named Hart was recently sentenced to seven years' imprisonment for rape on a girl in Montreal under fifteen. It now appears the girl is and was a notorious character, and has herself been sent to gaol for three months for disorderly conduct on the streets in the small hours of the morning.

A DESPATCH from Fredericton says: Norman Buchanan, of St Mary's, a lumberman in the employ of Alex. Gibson, while working in the woods on the Nashawak, on Wednesday, was killed by a spruce tree falling on him. A knot of the tree about three inches in length was taken out of his back. He lived three hours after the accident occurred.

AN extraordinary meeting of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec is to be held in Montreal early in December, for the purpose of adopting an amendment which the Provincial Legislature will be asked to make in the Medical Act, compelling all Universities in that Province to give a nine months' course of lectures in medicine.

TERRIBLY destructive floods, caused by recent incessant rains, are reported in the State of Virginia. Bridges and houses have been swept away, railway traffic stopped, and portions of towns submerged. The damage already done is said to be incalculable. Fortunately, so far, no loss of life is reported. The rivers at last accounts were still rising and fears are entertained that the great flood of seven years ago will be surpassed.

MR. DEVLIN, M. P., has just returned from Quebec, and says the conduct of the Tories in Quebec East is utterly disgraceful. Where they cannot bribe an election they seek to intimidate. The entire weight of the members of the Local Government, and of their salaried officials and flunkies, are thrown openly into the scale against Laurier. Still, the feeling in his favor is very strong. Every one admits that he is the ablest candidate of the two.

THREE men, with ladies' clouds over their faces, attacked a farmer named David Woodhouse, living in Seaton village, on Wednesday evening, and demanded, with pistols at his head in the most approved highwayman style, his money or his life. Two of them rifled his pockets and secured $1,50, returning an old silver watch they had found in his waistcoat.

CANADA is to receive a visit from a distinguished Irishman next Spring—Sir Edward Grogan, who represented Dublin in the Imperial Parliament before Sir Arthur Guinness. Sir Edward, who by the way is uncle of Dr. W. Geo. Beers, of Montreal made a good deal of stir in Irish politics in his younger days, and comes here with a view of studying the political and social aspect of the Dominion. It is probable that he will embody his experiences in Canada in a book.

☞Ladies wanting tinfoil very thin and polished on both sides can obtain it at the drug store of Albert, L. Geen.

PROBABILITIES,—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

CERTAINTIES,—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like MUIR & LAWRENCE'S where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

ANNEXATION.

The editor of the Watertown (N.Y.) Times is using his Canadian experience to correct American views on Canadian feeling. He points out that the people of the Dominion desire neither annexation nor independence, their love for their mother country being "deep, and lasting, and unalterable." He further declares that "aside from American residents, the number of annexationists or independants in Canada is infinitesimal. There is no possessions of the English crown so thoroughly loyal to the mother country as Canada." Every class and creed in Canada echoe this sentiment.

CARTWRIGHT'S BUNGLING

HOW CANADIAN TRADE AND INDUSTRIES ARE GOING TO RUIN.

—A vessel has just sailed from Bathurst New Brunswick, with 9,000 barrels of potatoes and a quantity of grindstones consigned to London, England. The potato export trade has been very large this fall, but this is the first shipment of New Brunswick grindstones to England.

—The New York Bulletin, referring to the increase in the export of goods not the produce of Cananda, from Montreal, in October, which exports consisted principally of grain, says: "To the Canadians it must be satisfactory to note that the advantages of the St. Lawrence route are recognized, for the increase is attributed wholly to the large amount of cereals from Western States that has passed through Montreal on the way to the ocean." The Canadian Tories, however demand a tariff that shall put an end to our carrying trade—one of our most profitable industries.

—Says the Chatham Banner: As an evidence of the improvement in trade this fall, consequent upon the splendid harvest and the high prices prevailing, a leading dry goods merchant who has been in business here for thirteen years, states that his sales on Saturday, the 10th inst., were larger than on any previous day since he commenced business. Many other merchants have the same pleasant experience to relate this season, and the best of the fall trade is yet to come.

—Says the Halifax Chronicle:—"It is pleasant to be assured that Taylor's extensive shoe factory, situate on South Brunswick street, which has been working on half and quarter time during the past few months, will again resume full time, ten working hours per diem, in less than a fortnight from the present date. Possibly there is nothing more earnestly desired in Nova Scotia, at the present time, than the founding of efficient factories, whether for the working up of wood, iron, leather, wool or cotton. And most heartily do we hope that some way may soon be opened up by which our operatives will be enabled to keep the Canadian manufactured goods out of the Nova Scotia market. Men and women who live by the labor of their hands ought to understand by this time that the tariff even if increased to fifty per per cent., could not by any possibility exclude from our markets the products of the manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec, who are the principle competitors with our manufacturers. Consequently protection, as a means of promoting manufacturing interests in Nova Scotia, is a complete delusion." We may add here for the information of our Tory-Protectionist manufacturers in Ontario, that their spirit is so far being caught in Nova Scotia that there is a strong movement on foot there to protect their industries against those of Ontario, by means of a local bonus system. They can't have tariff protection against old Canada, But none the less are they inclined to fight us by means of the direct protection that bonuses give. It will be well for them to note the above as one of the signs of the times, and an indication of what "an all round the circle" Protectionist movement may lead to.

AMERICAN NEWS

The Loss of the "Huron."

A SCENE IN THE SENATE.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 27.—The Huron survivors' accounts of the disaster agree in all essentials. The engine was in good working order until the vessel struck, when the violence of the waves soon broke her up and rendered it difficult for any to escape. The life saving crew were absent from the station near by, and the people on the shore, who had seen the signals, did not venture to break open the house and take out the life car. This was done by Ensign Young, after he reached the shore, but it was then too late. Yesterday afternoon the steamer Westover, of the Bay Line, picked up three men clinging to the bottom of a capsized boat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Chief of the Revenue Marine Division of the Treasury Department says the life saving stations from Cape Henry to Cape Hatteras are not yet manned, and are not to be put in operation until the 1st day of December. The reason is that funds appropriated by Congress are not sufficient to allow it. He says if the Huron was no further away from shore than her present position when she first struck, mortar lines could have reached her.

The Times says a decision of Judge Humphreys in the Habeas Corpus case is likely to be made any day, and no one knows but he may remand Patterson to custody, to be taken to South Carolina for trial.

About 12:30 this a. m. a controversy occurred in the Senate between Hoar & Ransom which took a personal turn. Ransom made heated reply working himself into a passion, and when he concluded be came so overcome with excitement that he had a fainting spell, and had to be led to the cloak room.

AN EDITORIAL BRUTUS.

An editor out West indulges in the following talk to his subscribers and patrons. The famous speech of Brutus on the death of Cæsar, as rendered by Shakspeare, is made to do service in this amusing travesty:—"Hear us for our debts, and get ready that you may pay; trust us, we have need, as you have long been trusted; acknowledge your indebtedness, and dive into your pockets that you may promptly fork over. If there be among you—one single patron—that don't owe us anything, then to him we say: Step aside, consider yourself a gentleman. If the rest wish to know why we dun them, this is our answer; Not that we care about ourselves, but our creditors do. Would you rather that we went to jail and you go free, than pay your debts and keep us moving? As we agreed, we have worked for you; but as you don't pay, we dun you. Here are agreements for job work, contracts for subscriptions, promises for long credit, and duns for deferred payment. Who is there so green that he don't take a paper? If any, he need not speak, for we don't mean him. Who is there so green that he don't advertise? If any let him slide: he ain't the chap either. Who is there so mean that he don't pay the printer? If any, let him speak, for he's the man we're after.

It seems to be rather popular for gentlemen to go to evening parties without their wives.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and Democrat," Corinth, Miss."

TONIC.

Every one, at times, feels the necessity of some restorative of the vital powers, depressed by mental or bodily exhaustion. In such conditions, let every one, instead of flying to the alcoholic or medicinal stimulants, which must be followed by depression equal to their excitement, reinvigorate his deranged system by the natural tonic elements of the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA.

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed. It is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

matter and the Council should know whether or not the sureties were worth the amount of their bonds. Some information should be given as to the standing of the bondsmen.

Mr Flint was confident Mr Glass could not be made to pay any claim made against him as a bondsman for the late Treasurer of the town. He thought the amount of the bonds asked was too large.

Mr Wood asked the withdrawal of Mr Glass' name. He also said the amount of sureties was named by Mr Wills.

Timothy Farnham was accepted as the other surety.

Mr Wood moved that Hon Robert Read and J J Farley make an audit of the accounts of the late Treasurer, such report to consist of the cash receipts and expenditures and the balance due the county.—Carried.

The Warden said Mr Wills had requested the presence of the Council at an oyster supper to-night and hoped all would attend.

Council adjourned.

FOURTH DAY.—MORNING SESSION,

The Council met at nine o'clock.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved,

REPORT.

The Committee on Gravel Roads reported that they had examined the books of the Road Superintendent and found them correct. They also reported the amount of work done and considered that under the present system of managing the roads the county effected a great saving. They paid a high compliment to Mr Farnham the Superintendent to whose zeal and activity the excellence of the county roads were due.

The report was adopted.

The Committee on Public Accounts reported having examined the books and accounts of the County Surveyor and found them correct. The amount expended by them on roads and bridges amounted to $,5887.67 and on the jail $613 98.

The report was adopted.

The Committee appointed to confer with a Committee from the G J R Company in reference to a settlement of the suit now pending between said company reported that after discussing the question referred to, they deemed it advisable that the county should withdraw the suit and pay the balance of the stock on conditions as follows: That the company shall pay all the costs; that the company shall give a bond of indemnity to the county protecting it against all costs; that the company shall on the first payment of $15,000 purchase a locomotive and flat and box cars sufficient for traffic between Belleville and Stirling; that on the completion and equipment of the road to Stirling the County is to pay a further sum of $10 000 and on its completion to Campbellford the final payment of $10,000 be made.

Mr. Aylesworth said the Committee had a long discussion before a conclusion was arrived at. General good feeling prevailed and it appeared to him from the expressions of members that a peaceable conclusion should be arrived at. If the suit was withdrawn we should act cautiously and see that the county got a return for its money.

Mr Wood said he regretted the matter had gone on as far as It did and now was pleased that the question was approaching a solution. The bonds to be given by the company should be a guarantee for our protection.

Mr Pearce said the Committee proposed to give their personal bonds.

Mr Wood said if this was a mere matter of withdrawing the suit he would not care about the bonds, but if the contents of the report were acted on we should have some satisfactory security or a guarantee that the work would be carried out properly.

Mr Rose said he had always opposed this scheme. He considered it wrong to assume this stock without asking the people. However now, a report is before the Council which should be considered and acted on as this is the proper time.

Mr Pearce said he was willing to amend the report so as to make the bonds satisfactory to the Council.

Mr Wilmot said the Council should now act cautiously and the interests of the County carefully guarded. The conditions in the report would order the payment of the amount orginally proposed on the completion of the road to Campbellford whereas it, the county, was only to pay the bonus on the road reaching Peterboro.' He considered the original intention should have been carried out.

Mr White said the Council was to have the personal bonds of the members of the Committee for the completion of the contract.

Mr Aylesworth said the report as it was presented was read over to the Committees twice and "personal bonds' was not mentioned in it.

The report was received.

BY-LAWS.

The by-law for the appointment of a County Clerk was read a first time and referred to the Committee on By-laws.

Mr. Flint moved that the room of the late Treasurer be given to the turnkey and a room used by him to be let for a jury-room. He and Mr Wills were appointed to look into this matter but did not like to act without the wish of the Council. He referred to the efforts made to economize in the management of the jail and said that all efforts to that end seemed to meet with but little success and it was now time that some of the parties connected with the management of the jail would not act in a proper spirit the Government should be memorialized to attain that end.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

POND'S EXTRACT. POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.
The Universal Pain Extractor.
Note: Ask for Pond's Extract.
Take no other.

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

LADIES find it their best friend. It assuages the pains to which they are peculiarly subject—notably fullness and pressure in the head, nausea, vertigo, &c. It promptly ameliorates and permanently heals all kinds of Inflammations and ulcerations.

HEMORRHOIDS or PILES find in this the only immediate relief and ultimate cure. No case however chronic or obstinate can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia, and Rheumatism are all alike relieved and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh, (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions, and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every farm-yard as well as in every farm-house. Let it be tried once and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.

WANTED—A WIFE.

I want a wife, a first-rate wife—
A girl that's all my own,
To cook my meals and cheer my life
With smiling word and tone.

I want a kind of appley girl,
Ripe, rosy-cheeked and sound,
Whose tender feelings sort of guard,
And twine me all around.

A girl with cheeks like holly locks,
Industrious, kind and true,
That's smart enough to foot my socks
And mend my clothes like new.

A girl that never pledged a vow
To any chap but me—
That's been brought up to milk a cow
And have warm cakes for tea.

Like tallow-dips her eyes must be,
As melting and as bright,
(They'll do to court her by, you see,
And save another light.)

She must be graceful as the bell
Upon the lilly found,
And must make butter as will sell
For thirty cents a pound.

If she I've spoke for should appear,
In answer to these rhymes
She'll find a partner most sincere
In marrying—JOEL GRIMES.

⁂ Joel's standard is pretty high and his characteristics of woman very exacting, but if he can find his ideal anywhere he will find her in Belleville.

THE FUR COUNTRY.
PART FIRST.

"We are scarcely advancing at all," said the Lieutenant to old Norman.

"No, sir," replied Norman; "the wind is not strong enough to fill the sail, and if it were, I fear it comes from the wrong quarter. If so," he added, pointing to the south, "we may see Fort Franklin before Fort Confidence."

"Well," said Mrs. Barnett cheerfully, "our trip will have been all the more complete. This is a magnificent lake, well worth exploring from north to south. I suppose, Norman, one might get back even from Fort Franklin?"

"Yes, madame, if we ever reach it," replied the old man. "But tempests lasting fifteen days are by no means rare on this lake; and if our bad luck should drive us to the south, it may be a month before Lieutenant Hobson again sees Fort Confidence.

"Let us be careful, then," said the Lieutenant; "for such a delay would hinder our projects very much. Do the best you can under the circumstances, and if you think it would be prudent, go back to the north. I don't suppose Mrs. Barnett would mind a walk of twenty or twenty-five miles."

"I should be glad enough to go back to the north, Lieutenant," replied Norman. "If it were still possible. But look, the wind seems likely to settle against us. All I can attempt is to go to the cape on the northeast, and if it doesn't blow too hard, I hope to succeed."

But at about half-past four the storm broke. The shrill whistling of the wind was heard far above their heads, but the state of the atmosphere prevented it from as yet descending upon the lake; this was, however, only delayed for a brief space of time. The cries of frightened birds flying through the fog mingled with the noise of the wind. Suddenly the mist was torn open, and revealed low jagged masses of rain-cloud chased toward the south. The fears of the old sailor were realized. The wind blew from the north, and it was not long before the travelers learned the meaning of a squall upon the lake.

"Look out!" cried old Norman, tightening sail so as to get his boat ahead of the wind, while keeping her under the control of the helm.

The squall came. It caught the boat upon the flank, and it was turned over on its side; but recovering itself, it was flung over the crest of a wave. The billows surged as if upon an open sea. The waters of the lake not being very deep, struck against the bottom and rebounded to an immense height.

"Help! help!" cried old Norman, hurriedly struggling to haul down the sail.

Mrs. Barnett and Hobson endeavored to come to his assistance, but without success, for they knew nothing of the management of a boat. Norman, unable to leave the helm, and the halyards being entangled at the top mast, could not take in the sail. Every moment the boat threatened to capsize, and heavy seas broke over its sides. The sky became blacker and blacker, cold rain mingled with snow fell in torrents, while the squall redoubled its fury, lashing the crest of the waves into foam.

"Cut it! cut it!" screamed Norman above the roaring of the storm.

The Lieutenant, his cap blown away and his eyes blinded by the spray, seized Norman's knife and cut the halyard like a harp-string; but the wet cordage no longer acted in the grooves of the pulleys, and the yard remained attached to the top of the mast.

Norman, totally unable to make head against the wind, now resolved to tack about for the south, dangerous as it would be to have the boat before the wind, pursued by waves advancing at double its speed. Yes, to tack, although this course would bring them all to the southern shore of the lake far away from their destination.

The Lieutenant and his brave companions were well aware of the danger which threatened them. The frail boat could not long resist the blows of the waves, it would either be crushed or capsized; the lives of those within it were in the hands of God.

But neither yielded to despair; clinging to the sides of the boat, wet to the skin, chilled to the bone by the cutting blast, they strove to gaze through the thick mist and fog. All trace of the land had disappeared, and so great was the obscurity that at a cable's length from the boat clouds and waves could not be distinguished from each other. Now and then the two travellers looked inquiringly into old Norman's face, who, with teeth set and hands clutching the tiller, tried to keep his boat as much as possible under the wind.

But the violence of the squall became such that the boat could not long maintain this course. The wave which struck its bow would soon have inevitably crushed it; The front planks were already beginning to separate, and when its whole weight was flung into the hollows of the waves it seemed as if it could rise no more.

"We must tack, we must tack, whatever happens!" murmured the old sailor.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

In view of the splendid victory won last Wednesday in Quebec East we can afford to be magnanimous. We admit, however, that the result somewhat exceeded our expectations, as most strenuous efforts had been made by the Opposition to ensure the defeat of the Minister of Inland Revenue. The Quebec Government wielded an immense influence, and their agents were active in exacting the utmost compliance. The Ultramontane party, too, enlisted every possible agency that would tell against the Liberal candidate, the priests using their clerical authority in such a way as to avoid the punishment of the law. With a full knowledge of all this we did not expect such a sweeping majority as was heralded throughout the country Wednesday night. The Government may well boast of such a triumph of their principles in the midst of a united opposition. Mr. Laurier took his stand firmly on the platform adopted by the Reform party and sustained by the Government, and it was against this enunciation of political faith that his opponents levied their heaviest artillery. We have remarked before that no politician in Canada possesses to an equal extent the confidence and respect of the French Canadian people as does M. Laurier, the hero of this latest conflict. Young, talented, and with a reputation above suspicion, he is the idol of his party in Quebec, and it was with a [illegible] enthusiasm that they rallied to his support when a preconcerted attempt was made to injure his character as a public man. He brings an element of strength to the Government that will go far to counteract influences manipulated by the Opposition with an utter disregard of what is involved.

THE DOMIOION BOARD OF TRADE.

Mr. Adam Brown, President of the Dominion Board of Trade, has issued an open letter to the press and members, a copy of which is now before us. Mr. Brown has evidently found that public opinion suspected something like political favoritism or partisanship in the composition of that body and the discussions of trade questions by its members, for one, and the principal, reason assigned for issuing his latter is to prove that the transactions are always singularly free from every semblance of politics. Perhaps he can conscientiously say so, for while no direct attack has been made upon the Government, the discussion of such questions as the fiscal policy of the country has fallen under the control of a few extreme partisans of the Tory school. The moving spirit of the Dominion Board of Trade is Mr. Thos. White, Jr., who monopolizes the whole authority on tariff matters, and who, as everybody knows, is but an instrument in the hands of Sir John Macdonald for the furtherance of his party purposes.

When, in 1873, Mr. White first had a seat in the Dominion Board of Trade Sir John was in power. The tariff question came up for consideration as usual, and Mr. White knew his duty. He would not embarrass the Government, so he moved a resolution to the effect that "no change should be made in the tariff (only 15 per cent. then) unless the exigencies of the public service demanded larger revenues." An amendment favoring the restoration of the tariff of 1859 (20 per cent.) was fiercely opposed by Mr. White and his political friends, and voted down. He stoutly maintained that a 15 per cent. tariff was a fair permanent one which "would ensure to every man engaged in manufacturing industries adequate protection for all time to come."

In 1874 this same Mr. White was again in his place at the annual meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade as Sir John's special agent. The Reformers were then in power, and demands for protection would no longer embarrass Sir John but rather help him. Well, what did Mr. White do? He told the Board that "the principle of protection should be embodied in tariff revision," and so the Board decreed.

In 1876 the tariff was discussed and Mr. Adam Brown, who is now President, moved in favor of reciprocal duties against the United States, specifying certain articles that should be considered in any adjustment of the tariff. Mr. White had a mission to fulfil for his political master, so he moved in amendment to the effect that "the Government should not be asked to trouble itself specially about our mines, forests and agriculture, and that the reciprocal duties against the States should only be on such articles as enter more severely into competition with Canadian industries." This was only a combination of his own and Mr. Brown's policies, and it was adopted.

Last year the special agent was on hand and true to his mission. When the tariff question came up he moved that "the principle of protection to the manufactures of the country is of vital importance to its prosperity and should be embodied in the tariff."

Of course Mr. White's demands were accepted as the will of the majority and his motion was carried. We need no more evidence of the kind to show that the tariff question has, ever since the present Government came into power, been made answer political purposes by the Dominion Board of Trade, or a majority of its members led by Mr. Thomas White, Jr.,

OBSERVATIONS.

Vennor is a prophet not without honor in his own country exactly. He predicted snow on Wednesday, last and it came. He also predicted a "cold snap" before the 1st of December, and we have it. Great is Vennor of the prophets.

The Italian Government has adopted a clause in the penal code abolishing capital punishment. The deputies also urge that future extradition treaties should exempt criminals under sentence of death from extradition.

Of course. The Mail says the election of Mr. Laurier for Quebec East is "in all respects a disgrace to the Administration." Had he been defeated the result would have been equally as disgraceful to the Administration in the Mail's estimation.

Mr Montague Davis, the typical English swell with blonde beard, arrested in Chicago last Sunday for larceny, &c., has been discharged by the magistrate, as the charges preferred were not proven. He says he did not run away from Toronto, and is going back after a while.

The clerk of the weather is no longer a myth, but a recognized power in the land. We dare not treat his "signals" and "reports" with impunity, for they are always infallible, or nearly so. The U. S. war steamer Huron was undoubtedly lost through the captain's disregard of the storm-signal warning.

Miss Rye has been writing to the Times from Tetula Heights, Brantford, Ont., giving her experience with the Telephone, which she prizes very highly. They talk by means of it through a wire four miles long, and the conversation is distinct, the sound of a particular voice being easily recognized.

The New York Times is the leading Republican organ of the United States, and the recognized mouthpiece of the Government. It indirectly counsels the non-payment of the Fishery Commission's award, on the ground that the decision shall be "in conformity with the treaty that called the Commission into existence." Of course this means that as the Washington Treaty provided that the decision should be unanimous, and it was not, the payment of the award is not obligatory.

MR. MACKENZIE BOWELL.

(From tha Montreal Witness)

We do not know what means the Orange constitution affords for dealing with an office-bearer who is no credit to the brother-hood, or whether it is bound to retain one once chosen. All we have at present to do with is to show that Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, Grand Master of the Orangemen in Canada, adds nothing to the lustre of the Order over which he presides. Notwithstanding his very singular position on Mr. Huntington's speech in Argenteuil—singular for a Protestant champion, if not for a Grand Master—we were always inclined to think him a very respectable man as party politicians go. It had been the fashion for generations for Orange Grand Masters to be ranged on the same side of the House of Parliament as the champions of ultramontanism, and it had been the fashion ever since politics were invented for politicians to vote with their party, no matter how much their votes might contradict their well-known principles or preferences. Mr. Bowell had to wriggle and blunder a good deal in his efforts to explain himself on that occasion, and we fear found it very difficult even then to assure his Orange brethern that the altar and the throne and the constitution were uppermost in his thoughts. He was a man to be pitied, and we pitied him. More recently an occasion arose which placed Mr. Bowell again in an awkward position. There was a vast enthusiasm among his followers in favor of a procession display in Montreal, and there was a gathering of forces from all quarters for the purpose of making plain the opinion of the country on the outrage which had just taken place. Whether it was wise or not that this protest, as far as the country outside of Montreal was concerned, should be essentially an Orange procession, such was its character. We took no exception to the smallness of the Belleville contingent or to the absence of the Grand Master, but the Orangemen did, and we were informed by them that the reason for this deficiency has been announced to be Mr. Bowell's political relations. This assertion, when reported by us, was answered by a series of slanders on the part of the Belleville Intelligencer, a paper ordinarily understood to appertain in large measure to Mr. Bowell. We have only once referred to the statements made by the Intelligencer, contemptible on account of their malicious falsity, although by no means contemptible in their power to harm, but its attacks have been untiring. Its earlier complaints were all on one string, the unfaithfulness of the Witness to Protestant interests; its dallying with Catholicism, and too great favor shown to the True Witness. When it descended to particulars, we pointed out that its misrepresentations were in such direct contradiction to facts that they could not have been the result of mistakes. Their object was evidently at any cost to discredit the Witness with such persons as it could influence. The hue and cry were vigorously followed up, and courageous Protestant champions, whose warlike or offensive writings we had perhaps not hastened to publish, were beginning to denounce us as traitors through city and country in the same breath as they denounced the murderers of Hackett, when lo! we are attacked on the opposite flank. The attack now as uttered by some doughty champion at a public meeting, and reported by the Intelligencer, thence to find its way into the Orange Sentinel, is that we are too vigorous; that our articles are calculated to excite religious strife and animosity, and all Protestants are warned to have nothing to do with so contemptible a sheet. This is altogether absurd coming from a quarter whence we have had nothing but abuse for not having animosity enough. Yet the assertion that we are more fierce than the Orangemen might be used seriously to damage our influence in certain quarters where our efforts to join moderation with firmness have at least gained us some respect. It would evidently to difficult to satisfy the Intelligencer and a certain class of its readers, and it affords us some consolation to think that it is not very necessary to do so. Our responsibility to God and the country is a much more serious matter. It is our business on the one hand to be firm and plain as to the dangers which threaten our constitutional liberties, and on the other to avoid every disagreeable word that can be avoided and encourage every movement and impulse that may promote harmony among the people, and allay the discords which many are so busily nursing. At a time when offensive demonstrations are growing more and more frequent, and organizations to take part in possible strife are on both sides extending with alarming rapidity, our greatest desire is that true Christianity and mutual good will should triumph over the machinations of men who are plotting strife. This desire has marked out the course we have sought to follow in the Witness, and if we have appeared to write some hard things, and to publish harder things that we did not write, it should be known that we have, on the one side, suppressed many letters against the Roman Catholics, and probably not one that has reached us in their favor, and, on the other hand, that we have suppressed more letters written by Protestants against Orangeism than letters written in its defence, and that all we have done, amid much misrepresentation from both sides, has been honestly with a view to the peace, safety and religious freedom of the country.

THE CALLOWS.

Execution of Williams, the Weston Murderer,

His Speech on the Scaffold.

A HORRIBLE SCENE.

Special to the Ontario,

Toronto, Nov. 30th, 1877.

Williams, who murdered his wife at Weston last September, was executed this morning. He rose shortly after 7 o'clock and carefully dressed himself in the attire in which he was to appear on the scaffold, and ate a very hearty breakfast, after which the minister came in and conversed with him. Williams was calm and unmoved, and listened with the greatest attention to the words of the clergyman. At half past eight the Sheriff arrived, accompanied by the Jail Physician and Captain Moule. The hangman was then called into the Governor's office and instructed as to the time at which to draw the bolt. As the massive iron gates of the vestibule swung on their hinges, those in the corridor crowded forward, eagerly watching for the first appearance of the doomed prisoner.

At exactly 25 minutes to nine o'clock the Sheriff, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Johnston, the executioner, and several constables. proceeded to the west wing of the building, into what is known as the debtor's room, where the prisoner has been confined since having received his sentence. The executioner immediately placed a black cap, shaped like a skull cap, on the prisoner's head, entirely covering the face, and then proceeded to pinion him. This was done by tying his arms with a piece of clothes line behind his back, after which the Rev. Mr. Johnston addressed a few words of comfort to the doomed man. Not a muscle quivered as the executioner proceeded with his work and as the solemn procession passed through the vestibule on its way to the scaffold.

The Sheriff led the way followed by the High Bailiff, then came the prisoner accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Johnston who linked his arm with that of Williams. The crowd, of spectators and members of the press numbering altogether about one hundred, came closely after. The procession slowly passed up the steps of the scaffold and amid a deep and solemn silence the doomed man addressed the spectators. In a firm, yet hesitating voice, he spoke as follows:

"I would wish to thank the Governor of the jail, the Deputy Governor and all the officers under his charge for the kind way they have used me. I also wish to thank my Counsel for the way they have defended me. I am happy that I got a fair trial and I thank the public at large for what they have done for me. I am also deeply grateful to my clergyman. That's all."

Upon concluding his speech, the black cap of death was replaced upon his head, and Williams walked with a firm step to the fatal trap and knelt down upon the boards without flinching.

The clergyman then proceeded to read the burial service, with the usual omissions, and as he repeated the Lord's Prayer, the moment was one of most intense suspense. The executioner stood in the front of the prisoner with his hand on the crank in readiness for the performance of his dread duty. As the solemn voice of the clergyman approached the clause "Deliver us from evil," the the crank shot back, the trap fell, and the murderer's body was quivering in the air. The dull thud of the fall which ensued sounded with horrible distinctness, upon the ears of the shocked spectators, none of whom could be insensible to the appalling fact that Williams' soul was struggling into the eternal world. For a moment the body remained limp and motionless. It was but a moment, however, as after that the muscles contracted, the limbs were thrown forward, and the whole body quivered and shook in a manner awful to behold, and which plainly showed the terrible agony the legitimate victim must have endured during the few short moments he lived. The black cap was shoved up at the back, slightly showing the gradually darkening skin, while the gauzy nature of the cap was not sufficient to hide the froth-covered lips and wide-staring, protruding eyes. The whole face was most horribly distorted and those of the spectators who were nearest the scaffold turned in aversion from the spectle. Williams fell a distance of five feet but being a light man the drop was not sufficient to break his neck and he was slowly strangled to death. His efforts to raise his hands and grasp the rope above, his grasping and terrible struggles all showed that the prisoner was conscious of the scene of which he was now the principal actor. After he had remained suspended for about twenty minutes, Dr. Richardson, the Jail Surgeon held an inquest when the usual verdict of strangulation was rendered.

General Grant is an object of exceeding curiosity to foreigners. When he went to the American chapel at Paris, on a recent Sunday, one person not satisfied with a back view of the General, left his place, walked nown the aisle, stood for a few moments contemplating the American, and returned to his seat quite contented.

ELECTRICITY.

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold—Pain cannot stay where it is used.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It postiyely cures catarrh, asthma, and croup Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, or from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Thenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentary. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightes discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man and beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of "S. N. Thomas" is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. The Most Valuable Gift—Restoration of the Health.

During the last ten years the proprietor of the Great Shoshonees Remedy has faithfully redeemed every promise and guarantee made to the public over his signature. Alarming and apparently hopeless cases of Lung Diseases Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, afflictions of the Kidney and Chronic Complaints of every discription, including Scrofula and Skin Diseases of life-long duration, have been permanently removed and eradicated. Those who volunterred their testimony of the efficacy of the Remedy are not bogus people in unhead of localities of foreign states, but respectable citizens of this Dominion, easy of access and open to question, upon whose verbal recommendation we are willing to rest the reputation of the Great Shoshonees Remedy. If you are afflicted do not delay until medicine, may be powerless to aid you. No injurious effects can possibly follow the use of these Indian Remidies, as they certain no minerals, by which the fate of the invalid is so often sealed under the from of some temporary oedative or stimulant. These Indian Remedies are widely known and still possess the public confidence after the lapse of sufficient time to test their efficacy.

The Shoshonees Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills have won for themselves the most favorable reputation of any pill before the public. Their efficacy has deen fully proved as a remndy of Biliousness, Sick headache, and snactivities of the stomack. Price for the Remedy in point bottles $1; Pills 25 cts. a box.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 30.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE CELLS.—There were two drunks and one tramp in the cells last night.

LATE.—The express train from the west due here at noon, was to-day nearly an hour late.

SAMSON WARD.—Henry McIninch offers himself as a candidate for the office of Alderman for this Ward for 1878.

MURNEY WARD.—Mr. T. O. Tillinghast is a candidate for the office of Alderman for this ward for 1878.

STOLEN HORSES.—Our police are on the lookout for a pair of sorrel mares which were stolen from the vicinity of Cobourg, on Monday evening.

OUR BARLEY.—The agriculturists of this district should certainly feel flattered as their barley has met with gratifying acceptance in England.

ACCIDENT.—A young man named Frank Mills was severely injured yesterday afternoon by falling through the hoist in Geen's drug store. He was for a time insensible but is now improving.

ROBBED.—On Wednesday night, a clothes line, containing some valuable garments, on Mr. C. Putman's premises, West Belleville, was robbed. The matter is now in the hands of the police.

RUNAWAY.—About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, a team of horses attached to a hack ran away from in front of the Cuthbert House. They went up Bridge street at a lively gait and turned into Foster Avenue, where they were stopped. No injury resulted from their flight.

LEGAL.—The following cases appear in yesterday's record:—

Spry v. Hayne.—Enlarged.

Regina v. Lake.—Mr. Ferguson, T. C., moved absolute a rule 'nisi' for a 'certiorari' Mr. J. G. Scott, Q. C., showed cause. Reserved.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—The season of long evenings is now with us, and the question as to how and where to pass them pleasantly and profitably is an important one to young men. The Mechanics' Institute offers excellent facilties for the purpose interesting literature being provided there, whilst those who prefer reading at their homes or in their boarding houses will find the library well stocked with books of the best kind, carefully selected. Our Institute is now the third in the Province and we hope to see its membership increased, and its usefulness made more extensive.

DRUNK.

W. A. Roblin made his first appearance and was allowed to go and George Burke and George Dubuy were dismissed on promising to leave town.

"THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS."

The first of the course of lectures to be given under the auspices of the Belleville Mechanics' Institute, was delivered last evening in the Metropolitan Hall, the subject being "The British House of Commons" and the lecturer, Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin.

The audience, we regret to say, was not so numerous as the character of the discourse and the object for which it was given, justified. Doubtless the weather affected the attendance, for lecture-goers are as susceptible of being the subjects of unwelcome constitutional visitations, as those who prefer to pass their evenings either at their own or somebody else's fireside or locate themselves over the northwest corner of a billiard table, or lounge about the room where "cueists" are wont to exhibit their prowess. But, to our subject.

At 8:15. Mr. Thomas Ritchie, President of the Mechanics' Institute, accompanied by Mr. Davin, stepped upon the platform and took their seats amid the cheers of the audience.

Mr. Ritchie having called for the presence on the stage of all Directors of the Institute, who were present, apologized for the non-appearance of Mr. Davin last week, and said that though this was the first failure, he hoped another would not occur. This was the inaugural of a series of popular lectures to be delivered under the auspices of the Institute, and he hoped it would be a success. He referred to the prosperity of the Toronto and Hamilton Institutes and the advantages they conferred on the people, and averred—that next to them was our own in importance and value, and it now, though twelve months old, ranked third in the province in means and equipment among the 68 other institutions of the same character. He here paid a graceful tribute to the memory of the late Francis McAnanny, whose demise he deeply deplored. He went on to speak of the uses of these Institutes and said their principles were recognized as they were now aided by the Government and as the Government aids them so should the municipalities in which they are located. Belleville had honored itself in aiding the institution here which was now in a prosperous condition; it had a large library of useful and choice literature, whilst means were provided for the recreation of its members. He urged upon all who had not already joined, the advisability of connecting themselves with it and then introduced the lecturer of the evening.

Mr. Davin on coming forward was well received. Mr. D's personal appearance is prepossessing but his manner of delivery, speech and gesture, does'nt fill the bill of the popular lecturer of now-a-days. He certainly clothes his remarks in fine language; but his voice—at least for such a hall as he held forth in last night, was not as firm or clearly distinct as could have been wished. On hearing him speak the listener at once would know his nationality as his speech is frequently adorned with that brogue so characteristic of the son of the Emerald Isle. At times however he would drop this and by his manner of articulation would leave one to think that he was probably an Englishman or a New Yorker. His exordium was clever: it was clothed in graphic language and but for its length would have met with a more pleasing acceptance. In speaking to his subject he said the English Parliament was the mother of Parliaments, and then went on to describe the interior of the house and the positions or places occupied by its distinguished members. John Bright, Disraeli, Harcourt, Jenkins, Jacob Bright, Newdegate, Lowe, Dowse, were named among the nation's illustrious men, their abilities descanted on and their statesman-like qualities pourtrayed. The lecture occupied about two hours in its delivery and at the close, a vote of thanks, proposed by Dr. Hope and seconded by Mackenzie Bowell Esq. M. P., was tendered Mr. Davin, who acknowledged the compliment, after which the audience dispersed.

GRANT IN PARIS.

Infidelity and Murder.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Herald's cable says Dr. Evans gave a grand dinner in honor of General Grant last evening, followed by a reception. Grant dines this evening with Mr. Harjes, of Drexel, Harjes & Co., bankers.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Nov. 30.—A few years ago Jno. Carey, a large property holder, discovering his wife's unfaithfulness became a penniless inebriate. Saturday his wife secured a divorce. Last evening, finding her talking with her alleged paramour, Carey shot her fatally.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Sun yesterday published a Washington despatch purporting to give an extract from the President's forthcoming message in which he urged specie payment, and was not unfavorable to limited silver coinage.

The Times' Washington special this a.m. says the Sun's extract is very likely one of the first printed slips from a rough draft and will be considerably amended, but it no doubt correctly sets forth the President's views.

The Tribune says Grant has sent to Philadelphia in care of Geo. W. Childs, a box containing all presents received since his arrival in Europe.

The Times says the tariff legislation is attracting large attention throughout the Eastern States.

The Herald says the courage and persistence of Conkling in opposition to the Administration, and the continued weakness of friends of the Administration, begins to tell. Probably, to-night he will bear down all opposition and cause the rejection not only of the New York nominations, but of all others to which he and those allied with him choose to object. Republican Senators stand together and it is now doubtful whether even Butler can get Administration votes to seat him.

STOVE-PIPE VARNISH.—The only Varnish for Stove-Pipes, in town, that does not prove disagreeable and offensive while drying, excelling all others for durability and lustre. It does not burn off. No excuse left now for stove-pipes looking dull. It is sold only at GEEN'S DRUG STORE.

PROBABILITIES,—That you can get old dried up shelf-worn goods, and goods that you don't want, at low prices, at Bankrupt Sales.

CERTAINTIES,—That you can get new goods, goods that you do want, and goods that will be very much cheaper, at a place like MUIR & LAWRENCE'S where they are buying every week and manufacturing all the time.

The Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. T. is now in session at London. A general prosperity is reported.

The Salaries Committee recommended that in future the offices of G. W. C. T. and G. W. Treas. be honorary, and that the G. W. Sec. receive $1,000 per year.—Carried.

The meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held next year at Napanee, and Bro. W. S. Williams, Mayor of Napanee, very generously made an offer to provide board and accommodation gratis to all the officers and delegates who will attend the session of the Grand Lodge at Napanee. Mr. T. W. Casey, of Napanee, was re-elected G. W. Secretary.

A DOUBTFUL DISTINCTION

Smith, the abortionist, who murdered Miss Wade at Castleton, has had his death sentence commuted to that of imprisonment for life. The precedents followed are those in the Brockville and Toronto cases of Sparham and Davis. We cannot see that there is sufficient reason for favor of such action. The distinction made between this murder and that of Williams, the murderer, who was refused commutation to his sentence, is that Miss Wade was a consenting party to her own butchery. But Smith's crime was sufficiently atrocious to well deserve capital punishment. For the sake of money he was willing to take the certainty of one murder and the risk of two. This was worse than Williams, who was not master of his own actions when he killed his wife. The only reason which should have prevented capital punishment in the case of Smith should have been that public opinion would not justify such punishment, and would shield other such murderers against detection in consequence. In the case of any regular abortionist, such as Smith or Davis, we do not think that there would be anything of the kind, and the law should be permitted to take its course.—"Witness."

THE ELGIN ATTEMPTED WIFE-MURDER.

HAWKINS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL—HOW HE ESCAPED AND EMPLOYED HIMSELF.

At St. Thomas, on Monday, Samuel Hawkins was charged before Squires Mackenzie and David King, at the Court House, with shooting his wife on the 20th April, with intent to kill her. There was a second charge of shooting at Larotes Minor, on the same day. Prisoner pleaded not guilty. He was defended by Mr. C. Macdougall. After Larotes Minor, Mrs Minor and Isaac Minor had been examined prisoner was fully committed for trial. In personal appearance he is of a medium height and stout build, with a decidedly bull dog looking head. Hawkins on the same night after shooting his wife travelled through the bush to London. Thence he went on to Goderich, where he worked for a few days. He afterwards sailed to Manitoulin Island. From Manitoulin he went to Minnesota, and from that State to Texas, A few weeks ago he left Texas and returned to his former haunts in the neighborhood of Butler, Indiana. It was soon after this re-appearance that Mr. L. Campbell went on his former unsuccessful search for him. Mrs. Hawkins was recently at Butler. He heard of her visit and climbed up to her bed-room window one night, when he took a calm survey of her surroundings as she dressed her hair at the looking glass, before retiring to bed. She has been living in mortal dread of the rascal, and to her at all events his arrest should be good news.

THE man who broke into Armour's jewelry store at Georgetown recently was shot in the arm by a trap revolver, and by that clue traced to Detroit and captured. He gave his name as Andrew Thompson, but his real name is believed to be James Bell, formerly of Toronto.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer. —"Sub-Soiler and DemocratC orinth, Miss."

To the Electors of BALDWIN WARD.

YOUR VOTES AND INFLUENCE
Are solicited for
Jno. VANDEWATER
AS ALDERMAN FOR 1878.

TO THE ELECTORS OF BALDWIN WARD.

GENTLEMEN,—

Having been solicited by a number of the Voters of Baldwin Ward, and being largely interested in the Ward, I offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages as Alderman for the ensuing year,

A. L. SMITH.
Nov. 28, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF BLEECKER WARD.

GENTLEMEN,—

Having had the honor of representing this Ward a few years since in the Town Council, I now respectfully ask that you will give me your confidence and support as Alderman for Bleecker Ward, for the ensuing year.

Yours respectfully,
NEIL McARTHUR.
Belleville, Nov. 29, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF FOSTER WARD!

GENTLEMEN,—

At the request of a large number of the rate-payers of Foster Ward I announce myself as a candidate for Alderman for 1878.

During the past year I have honestly endeavored to promote the interests of this portion of the Town, and, if elected, next year will do all that is in my power to retain the good wishes of the people, and further promote the prosperity of the Ward.

I remain,
Your obedient servant,
DAVID BRENNAN.
Nov. 26, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF KETCHESON WARD

GENTLEMEN,—

Your Votes are respectfully solicited for the position of Alderman for the coming year.

Yours, &c.,

Nov. 23, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF KETCHESON WARD

GENTLEMEN,—

Having been solicited by a large number of the Electors of this Ward to offer myself as a candidate for the position of Alderman, I have consented to do so, and solicit your vote and influence.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
"JIMMIE" GORDON.
Belleville, Nov. 20, 1877.

To the Electors OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE.

GENTLEMEN,—

Having served you to the best of my ability as a member of the Town Council, for a number of years past, I now solicit your vote and influence for the position of Mayor for the ensuing year.

JAS. H. HAMBLY.
Nov. 19, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE.

GENTLEMEN,—

I have been solicited to be a candidate for the Mayoralty at the ensuing election, and, upon consideration, have decided to comply with the request.

If a life-time spent thus far among you, an earnest desire to promote the interests of our town and advance its prosperity, and a long public service in municipal affairs, entitle me to the position of being Mayor of the City of Belleville, I shall feel proud of the distinction.

I respectfully solicit your vote and interest

I have the honor to be,

Your obedient servant,

ALEX. ROBERTSON.

PHILLIPS' PHOSPHO-NUTRITINE.

A new and important preparation of the SOLUABLE WHEAT PHOSPHATES OF POTASH, MAGNESIA, LIME AND IRON.

A dietetic preparation, supplying an important deficiency in the ordinary food of invalids and children. A nutrient tonic to the nervous system without alcoholic stimulants relieving mental and physical prostration.

Phospho-Nutritine is a true solution of these nutritive wheat phosphates, and therefore a supplementary food to our white bread, as well as a remedy for ailments brought upon us by reason of this absence. As a remedial agent, it will be noticed that it differs from ordinary medicines called or containing phosphates, inasmuch as these are mainly phosphates of lime and soda—the least of importance in supplying the daily waste of our organs—while in my solution, the phosphates of POTASH and MAGNESIA greatly predominate, and the superiority which this difference gives must be apparent to any intelligent mind and instantly recognized by the Faculty. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

TRADE MARK

Is indorsed and prescribed by the leading Physicians throughout the country, as the best preparation known for all disturbed conditions of the stomach, and is greatly superior to Calcined and Carbonate of Magnesia.

It immediately and certainly cures DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN SOUR STOMACH and HEADACHES caused by acidity of the stomach.

The pleasant taste and milk-like smoothness of this preparation renders it very valuable for infants, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it. It positively prevents food souring on the stomach, and will act as a laxitive when used as directed, is also peculiarly adapted to females.

MILK OF MAGNESIA immediately corrects bad taste in the mouth, and renders impure breath sweet and agreeable.

Ladies once using this preparation will find it of such real value as to make it a standard remedy in every house. For sale by all Druggists.

ALBERT L. GEEN, Wholesale Agent for Belleville, Ont

And pushing the tiller and paying out sail, he turned the head of the boat to the south. The sail, stretched to the utmost, brought the boat round with giddy rapidity, and the immense waves, chased by the wind, threatened to engulf the little bark. This was the great danger of shifting with the wind right aft. The billows hurled themselves in rapid succession upon the boat, which could not evade them. It filled rapidly, and the water had to be baled out without a moment's pause, or it must have foundered. As they got nearer and nearer to the middle of the lake the waves became rougher. Nothing there broke the fury of the wind; no clumps of trees, no hills, checked for a moment the headlong course of the hurricane. Now and then momentary glimpses were obtained through the fog of icebergs dancing like buoys upon the waves, and driven toward the south of the lake.

It was half-past five. Neither Norman nor the Lieutenant had any idea of where they were, or whither they were going. They had lost all control over the boat, and were at the mercy of the winds and waves.

And now at about a hundred feet behind the boat a huge wave upreared its foam-covered crest, while in front a black whirlpool was formed by the sudden sinking of the water. All surface agitation, crushed by the wind, had disappeared around this awful gulf, which, growing deeper and blacker every moment, drew the devoted little vessel toward its fatal embrace. Ever nearer came the mighty wave, all the lesser billows sinking into insignificance before it. It gained upon the boat, another moment and it would crush it to atoms. Norman, looking around, saw its approach; and Mrs. Barnett and the Lieutenant with eyes fixed and staring awaited in fearful suspense the blow from which there was no escape. The wave broke over them with the noise of thunder; it enveloped the stern of the boat in foam, a fearful crash was heard, and a cry burst from the lips of the Lieutenant and his companion, smothered beneath the liquid mass.

They thought that all was over, and that the boat had sunk; but no, it rose once more, although more than half filled with water.

The Lieutenant uttered a cry of despair. Where was Norman? The poor old sailor had disappeared!

Mrs. Paulina Barnett looked inquiringly at Hobson.

"Norman!" he repeated, pointing to his empty place.

"Unhappy man!" murmured Mrs. Barnett; and at the risk of being flung from the boat rocking on the waves, the two started to their feet and looked around them. But they could see and hear nothing. No cry for help broke upon their ears. No dead body floated on the white foam. The old sailor had met his death in the element he loved so well.

Mrs. Barnett and Hobson sank back upon their seats. They were now alone, and must see to their own safety; but neither of them knew anything of the management of a boat, and even an experienced hand could scarcely have controlled it now. They were at the mercy of the waves, and the bark, with distended sail, swept along in mad career. What could the Lieutenant do to check or direct its course?

What a terrible situation for our travelers, to be thus overtaken by a tempest in a frail bark which they could not manage.

"We are lost!" said the Lieutenant.

"No, Lieutenant," replied Mrs. Barnett; "let us make another effort. Heaven helps those that help themselves!"

Lieutenant Hobson now for the first time realized with how intrepid a woman, fate had thrown him.

The first thing to be done was to get rid of the water which weighed down the boat. Another wave shipped would have filled it in a moment, and it must have sunk at once. The vessel lightened, it would have a better chance of rising on the waves; and the two set to work to bail out the water. This was no easy task; for fresh waves constantly broke over them, and the scoop could not be laid aside for an instant. Mrs. Barnett was indefatigable, and the Lieutenant leaving the bailing to her, took the helm himself, and did the best he could to guide the boat with the wind right aft.

To add to the danger, night, or rather darkness, for in these latitudes night only lasts a few hours, at this time of year, fell upon them. Scarce a ray of light penetrated through the heavy clouds and fog. They could not see two yards before them, and the boat must have been dashed to pieces had it struck a floating iceberg. This danger was indeed imminent, for the loose ice-masses advanced with such rapidity that it was impossible to get out of their way.

"You have no control over the helm?" said Mrs. Barnett in a slight lull of the storm.

"No, madame," he replied; "and you must prepare for the worst."

"I am ready!" replied the courageous woman simply.

As she spoke a loud ripping sound was heard. The sail, torn away by the wind, disappeared like a white cloud. The boat sped rapidly along for a few instants, and then stopped suddenly, the waves buffeting it about like an abandoned wreck. Mrs. Barnett and Hobson, flung to the bottom of the boat, bruised, shaken, and torn, felt that all was lost. Not a shred of canvas was left to aid in navigating the craft; and what with the spray, the snow, and the rain, they could scarcely see each other, while the uproar drowned their voices. Expecting every moment to perish, they remained for an hour in painful suspense, commending themselves to God, who alone could save them.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
